A warrant is out for the arrest of Jacob Florke on the charge of stealing a pocket-book from a fellow boarder at 700 Fourth street. The purse contained $11 in money.

There will be a free lecture tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Fairmount park by Dr. H. T. Stanley of New York City. His subject will be "But Expose the Truth."

A marriage license was issued yesterday to R. A. Purpule of Omaha and Maud Delano of Norman, Okl. They are aged 32 and 25. They were married by Justice Field.

The corner stone of the new German Evangelical church at the corner of Pierce street and Glen avenue will be laid today. The first intention is to have appropriate ceremonies in connection with the laying has been abandoned on account of the warm weather.

The city council took a drive over the city yesterday in the patrol wagon on a tour of inspection with a view to ascertain how much of truth there is in a large number of complaints that have come in from property owners in almost every part of the city on account of sink holes that need filling up.

A meeting of Fidelity council, Royal Arcanum, was held last evening at which H. A. Snyder of Waterloo, deputy grand regent for the state of Iowa, was present.

L. M. Troyer resigned his position as grand regent of the state, and the vacancy so created was filled by the appointment of S. T. McAttee as his successor.

The attorneys for the city and the plaintiff in the Krueger damage suit filed a motion for a new trial in the district court yesterday morning. The plaintiff's attorneys claimed that enough had been brought forth in the way of evidence to show that the verdict of the jury was not irregular, while the city attorney contended that enough evidence had been brought forth to show that the verdict was not irregular.

Officer Kemp ran across four suspicious looking characters last evening at the corner of Main street and Broadway. He arrested them. One of them, who afterwards said his name was John Hammer, showed fight, and Kemp had to use his cane with a good deal of vigor to get him under control.

He claimed to be a soldier from Fort Logan and that he was on his way to the city to see his mother. In the tussle that took place between him and the officer he rolled over and over in the street and both were somewhat disfigured. Numbers of the crowd caught and held by Ira F. Hendricks and C. R. Hansen, who happened to be standing near and appeared themselves temporary policemen. The other two got away.

Piles of people have piles, but De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve will cure them.

Manhattan Beach restaurant now open. Fish suppers a specialty. Breakfast served for fishing parties. Fred Rapp, proprietor.

Carbon Coal Co., wholesale and retail coal. Removed from 10 Pearl to 34 Pearl street, Grand Hotel building.

Not Quite a Gone Coon. A darkie perched on the roof of the Northwestern depot yesterday forenoon for a moment too long, and the train that belonged to him moved off and left him. He gave chase and overhauled the train just as it was crossing the Indian creek bridge north of the depot, and he was clinging to the board he missed his footing and fell between the train and the iron guard that separates the two sides of the bridge. He was not seriously hurt, but a worse frightened darkey is not often seen. As he walked up street to find a doctor he was at least seven shades whiter than ordinary. A cut on his chin and a bruised arm were the worst of his injuries.

Two Little Girls and a Man Bitten by a Rabid Cur.

WILLIAM HALL'S FIGHT WITH THE DOG

Attacked Repeatedly, He Only Succeeded in Driving Off the Vicious Brute After a Desperate Effort—Friends Await- ing Developments.

The residents of Broadway, in the vicinity of Eighth street, were treated to a genuine mad dog scare yesterday morning about 10 o'clock. William Hall, a plasterer living at the corner of Avenue C and Fifteenth street, was passing along when a little dog came running up with flecks of foam falling from his mouth, and all the other symptoms of hydrophobia. He hit Hall in the leg and returned repeatedly after being kicked away. Hall finally managed to get away, whereupon the dog went to the stairway next to Charles Swaine's store and lay down. Shortly after two little girls of Mrs. Powell went down stairs and the dog bit them both, one in the wrist and the other in the leg. Physicians were at once summoned and the three cases were cared for. What will be the outcome cannot yet be ascertained, but the friends of the unfortunate victims are very anxious. Officer Clear happened to be passing the scene shortly after the affair took place and was notified. As he approached the animal flew at him, but was prevented from using his teeth again by a kick from the officer's boot. Clear then brought his cane into play and killed the dog with it.

DEATH FROM A BLOW.

Ten-Year-Old Boy Ventures Too Near a Merry-Go-Round and is Fatally Injured.

H. O. Mead of this city went to Crescent a short time ago and set up a "merry-go-round," which was well patronized by the young people of the vicinity. It was run by horse power, with an overhead gear. Trade was unusually heavy on the Fourth. On that day, the merry-go-round was being run by a chain broke, allowing one of the heavy pieces of machinery to fall out to one side and strike a little boy named Kilpack in the head. He was picked up insensible and carried to his home on Pigeon creek, where it was found that he was suffering from a fractured skull. Everything was done to relieve him, but in vain. He died yesterday morning. The accident could have been averted by the use of suitable guard ropes to keep the crowd away, but the proprietor failed to use any such precautions.

Manawa Breeze.

There were great crowds at Manhattan beach last night and yesterday afternoon, all enjoying the cool and pleasant breeze that makes life in hot weather endurable and happy around the lake. People who came from the heated walks and scorching pavements of the twin cities could scarcely realize the great difference in temperature between the cities and the lake.

Many believed that a change had occurred in the weather until they returned to the hot streets of the towns. The water is delightful, clear as crystal and just the right temperature to be pleasant. There were many ladies bathing last night.

Fish suppers and clam lakes at the Manhattan beach restaurant are getting to be a claim. You can have the privilege of catching your own fish and digging your own clams or you can order from the stock always kept on hand in ice. Those who have tried the claim—fresh water clams, vulgarly called mussels—say they are fine eating and a real delicacy, served as Fred Rapp serves them. They are as popular, however, as the fish, royal black bass, that are cooked for you just as you want them.

Manhattan beach is so large that a multitude can make a crowd and there is never any danger of uncomfortable crushes, either on the beach or in the water.

While this weather continues everybody who can get to the lake will go and feel better for the going.

Eternal Vigilance

Is the price of health. But with all our precaution there are enemies always lurking about our systems, and there is an opportunity to assert themselves. Impurities of the blood may be hidden for years or even for generations and suddenly break forth, undermining health and hastening death. For all diseases arising from impure blood, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the unequalled remedy, and it is a king of them all, for it cures disease.

There is nothing in this country like the fruit kept in Wheeler, Herold & Co.'s cold storage. No matter what the weather is it reaches the customer in perfect condition. Another car load of lemons was put in Saturday.

Burglary at Underwood.

J. H. Esterline and Joe Hughes, the former claiming to have come from San Francisco and the latter from Des Moines, were brought in from Underwood yesterday morning to be kept in the county jail until the grand jury sits next August. They are charged with burglary at the residence of Thomas Cook, a section boss on the Milwaukee at Underwood. They stole $5 in money, a razor and some trinkets, after which they decamped. The burglary was soon given, but the parties Van de Bogart they were bound over to the grand jury.

Accidental Drowning.

The coroner's jury held an inquest yesterday over the body of Jesse Carpenter, who was drowned in Mosquito creek. The relatives of the dead boy did not consider an inquest necessary, as there was not the slightest possibility of any evidence being brought in to show that it was anything but a case of accidental drowning. The coroner did not care to lose an opportunity of holding an inquest and drawing a fee, however, and so the inquest went on. There was no information of any importance whatever elicited, and at the conclusion the jury returned the only kind of verdict that they could.

The funeral of the dead boy will take place at 10 o'clock this morning at the family residence, 128 Grace street.

Burglary for Insurance.

M. Salzman had a fire last February in which his junk store was burned, entailing a loss of about $500 on him. He had had the place insured for that amount in the Burlington insurance company a little over a month before, but after the fire the company refused to pay up. Salzman filed a petition in the district court yesterday asking for a judgment for the face of the policy.

formal affair and the conversation was free for all hands. The meeting was held at the residence of one of the gentlemen who took part, "for the purpose of investigating some rumors that have been allowed in regard to executive sessions of the city council. Also to have a committee named to confer with the school board and see if that body could not be urged to get along without making another levy this year." There was nothing secret about the meeting and it could not have been held in a more public place in the city.

The committee named were Frank Persons and Judge J. P. Breen on the school board and Ed Johnson and John Ryan on the city council.

School Board Meeting.

The school board held a meeting last night with all the members present except Thomas. The principal business transacted was the letting of the contract to build the two new school houses. Eggers & Bock, a South Omaha firm, were the lucky bidders. Their bid was $93,000 for each building. There were only two other bids, P. J. Creighton bid $93,000 and Thomas C. McDonald bid $104,000. The contract reads that Eggers & Bock must have the building completed by December 1, Duval Bros. of Omaha were on hand with a bid, but as the hour set for closing the receiving of bids was 5 o'clock on the evening of July 5, their bid could not be considered.

A bill for $45 in favor of Attorney Adams & Bell was allowed. This was the tail end of a compromise case that was instigated a long time ago.

Architect Latenser was allowed $100 on account. This is considered to be about one-half of his bill for drawing the plans for the new buildings.

Mr. Bulla stated that he had read in Turf Exchange the names of taxpayers had been appointed to investigate the board matters a little and he moved that the secretary be instructed to give the gentlemen free access to the books and papers of the board and assist them in every possible way to find out what they wished to know. His motion prevailed.

The standing committees as appointed by President Cheek for the next year are as follows: Finance and Claims—Higgins, Jones and Thomas.

Teachers' Examinations and Salaries—Thomas, Jones and Cheek. Buildings and Grounds—Bulla, Cheek and Pearl.

Text Books and Course of Studies—Hagan, Bulla and Thomas. Repairs, Furniture and Supplies—Jones, Bulla and Pearl.

Rules, Regulations and Publications—Pearl, Thomas and Hagan. Sanitary Affairs and Janitors—Thomas, Pearl and Jones.

The entire board was instructed to look up all necessary repairs in the various school houses and report at the next meeting. These repairs will necessarily have to be made during vacation.
