Princes of the Orient. Frank Lindon's presence in the city last wening was the occasion of a great celebration among the Princes of the Orient. Mr. Lindon is an enthusiastic member of the order, and his experience in secret society affairs and his general makeup combine to make him just the sort of man to come in and give the fellows a whirl in good earnest. He and his company gave a creditable rendition of the "Son of Monte Cristo" at Dohany's during the fore part of the evening, the proceeds to go to the princes. The members of the order were there in full force, and as almost everyone who belongs to any other secret society has also been admitted into the mysteries of the Orient the house was well filled.

After the performance the princes repaired to the Grand Army hall on Pearl street and initiated several candidates, Mr. Lindon taking the lead in conducting them through the wonderful sights and scenes of the Orient. After the initiation there was a spread, and until an early hour this morning the air was redolent with the kind of joy and gladness that comes in bottles and must e enjoyed while the foam is on.

Arrangements Made for the Celebration of Memorial Day.

SOME OF THE DAY'S SPECIAL FEATURES

Thousands Will Assemble to Do Honor to Soldier Dead-How the Parade Will Be Formed-Business Generally Will Be Suspended.

Today is Decoration day, and the people of Council Bluffs will unite with the people of every other city, town and hamlet in the country to pay tribute to the memory of the soldier dead. The banks and courts will remain closed all day, and many of the business houses will do likewise, particularly in the afternoon. The day will be observed in the usual manner, and if the weather is favorable the exercises will be witnessed by thousands of people in the city.

The parade in the afternoon will be the feature of the demonstration that will provoke the most widespread interest and draw the crowd. A plan has been drawn up by the committee in charge to facilitate the handling of the column by the marshal and his aids, and a careful study of the follow-ing will enable the column to form much more quickly and prevent much of the con-fusion that has heretofore existed:

Budd Evans, a colored man, was arrested by the police yesterday and slated with the charge of assault with intent to commit robbery. He is the third of the crowd that is supposed to have been implicated in the attempted robbery of the three workmen at the new bridge early Sunday morning, and all three will have a hearing in police court this morning. Some of the officers have been making an investigation of the affair since the first two suspects were arrested, and have come to the conclusion that it was not so such an attempt at robbery as was not so such an attempt at robbery as a mere drunken brawl. The three men who made the complaint had been "doing" the burnt district in Omaha, and the account they give of their trip is somewhat disjointed. They now deny the statement they first made, that the darkies called for money, and say they demanded whisky. The darkeys, on their part, admit that they were full and that a fight took piece. were full and that a fight took place but they claim the white men commenced the fun. Couldn't Stand an Umbreila, L. B. Cousins was the hero of a runaway adventure yesterday morning as the result of a collision between his horse and an open umbrella in the hands of a woman. He was passing the Seidentopf place in the eastern part of the city when he overtook a lady of his acquaintance who was afoot. He stop-ped and asked her to ride down street, but at that instant she happened to raise her umbrella. The horse instantly took fright and ran down street, capsizing the buggs and spilling Mr. Cousins and his effects over a large territory. When the buggy was finally found all the spokes had been broken out of the two front wheels and the vehicle was converted from a respectable four-wheeled carriage to a very undignihed two-wheeled gig. Mr. Cousins escaped with a lew bruises and very thankful there were

SPOKE FOR HUNSELF ALONE

Bishop Scannell Repudiates Certain Parts of Father Sherman's Speech.

NOT THE SENTIMENTS OF CATHOLICS

Says the Bright Young Jesuit Did Not Represent the Catholic Church-Impossibility of Founding a New Politieal Party Pointed Out.

Several features; of the address of Rev. Thomas Ewing Sherman, S. J., in this city last Thursday night Have excited considerable comment. Two points in particular caused unfavorable criticism even among members of the Catholic church, The reverend gentleman's assertion that he did not come of his own volition, but was sent, left the impression among non-Catholies that his orders came from the highest authority in the church in this country, and consequently the views to which he gave expression were authoritatively Catholic. It was naturally deduced from this misleading impression that in referring to a national Catholic political party Father Sherman voiced the opinion of Catholics in general.

In order to set the matter right and learn to what extent.

to what extent Father Sherman voices Catholic opinion, a reporter of THE BEE called on Rt. Rev. Richard Scannell, bishop of Omaha, last evening and requested his opinion "To what extent, Bishop, does Father Sherman represent the Catholic church!" was asked.

The bishop replied: "I am not aware that Father Sherman represented any one but himself. Doubtless he came here with the consent of his superior, who lives in St. Louis, but that fact would not authorize him to represent even his superior in the expres-sion of political or religious opinions." "But he said he was sent?"

Did Not Represent the Catholic Church.

"Oh, yes; of course. No member of a re-ligious order can go about preaching or lec-turing without the permission of his superior, and in this sense it can be said that he was sent. Certainly, Father Sherman did not represent the Catholic church, nor the dio-cese of Omaha, nor the clergy of the diocese. cese of Omana, nor the ciergy of the diocese.
And I am sure he himself would be the last person to put forward such a claim."
"Did you invite him?"
"No; I was not even consulted about his coming. The nest intimation I had of it was from a notice in the daily papers." "Are Father Sherman's views those of the

"His own. Father Sherman is a bright young man and has, no doubt, decided views on many questions. He is also a thorough American and claims the right, which undoubtedly is his as a free American citizen, of expressing these views. But because they are his views they are not necessarily the views of other Catholics. The Catholic church grants to her members the fullest liberty of thought and of expression on all questions outside the domain of defined doc-trines. Now, observe, I am not criticizing Father Sherman's lecture or finding fault with him in any way. I have no right to do so as I was not present at the lecture. I am simply showing that he, and he alone, was responsible for what he said."

Disagrees with Father Sherman. "Father Sherman referred to the possi-of forming a new Catholic party. What is your opinion of the suggestion("

"That is a suggestion regarding the wisdom of which I would like to take the liberty reception committee, will meet at W. F. Sapp's office in the Sapp building at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening of this week. All memof disagreeing with the lecturer. And I think I should have the most of the Catholics of Omaha with me in so doing. In Germany there is a strong Catholic party in the cen-ter which holds the balance of power in that country, but that party was made necessary by the Kulturkampf. It was organized as a means of self-preservation. In this country we have no Kulturkampf, and are not likely to have any. None of the three great polit-ical parties of the country is committed to any anti-Catholic policy. On the contrary, their leaders and spokesmen disclaim any responsible for those outbreaks of bigotry which occur from time to time here and there throughout the country. These out-breaks are local and are for the most part the work of foreigners with whom hatred of the Catholic church is a tradition." "Do you think a Catholic party is a possi-

No Catholic Party Practicable.

"I do not. The Catholic population of the United States is made up of many national-ities. These people differ from each other in a thousand ways. In fact, they can hardly be said to have anything in common, except their religion. It is my opinion that nothing but an anti-Catholic crusade—a Kulturkampf, so to speak—on the part of the general government, or on the part of a large number of the states, could weld these different races into a political party; and of such a contingency there is no likelihood whatever. The days of religious persecu-tion are gone forever, as far as the American people are concerned. It is much more important now that we Catholics use our influence in favor of good government by sup-porting that party which puts forward the best men for office and advocates the best measures.

"In this way," said the bishop, concluding the interview, "we should soon hold the bal-ance of power, make ourselves respected by all parties, and insure a good government to the country."

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Bruce Proffers Some Anti-Gambiers Resolutions to the City Council. By 8:30 o'clock last night a quorum of the South Omaha city council had got together, President Woods in the chair.

The meeting opened with the council sitting as a board of equalization. There were two complaints on the special tax to pay for the paving of the alley from M to N street, between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth streets. They claimed damage by change of grade, that the work was done illegally and not in regular form, and that no ap-praisers were appointed. City Attorney Van Dusen suggested that the matter go over for one week. Mr. Conley moved that the mat-ter be referred to the city attorney. Mr. Shultz moved that the matter be postponed until next Monday night and the complaints were disposed of in that way. Lawyer Montgomery spoke in behalf of the complainants. The council then adjourned as a board of equalization and proceeded to regular business.

our city, and in utter defiance of law as well, and.

Whereas, the gambling houses are running in open violation of the statutes of the state of Nebraska and the Linited States, not withstanding a resolution was adopted less than a year ago by an unantmous vote of this council, requesting the mayor to use the power vested in him by the statutes of the state to close them up, and.

Whereas, Said gambling houses are still running in open defiance of law.

Therefore, Be it resolved that it is the sense of the council that the mayor proceed at once by the power vested in him by the laws of the state of Nebraska and of the United States, to enforce the Sunday Slocum law and also close the gambling houses and see that the law in regard to these things is strictly enforced.

Wyman gave a hearty second to the resolution. Conley objected on the ground that Bruce had no right to move the adoption of his own resolution. Wyman thought he had. The chair was in doubt. Bolin moved that

Bruce explained his position. He said the resolution embodied nothing but law and as the city attorney had always advised well he thought the resolution should go to him. He believed that the laws of our state were good and should be en-forced. Omaha had adopted the Sunday enforcement and he thought South Omaha should.

Buila and Conley thought the mayor was the proper person to regulate such matters.
Conley moved that the resolution be laid on the table, but his amendment was lost.
The motion to refer to the mayor carried.
Fred Smith, chief of the fire department, was granted twelve days leave of absence hearinging June 7.

Chief Beckett asked that the council take some action in regard to securing an assist-ant county physician for South Omaha. The county physician will be asked to supply the Chief Beckett also asked that an electric Chief Beckett also asked that an electric light be placed in the alley between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh streets, on the south side of N. The chief had on his kicking clothes and further asked that the public seat at Twenty-fourth and N streets be removed and that the ordinance is regard to combine the railings about the in regard to combing the railings about the city be enforced. The chief said that the seat and railing were held down by bums seat and railing were held down by bums and loafers.

Conley thought that a poor report coming from the police, that the seat was built for bums and loafers and if the report was true the police were not doing their duty.

Wyman moved that the privilege granted the firm to place the seat these. the firm to place the seat there be recorded, but the motion was lost.

Mr. Bulla moved that the council secure seats for the speciators who wished to listen to the council proceedings. Consequently bleaching boards will be arranged for next Monday night's session.

Bulla reported favorably on the petition to grade O street from Twentieth to Twentyseventh street.

Bolla reported favorably on the petition to grade the alley from L to M between Twentysecond and Twenty-third streets.
City Attorney Van Dusen handed in a new misdemeanor ordinance. The law covers gambling, prize fighting, dog and cock fight-ing, confidence games, carrying concealed weapons, prostitution, garbage, discharging firecrackers (barring July 4), hitching teams to lamp posts, leaving sidewalk in bad repair, conducting opium dens, and a raft of minor offenses.

The fire committee was instructed to purchase $960 worth of new hose. Schultz recommended that the mayor purchase a hook and ladder truck from the Fire Extinguisher Manufacturing company, the apparatus to cost $1,500. Conley thought the expense was too great.

It would cost $2,000 a year to operate the truck and a team would have to be purchased, in fact an outlay of $4,500 the first year was more than the city could bear at the present time. Wyman thought that the expense should not stop the pur-chase. The hook and ladder truck was chase. The hook and ladder truck was needed and should be bought. Bulla was not ready to sign the report and the matter went over for one week. The council then went into a committee of the whole on the petition to grade V street from Twenty-seventh to Railroad avenue.

Swift & Co. Not in It. Sunday morning THE BEE sin its court columns stated that judgment had been rendered against Swift & Co. for $240 in favor of D. McVey in Judge Scott's court the day preceding. This Swift & Co. desire to correct, as it does that firm an injustice. The judgment was obtained against W. S. Glenn, a contractor and teamster doing hauling for the firm. When the suit was begun in the district court Swift & Co. were made co-defendants, but before the case was submitted to the jury the judge held that suit would not lie against the South Omaha company and the jury returned a verdict as above. Memorial Day Order. In order to prevent a jam and interfere with the procession entering the park tomorrow afternoon Mr. J. W. Cress, chief marshal of the day, has issued the following

This is South Omaha day at the exposi tion, and as many citizens should atte possibly can. All will be well repaid for their time and money spent, The Bohemian Catholics will build their new church either at the corner of Twenty-second and Wyman streets or on Twentieth between P and Q.

A Decoration day program was rendered in all of the public and parochial schools of South Omaha yesterday. There was a good sprinkling of visitors at each school and the afternoon was greatly enjoyed by all. Mem-bers of the Grand Army of the Republic visited the schools and delivered short addresses to the scholars, and taken alto-gether the day was profitably spent in each of the schools.

At 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning an alarm of fire was sent in to the Twenty-fourth street engine house, out it proved to be a wild goose chase. Before the firemen had re-turned to the engine house, however, there was another alarm from lower N street and the laddies turned and gave their attention there. One of the employes at the Magic City chop house tried to fill a gasoline stove that was lighted and the consequence was an explosion. Fortunately no one was in-jured and the fire was put out before any
