LAMPLICHTER FAILED AGAIN

Beaten Fairly in the Great Suburban by a Ten to One Horss,

LOWLANDER WON THE RACE EASILY

He Took the Lead at the Start and Was Never Headed-Another Dump Par-ticipated in by Thousands of Knowing Ones,

New York, June 20 .- The Suburban handicap of 1898, the tenth in the history of the event, was a grevious disappointment to the to the turf-loving public. Lamplighter, the idol, who was looked upon as a sure victor in the great race, was made to fall from the high pedestal upon which he had been placed and the halo of victory which had gathered about him because of his numerous suc cesses, were completely dispelled. He was vanquished strictly on his merits, as the race was fairly run from beginning to end. There was no crowding or jostling, as was the case in the Brooklyn handicap. The field was comparatively small, and every jockey rode to win in as fair a manner as possible. Lowlander, by Lowland Chief, dam Restless a horse that has had rather an erratic career, won the race from end to end. He went out at the fall of the flag, set the pace to suit himself and won almost as he pleased in the fast time of 2:06%. Terrifler, Father Bill Daly's candidate, was second, threequarters of a length away, while Lamplighter, the even money favorite that shrewd turfmen said couldn't lose, was third, four lengths back. Fred Lowe Made a Killing.

Lowlander was at 10 to 1 against in the betting, and all kinds of fancy prices could be obtained about the chances of Terrifier. The race was worth $18,000 to the winner, $5,000 to the second horse and $2,000 to the third. The winner is owned by Bookmaker Fred Lowe, and, besides the rich stake, he netted many thousands of dollars in bets by the victory of his horse.

Suburban day this year opened and continued bright and clear, although oppresand when the bugle called the horses to the post in the first race fully 20,000 persons were on the grounds, and this immense throng was steadily augmented up to the time for the Suburban. The first three races could not be run quick enough to suit the crowd. The victories of Dobbins, Ameer and Lizzie created but meager enthusiasm. but the third race over, matters began to assume a more animated appearance. was especially true of the betting ring, which crowded and thronged as it had never been before, now became densely packed. Everybody must have a bet on the Suburban, and everybody seemed to be Raceland and Charade were early de clared out of the race and the betting crowd, therefore, had nine horses from which to pick the winner. The question was quickly settled as far as the betting ring was con-cerned, as to which of the thoroughbreds would prove the victor. Lamplighter was immediately and spontaneously installed an even money favorite and so he remained throughout. Banquet was next in demand at fours, while Mars, Lowlander and Pessara were at tens. Twelves could be obtained about Dr. Hasbrouck and The Pepper, and thirties and sixtles about Terrifier and the English horse Iddesleigh. An immense amount of money was wagered on the result and most of this remained with the bookles.

The race was set for 4:05 and promptly at that time the horses were called to the post. Pessara was the first to appear on the track, but immediately after him came Terrifler, The Pepper, Dr. Hasbrouck and Iddesleigh, while Lowlander and Banquet quickly followed those. Lamplighter and Mars did not pass the grand stand, but cantered from their stables to the post.

Lowlander Won All the Way.

It was 4:58 before the horses had been assigned to positions for the grand handicap. After several breaks the flag dropped to a others were almost in a line close behind McDel mott immediately drove Lowlander in the lead, while Terrifler and Iddesleigh took second and third places respectively. Hasbrouck was fourth and Lamplighter lay fifth in good position. The others were in a bunch and this order was maintained till the middle of the back stretch, where Low-lander and the other leaders drew away from Lamplighter and those composing the rear bunch. At the head of the back stretch Iddesleigh dropped back beaten, and Lamp-lighter and Banquet began to make their run. Lowlander turned into the home stretch three lengths before Terrifier and Dr. Hasbrouck were neck and neck two lengths before Lamplighter.

The flying leader never faltered and passed under the wire a rather easy winner. Terrifier shook himself clear of Dr. Hasbrouck in the final sixteenth and secured the place by four lengths from Lamplighter who beat Dr. Hasbrouck a head. Banquet, Mars The Pepper, Iddesleigh and Pessara finished in the order named.

The crowd when they reached the track had a curious experience. The guards and officers stationed at the gates cried out the omicers stationed at the gates cried out the warning: "No exit at this gate until after the Suburban." Many did not like the idea of being made prisoners for several hours, but there was nothing to do but submit. Inside the enclosure it was seen that the fence surnding the grounds were guarded by Pin-tons. Inquiry elicited the fact that these extraordinary precautions were taken to prevent the Guttenburg race track people and the Fort Lee people from getting any in-formation of the races at Sheepsnead, but subsequent events showed that this was not Jockey club was also fighting the Western Union company because of dissatisfaction over the amount of toll they were paying for the race news to the Western pool rooms The Western Union office was removed from the course by order of the officials, and it was therefore impossible to get any news from that track. Confounded Confusion.

The Western Union established an office ome distance away outside the track, but this could not be reached on account of the 'no exit" rule. After the Suburban, when egress was allowed, the wires that happened to pass over the Jockey club's property were Communication was finally restored. and then some person gave out untrue information as to the place of the horses in the Suburban. This made Lamplighter the winner, Mars second and iddesleigh third. The false information was telegraphed all over the country and published in New York, and caused a good deal of confusion. The club officials threaten to cut down the Western Union poles in front of their property, and a merry war in which the public will be the chief sufferer, will the public will be the likely ensue. #### CORNELL'S CHEW WINS. Columbia Three Lengths Behind in the Freshmen Race. New London, Coun., June 20 .- Victory perched on Cornell's crimson this afternoon in the first of series of college races on the course of the Thames this year. In several respects it was the most remarkable freshmen race ever rowed over the two-mile course. Both crews pulled an exceptionally hard race, Cornell to lower the two-mile college record and Columbia to lessen the constantly increasing space of open water between her prow and Cornell's stern. Cornell won by over three lengths in 10:08. That the record was not broken is indisputably due to the fact that a breeze came up just as the crews passed the mile and a half post, for as it was Cornell made the fastest mile ever made by a freshmen crow and equaled the best mile

BARBER REPAIR BILL PAID

Claim Long Since Rejected Firmly Placed on the Appropriation Ordinance.

RACE TRACK TAXES WILL BE REBATED

Mayor Bemis' Vata Found Little Favor with the Councilmen-Hydrant Ordinance Put to Sleep-Routine Work of the City Council.

The Barber asphalt repair claim for 1892, amounting to $16,515.71, glided into the council chamber last evening under cover of the appropriation ordinance. Mr. Howell discovered the item, and in making a motion to strike it out he precipitated a discussion that threatened, for a while, to continue until dawn. The gentleman from the Seventh said the claim had been stricken out two months ago, and it was beyond his comprehension how the item slipped into the ordinance, which had come in with a favorable report from the finance committee. He considered the contract unjust and arbitrary, the claim should not be allowed, and in the interests of the city the contract abrogated.

Councilmen Munro, Steel, Jacobson and Elsasser took the same view and wanted the bill rejected. They contended that the contract was illegally entered into, would never stand in court, and further that the expense should be assessed against the property abutting on the asphalt paved

A majority of the council were of a different mind and talked fast and furiously for the claim. Mr. Wheeler was particularly talkative and he had a type-vritten abstract of asphalt street repair proceedings, in-cluding Mr. Poppleton's opinion as to the legality of the contract. He contended that the work had been done and the city was liable, and in his opinion the contract was legal. In this he was supported by eleven others. When the motion to strike out the claim was put the vote resulted as follows: Yeas—Elsasser, Howell, Jacobsen. Munro Nays—Back, Bruner, Hascall, Parker, Prince, Saunders, Specht, Thomas. Wheeler and Bechel—10.

Driving Park Tax Rebate Vetoed.

Mayor Bemis sent in the following veto: To fife Honorable City Council of the City of Omaha: I herewith return without my approval a concurrent resolution directing the city treasurer to cancel the tax against tax lot 24, known as the Omaha Driving Park Association grounds, for the year 1893, for the reason that said tax lot 24 is not leased and occupied exclusively by the Douglas County Horticultural society for agricultural and horticultural purposes, but is used for the purpose of revenue by the owner by leasing the same for training and driving horses. I think in view of the very moderate valuation of this tract of land for the year 1893, which is only $100 per acre, and the small amount of tax for said year, which is only $133.0, the same ought to be paid. If it is desired to aid and encourage the Douglas County Agricultural society. I believe such aid and encouragement had better be extended by actual donation for the amount or even more than the amount of the tax, as was done last year, than to adopt the plan proposed of cancelling the tax for the reason that TO THE HONORABLE CITY COUNCIL OF THE was done last year, than to adopt the plan pro-posed of cancelling the tax for the reason that the same was unauthorized. To cancel the tax for the year 1893 on the ground that the same was unauthorized might, and very the same was unauthorized might, and very probably would, raise the question whether for prior years for which taxes have been paid such taxes ought not to be refunded. In view of this complication I suggest that it would be safer to require that the taxes for the year 1893 be paid, and then if it is desired to extend any aid to the Douglas County Agricultural society to do so by a direct appropriation in place of by this indirect method.

Mr. Muwro supported the mayor's position, while Mr. Wheeter and Mr. Howell managed to get on the opposite side of the fence. The vote on sustaining the mayor's veto resulted Sustained This One. The mayor also sent in the following veto, which was sustained:

TO THE HONORABLE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF OMANA—I herewith return without my approval an ordinance to repeal ordinance No. 3,306, ordinance No. 3,323 and ordinance No. 3,330, ordering the American Water Works company to take up and relocate certain fire hydrants in the city of Omaha, for the reason that I believe, in view of the controversy between the city and the American Water Works company as to the right of the city to relocate $60 hydrants to the number of 100 where not needed to Intermediate points where needed, no action heretofore taken by the passage of ordinances requiring this to be done should be modified or changed. It cannot seriously affect the American Water Works company to allow the ordinances referred to, to remain unrepealed, so that the rights of both parties, whatever they may be, shall not be prejudiced, or in any manner affected. This course cannot seriously injure the water works, as the only effect would be to reduce the amount of the July appropriation ordinance in favor of the water works company to the extent of the difference between the price of $10 and $50 for the hydrants ordered to be relocated. This would not amount to a very large sum and would not asseriously embarrass the water works company. If it is then desired by the water works company to test the matter in court for the purpose of determining whether the claim by the city with reference to the relocation of hydrants is correct it can do so.

Sad-Bearted Landiords. If the decision made by Justice Gibson yesterday morning in the case of Josephine Smith, who was charged with leaving the Grand Central hotel in May without giving notice, and without paying her board pill, is sustained by the higher courts, Nebraska hotel keepers will experience a severe attack of that tired feeling.

It appears that Mass Smith left some of her baggage at the hotel, and upon returning here about a week ago proceeded to recover the same by repievin, much to the disgust of the Grand Central's proprietors, who claim that they cannot recover what Miss Smith owes them by replevin or otherwise.

In effect, according to the way the hotel in effect according to the way the notes proprietors understand it, a hotel man has no rights that the public is bound to respect; that the keeper of a hotel or public house has no lien on the personal effects of any guest who may choose to jump his or her board bill. If Justice Gibson's decision is sustained the remarks of hotel men are likely to be interesting, but will doubtless be unfit for publication.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

Pleasing Program at the Academy of the Sacred Heart. The closing exercises of the school year took place at the Convent of the Sacred Heart on St. Mary's avenue yesterday.

Mgr. Satolli presided over the ceremonies, auch to the delight of the young people who were very proud and glad of the hono accorded them by the delegate, who dis-tributed the year's honors at the close of the program. The room in which the exercises were held was a bower of plants and flowers, and seemed like a cool woodland glade to those who had walked a long distance in the hot sunlight to attend. The musical program was excellent; every number was splendidly rendered, and the sisters who have charge musical department may proud of the efforts made by their young charges yesterday.

After the distribution of honors and prize

by Mgr. Satolli Bishop Scannell, on behalf of the papal delegate, made a few remarks, congratulating the children on their progress and deportment and assuring them of the good wishes of the archbishop and himself. The exercises closed with a benediction by Mgr. Satolli, after which a delicious colla tion was served in the parlors of the academy.

Stabbed in the Back.

James Cameron was stabbed in the back with a penknife during a row in Kobalt's saloon at Ninth street and Capitol avenue just before 10 o'clock last night. Cameron was drinking with a crowd of men, when he became involved in an altercation with a couple of negroes. One of them hit him in the jaw, while the other inserted his pocketknife in the small of the back. Both of the assailants got out of the way before the police arrived. Cameron was not seriously Unsuccessful Attempt to Blow U5 the House of the Ex-Premier of Spain.

TWO OF THE WOULD-BE DESTROYERS KILLED

Their Bomb Explodes While Being Placed in Position-Awfat Result of Its Explosion-One of the Miscreants Captured Badly Wounded.

Madrid, June 20 .- A large dynamite bomb was exploded at midnight a few feet from the house of Canovas, ex-premier. The explosion was heard throughout the city. The immediate district was shaken as if by an earthquake.

The policemen ran to the spot. They found the dismembered remains of a man in the street and caught a man crawling down the street on his hands and knees. When arrested the man refused to say what he knew of the explosion. but complained that he was severely wounded. One of his legs was broken, his scalp was torn and his face was covered with blood. He was taken to a police station and was there identified by a servant employed in a house opposite the ex-premier's as one of the three men whom she had seen standing on the other side of the street just before the explosion. After the explosion, the servant said, she heard a man run away. A surgeon was called and the man's wounds were dressed. He will be examined later this morning.

Many houses in the neighborhood where the explosion occurred were badly damaged. Windows were shattered and walls were sprung, but none of the occupants were injured.

As the police were looking over the ground atter the explosion Canovas opened his doors and began questioning them. He ordered out all his servants to help search for the limbs of the man blown to pieces by the bomb. One leg, the head and a hand were found seventy feet from the place where the bomb was set.

News of the explosion spread throughout the city. The cabinet ministers and con-spicuous deputies called upon Canovas at once to congratulate him on his escape report is current that at 12:30 a man with a petard under his coat was arrested near the

Still Another Case of Assault, This Time on a Crippled Girl.

A diabolical outrage was perpetrated at the home of Owen Weich, 1810 Nicholas street, sometime yesterday forenoon. Welch is a hard-working colored man, and has a large family, which includes an 18-year-old daughter, Carrie, who has been a hopeless cripple since her seventh year.

Yesterday morning, during the absence of the rest of the family, an unknown colored man entered the house and ordered the girl to come and sit on his lap. She refused and started to drag herself out of the house, but the brute threw an arm around her waist and craminally assaulted her. She was unable to make an effectual resistance on ac count of her infirmaties, and her assail-ant succeeded in accomplishing his purpose, Not content with this he returned and repeated the outrage.

At noon the other members of the family came home and found the girl lying on the lounge and crying. At first she was afraid to tell what had happened, but finally wrote a bare statement on a piece of paper, after which her father succeeded in getting her to tell her story.

The matter was reported at the police station by the girl's brother, who also left a description of the assoilant. The girl was unable to give a very accurate description, but remembered that the man was rather small and had no beard. He were a pair of olue overalls and was a total stranger.

The victim of the assault was very sick all day yesterday and was under a physician's care. At night she was somewhat better and it was thought that she would recover. This is the sixth case of criminal assault that has been reported within three weeks and the police are making a determined effort to capture the perpetrator of yesterday's outrage. The description is so slight, however, that they are badly handi capped and the brute may not be appre-

Sheely property owners are interested in laying Twenty-ninth street paved from having Hickory to Arbor streets, and are moving in that direction. A failure to secure a majority for any particular material has resulted in delay, but as nearly all of the property owners desire the street paved this difficulty it is expected will be overcome. Locust street, below Sherman avenue. to the Missouri Pacific tracks is in a danger ous condition. The pavement is undermined in places, while in others it is rough and broken. The street declines rapidly from Sherman avenue to the railroad tracks, making motor traffic hazardous, especially when the cars are crowded as they were Saturday evening by people bound for Courtland beach.

It only took Judge Berka fifteen minutes to dispose of the few vagrants and drunks arraigned before him yesterday. # AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

G. M. Woollett of Marshalltown, Ia., Will Presecute His Brother.

HE HAS MADE UP WITH HIS WIFE AGAIN

Meeting Between the Injured Husband and His Unnatural Brother-The Erring Wife Tells the Story of Her Footish Fight.

G. M. Woollett, the Marshalltown, Ia., man, says he will endeavor to send his brother Bob to the penitentiary for his conduct toward the former's wife.

At midnight Woollett went to the Dellone hotel where his wife was taken and they taiked the situation over. Woollett kissed his babe and wept, and Mrs. Woollett seemed very much affected over the foolish course she had taken. She again related to the husband how his brother Bob had filled her head with disgraceful tales about him as well as to have other men come to the house and do the same thing. One thing led up to another until her mind had been so poisoned against him that she listened to the proposition to run away and agreed to go. She was penitent and would lead a different life in the future. The big hearted fireman listened to her pleadings and agreed to give her one more trial. The couple returned to their Marshalltown home on the

oon train.
When Woollett met his brother at the jail he was very much worked up. He seemed to be at loss what to say or do. "I am sorry for what I have done, George," said Bob, "and I hope you will forgive me. If you will get me out of this jail I will leave the country and you will never see me again." "If you were to receive a sentence to the penitentiary for twenty years you would not suffer what I have for the last three days," replied George, the husband.

When Woollett went away he said he would secure requisition papers when he got home and have his brother taken to Iowa and prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Young Woollett is still held in custody await-ing the arrival of an officer from Marshall-

There is a gang of youngsters in South Omaha who are bound to get into serious trouble sooner or later. They go about from store to store piltering whatever they can get their hands on. Today five of them made a raid on the fireworks displayed in the window of Meicher's drug store. They are known to the police and will be arrested. They are pretty cunning about their stealing. One boy with a few pennies attracts the attention of the clerk in the rear end of the store while the others get away with the booty.

Last evening Chief Beckett and Officer
Yan Wie spotted six of the lads who were implicated in the Melcher swipe. The kids had carried away $1.50 worth of freworks and a base ball that sells for $1. They hid their crackers and whirly-gigs in an old building and were laying great plans for a big blow-out, when they were swooped down upon by the cops. The youngsters were paralyzed at the sight of the buttons and stars, and would have willingly fallen into a sewer hole if they could have made an escape. The goods were all returned to the owner and the boys were given a severe reprimand and sout home. Their names as given by the police are Jim Warren, Fred Pierce, Carl Crane, Ross Crane, Jim Sweeney and Joe O'Rourke.
