NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

What the Board of Equalization Did Not Do at Its Last Meeting.

ASSESSMENT OF THE MOTOR COMPANY

Excuses Given Why it Was Not Raised to the Same Ratio as that Paid by Other Property Owners-

News Notes.

The Board of Equalization held its last meeting last evening, and the question of the motor assessment was never so much as breathed of by any of the aldermen. This was in accordance with the pre-arranged program, and the assessment of the motor mpany will stand right where it was put by the assessor, who has been selling his dogs to the motor company for $75 apiece. The aldermen now claim that they had no right to take up the question last evening, for the law provides expressly that the last meeting shall be devoted only to the consideration of cases wherein the assessments have been raised by the board at some of the previous meetings. They do not claim, however, that they would have considered the matter if the law had allowed, and in not making that claim their honesty stands out in bold relief.

At the time of the meeting of the board at which Attorneys McCabe and Spencer Smith appeared before the board and requested it, accompanying the request with a multitude of pertinent facts and figures, to assess the motor company at the same ratio as the other owners of property, the matter was allowed to go over, as the aldermen said, "in order that the company might have a further order that the company might have a further opportunity to come to an agreement with the two committees appointed by the city councils of Omaha and Council Bluffs with reference to a 5-cent fare." At that time there were only about three meetings of the board to be held at which the question of raising the assessment could be considered. The last meeting was held three days later, and yet the subject was never broached. The question is being asked whether the asture councilmen did not know of the above mentioned limitation. not know of the above mentioned limitation of law at that time, and if they did, why were they not a little more eager to deal out a little dose of grief for the corporation whose case five of them were elected to look after.

Just how much good has been done by all the anti-motor agitation of the past few months it is hard to tell at present, but the only actual result that can be noticed is that the members of the council have been obliged to show their respective hands, and in each hand has been seen reposing peacefully the little favor from the motor company that has had so powerful an influence in condoning the offenses of the company against the rights of the public.

South Dakota's Auditor Expresses His Oplaton of the United Sta es Masonic and Guaranty Fund Life Association.

The South Dakota legislature, profiting by the experience of older states, passed a law at the last session requiring the state auditor to visit the home offices of all insurance companies doing business in the state and make a careful personal examination of the financial condition and responsibility. If, in the opinion of the auditor, they are not safe companies he is required to refuse them permission to do business in the state. In pursuance of this duty Hon. Charles H. Anderson, chief clerk in the office of the auditor, has been looking into the condition of Iowa companies and spent a couple of days in Council Bluffs making a close scrutiny into the condition of the United States Masonic Benevolent association and the Guaranty Fund Life company. After the conclusion of his work Mr. Anderson spoke very freely to a BEE reporter whom he met in the Grand hotel.

You have two institutions there that your people may well feel proud of," said he. "I don't think I ever examined a company that made a better show-ing than both of these. Unlike all other ment organizations they have a definite, positive something behind them. In principle they are unique. They both contain a feature that must prove, and the only thing that can prove, the salvation of all mutual companies. That feature is the guaranty principle. In all other mutual organizations success depends upon the infusion of new blood, and if for any reason the influx of new members diminishes the company becomes weakened, and if it ceases the company must cease to live, and those who have borne its burdens for years are deprived of anticipated benefits and lose all they have paid in. In the Ma-sonie, and also the Guaranty Fund Life, is a constantly increasing fund that not only becomes a bond for the redemption of the promises made to members in earlier years, but it operates to diminish the assessments of older members. This makes it impossible for there ever to be an increase in assessments, but renders it morally certain that there will be a gradual diminishing of the amounts to be paid. To make it still more simple and clear it is to the persistent members that the greater inducements are offered while in other assessment companies it is the newer members that jump in at the eleventh hour and receive equal benefit with those who have carried the burdens for years. Of course the new members come in under the same or better conditions than in other companies, but the point is, that the longer they stay in the greater inducement they have to remain. It was a revelation to me and the brightest thing I have ever found in insurance. "Secretary Jameson and the officers of both companies gave me every opportunity to make a careful examination of the financial condition of their com-panies. They much more than meet the requirements of our very strict law. Both show a degree of prosperity and financial soundness that will carry them through anything, and insures for them a bright future."

The City Lost. The jury in the case of Mrs. L. L. Hendricks aginst the city returned a verdict, which was opened in the district court yesterday morning and found to be for the plaintiff for the sum of $1,250. This was about as expected, and it is stated that the about as expected, and it is stated that the city will not appeal the case to the supreme court. As a matter of fact, the city has but little to lose by the verdict anyway, if the assertions of some of the interested parties are to be taken as gospel truth. It is claimed that the Interstate Railway company, or rather the Omaha Bridge and Terminal Railway company, which is now the owner of the former's franchise, is responsible to the city for all damages that may result from defective tracks. If this be true, it is probable that another suit will arise out of probable that another suit will arise out of the one just disposed of, in which the city will be plaintiff and the Bridge and Termi-nal company defendant, unless the company agrees to a settlement without going through the preliminaries of a long law suit.

The jury in the case of the First National bank of Chicago against the Council Bluffs Gas & Electric Light company also returned a verdict yesterday morning, giving the plaintiff the full amount demanded, $1,072.52.

It will probably be appealed.
Yesterday the case of W. E. Fraser, the collection agent of Sioux City, against Foster was on trial. This is one of the famous Plattsmouth railway garnishment cases which are to be tried on an appeal from the court of justice Fox. The case was given to the jury at the hour of evening adjournment.

The flag was the prettiest one that could be found in Council Bluffs, made of silk and ornamented with gold fringe. It was mounted on a fine pole at the top of which stood a gilt eagle with outstretched pinions. The flag was brought in through one door by Misses Irone Test and Frankie Bowman, and at the same time Miss. Munic Williamson at the same time Miss Minnie Williamson entered by the other and mounted the platform. In a well worded oration she pre-sented the flag to its new owners, and the gift was acknowledged by Captain Frank Capell on behalf of the members of the com-pany. The flag will be first furled to the breezes on Memorial day, when the cadets are to march in the procession along with the other military societies. Faith Cure Scarlet Fever. A case of scarlet fever was unearthed yesterday morning at the residence of a man named Borwick in Sunnyside addition, at the north end of Harrison street. It had not been reported, as the only medical attention that had been given the case was that of a faith cure man, who did not consider himself sufficiently bound by the laws of this world to notify the city clerk. The city physician was summoned to investi-gate the case as soon as Deputy Marshal Fowler accidentally ran across it, and he immediately pronounced it scarlet fever, although the mother of the child insisted although the mother of the child insisted that it was all a mistake. CHAS. SCHULTHEISS,

HAVE YOU HAD THE GRIP?

The orthodox old-school doctors considered disease an organized enemy which carried on an actual warfare within the body. Heroic remedies, powerful pills and pellets, were, therefore, hurled like shot and shell to displace the invisible enemy. The belief to-day is that disease is a delicate organization out of gear and working with friction. Have you had the grip? Has it left you weak and nervous? Then you know what disease is.

of irritability, and make the system capable of making vigorous, ruddy, healthy blood. Then above all things, use Paines celery compound. Thousands of people have set their stamp of approval on it. It is in the line of progress. Its discoverer recognized that weakness, lassi-nervous force is being used than is pro-

Paine's celery compound will make you well it you are weak. Here is a recent letter from Mr. Ransom Phillips of Addison, N. Y., enclosing a photograph of his sister, fiven above: "I have bought three bottles of Paine's celery compound for my sister. "She had a stroke of paralysis some three or four years ago, but she got better so that she was around. Then she had the grip, and it left her weak and nervous, with a bad cough. She was reading some of the letters from promi-You need something to rob the nerves nent people about Paine's celery com-pound, and she mentioned it to me, and I told her she had better have some. I got her a bottle. She took this one, and when that was gone it had done her so much good that I went and got two more bottles.

"I carried one of them home to my coverer recognized that weakness, lassitude and lack of energy mean that more helped her." It makes people well. It cures where everything else fails. Try it and you will be convinced.
