BEE NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Sons of Veterans Take the Town in Their Annual Public Parade.

FINEST SHOW EVER MADE BY THE BOYS

Many High Compliments Expressed by the Officers Who Reviewed the Column-Visitors Pleased with Their Experience-Work of the Encampment.

Yesterday was the great day for the Sons of Veterans, who are holding their state encampment in Council Bluffs. It was the day of the great parade, when they all were out in their best array, for the purpose of giving the public a chance to see what they looked like. The heavy rain that came early in the day filled the minds of both visitors and citizens with foreboding for the afternoon's display, but later on it proved to have been the best thing that could have happened, for it laid the dust and cooled the atmosphere, so that when it cleared off along in the afternoon the day was a perfect one.

Other delegations arrived during the forenoon, in addition to those that came in on Tuesday. Among them was a detachment of the Second infantry from Fort Omaha, under command of Captain Kinzie. It was accompanied by the Fort Omaha band, which occupied the front ranks in the procession and discoursed the best of martial music. After dinner the forces commenced to gather about Bayliss park, but it was not until 2 o'clock that the line was formed and ready to start. The parade was in charge of the following marshals: J. B. Driesbach, H. C. Atkins, J. S. Gretzer, Charles Nicholson, Louie Zurmuchlen, W. F. Sapp, jr., G. W. Cook and J. G. Carlisle. W. Cook and J. G. Carlisle.

Composition of the Parade.

The procession was preceded by a platoon The procession was preceded by a platoon of police under command of Chief Scanlan. Then came the Fort Omaha band and a detachment from the fort, who made an excellent appearance. O. L. French camp No. 268 from Missouri Valley followed. It was composed of twenty men and officers in full uniform and accompanied by a drum corps. Their uniforms were among the handsomest in the procession and they carried themselves in a manner that indicated a great deal of hard work under a competent drill master. Then followed the Dodge Light Guards of Council Bluffs and the Omaha Guards, both in full lowed the Dodge Light Guards of Council Bluffs and the Omaha Guards, both in full unifor, and bearing muskets. General G. M. Dodge camp of the Sons of Veterans, Council Bluffs, was next in line and were followed by delegates from the following cities: Des Moines, Denison, Modale, Davenport, Dubuque, Oskaloosa, Sibley, Keokuk, Rockwell City, Akron, Marshalltown, Marengo. Fort Madison, Carson, Adair, Early, Washington, Ottumwa, Scranton, Harlan, Anamosa, Rose Hill, Waterloo, Conway, Vernon and Omaha. There were Conway, Veruon and Omaha. There were also delegates present from other towns than those above mentioned, but they failed to turn their names in at headquarters.

On the Reviewing Stand. After the line had formed about Bayliss park it moved down Sixth street to Sixth avenue and from there up Main street to Broadway. Passing the corner of Fourth street, where the reviewing stand had been erected and gaily decked out in the national colors, the line was reviewed by the following officials of the state encampment: Colonel L. A. Dilley and staff of Davenport, in command of the Iowa division, Sons of Vetcrans; Phil Schaller of Sac City, department commander of the Grand Army; Past Colonel J. D. Rowan of Des Moines, Past Colonel J. H. Pickett of Oskaloosa and Colonel George Van Houten of Lenox. Mrs. W. F. Sappjr., of Council Bluffs, Mr. and Mrs. R. Shawvan of Denison, Colonel Bernard and Colonel John Lindt of this city also occupied seats After the line had formed about Bayliss van of Denison, Colonel Bernard and Colonel John Lindt of this city also occupied seats on the stand. As each company passed the stand the military salute was given. The column moved up Broadway to First street and countermarched, finally ending up at the Grand hotel, where it was disbanded.

The whole parade went through without a hitch and the strictest military precision was observed in every movement. Just before disbanding all the Sons of Veterans divided ranks and allowed the Union Veteran Legion and the Grand Army to pass through, Dalbey's band playing an inspiring march in the meantime. Immediately after the parade closed the Council Bluffs fire de-partment, which had occupied an important position in the line of march gave an exnibition of speed on South Sixth street On all sides words of commendation were heard for the way in which the parade was managed, and for the fine appearance of the men that made it up. Visitors Who Are Pleased.

"I have been at every state encampment in Iowa since the Sons of Veterans organized nine years ago," remarked Colonel J. D. Rowan of Des Moines to a Bee reporter, and I never have seen a parade that came up to this one. Why, it's nicer in every way than the parade that was given in connection with the national encampment at Minneapolis two years ago, and that's saying a Similar remarks were heard everywhere, and it was evident that every one who wit-nessed the marching was highly pleased with the appearance of the youthful "vet-

Another thing that was the subject of much comment among the visitors was the hospitality of the people of Council Bluffs. "We never were in a place where the citizens seemed any more anxious that we should enjoy our stay. The people of Coun-cil Bluffs are wenderfully free and open handed, and we shall never forget our visit

Such was the remark made by one of the delegates, and it echoed the thoughts of every one else. As soon as the parade was over the delegates went to the Masonic temple, where another business meeting was held. Today will finish the encampment and the visitor will begin to leave for their homes on the evening train. Among the items of business to be transacted today are the election of officers and the choice of a place for holding the next encampment.

Last evening the pleasures of the day were wound up by the reception and ball at Masonic temple. Beautiful programs had been printed and were distributed among those present, to serve as mementos of the occasion after doing duty during the even-ing in the usual way. Sixteen dances were danced to the music of Dalbey's orchestra, and a large number of the young people of the city as well as the visitors, passed an the city as well enjoyable evening.

Visit from Omaha Wheelmen Last evening the Ganymede Wheel club and the Omaha Wheel club, to the number of about twenty, took a run to Manawa. After passing a pleasant evening at the lake they came back to the Ganymede club house and spent the rest of the evening until a late hour. H. Sutorius of the Omahas was present and added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening by his mandoin solos, and several members of the home club held up their end of the musical program to good advantage.

Generously Fined. Sam Friedman, the second-hand storekeeper, has probably come to the conclusion that the business of selling firearms to small boys is not a paying one. Yesterday morning he came into police court and entered a plea of guilty to the charge of selling Andrew James, a 10-year-old boy, the pistol with which the boy attempted to hold up a man on the street the other night. The judge immediately assessed a fine of $50 and costs, which, with the $1 he received for the gun, leaves him about $49 in the hole.

She now claims that the assignment was made on Sunday, but dated Saturday, and that it is, therefore, void. Later on another assignment was made, to which G. S. Wright, son of the plaintiff, attached an acknowledgment purporting to be signed by her, but she denies ever having acknowledged any instrument before G. S. Wright. She alleges it to be her belief that Wright forced this second assignment out of her husband by threats of prosecution, to make husband by threats of prosecution, to make latter's books. She wants whatever part of the $1,000 that Wright furnished to take her husband south paid back to him out of the policy and wants a judgment for the remainder of the policy herself. By a stipula-tion between the plaintiff and Mrs. Clark the suit originally brought by Wright against the insurance company was dismissed so far as the company was concerned, as there is no controversy between the company and the beneficiary.

Mrs. Mary Lyons, who lives in the south ern part of the city, is minus a daughter, all on account of a well meaning but misguided effort which she made to have June affiliate with October. Her daughter Agnes, aged 15 years, had been keeping company for some time with a man 25 or more years her senior. The man wanted to marry his youthful friend, and as Mrs. Lyons had caught a glimpse of his bank account and had found it to be well developed, his suit was looked upon with a great deal of favor from that portion of the house. The girl did not take kindly to the plan, and when she learned that there was no other way of escape she took advantage of the presence of effort which she made to have June affiliate

The eight alleged train robbers who were caught at the Wabash crossing the other night, were up in police court, and the testimony of the train men was heard. It was in the main as already reported in THE BEE. At the close of the hearing Judge McGee announced that he would withhold his decision for a time. John Lindt, the attorney for the Kansas City read, stated that he did not think Thomas O'Connell, William Kelly or Phil Stinger would be held, as they seemed not to have belonged to the gang that caused the trouble.

The United States government has taken the case in hand, and at the session of the federal grand jury, which is now being held at Keokuk, the evidence will be considered. A warrant has been issued for their arrest on the charge of delaying a mail train, and if any of the suspects should manage to get away by any hook or crook they will at once be rearrested and held to answer to this serious charge. MADRID, June 21 .- The greatest excitement prevails as the result of the dynamite explosion near the house of ex-Prime Minis ter Castillo last night. In addition to the damage already reported and the loss of life and personal injuries, the explosion shook and partly wrecked a building near by in which a circus performance was in progress, causing a panic. A grandson of the marquis of Havana, president of the senate, was hit by a piece of the falling ceiling and so badly hurt that he will die. A son of the marquis of Guadelest was trampled to death by the panic stricken throng. Seven others were severely hurt in the crush and a large number were less seriously hurt. It is believed the explosion was the work of Barcelona dynamiters, therevo-lutionists there being very active of late. MIQUEL ON THE SITUATION. What the Great German Politician Thinks of the Recent Elections.

BERLIN, June 21 .- The representatives in this city of the Associated Press today had an interview with Dr. Johannes Miguel. Prussian minister of finance, in regard to the political situation. Dr. Miquel is one of the foremost statesmen, not only of Prussia, but of the empire, and he has been more than once mentioned as the probable suc cessor of Chancellor von Caprivi when the latter makes up his mind to retire from

Dr. Miquel was frank in his utterances re garding the significance of the late elections. He said that the balloting hitherto had proved that, generally, the intelligent classes were in favor of the army bill as proposed by the government. Among these classes however, there was one exception. Th class that is under the influence of the Reman Catholics, that is the centrists. He admitted that he did not mean to intimate that this party was unloyal, but they had been overawed through the confessional. With reference to the position of the army bill, Dr. Miquel said it was possible that the government, through skillful management would evolve a majority. This majority, in his opinion, would be obtained on agrarian

Dr. Miquel declared that he deeply reporting the government had been too assiduous in attacking Dr. Lieber, one of the centrist lenders who had voted against the army bill and who led the centrist faction. He had known Dr. Lieber for years, he said, and knew he was quite tractable and open o conviction. In speaking of the political divisions that have sprung up since the dissolution of the Reichstag, he said that the reorganizations Reichstag, he said that the reorganizations were disappointing.

It will thus be seen that Dr. Miquel is sanguine of the final success of the bill in the by-elections. He believes that this result will be obtained by the making of various groups and thus forming a cartel party that will throw a very decisive vote in support of the government's demand for strengthening the military power of the empire.
