AT THE STATE UNIVERSITY.

Interesting Commencement Exercises of the Lincoln Institution.

DR. VON HOLST'S SCHOLARLY ORATION

American System of Education Thoroughly Discussed—Advanced Position of the Professor Explained—List of Those Who Received Diplomas.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 7.—[Special to THE BEE.]—The commencement exercises of the State university were held this morning at the Lansing opera house. Dr. Hermann Edouard von Holst of the faculty of the Chicago university was the commencement orator, and his topic, "Nationalization of Education and the Universities." It was a most scholarly address, and the speaker took greatly advanced ground on the subject, criticized the American system of education, declared it as simply another outgrowth of the notorious American fault of "experimenting" with education as with other vital questions.

At the close of his address the chancellor presented diplomas to the following graduates:

Bachelor of Science—Jurgens Albers, Roland Stanton Bulla, Frank De Witt Eager, Christian Field, John Cecil Graham, Lincoln Gray, Christian Rohrer, De Alton Saunders, Herbert Almon Steiner, Clarence Aurelius Skinner, William Lester Stockton, Jacob Vance Wolfe, Jr.

Bachelor of Arts—Harry Gardner Barber, Norman Burton Barr, Abbie Cornelia Burns, Nellie Shroves Cochrane, Elizabeth Content Field, John Cecil Graham, Lincoln Gray, Arville Edward Guilmette, Emory Chase Hardy, Martha Hutchison, Ralph Emory Johnson, Julia Marie Kormeyer, Fannie Land, Joseph Frederick Larson, Derrick Norman Lehner, Harrison Springstead Lord, Carlton Clymer Marley, John Law Marshall, Jr., Bessie Evelyn Merrill, Paul Pizer, Ernest Mark Pollard, Sarah Agnes Ryan, James Joseph Sayer, Charles Francis Stroman, Lucy Upton, George Henry Whitney, John Piper Williams, Thomas Elwood Wing, William Francis Wolfe, Jr., Mrs. A. G. Wolfenbarger.

Bachelor of Law—John Hugh Barry, Frank Elmer Bishop, Elmer Jacob Burckett, Pike Wooster Chapman, Robert Acker Clapp, Thomas Anselm Davidson, Charles Sumner Forbes, William Charlton Frampton, David Avery Hagard, William Augustus Hawes, Edwin McPherson Holden, William Harold Holden, Albert Marshall Keyes, Charles Wesley Keyes, Charles Henry Miner, Benjamin Franklin Seal, Stephen Patrick O'Hearn, Horace Wheldon Orr, John Joseph Pershing, Edwin Everhart Squires, Edmund Clemens Strode, John Adolphus Sullivan, Charles Edward Tingley, James Amel Walker, Harry Erwin Wallace, Richard Owen Williams, Charles Edwin Woods.

Killed While Handling Cars.
J. M. Hatfield, employed by the B. & M. as a hostler's helper, was so badly injured in a railway accident in the yards this morning that he died soon afterwards. The workmen at the roundhouse were engaged this morning in pushing cars out into the pit, and Hatfield, for some reason or another, and acting without any instructions, attempted to pull the pit connecting the engine with the string of cars. In doing so, he stumbled and fell, and the cars passed over his legs. Both of them were cut off and mangled into an almost unrecognizable mass of flesh. He was picked up and removed to the hospital at 1441 U street, where the company's physician attended his injuries. He survived only several hours, dying shortly before noon.

Hatfield was a young man who came to this country with several friends last winter to learn railroading, and started in as a hostler's helper. His father is said to be a wealthy shipbuilder in England, and is now on his way to this country, as was evidenced by the contents of a letter received this afternoon after his death from his mother, who resides at 40 Devonshire street.

Forest Hill, London. He resided at 334 R street. The coroner, Dr. Crim, was notified, and the remains taken to the undertaking rooms of W. G. Roberts. The coroner has not yet decided whether an inquest will be necessary, as there are several stories afloat as to the cause of his death, one being to the effect that he caught his foot in a frog and was run down by a train. Hatfield had received no instructions as to his duty as it was the intention of the conductor to pull out the cars, and the first they knew of it was when they heard his screams.

Mighty Small Potatoes.
The curious spectacle of a set of public officers exercising their petty spleen toward the representative of a newspaper which had the temerity to criticize them, and demand that they be punished for wilful neglect of duty and maladministration—an exhibition which involved the complete stoppage of the business of one of the most important boards of the state government—was witnessed yesterday afternoon. It was at a meeting of the State Board of Public Lands and Buildings, of which the three men who have just been acquitted were the only members present. When a Bee representative entered the room there was a complete cessation of all business. Mr. Hastings growl intensely on the subject of a law book, Mr. Humphrey slowly felt of the bald spots on his head, and Mr. Allen said that Mr. Humphrey should give the board had simply held a meeting to pass on some vouchers, and very few of them. The Bee man withdrew, but about ten minutes later again entered. At this time Mr. Hastings and Mr. Allen were busily poring over a copy of the statutes, but their conference came promptly to an end. The Bee man, who had just been acquitted something, however, and called Mr. Allen outside the room, where they consulted. A representative of the World-Herald, closely followed by one of the Lincoln Journal, entered the room and held a whispered consultation, withdrawing with the evidence of inward satisfaction on their faces.

The Bee representative waited around in the cold and frigid air of the room until he was convinced that the three men who have just been acquitted prevent him from learning what was going on, when he withdrew. That he was correct was evidenced this morning, when he learned that typewritten copies of the resolution, presented by Secretary Allen, but really prepared by the sterling patriot and railroad attorney, E. M. Murfin, had been given all other members of the board, and withheld from THE BEE.

Postal Clerks in Convention.
Today was devoted to the annual business meeting of the Postal Clerks association for the sixth division. The following officers were elected: President, C. A. Guthrie of Chicago; vice president, D. J. Sinclair, Nebraska City; secretary and treasurer, J. C. Ward, Burlington, Ia.; James Sullivan of Quincy, Ill.; and C. D. Don of Oakdale, Neb., were elected delegates to the national convention, which will be held at St. Paul the first Wednesday in August next, and D. K. Walker of Chicago and W. J. Crow of Creighton were selected as alternates. The morning and afternoon sessions were principally devoted to the discussion of the work and scope of the organization. James Sullivan of Quincy reading a paper on "Plans of the Union Railway Postal Clerks' Campaign," an matter relative to the improvement of the service and the amelioration of the clerks were suggested and discussed.

To Preserve the Organization.
Prior to adjournment, a committee, consisting of S. R. Stone of Muscatine, Ia.; W. H. Peun of Des Moines, and W. J. Nash of Omaha, was appointed to draft an address to be sent to every postal clerk in Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska and Wyoming. The committee prepared the following for the information of clerks as to the objects of the association:

It is evident that there exists a feeling among many of the clerks that on account of our salary bill not receiving recognition from the state and congress is the one greatest object of the association has been defeated. While it must be admitted that we did not meet with the success in that direction that was expected it cannot truly be said that we were defeated. The report of the committee that went to Washington in the interest of this salary bill shows that unexpected obstacles prevented the bill being acted upon at the last session, but great progress was made and the promises for future success are very flattering. We wish to emphatically impress upon you the fact that the success of our association does not depend upon the passage or defeat of our salary bill alone. There are many other principles embodied in our constitution which are infinitely of more value than simply dollar and cents.

What shall be done with the clerk who has spent the greater part of his life in the faithful performance of duties in the railway mail service and through the aid of his association has come unit for duty? What shall be done for the families whose loved ones and only support must die in the wreck of the postal car? These with others are important questions that must be met, and their remedy can only be brought about by thorough organization and earnest and united efforts of the railway postal clerks. Local organizations tend to bring clerks into a closer social relation which must be of greater benefit to the clerks individually and the association generally and we hope more interest will be taken in local organizations. For the success of the association depends largely upon the success of the local organization. We are pleased to inform you that the prospects for the success of the Postal Clerks association were never more promising than at this time, and that we are organized to stay. Every clerk should be interested in the welfare of this association, and every clerk should be ready for every clerk will be benefited thereby.

In conclusion, we feel it our duty to urge you to join your local association, and give the railway postal clerks association your hearty support. Yours for success.

W. H. PEUN,
W. J. NASH.

City in Brief.
County Attorney Woodward this morning dismissed one of the indictments found by the first grand jury last December against G. F. Betts, as it covers practically the same offense as that for which he has just been convicted, which referred to frauds committed in April, 1891.

FOR THE VETERANS' COMFORT.
Interstate Reunion at Superior This Year Will Be an Elaborate Affair.
SUPERIOR, Neb., June 7.—[Special to THE BEE.]—The Interstate Reunion association of Nebraska and Kansas is very busy making great preparations for the reunion of the veterans of the two states, which is to be held in Lincoln park, this city, from July 31 to August 5 inclusive. Active committees are at work securing cheap transportation, forming and drilling cavalry and infantry companies, resuming of privileges, fitting grounds, extending water mains, advertising, etc.

The following gentlemen have been invited to speak are expected to attend Governor Crouse, Governor Loweth of Kansas, Hon. John J. Ingalls, ex-President Harrison, United States Senator Manderson, Congressman W. P. Hendon of Nebraska, Hon. Thomas J. Major, George H. Hastings, Hon. W. E. Andrews, Senator Allen, General Lewis Hancock, A. H. Church, General H. C. Russell, General J. C. Diworth, General A. G. Weissart, Hon. Church Howe, Captain J. H. Stickel, Hon. W. A. McKeligh, General J. D. Gage, Sergeant S. Cole and others.

Commander Adams says the outlay for the reunion will be several thousand dollars and the preparations are much more elaborate than ever before. A survey of the grounds reveals the fact that Camp Lincoln is certainly one of the most natural camping grounds in the state. Fine shade trees and beautiful lawns are interspersed all through the camp. The camp is supplied with a beautiful stream of water. The Burlington, Missouri Pacific, Santa Fe, Northwestern, and Colorado & Nebraska have platforms within a short distance of the camp. Several companies of National guards will be in attendance.

INFORMATION MUCH DESIRED.

Board of Public Lands and Buildings Questions the Supreme Court.
LINCOLN, Neb., June 7.—[Special to THE BEE.]—The Board of Public Lands and Buildings held its first meeting yesterday since the deposition of the impeached state officials. The first business transacted was the adoption of a resolution asking the supreme court to define the duties of the board in regard to letting contracts for supplies for state institutions and in approving vouchers to pay for the supplies. The resolutions set forth that there is an apparent conflict in the statutes governing the action of the board, and the court is asked to pass upon these questions: 1. What bills, if any, does the Board of Purchase and Supplies examine and approve? 2. What bills does the board examine and approve? 3. Does the act of 1877 (laws 1877 page 199) creating a Board of Purchase and Supplies supersede the act of 1877 (laws of 1877 page 18) establishing a Board of Public Lands and Buildings and defining their duties in so far as the latter act provides that the board say no other important work was done. The board met again today and put in three or four hours working upon the accumulated vouchers, but the members of the board say no other important work was done. The board will leave in a few days for a tour of inspection of the public institutions of the state.

The State Board of Transportation met also this afternoon and allowed a lot of accumulated bills. A number of other matters of little importance were discussed, but no action taken thereon.

Fremont News Notes.
FREMONT, Neb., June 7.—[Special to THE BEE.]—Judge Marshall sentenced Herman Stradman to serve a term of one year in the penitentiary for breaking into the saloon of C. Christensen twice and stealing liquors. Two special train loads of national railroad surgeons passed through this city this afternoon over the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley railway on their return trip from the Black Hills.

Christ Waterbury, aged 80 years, was buried this afternoon. Rev. George M. Brown, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, conducted the funeral exercises. The Fremont Turners gave a very interesting entertainment in Love's opera house this evening which consisted of climbing, swinging, marching, calisthenics, wrestling, boxing, singing, etc.

Neligh People at the Fair.
NELIGH, Neb., June 7.—[Special to THE BEE.]—A party of thirteen left this place for the Columbian exposition yesterday consisting of Mr. H. B. Hanson with his daughter, son and Miss Leake; Clyde McGintie and sister Lois McGintie and Miss Nellie Staples. Tomorrow another party will leave for the same destination, consisting of Miss Corlie and her sisters, Tillie and Louise, and Miss Bertha Hoff.

Married at Hastings.
HASTINGS, Neb., June 7.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—James H. Conrad of Omaha and Miss Lila H. Weeks of this city were quietly married here this morning by Rev. William Luens of St. Marks Episcopal church. A few friends and relatives were present. Miss Weeks is a prominent society young lady here and the groom an Omaha merchant.

Keenpade of a Deceased Woman.
OVERSTON, Neb., June 7.—[Special to THE BEE.]—Monday night the wife of Charles Sandahl, a prosperous farmer of Dawson county, while temporarily insane, arose from the side of her sleeping husband and taking her 3-months-old babe, traveled three or four miles during one of the worst rain storms of the season. Her husband awoke toward morning and missing his wife aroused the neighbors, who after scouring the country found the woman at a distant farmhouse where she had taken refuge from the storm. Although wet and cold herself, with a mother's instinct she had kept her little babe warm and dry.

Confessed His Guilt.

KEARNEY, Neb., June 7.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—H. O. Brawley was arrested last evening for stealing a lot of articles and pawnings them in Denver. When questioned he admitted his guilt and said he wanted to go back to Denver anyway.

Here is Something Good for Your Rheumatic Friends.
If any of your friends are troubled with rheumatism have them read this:

A COLORED BRUTE.
John Taylor's Victim Dying from the Effects of His Assaults.

John Taylor, a disreputable looking negro, occupies a cell at the city jail, charged with having committed a most diabolical crime. In a small frame house at 1014 Capitol avenue, Laura Burns, a 13-year-old colored girl, is dying from the effects of Taylor's lecherous brutality.

August last Taylor was living at Beatrice with a colored woman named Lizzie Carter. The latter had four children of which the girl, Laura, was the oldest. Mrs. Carter went out to work during the day and according to her story and that of the girl, Taylor sent all the children but Laura away during her absence and brutally assaulted the child, who was but 12 years old at the time. It is said that he thrust a revolver into her face and threatened to kill her if she ever told of the crime and in the same manner continued his relations with the child.

The family moved to Lincoln, where Mrs. Carter began to suspect that all was not right and came to Omaha to get rid of Taylor. Last month the child gave birth to a baby and it was not until she was informed that she could not live that she was induced to tell who was the author of her trouble. She declared that Taylor would surely kill her if she said a word.

The confession was made yesterday and her mother at once went to the police station and filed an information charging Taylor with the crime. County Attorney Kaley and Court Officer Walker visited the girl and took her ante-mortem statement in which she related the facts as above. A warrant was issued and Officer Walker left for Lincoln after his man last evening. He was found without difficulty and brought to this city where he will be arraigned this afternoon. He denies that he assaulted the girl but tells a number of conflicting stories. He is a man about 35 years old and has always borne a hard character.

Another Assault Reported.
A report was received at the police station this afternoon that a young lady who lives in North Omaha near Forty-sixth street and Grant avenue, had been criminally assaulted by an unknown man. The assault occurred about 11 o'clock at the location named, but it was impossible to obtain further details at the time. The police have gone out to investigate the case and conduct the search for the brute, of whom they have a description.

Piles of people have piles, but De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve will cure them.
ANNOUNCEMENTS.
Von Suppe's masterpiece "Fatinina" will be given at the Farnam Street theater this evening by the Calhoun Opera company with Miss Carrie Godfrey as Vladimir, Miss Millard as Princess Lydia, Mr. Paché as the reporter, Mr. Flint as General Kautschukoff, Mr. Calhoun as Mustapha and Mr. Huntington as the Pasha. This beautiful opera, given by the full strength of this clever company, should be the means of drawing a crowded house, as musically considered it is one of the greatest comic operas ever written. The ballad "The Change" again on Friday night when Balfé's ever popular "Hohenheim Girl," one of the company's best productions, will be given.

Fireman Morris' Needs.

Attention has been called to the fact that while public sympathy has been lavishly extended to the family and bride-elect of R. P. Oury, of Hose No. 7, the needs of the families of Captain Cox and Ben Morris have been somewhat neglected. Mr. Morris was unable to work most of last month on account of the sickness of his boy and during his confinement at the hospital his wife and three children are in almost destitute circumstances.

The neighbors have been unremittent in their attentions or the family would be in such a state of destitution that an effort is on foot to provide means for their immediate relief. Any funds for this object should be sent to Chief Galligan. Mr. Arthur Wells of Colored at the city jail office this morning and left his check for $100 to swell the relief fund.

City Hall Roof Needs Attention.
The discovery was made this morning that the tiling on portions of the city hall was in very bad shape and was cracking. Mayor Bemis and Superintendent Matheson paid a visit to the roof and made an examination. They picked up a number of pieces of the broken tiling and they are now on exhibition in the mayor's office.

Mayor Bemis will call the council's attention to the fact and suggest that an investigation might be a good thing.
