WANTS A PRECINCT BARRED

Celebrated Case of Olmstead and Williams Bobs Up Serenely Again.

TRIAL OF THE COMMISSIONER'S CONTEST

Olmstend Brings Proceedings in Ouster Against the Present Commissioner-Accused of Keeping a Fence-Von Dorn Wants Another Sale-Court Cullings.

The contest case of William Olmstead against George R. Williams, wherein the plaintiff is seeking to oust the defendant from the position of county commissioner from the Third district, was given another airing in Judge Ferguson's court yesterday afternoon, with the attorneys for the respective litigants presenting the law in the case and trying to convince the judge that the jury returned a compromise verdict when the members of the panel found that Olmstead was entitled to five more votes in Platte Valley precinct than he was credited with by the judges of election.

Olmstead, by his attorneys, has filed a motion, asking that the entire precinct be thrown out, alleging that the fact of Olmstead having been billed as a prohibitionist when he was a democrat, not only misled a large number of the voters but lost him the position which he claims he could have cap-tured if he had been given a fair show for his white alley. His attorneys claim that by reason of the error having been made in the printing of the of-ficial ballots, and Olmstead hav-ing been branded as a prohibitionist when he was not, the entire vote of the precinct was filegal and void and should not have been counted. Should the court hold with the attorneys for the plaintiff and throw out the vote of the precinct, Olinstead would have clear sailing, as in that event he would have the necessary number of votes in the Third district and something like 100 to spare.

Williams' attorneys aver that there is nothing in the motion to throw out Platte Valley, aside from a large load of buncombe, as the proof has shown that when the elec-tion was held but five of the voters were misled and that there was no evidence of any fraud or collusion in the printing of the tickets. They also assert that there is no law by which the voters of an entire pre-cinct could be disfranchised, simply because five of the voters of that precinct did not happen to know the political affiliations of one of the candidates for one of the offices. Von Dorn's Case in Court.

Another section of the Van Dorn and Mengedoht row has reached the district court and now T. L. Von Dorn has sued Fred Mengedoht in an action in which he alleges that there was the grossest kind of fraud perpetrated. In his tale of woe he alleges that on or about April 25, 1893, the Von Dorn apartment house at Twenty-second and Leavenworth streets was sold by O. G. Pope, a special master commissioner, and knocked down to Mengedoht for the sum of $18,000, the auctioneer declaring that he was the highest and best bidder for the

Now You Dorn claims that the property should have brought a good deal more money than was bid and that it would if there had not been collusion between the special master commissioner and the purchaser. He also charges that there was fraud and that Mengedoht did not pay into court the money that he is alleged to have paid. The plain-tiff declares that he can prove this state-ment and on the strength of the charge he wants the sale declared fraudulent and set

Claim of a Soda Water Man. With Judge Ogden the case of Samuel

Montgomery and Peter J. McNalley, two South Omaha merchants, against the Union PacificeRailway company, is on trial.

The plaintiffs allege that a year or two ago, one of the partners was driving a soda water wagon over the tracks at the intersection of Q street, when a switch engine came along, striking the wagon and scatter-ing the contents over several acres of adjoining country, besides breaking up and de-stroying about $300 worth of property. They aver that the man in charge of the engine had time to prevent the accident, but that he collided with the wagon just for the fun of seeing the water fly.

Accused of Keeping a Fence.

In the criminal division of the district court, presided over by Judge Keysor, the case of the state against Emma Brown and Minnie M. Thompson was given a hearing yesterday, the defendantsabeing required to yesterday, the defendants being required to answer to the charge of operating a fence for the benefit of burglars and thieves who have stolen property which they want to secrete or dispose of to innocent customers.

The arrest of these women was brought about by the robbery of Altman's North Sixteenth street store last March. When the robbery took place the house where these women resided was spotted and a short time thereafter a quantity of the stolen property was found in their posses-

Hitt Gets a Divorce.

The divorce case of Hitt against Hitt was again called in Justice Walton's court yesterday afternoon, H. C. Hitt, the lawyer, seeking to secure a bill from his wife, who deserted him some years ago.

One week ago, when the case was on, Mr.
Hitt had the idea run through his head that he could clean out the court, balliffs and all of the attaches, but today he was as meek as a lamb and gave his testimony in such an innocent way that the decree was granted and the marriage deciared off for all time.

MISSOURI PACIFIC TAXE3.

Commissioners Overrule a Protest and Order the Property Assessed-Other Protests. Sitting as a board of equalization, the county commissioners entertained a horde of people yesterday, people who were all of one opinion, that the ward assessors had given them the worst of the deal in listing their property, and that their neighbors had been the favored ones.

The common people came first, made their complaints, which were filed away for future action, and then came the railroad magnates to register their kicks, declaring with one accord that the assessors were down on corporations and that they had listed the vacant lots at higher prices than they had the lots that, were improved and were bringing a revenue to the owners.

Final action was taken in the Missouri Pacific case and the protest against assessing lands and lots was overruled and the ing lands and lots was overriled and the clerk instructed to charge up between $10,000 and $12,000 worth of property that had been assessed by the state board. The property which the commissioners ordered assessed consisted principally of lots in this city, lying outside the right of way. They had been formerly returned to the state board and assessed as a part of the mileage.

The Omaha & Southwestern Railway com-

The Omaha & Southwestern Railway com-The Omana & Southwestern Editivaly company filed a protest against the assessment of its lots in the city, listed by the assessors at the sum of $16,720, claiming that they were a part and parcel of the mileage that had been returned to the state board and for that reason were not taxable by the commissioners. Upon this question the commis sioners will hear evidence, but as the case is on all fours with that of the Missouri Pacific, it is anticipated that the ruling will be the same and that the property will have to pay its proportionate share of the taxes of this county.

COSGROVE'S REPLY. Third Ward Assessor Gives His Reason for

Raising Farrell's Rating. Dominick Cosgrove, the Third ward assessor, denies with extraordinary vehemence and multiplicity of words that he ever demanded to know of Dan Farrell or anybody else "what there was in it" for him in consideration of making a favorable assessment. He says that he gave Farrell a schedule to fill out, and called at his place of business several times before he found that gentleman in, so that he could get it. He then found that Farrell had listed his merchandise at $1,000 and his office furniture at $50. He asked what part of the stock that represented and Farrell replied that he did not know, after which the as-sessor informed him that he had swern to the list when he did not know what he was talking about, and that the matter would be looked into, when, if it was found that the amount was too small, it would be raised. The amount was $2,000 the year before, and the assessor says that after consulting Bradstreet's directory he found Farrell & Co. quoted at $75,275. He concluded that $1,000 was altogether too little and thereupon raised the assessment to $10,000, which is five times what it was the year before, Regarding the charge that his assessment on Third ward real estate falls a third of a mil-lion below what it was last year, he says that he made a reduction of 20 per cent on everything east of Thirteenth street, both north and south of Farnam, as he thought it was altogether too high. He knew that this took in all the railroad property, but that wasn't his fault. He also reduced the Orchard and Shiverick properties after the fires, and that explained $24,000 of the defi-

He said that the board of equalization had d him to appear at the hearing that was to be given Farrell's case on the afternoon of the 29th instant, and that he invited all persons and corporations that claimed to have bribed him to appear and tell about it. He had managed to live before he had this office, and he could live without it. All he had was his reputation, and he valued that more than all the money the boodlers could scrape together. His assessments had always b together. His assessments had always been dictated solely by his conscience, and he wanted to see the color of the man's hair who held to the contrary.

Doll's Wedding Reception. A church full of innocents is something that isn't seen every day, or on Sundays either in Omaha, or anywhere else. But last night such a sight was observable at the Westminster Presbyterian church at Twenty-ninth and Mason streets, where a "dolls' wedding reception" was in progress, given by the little ones of the infant class of the church. A prettier sight for a lover of children could hardly have been imagined. The dolls were beautiful, but the flesh and blood little ones "took the shine off" the imitations.

There were several hundred of the small performers and their diminutive friends. and their faces expressed their happiness. The entertainment consisted of little songs and recitations of nursery rhymes just fitted to the size of the people who took part, and the big folks in the back of the church generously appliauded every effort, for each one was worthy of appliause,

CRIME IN ERGH PLACES! It is not strange that some people do wrong through ignorance, others from a failure to investigate as to the right or wrong of a metter. But it is strange, that individuals and firms, who are fully aware of the rights of others, will persist in perpetrating frauds upon them. High-toned, wealthy manufreturing firms will offer and sell to retail merchants, articles which they know to be infringements on the rights of proprie-tors, and imitations of well known goods. We want to sound a note of warning to the retailers to beware of such imita-tions and simulations of "CARTER'S LIT-TLE LIVER PILLS."
