than had at first arranged. This decision, the circuit states, was reached only after the most careful investigation, and among the reasons assigned are the impossibility of securing a large number of witnesses who wished to attend both the world's fair and the reunion, the absorbing interest that is felt by every one in the world's fair, and the opportunity afforded by Ottawa that a postponement is advisable.

John Longstrom, receives probably fatal injuries from Emery Grinder.

John Longstrom, a workman employed at Schult's and Hill's wagon shop, had a narrow escape from a frightful death Friday afternoon, and is now at the Woman's Christian Association hospital.

The unfortunate man was picked up and carried into the Kiet house, where Dr. Barstow was called to attend to his injuries. The right arm was found to be almost torn from the body, and blood was trickling from the other wounds received from the flying struts.

The physician states that there is grave danger that the arm will have to be amputated and it is feared that the shock will result in death.

DR. COPELAND AND SHEPARD Are the People Who Openly Praise Dr. Copeland and Shepard.

They Are Your Friends and Neighbors and They Speak Neither More Nor Less Than the Truth—It is to Your Vital Interest That You Take heed.

It is a good thing for people who do business with each other to have a little talk occasionally. We want to have a little talk with you about the Copeland and Shepard system. This system is a number of interesting facts from persons who have been patients of Dr. Copeland and Shepard. The presentation of portraits with testimonials is a feature of their method, and while it has been copied extensively by the manufacturers of patent medicines and quack nostrums, it can have force only when the persons who are thus presented are known to be of high character.

There is no doubt of the success that Dr. Copeland and Shepard achieve with each case they accept under their care. This success is greater than that of any other or patented relief, or appliance, but is the only way that disease can be successfully treated.

where visitors were steaming, I had to rush to the door for air. Aching in body, limbs and head, wakefulness and loss of sleep—all were distressing facts, but I found vigor and animation steadily. A very noticeable improvement was extreme muscular weakness with blood and softness of my flesh. I seemed to give out in every way.
