Eolly Knocks the Braintree Lad Into the Soundest of Slumber.

VANQUISHED WAS A PRIME FAVORITE

Though the Betting Was Against it, the Hand that Broke Dan Daly's Jaw, Proved Its Prowess Was not to Be Sneezed At.

Rosy, Ind., July 10 .- The featherweight champion battle between Solly Smith of California, and Johnny Griffin of Braintree, Mass., took place at the Columbian athletic club tonight. The fight attracted a crowd of over 7,000 people. The boys fought for a purse of $6,000 and also the title of featherweight champion of the world. At noon they were weighed in at the club and they failed to tip the stipulated weight of 122 pounds. George Dixon, the 120-pound champion of the world, with his manager, Thomas O'Rourke, was on hand and before the contest challenged the winner to a fight to a finish for a purse and a alde wager of from $5,000 to $10,000 a side.

As a curtain raiser, jimmy Barry of Chicago and Pete Shea of Portland, Ore., were acheduled for a ten-round go. They went into the ring at 105 pounds.

James J. Corbett, champifn heavy weight of the world, and other prominent sports were present. When James Corbett walked through the club house and to a box, sach man yelling himself hoarse. Yells for s response were called for, but he only responded cy lifting his bat. President O'Malley made a winning ad-dress and spoke in a very sympathetic man-ner of the firemen who had lost their lives at the World's firs and announced that the Corbett and Jackson.

Corbett then jumped into the ring and aid: "Gentlemen: I am glad to see you all, I have come to announce I am anxious to meet Peter Jackson. The reason I speak is because his manager, Parson Davies, is here tonight. I have here a check for $10,-000 to fight Jackson at any time." Parson Davies at this juncture jumped to the ring and responded : "Gentlemen Mr. Corbett has just announced that Jackson has followed him all over the country. I deny this. I have had $2,500 posted with New York Clipper for a year or more. He has failed to cover it." Corbett then said Davies should name the time and yost the money. "Do you name the time?" asked the par-

Son. After harranguing for some time it was agreed to fight some time in November and such posted $1,000 with President O'Malley. Then the bantams. Barry and Shea, entered the ring. Barry had all the best of the fight and in the fourth round Shea's seconds threw up the sponge. The event of the event of the evening, in which Johnny Griffin and Solly Smith con tested for the featherweight championship of the world, followed immediately after Both the lads appeared in the best of condi-tion. Griffin was looked after by Dan Creeden, William Crawly, Nathan Howse, Jimmy Carroll, and B. H. Benton, time keeper. Smith's seconds were Sam Fitz-patrick, Seward Smith, Joe Choinski, Wyatt Ern time keeper. Erp, time keeper.

Four Hot Rounds.

Round 1-The men sparred cautiously for an opening. After a clinch Griffin landed on Bolly's cheek. Solly rushed and uppercut Gri&n at the ropes. Round 2-Smith again assumed the aggres sive and adopted wild rushing tactics. He chased Griffin around the ring and landed on his stomach and neck and received two in return. Hot fighting followed.

Round 3-Smith again rushed Griffin. The latter led and caught Sol on the neck. Both landed heavily on the stomach. Johnny got Sol in his corner, but the latter smashed him in the left ove. Solly lands on Griffin's him and lands on stomach, knocking Sol to ropes. Sol went back at him and landed a arly upset John Round 4-They came up smiling. Griffin landed two blows on Sol's neck, which made him grunt. Sol then got a blow on the neck which sent him reeling. He staggered al md the ring, but Griffin failed his advantage. Sol appeared to be very groggy at this point, but suddenly rousing he caught Griffin with a terrific blow on the he caught Griffin with a terrific blow on the point of the jaw, knocking him down and It was very unexpected, as the crowd was under the impression that Sol was all but out. Griffin remained unconscious for ten minutes. The fight was one of the hottes did most of the leading, and although his blows were wild, he evidently knew his

SMITH DOES FOR GRIFFIN from the spectators, for soon after it was begun Cullingham and Battin entered the adjoining court. Here there was less of a fight, but better tennis. Mr. Battin plays a pretty game. He hits his balls as if he meant trouble; but, though his opponent had to score one more point in each game to win it. Battin seemed to be playing with the knowledge of defeat and lost ten games consecutively at the outset. In the eleventl game he tried different tactics. He follower eleventh ball up to the net and scored one point after a long volleying bout. This gave him the advantage and he took the game, but losing the next he was again in a hope-less position and Cuilingham ran out at 6-0, 6-2. Collingham started his semi-final with Cookson, but at S.30, with the score 6-0, 3-2 in his favor, it was agreed to postpone settlement until tonight, when the second set will be started over again. Score: SINGLES-SECOND ROUND.

C. S. Cullingham (owe 15) beat J. W. Battin, 6-0, 6-2. L. C. Denise beat A. Tilden, 6-1, 6-3.

SEMI-FINAL ROUND. C. S. Cullingham (owe 15) vs. C. H. Cookson, 5-0 (unfinished). At the close of play, it was decided to take the draw for the doubles so that the first round in this event could be played off to-night. The draw resulted as follows:

DOUBLES. DOUBLES. H. Tilden and J. Seville, a bye. A. Bowman and F. Haskell, a bye. F. Fosbenner and G. Lawrence, a bye. C. H. Young and C. H. Cookson vs. C. S. Cul-lingham and J. W. Battin. E. SHERMAN EXPLAINS Reasons for His Agreement to the Silver Act

TO DEFEAT THE FREE COINAGE OF SILVER

Some Interesting Facts in Connection with the Passage by Congress of the Famous "sherman" Bill-Adopted to Prevent Something Worse.

WORCESTER, Mass., July 10 .- Congressman Walker makes public the following letter from John Sherman, which he received today.

"MANSFIELD, O., July 8 .- To Hon. John Walker: My Dear Sir-Yours of the 28th ult., inclosing a copy of your statement of the causes that led Mr. Conger, yourself and me to agree, with great reluctance, to the silver act of 1899. An answer has been delayed by absence in Chicago. You clearly and cor-rectly state the history of that act. The bill that passed the house provided for the purchase of $4,500,000 worth of sliver at its gold value. The senate struck out this provision and provided for the free coinage of silver, or the purchase of all that was offered at the rate of 129 cents all that was offered at the rate of 129 cents an ounce. As conferees, acting with the two houses, it was our duty to bring about an agreement, if practicable, without re-spect to individual opinion. The result of the conference was to re-ject free coinage and to provide for the purchase of 4,500,000 ounces of silver at its the Shiverick fire, and they were allowed full pay accordingly. C. O. Mattson lost two days and J. A. The provisions declaring the public policy of the United States to J. Simpson and James Traynor, Truck No. 1; John E. Hastings, Hose No. 4; J. A. Scott, Hose No. 6; and H. Giseke, Hose No. 7. the public policy of the United States to maintain the parity of the two metals, the authority to stipulate in contracts for payment in gold, the limit of the issue of treasury notes to the actual cost of silver builion at gold value and the repeal of the William Farr of the health department was appointed a special policeman at large at the request of Mayor Bemis. act providing for the senseless coinage of silver dollars when we already had 300,000, 000 silver dollars in the treasury that we could not circulate, were all in the line of

To Defeat Free Colnage.

"Another object I had in view was to se cure a then much needed addition to our ast night, the meeting of the board of educurrency, then being reduced by the com pulsory retirement of national bank notes or tion drew like a circus in a country town. It the payment of United States was election night. In addition to a large This would have been more wisely provided by notes secured by gold number of candidates that were on hand to and silver, but such a provision could not then be secured. These reasons fully justified the compromise. But the great controlling reason why we agreed to it was that we thought it the only expedient learn their fate, there were something like a hundred friends of the aspirants present in the lobby. All members of the board were present. Brusning aside the routine business of the by which we could defeat the free coinage of silver. Each of us regarded the meas evening, the board took up the election of a superintendent of schools. On motion of silver. Each of us regarded the meas-ure proposed by the senate as a practical repudiation of one-third of the debts of the United States and its people; as a substan-tial reduction of the wages of labor; as a debasement of our currency to a single silver standard; as the demonetization of gold and a sharp disturbance of all our business relations with the great common C. E. Babcock, the secretary was instructed to cast the ballott of the board for Superintendent Fitzpatrick to succeed himself Colonel Akin introduced a motion that the term for which Superintendent Fitzpatrick was elected was made three years. Mr. Elgutter offered a resolution fixing the salary of the superintendent at $4,000. Unanimously carried. After thus grace-fully re-electing Superintendent Fitzpatrick and raising his salary the board elected Mr. Samuel Macleod superintendent of buildings. Mr. Maclood received 10 votes, Mr. Hamil-ton 3 and Mr. Woolley 1.

of gold and a sharp disturbance of all our business relations with the great commer-cial nations of the world. To defeat such a policy so pregnant with evil I was willing to buy the entire product of American silver mines at its gold value. And this was what we provided, guarded is far as we could. "To accomplish our object we had to get the republican representative from the sil-ver producing states. This we could only do by buying the silver product of those states. It was a costly purchase. The silver we pur-chased is not worth is much as we paid for it, out this loss is insignificant compared to our gain by the defeat of the free coinage of our gain by the defeat of the free coinage of silver.

Cullingham Defeats Battin After Hard Work-Denise Does for Young.

Only two matches and part of a third were played last night in the local tennis tournament; but the spectators saw some excellent tennis. Cullingham again showed his mastery of the game in his easy defeat of Battin, and subsequently in the few games he played against Cookson. Denise followed up his defeat of Secretary Young by disposing of Howard Tilden, his quick movements and clean hitting gain standing him in good stead. But the match was more closely contested than the score would indicate, for all the games were long and the rests were only gained after hard work on both aides.

giving Ireland representation in accordance with the proportion of her population, as compared with that of Great Britain. Rt. Hon. Sir William Vernon Harcourt, chancellor of the exchequer, said that it was open to the House to arrive at what decision it pleased. The home rule plan did not depend upon the Irish representation in the Imperial Parliament. Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour, the leader of the opposition in the House, objected to the min-

Defeated the Amendment.

A division taken on the amendment re-sulted in its defeat by a vote of 280 to 200. The amouncement of the result was greeted with cheers by the liberals. Edward Heneage, unionist, moved an amendment to the effect that the Irish be excluded entirely from the House of Com-

Mr. Gladstone replied that the retention of Irish members would prove the means of re-assuring doubters as to the experiment of home rule. Joseph Chamberlain, leader of the liberal would render it possible that at any time they might support a vote of want of confidence and thus cause the fall of the existing government. Mr. Balfour, leader of the unionists, warned the government that the rotention of the Irish members would result probably in the endless discussion of Irish affairs by the House. In case the bill should pass, it would be an advantage for the government to have Irish members outside the Imperial Parliament so that the best opportunity might be given for the smooth working of

to desperate straits to secure payments on bad debts, but the device of an organization in Nashville, Tenn., probably deserves the first prize. A black covered wagon, such as deliver groceries, is used. On the sides are painted pictures of his satanic majesty in red and gold. That was all. But every one know that when the wagon stood in front of a man's house or store the inmate had secured a high place in the agency's "black book." The other day a citizen ordered the driver of one of these wagons to leave the front of his premises. Ancient Stone Shot.

In 1478 Mohammed II., in forming the siege of Scutari, in Albania, employed ourteen heavy bombards, the lightest of which threw a stone shot of 370 pounds weight, two sent shots of 500 pounds two of 750 pounds, two of 850 pounds, one of 1,200 pounds, five of 1,500 pounds and one of the enormous weight of 1,640 pounds, enormous even in these days, or the only guns whose shot exceed the heaviest of these are our 80-ton guns, throwing a 1,700-pound projectile, our 100-ton, throwing one of 2,000 pounds, and the 110-ton, throwing an 1,800-pound shot with a high velocity. The stone shot of Mohammed's guns varied between 20 and 32 inches in diameter, about the same height as a dining table; 2,534 of them were fired on this occasion, weighing, according to a calculation of General Lefroy's, about 1,000 tons, and were cut out of the solid rock on the spot. Assuming twenty-four inches as the average diameter of the shot fired at this slege, the total area of the surface dressed was nearly 32,000 square feet. A, this siege the weight of the powder fired is estimated by General Lefroy to have been 250 tons. At the slege of Rhodes, in 1480, Mohammed caused sixteen basilisks, or double cannon, to ba cast on the spot, throwing balls two or three feet in diameter.

The Bald Beaded Pensioner.

Al'en G. Peck, the Rhode Island veteran who receives a pension because he is bald headed, is much pleased at the notoriety he has gained, but doesn't think the public understands the nature of his case. He applied for his pension on the grounds of serious physical ailments, says the Providence Journal, and it was not his fault that the pension officers saw fit to pick out a remote cir-cumstance on which to establish his cla'm. He says that at present he suffers severely from the effects of his war service. He can work but a few days in the week, and then with no little difficulty. He feels that he deserves a pen-sion apart from his loss of hair, though this disability was by no means to be despised. It was very annoying and uncomfortable to wear a wig in the sum-mer time and he has twice suffered sunstroke on account of his lack of hair. Mr. Peck has a number of pictures taken during the period of his service. One taken at the time of his enlistment shows that then he was strong and robust and had an extremely heavy head of hair. A picture taken a year later shows him bent and emanciated, with not a particle of hair on his head. Mr. Peck says that his other claims for a pension are still in reserve, and he may yet receive a re muneration from the government for more real, though not more annoying, disabilities.

The smallest tree in Great Britain grows on the summit of Ben Lomond. It is the dwarf willow, which is mature when it at-tains the height of two inches.
