

HAFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Gamblers Notified that They Must Either Close Up or "Cough Up."

FIFTY-DOLLAR FINE TO BE ENFORCED

Had Silver Passed on Gold-Stock Yards Extension Work Started—New Building to Be Erected—Minor Gossip and Personal.

Following the instructions of Mayor Walker, Chief of Police Beckett yesterday gave notice to all the persons conducting gambling houses in South Omaha that they must either close up shop or pay a fine of $50 monthly. This money will be paid into the city treasury and can be disposed of at the option of the council.

Under this system Chief Beckett says he proposes to close all poker rooms and every place where gambling is allowed, unless the proprietor comes to the center with his $50 each month.

The city council has under advisement the proposition to appoint at least two additional members to the police force. Chief Beckett says he could use two mounted men to good advantage, as his force is now so small that he cannot spare any of the men to patrol the outskirts of the city.

Gold Beaten on Silver. W. Gold is another victim of the counterfeit money that is being shovled in South Omaha. Last evening he went into John Nelson's saloon and claims to have had a bill changed. With one of the silver dollars he received from Nelson he endeavored to make a purchase in another store. The dollar was refused as counterfeit. Gold then went to Nelson and demanded that he give him a gold coin, but was refused on the ground that he did not get any had money there.

Extending the Stock Yards. The work of extending the South Omaha stock yards was commenced yesterday. About twenty men were put to work and the force will be increased as is necessary until all of the work is completed.

The chief of police yesterday found several more counterfeit five dollar bills that had been passed on South Omaha merchants. Among the batch was one very poor counterfeit half dollar.

The Gate City orchestra of Omaha will furnish music for the entertainment to be given tonight by the young people of the Christian church, Twenty-second and K streets.

The Methodist people are going to have a very fine church service at Twenty-second and N streets, when it is completed. It will be so arranged that all the rooms can be thrown into one large room when desired.

George H. Hillberg of Kent, Wash., is in the city on his way to the World's fair. Mr. Hillberg owns considerable land in western Nebraska and will spend several months in the state upon his return from Chicago.

Things looked lively over about the stock yards yesterday. Three hundred cars of live stock were received and prices were high and strong. The hog receipts reached 11,000, the largest that has been recorded for a long time. The cattle receipts were 8,000.

The Grand Army of the Republic memorial services will be conducted on Sunday at the Grand Army of the Republic hall at 10 o'clock and go to the church in a body.

On account of the extensive improvements being made by the stock yards company, all the fire alarm lines running from the American District Telegraph office will have to be taken out soon. They will all be replaced in time, as the majority of them run to the packing houses, but the expense will be considerable.

Lily division, Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias, will participate in the parade on Decoration day. All members are requested to meet at their hall in full uniform at 1:30 o'clock on that day. Lily division has also sent an invitation to all the lodges in Omaha to join it, and it is expected that a large number will respond to the Junior Order of American Mechanics of Omaha will also participate in full uniform.

Jessie Smith, a woman of the town, yesterday swore out a warrant for the arrest of John Winney, charging him with larceny as a bailee. The woman says that Winney was her former lover, but that she no longer cherishes any affection for the young man; that she gave him her gold watch to have it repaired and that he refuses to return it. Winney also has a ring that this faded damsel would like to recover.

WASH DRESS GOODS.

The letting down the prices has caused such a rush in this department that we have been compelled to add extra help. Satinets are in great demand and going lively at 10c, 15c and 25c yard. Best black satin 10c, 12 1/2c, 15c, 20c, 25c, 30c and 35c yard, in fact the ladies tell us that we are the only house in Omaha where they can find anything like an assortment to select from.

Remnants of white checked nainsook at 2 1/2c yard are being carried away quick. Hayden Bros. are headquarters on wash goods. LITTLE ONES FROM THE LONG.

School Children Examine Everything at the Coliseum and Pronounce It All Good. Nearly 400 Nebraska boys and girls, pupils at the Long school, under the chaperonage of Miss McCheane, principal of the school, visited the Manufacturers exposition at the Coliseum yesterday afternoon and a great time the little folks made of it. The exhibition is a big show, and it is doubtful if all the school children will ever be able to see as much within those walls as those merry pupils did yesterday. Nothing escaped them. They stood open mouthed around the machinery plants that were weaving Nebraska cotton; they sampled Nebraska made patent medicines and pronounced them good, they ate Nebraska grown and Nebraska prepared pickles, drank Nebraska chicky, lounged in Nebraska made carriages, to the disgust of the overworked policemen, watched Nebraska girls making shirts for Nebraska men, saw Nebraska made and imported attractive earthenware vessels by a Nebraska potter, ate Nebraska candy made from Nebraska sugar, got Nebraska flour all over their clothes from too intimate association with exhibits in that line, spent just a little time admiring the wonderful display of Nebraska made soap, and did not get tired until evening.

The exhibitors in that line, spent just a little time admiring the wonderful display of Nebraska made soap, and did not get tired until evening.

But the school children were not the only visitors. The attendance is increasing very rapidly and yesterday afternoon an evening large audience was present. The exhibits surpass anything ever before attempted in the city and the management confidently expects a larger attendance each day. The exhibits are now all in shape.

TO EXTEND THE FLOUR MARKET.

American Millers Meet to Devise a Plan of Action. TOLEDO, O., May 24.—The Winter Wheat Millers League of America is holding its first annual session here today, with about 100 members from Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky. It is an organization to work for an extension of the foreign market for American flour, so that the one-third of the crop now exported to wheat shall be sent as flour. President M. H. Davis of Shelby, O., discussed this topic at length in his opening address. Secretary E. E. Perry read a number of communications from American consuls in Europe and the West Indies, cordially offering their services in aiding an extension of foreign markets, and the report of the executive committee in its meeting with the Central Traffic association in Chicago at which a petition was presented asking a 20-cent rate on flour exports, but which has not yet been acted upon.

MANY PEOPLE BADLY BURNED.

Gasoline Explodes in a Railway Wreck with Fatal Results. BURLINGTON, Wis., May 24.—The north-bound train on the Wisconsin Central was wrecked last night near Gray's Lake. There were some leaky gasoline cars on the train, from which the fluid spread over the water on each side of the track. Some careless persons dropped a lighted match, which the gasoline took fire and the 200 persons gathered at the scene ran for their lives. A number of them were terribly burned, and one of the section hands burned to death.

Killed His Wife and Himself. GREEN BAY, Wis., May 23.—John Marto, a market gardener, early this morning cut his wife's throat from ear to ear and then went out into the woods and hanged himself. He had abused her for a long time and yesterday she had begun suit for a divorce.

The small majority Dean Lawrence received for bishop in the Massachusetts Episcopal convention has caused some comment. He had 82 votes, among the clergy when 81 were necessary for a choice, and 75 votes among the laity when 56 were necessary—giving him a majority of 29 in both bodies. No close vote is expected that the application of Philip Brooks was chosen on the first ballot with 14 clerical and 16 lay majority, a total majority of 30; but Bishop Paddock, the predecessor of Brooks, was chosen on the third ballot and then he had only 3 clerical and 4 lay majority, a total majority of 7. So Dean Lawrence's majority is nearly three times as large as Bishop Paddock's and two-thirds as large as Philip Brooks'. This is a good proof of the popularity of the new bishop of Massachusetts.

It will be remembered that several years ago the prudential committee of the American Board of Foreign Missions at three different times rejected the application of Rev. Mr. Noyes to be appointed a missionary to foreign fields. The ground of objection to Noyes was that he believed the doctrine of probation after death. Mr. Noyes afterwards went to Japan as an independent missionary. He has since renewed his application, and the dependent solicited an expression of opinion of the corporate members of the American board. The great majority declare that the application of Mr. Noyes should not be granted.

HAYDEN'S TWO PURCHASES

A Line of Wool Dress Goods at Only 10c a Yard.

SILKS AT LESS THAN HALF PRICE

The Tight Money Market Brings a Benefit to Omaha People—Dress Goods Start Tomorrow in One Lot—Silks, 18c Yard.

THEY WANTED MONEY.

We didn't need the goods. But we couldn't resist the offer. A large wholesale house which was badly crowded for money during the recent tight money market made us an offer on a lot of dress goods. We wired them that we would accept the offer if they would guarantee delivery by June 1. There were 827 pieces in the purchase.

The first lot arrived yesterday and we start a sale of these goods at a uniform price.

ONLY 10C A YARD.

You can tell what they are worth by looking at them, as they are all standard goods.

They consist of 38-inch bedford cord, 38-inch cashmere, 40-inch all wool chevrons, 42-inch all wool batross, 40-inch all wool plaids, 38-inch all wool flannels, 38-inch whip cord, 22-inch wool challies, 40-inch all wool stripes and plaids.

These goods come in a large line of colors and are worth 35c, 50c per yard.

The silk sale which began yesterday is having a run. It was another one of those tight money market purchases.

These prices do the talking: 25 pieces colored satins worth 40c per yard, only 19c. 25 pieces India silk, solid colors, worth 35c yard, only 18c. 20 pieces 22-inch plain colors, genuine punjums, worth 65c yard, 30c tomorrow.

20 pieces 22-inch fine Habutal wash silks, in solid colors, worth 75c, now only 50c. 50 pieces 24-inch solid colors hand-woven washable habutal silks, worth 85c, for 65c.

Tariff for Revenue.

Detroit Tribune: The president walked the floor with an elastic step. "Hoke," he exclaimed, pausing for a moment in front of the fire place, "I am congratulating myself."

The secretary of the interior looked glad.

"Yes, Hoke," Mr. Cleveland continued, "it seems as if kindly fate were watching over me all the time; Really I don't know what I should do if that were not the case. Just listen, Hoke, to what the Chicago platform says about tariff reform. I never realized the beauties of that tariff plank until now Hoke."

"Your excellency?" "Please stop picking your teeth. You annoy me. It grates harshly upon me in the section of my rejoicing. Thank you. Now listen to the words of the Chicago platform. Here they are: 'We declare it to be a fundamental principle of the democratic party that the federal government has no constitutional power to impose and collect tariff except for purposes of revenue only.' Just think of it, Hoke. Are you thinking or only pretending?"

"Thinking, your excellency." "You might as well, Hoke. You will have to do more or less of it before the administration is over. Now just remark upon the beauties of that passage. It is a remarkably equivocal declaration and one most admirably adapted to my present needs. To borrow the popular vernacular, Hoke it is a corker. Now, to be honest, can you place any definite construction upon that plank?"

"No, your excellency." "The president chuckled. 'It really commits me to nothing, then. That is the basis for my self-congratulation; I talked much of tariff reform before election—much more, I now know, than was necessary. That can't be helped. But to have this plank in such a shape as to relieve me from the need of doing anything whatsoever in the line of reform is certainly happy fortune, Hoke.'

The secretary of the interior started. The tariff, Hoke, is a tremendous subject. Perfectly tremendous. I am thankful that I shall not be forced to tackle it. You bet your—I mean you are very certain of that, Hoke."

Mr. Cleveland was silent for several minutes, at the end of which time he again addressed the secretary of the interior.

"Hoke." "Your excellency." "If you have any other duties to attend to now is your time."

The secretary of the interior left the presidential presence.
