CASE OF CRAZY CONVICTS

Nebraska's Penitentiary Warden Anxious to Dispose of Four State Guesta.

GORHAM BETTS REFUSED A NEW TRIAL

Judge Strode Overruled the Motion-Will Probably Be Sentenced Today-Lincoln Citizens Engaged in Another Election Contest.

Lancoln, June 28 .- [Special to Tue Ber.]-Warden Beemer of the penitentiary has four convicts on hand he wants to get rid of. The prison physician says they are crazy. The late legislature refused to appropriate any more money to build cells for caring for the insane. The prisoners cannot be removed to the asylum unless the governor pardons them. The governor is willing to do so, but the Lancaster county insanity commission refuses to pass on them unless it is assured it will get paid for making the examination. The county commissioners refuse to pay the bid for that work, while the state officials can find no fund on which to draw for that purpose. And so the matter rests. The men said to be crazy are:
John Taylor, the negro who killed Bob
Woods for $50 in this city in April, 1889;
Hugh Carroll, the man who shot Judge Borgelt last year while the latter was seated at his desk, because of a fancied wrong; Lish Nelson, a young negro who shot a policeman in Hastings, and Martin Baker, sent up from Burt county for shooting with intent to kill. Taylor is a life convict, Carroll for twelve years, Nelson for twenty and Baker

Supreme Court Notes.

The following cases were filed in the su preme court today: Salisbury against Scott, error from Buffalo county. Buffalo county National Bank against Gilchrist et al. error from Buffalo county. Carter White Lead company against Kinlin, error from Douglas county. Lamina against State, error from Buffalo county. Hollenbeck et al against Drake et al, error from Gage county. State ex rel Bush against Sapp, et al. This is the controversy over the county seat of Hitchcock county.

County Attorney Connell appeared before the supreme court today with an application for a writ of mandamus to compet the Board of Public Works of Omaha to enter into certain contracts to pave Twenty-sixth street from Farnam to Half Howard street.

Refused a New Trial.

Judge Strode this afternoon overruled the motion for a new trial for Gorham F. Betts. the first of the asylum boodlers tried an convicted of defrauding the state. The motion was based on a number of technical points, most of which were raised during the trial of the case and passed upon by the court, one being that the indictment did not charge where the offense was committed. The case will be taken to the supreme court on error. Betts will probably be sentenced Another Election Contest.

The trial of the election contest inaugurated by A. E. Hargreaves for the seat now warmed by A. D. Burr, exciseman, was begun before Judge Lansing in county court this morning. There was no argument and the purity of the ballots was not impugned. but a representative of the two parties to the case and the court repaired to a side room, where the recount was begun. On the face of the returns Burr was elected by twenty-two votes, but Hargreaves contests on the ground of a number of irregularities. The count of the First precinct of the First ward gave Burr a gain of four and a loss of one for Hargreaves. There were thirteen disputed ballots in the precinct, and it will probably depend on the count of these to determine who is elected. At the close today thirteen precincts had been canvassed with but slight changes.

Shall They Be Counted. The school bond injunction case was up before the three district judges again this morning, and the recount of the ballots proceeded with. There were 280 blank votes found in the returns from the precincts, and upon these 280 votes ninges the result of the election. If counted against the bonds, as the applicants for an injunction contend, it will defeat the proposition, as adding that mber to the total vote the majority in favor of the bonds will lack some fifty votes of the necessary two-thirds.

Byannis Notes and Personals.

HYANNIS, Neb., June 28 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-Copious showers of rain fell in this vicinity yesterday. The cattle range was never better here. Stock of all kinds is doing well. There will be large shipments of stock to market from here this fall. Business is fairly good, fully as much so as this time last year, but collections are slow.

The annual school meeting of Hyannis dis-trict was well attended. After having nine months school for the year, the treasury balance on hand is over $400. Mr. Alden has returned from the Colum bian exposition. The wolves are destroying cattle to some extent in this county. Mr. Pitts killed one of the largest gray wolves this week ever seen in the sand hills, it weighing over 100

Mr. Bothwell of Whitman was accidentally shot this week by a man named Reed The wounded man is resting easily, but the wound is a dangerous one, and may prove fatal.

Trouble is brewing in this county between the settlers and the railroad company. The company claims 200 feet right of way for the road, while the settlers think 100 feet to be the limit. What might have been a serious affair happened last Saturday. The company's teams were plowing on Mr. Greathorn's claim beyond what he thought was their right of way. Pistols and knives were drawn, but better judgment prevailed were drawn, but better judgment prevailed and the matter was dropped pending liti-

The opinion prevails among the other bidders that the board apamong the other bidders that the board appears inclined to give the State Journal company the lion's share of patronage. The matter now hinges upon the construction to be placed on some rather indefinite figures in Hathaway's bid. The Lincoln Printing company, which was the lowest bidder, informed the board that in case Hathaway was allowed to put his own construction on the doubtful figures is own construction on the doubtful figures it would take the matter to the courts.

To Celebrate the Fourth.

BARTLEY, Neb., June 28 .- [Special to THE Ben.]-There will be a grand celebration here on the Fourth of July. Judge Lansing of Lincoln will be the orator. The Indianola Cornet band and the Bartley Glee club will furnish excellent music. A fine flag will be presented to the precinct having the largest delegation in the procession. There will be a variety of amusements in the afternoon and a grand display of fireworks in the even-

DEMOCRATS ON HAND HUNGRY FOR OFFICE

New Collector of Revenue Tells of His Plans-Has Named Two Deputies and Will See that Democrats Fill the Other Vacancies.

"Is Mr. James North in the house?" is the question that has been passed over the registering desk at the Paxton hotel, times without number, during the last few days, and until yesterday morning it was answered in the negative to the evident disappointment of the interrogators.

The face of the day clerk was irradiated yesterday morning with an inward light as he gracefully said: "Yes, sir; Mr. North is in," 'Mr. North has arrived," etc., to the stream of place hunters and political friends that called to see the new collector of internal revenue. It was with some difficulty that Mr. North managed to snatch time enough from the numerous engagements that were thrust upon him to eat his meals but he maintained a pleasing and un-ruffled exterior nevertheless. Manager ruffled exterior nevertheless. Manager Toburlington Castor of Lincoln was also at the Paxton and with his able assistance the throng of callers of high and low degree were nearly all permitted to pour out their songs and unbosom their anxieties in a man-ner supposed to accomplish the desired

It is definitely decided that Mr. North will take charge of the revenue office for the district of Nebraska and the two Dakotas on next Friday evening and of course it behooves those who are desirous of securing positions in the office or as deputies to travel over the district to make hay while vacancies remain.

Plans of the New Collector.

"I will take charge of the office next Friday," said Mr. North to a BEE reporter yesterday morning, "but I have not yet made up my list of deputies or my office help. I may say that I have practically decided on one of my deputies, but of course it would be out of place for me to make any announcement of that kind before taking charge of the office. It is altegether probable, though, that T. B. Parker of Dorchester will be appointed as a deputy to take charge of the district composed of Otoe, Lancaster, Saline, Butler, York, Clay and Filmore counties.

"There is a matter with regard to the re-districting of the state that may compel me to delay to the last minute the appointment of my deputies. I have been given to unof my deputies. I have been given to understand that the Treasury department contemplated cutting down the number of districts, giving Nebraska 614, South Dakota 114 and North Dakota 1. If this is done I shall have one deputy less than Captain Peters had and there will necessarily have to be a consolidation of counties in some of the districts. I want to know just how the matter is going to remain before I make any appointments of field deputies. It is probable that the department will inform me as to the adjustment of the business before Friday evening."
"Have you decided upon the office help you will employ?" "Not entirely. My son will take a position in the office and ultimately will become my chief deputy. He has had a good deal of experience in office work, having been en-gaged in business for a number of years, and he neld a position in the United States land office during Cleveland's first administration. I know of no one who can represent me quite so well in a position of great responsibility as my son. There is but out if the control of th is but one difficulty in this connection, and that is that his health is not very good, but I hope he will be able to do the work devolving upon him.

Is it true that you intend to retain Mr. Dennis for some time?" "I will not say as to how long I shall retain any of the present force of office help. I do not know. I am not acquainted with Mr. Dennis and have no absolute knowledge as to the necessity of retaining him any more than any one else. I intend to look into the business of the office some today and then I shall probably know more about it.'

When Mr. Tobias Castor gets left in the appointment of his friends to federal positions it is not on account of his inactivity or want of earnest work in the matter. He has undoubtedly scored one point in the appointment of deputy collectors, for Mr. Parker of Dorchester is his especial friend.

"I have asked Mr. North to appoint but one man," said Mr. Casto: to The Bee man, "and I think he will be appointed. That man is T. B. Parker of Dorchester."

"How long do you think Mr. North will retain the present office force?"

"I cannot speak for Mr. North," was the modest reply, "but it is my opinion that there will be a clean sweep just as soon as it is possible to do it. As I understand it, this is a democratic administration, and I see no is a democratic administration, and I see no reason why republican employes should be retained any longer than is absolutely necessary in any of the positions."

Speaking of the fight that Congressman Bryan began on Mr. North, the railroad statesman said: "I always looked at that matter as being a sort of by-play on the part of Bryan simply to attract the attention of the independents. It was not so much a the independents. It was not so much a case of hating Mr. North but of love for the independents that inspired Mr. Bryan to make that attack. With the appointment of Mr. North, of course, the attack died

As the news spread among the representatives of the anti-Boyd faction of democracy, who haunted the Paxton, there was an abundance of reviling and gnashing of teeth.

"Thought he was going to try to harmonize the opposing factions in this county," growled one of the disaffected ones. "This looks like it, don't it? If our side is to be recognized at all, it will have to be in the City Treasurer Called Upon to Take Up Some Outstanding Grading Warrants. At the present time the general fund of the city is suffering a draft to make up deficits in several grading districts, which were graded in 1887 and 1888. Tuesday right the council instructed the comptroller to issue warrants against the grading fund to enable the treasurer to take up two grading warrants of 1887. The special assessment for doing the work fell short of the cost, thus leaving a deficit in both districts. One was Twenty-fourth street from Seward to the old city limits with a deficit of $72.92 and the other Thirtieth street from Center to Newton with a deficit of $75.88. There are more of them in the same condition to follow. Treasurer Bolin says the deficits are due to the fact that previous to 1891 the treas-urer was allowed 2 per cent for the collection of delinquent taxes and that when the engineer made his estimate of the cost of the work and the contract was entered into no allowance was made for any failure of the property owners to pay their taxes promptly. No such contingency will arise now, however, as a penalty of 1 per cent a month is levied for delinquency, and the treasurer does not receive a per cent for the Piles of people have pues, but De Witt's Witch Hazei Salve will cure them.
