N. N. Norton, the South Omaha man who was arrested Tuesday evening for running off with a borse belonging to his nephew, Clark of Carson, was discharged by Judge McGee, it being made to appear that there was nothing of a criminal nature in the transaction, but merely a dispute as to the purpose shape of the borse.

Ownership of the horse.

Mrs. Anderson, who lives at the corner of Eleventh street and Avenue E, had an encounter with Colonel Ed Bates, the city dog catcher, yesterday, which grewout of Bates' action in selzing her cow and dog for running at large. A war of words caused a temporary flurry in the dog catcher market, and Bates saved himself from a thumping from fair feminine hands by a hasty flight. He filed an information against the woman charging her with disturbing the peace, and the case, will be aired in police court this morning. ownership of the horse.

Rev. D. A. Day, D.D., of Muhlenberg, Africa, will lecture tonight in the church room of St. John's English Lutheran church on the first floor of the Merriam block, 208 Main and 209 Pearl's reets. He was a missionary in Africa nineteen years and has no superior in the work or in knowledge of the great problems to be settled on the dark continent of Africa. He is chief of one of the tribes on the western coast. His lecture will be unusually interesting and is a rare opportunity for the people to hear one so well informed. He will return to Africa in September. Rev. George Scholl, D.D., of Baltimore will also be present at the lecture. There will be no charge for admittance. The

BEE NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Mistake of a Juryman Which Will Probably Get Him Into Trouble.

G. L. GORMAN'S DESIRE FOR STRONG DRINK

He Evaded the Vigilance of the Bailiff for a Short Time While on a Case and Will Have to Answer for Contempt.

G. L. Gorman, an Upper Broadway saloon keeper, who has occupied the position of juror in the district court for a few days within the past month, seems to be booked for a large dose of grief, and unless all signs fail it is Judge Deemer who will hold the spoon that administers it. German was one of the jurymen in the case of fred Kruger against the city, in which Kruger was trying to recover a fabulous amount of damages from the city on account of the death of his wi'e, who fell some years ago on the sidewalk at the corner of North Main street and Washington avenue. After wrestling with the case in court for eighteen days, and several more in the jury room, a verdict of $1 was returned in favor of the plaintiff. A motion for a new trial was at once filed, and it is this motion and an affidavit that accompanied it that is the cause of all of Gorman's trouble.

davit that accompanied it that is the cause of all of Gorman's trouble.

The affidavit in question was signed by Gorman, and was to the effect that on May 20, while the jury was in the washroom at Kiel's hotei, after a night of deliberation had been passed. Gorman got away from Bailiff McFadden and went to the barroom of the hotel, where he called for and drank a glass of whisky. Having thus polished up the front end of the day, he quietly went back to the washroom, with a look of innocence on his face that would have done credit to the prize boy in a Sunday school class. His absence had not been noticed, and he did not say anything about it until the verdict had been returned. He also yolunteered the information that John R. Wilmott, another juror, did the same thing at about the same time.

at about the same time.

This affidavit was the ground for a motion for a new trial, which was filed by John Lindt, the plaintiff's attorney.

Gorman Cross-Examined.

City Attorney Hazelton filed a petition asking that Gorman be brought in for cross-examination and his request was granted. The cross-examination came off yesterday afternoon. A thorough questioning was gone through with and Gorman's answers were not such as would place him in the very best light before the court. Judge Deemer finally took a hand at the game. "You have served on juries before?" was

"You have served on juries before?" was his first question.
"Not here," was the reply, "but I have several times in Illinois."
"Do you remember the instructions of the court and of the balliff to the effect that you were not to communicate with any one from the time-you left the court room until a verdict was rendered or you were discharged."

"There," was Gorman's final shot at Attorney Lindt as he left the court room in charge of the sheriff, "see the box you've got me into now."

The case will have a hearing this morning, and John R. Wilmott, who was coupled with Gorman, according to the latter's affidavit, in the escapade, has been summoned to appear on the first train and tell what connec-tion he had with the case.
