The Mayne Real Estate Co., 621 Broadway.

The water works office will be open Saturday evening, July 8, until 8:30. Come early and save your discount.

Charles Ford, a 3-year-old pacer, owned by Dr. H. T. Starnes of Wash., is at Miss

Wise's stable. He has a good record.

The Northwestern is laying new eighty-pound steel rails between Council Bluffs and Honey Creek in place of the old sixty-pound rails.

There will be a special meeting of Harmony chapter No. 25, Order of the Eastern Star, this evening for the purpose of filling up by order of worthy master.

A warrant is out for the arrest of Jacob Florko on the charge of stealing a pocketbook from a fellow boarder at 300 Fourth street. The purse contained $11 in money.

There will be a free lecture tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Fairmount park by Dr. H. T. Starnes of New York City. His subject will be "Of Error Into Truth."

A marriage license was issued yesterday to R. A. Purpura of Omaha and Maud

Delia Korman of New York City. They are 22 and 25. They were married by Justice Field.

The corner stone of the new German Evangelical church at the corner of Pierce street and Eleventh will be laid Saturday.

The first intention to have appropriate ceremonies in connection with the laying has been abandoned on account of the warm weather.

The city council took a drive over the city yesterday in the patrol wagon on a tour of inspection with a view to ascertain how much truth there is in the numerous complaints that have come in from property owners in almost every part of the city on account of the holes in the pavement.

A meeting of the Fidelity council, Royal Arcturan, was held last evening at which

H. A. Snyder of Waterloo, deputy grand representative of Iowa, was present.

M. M. Treynor resigned his position as grand regent of the state, and the vacancy so made was filled by the appointment of S. T. Mc-

Atas as his successor.

The attorneys for the city and the plaintiff in the Krueger damage suit argued a motion for a new trial in the district court yesterday morning. The attorney for the city claimed that enough had been brought forth in the way of evidence to show that the verdict of the jury was not patently erroneous. The attorney for the plaintiff contended that enough evidence had been brought forth to show that the maker of the famous German suit had in some particular, that therefore, his affidavit was subject to disbelieve in every other particular. Judge Deemer took the subject under advisement.

Officer Kemp ran a motor car and a looking character last evening at the corner of Main street and Broadway and arrested them. One of them, who afterwards admitted to being a Hammertrot, showed fight and Kemp used his cane with a good deal of effect to get him under control. He claimed to be a soldier from Fort Logan come down to see the elephant.

In the tussle that took place between him and the officer, Kemp was struck on the street and both were somewhat disabled. Number two of the group was caught and held by Ira F. Hendricks and C. R. Han-man, who happened to be standing by. They appointed themselves temporary policemen.

The other two got away.

fast served for fishing parties. Fred

Rapp, proprietor.

Carbon Coal Co., wholesale and retail coal. Removes from 10 Pearl to 34 Pearl street, Grand Hotel building.

Not Quite a Gone Coon.

A dark-colored coon was found around the Northwestern depot yesterday forenoon for a moment too long, and the train that belonged to him moved off and left him. He gave chase and overhauled the train just as it was crossing the Indian creek bridge north of the depot. He was seen by a man on the board he missed his footing and fell between the train and the iron guard that separated the two sides of the bridge. He was not seriously hurt, but a worse frightened key is not often seen. As he walked up street to find a doctor he was at least seven feet high when he saw the doctor. He was on his chin and a bruised arm were the worst of his injuries.

Williamson & Co., 106 Main street, largest and best bicycle store in city.

Two Little Girls and a Man Bitten by a Rabbit Cur.

WILLIAM HALL'S FIGHT WITH THE DOG

Attacked Repeatedly, He Only Succeeds in

Driving Off the Vicious Brute After a Desperate Fight—Friends Awaiting Developments.

The residents of Broadway, in the vicinity of Eighth street, were treated to a genuine mud dog race yesterday morning about 10 o'clock. William Hall, a plasterer, was on the corner of Avenue C and Fifteenth street, was passing along when a little dog came running up with flecks of foam falling from his mouth, and all the other symptoms of hydrophobia. He bit Hall in the leg and returned repeatedly after he was driven away. Hall finally managed to get away, whereupon the dog went to the stairway next to Charles Swatwa's store and lay down. Shortly after two little girls of Marcell Ford's went down stairs and the dog bite them both, one in the wrist and the other in the leg. Physicians were at once summoned and the three cases were cared for. What will be the outcome cannot yet be ascertained, but the friends of the unfortunate victims are very anxious. The case of the girl who was bitten on the wrist shortly after the affair took place and was soothed. As he approached the animal flew at him, but was prevented from using his teeth again by a kick from the officer's boot.

Clear then brought his cane into play and killed the dog with it.

DEATH BY A BLOW

Ten-Year-Old Boy Ventures Too Near a

Mercury-Boat and is Fatally Injured.

H. O. Mead of this city went to Crescent short time ago and set up a "mercury-boat" which was well patronized by the young people of the vicinity. It was run by horse power with an overhead gear. There was usually heavy on the bench. On that day the mercury-boat was heavily loaded and was in full blast when a chain broke, allowing one of the heavy pieces of machinery to fall out to one side and strike a little boy named Kilpatrick in the head. He was picked up insensible and carried to his home on Pigeon creek where it was found that he was suffering from a fractured skull. Everything was done to relieve him, but in vain.

Yesterday morning the accident could have been averted by the use of suitable guard ropes to keep the crowd away, but the proprietor failed to use such precautions.
