COQUETTE AT 10 TO 1 BEATS HER FIELD

Racine Dumps a Fine Crowd of Knowing Ones, Running Unplaced in the Race He Was to Win-From Track and Diamond.

CHICAGO, July 11.-The Drexel stakes was Pobbed of its interest today by the scratching of McCafferty's pair, Helen Nichols and Hugh Penny, Nevertheless, even money was offered against Morello in consequence of his poor showing Saturday. Morrello won by ten lengths. W. Hendrix, the Canadian who owns Versatile, the horse that beat Diabio and Joe Blackburn last week, made another killing today with Coquette, who backed down from 20 to 1 to 10 to 1, beat a first-class field. Coquette had been running on the Chicago tracks for some time and had never shown any speed.

There was a great dump on Racine in the last race. Thursday he beat the best handicap horses at the track without effort at a mile, and was supposed to be in his old form, but was never prominent today, Ethel Gray catching Tim Murphy an eighth from home and winning easily. The afternoon was clear and warm and attendance 6,000.

DUMPS AT MONMOUTH.

Tormentor and Sir Walter Paralyze the Talent in Their Races.

MONMOUTH PARK, July 11 .- A brilliant program, coupled with perfect weather induced another large crowd to make the trip to Monmouth Park today. Kingston's victory on Saturday in moderate sprinting company was good enough to warrant the talent sending him to the post first favorite this afternoon. An anchor was east to windward by the talent turning its attention to Iddesleigh and backing him down to 7 to 5. Tormenter was very leniently dealt with today in the matter of weight, being spractically ignored in the mess. He went begging at 15 to 1. The race was his from start to finish, while poor old Kingston struggled gamely to the last and beat Iddesleigh for the The rout was a complete triumph for the

The second event was another fakir for the backers of the favorites. The race for the Lorillard stakes was a surprise for many. It was won by the game and hand-some little colt, Sir Walter, who was a dual favorite with Don Alonzo. St. Leonards, the favorite, was beaten early in the race. The Messrs. Keene have now tried St. Leonards with Taral, Garrison and Simms. They may be satisfied that St. Leonards is not the world beater they thought him to be. A lot of money was on Sir Walter. The gross value of today's stake was $18,230; $2,000 of the money goes to second and $1,000 to third. The time is within a second and a fraction of the record.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Cookson Gives Cuttingham a Very Hard Game for Their Singles Contest. Three more matches were decided in the local tennis tournament last night on the courts of the Omaha Tennis club on Harney Cuilingham and Cookson went into court early to finish their singles contest so that they would be able to get on with the doubles before dark. Culhugham had one love set to his credit and it was generally expected that he would very quickly score the other six games necessary to give hi the rubber, and that the match would be over. But whether he was too sure of winning or his opponent played above his form.

Mr. Cullingham came within very little of getting knocked out. Cookson certainly played brilliantly. He kept his powerful adversary running from side to side of the court and rarely made an error Side of the court and rarely made an error. Cullingham was playing a hard game and every stroke had something behind it. He volleyed whenever he could, to force the game, but it seemed that whenever he made what he intended as a winning stroke it would go over the line or into the net. Anyway he lost the second set and four games all was called in the third set before he captured it.

This match had taken up so much time that it was too late to begin a doubles game when it was over, and the tie between Cullingham and Battin, the state champions, and Young and Cookson had to be put off until today. It will and Young and Cookson had to be put off until today. It will be played tonight and is expected to attract a large number of spectators. Winspear Confirmed as Chairman of the Board of Public Works.

Steel Played Solitaire-Protest Against Clos ing the Eleventh Street Vladuct-Discussion on the Sewer Fund-Several Vetoes from the Mayor.

Major Birkhauser's official career will end with today, and James H. Winspear will assume the duties of chairman of the Board of Public Works. Last evening the council confirmed the appointment of Mr. Winspear as a member of the board and his designation as chairman by a vote of 11 to 1. At the same time and by the same vote the council refused to concur in Mayor Bemis' designa-

sioner and Major Furay as sewer commissioner. It has been many a day since the lobby was so well filled as it was last evening, and the whole interest centered in the probable action of the fathers on the appointment. Half a dozen ladies, who have taken some what of an interest in the outcome, were present, and remained during the session until the special committee on the appointment sub mitted its report and the same was adopted Mr. Winspear's bond for $10,000, with A. Mr. Parker also quietly departed, and Mr. Elsasser and Mr. McAndrews failed to put in an appearance. Mr. Howell is in Scattle, and this left the field exclusively to the republicans. The anticipated opposition failed to manifest itself. The committee's report was adopted as follows: as follows:

Your committee, to whom was referred a communication from the mayor, appointing James H. Winspear a member of the Board of Public Works and designating the said James H. Winspear as chairman of said board, and the said St. A. D. Balcombe to fill the office of street commissioner and John B. Furay to fill the office of sewer commissioner, beg leave to report that we have carefully examined the matter and recommend that the appointment of James H. Winspear as a member of the Board of Public Works and his designation as chairman be confirmed.

We further recommend that in view of the proceedings in the district court, and for other reasons, that the council refuse to concur in or confirm the designation of St. A. D. Balcombe to fill the office of street commissioner and John B. Furay to fill the office of sewer commissioner.

Mr. Munro moved the adoption of the re port, and he wondered what had become of the disciples of democracy who hold down chairs at the meetings of the council. He suggested that it might be a good idea to arm the sergeant-at-arms with search wararm the sergeant-at-arms with search warrants and bring in the absentees so that they might go on record. Roll call was ordered on the adoption of the report, and it

Mr. Steel was hopelessly in the minority. He explained his vote by paying Mr. Win-speara neat compliment for the faithful serv-ice he has rendered the city, and said while he desired to see him a member of the Board of Public Works, he could not vote for him as chairman, as many desired Mr. Winspear to fill one of the other positions on the board. As soon as the vote was announced Mr Winspear, who was present, received the congratulations of his friends, and the large crown in the lobby dispersed.

Mr. Wheeler offered a resolution providing that the Board of Public Works countermand any orders that may have issued directing contractors to commence work of the Chicago, Valley and Twenty-first street sewers and to notify contractors not to proceed with the work until they receive such orders, for the reason that the bonds have not been disposed of and no funds are avail-

Mr. Wheeler explained that this step should be taken as work upon those sewers had not been commenced.

City Engineer Rosewater replied that the work on those sewers was well under way and that several partial estimates had already been allowed.

Mr. Hascall and Mr. Munro urged that the surplus in other funds be diverted to permit the work on the sewers to proceed. Mr. Hascall took occasion to remark that the inclina-tion to stop all public work in the city was becoming infectious and there is no telling where it will end. He said it would proba-bly continue until the weeds held sway on Farnam street unless the council stepped in and performed its duty to the public. Mr. Jacobsen desired a committee to investigate, as did Mr. Parker and Mr. Ed-Wheeler gathered a copy of the charter into his hands and pointed out what he considered legal complications that would arise in case it was attempted to diver money from other funds to the sower fund He was fearful if such a step was taken that some of the members of the council might sojourn at Lincoln during the approaching campaign instead of engaging in the pastime of buttonholing a constituency Mr. Hascall considered Omaha bonds as solid as gold and he wanted money taken from other funds and used in the sewer fund, to be replaced by the bends of the city. He thought it better to dispose of the Tuxurious council chamber carpet rather than to put a stop to the work. The suit is brought by the Barber company to prevent the city taking steps to abrogate the propagate, and the committee recommended that no steps be taken to abrogate the contract until the present case is disposed of. The report was adopted.

APPEALING FOR AID.

Pomeroy People Issue a Card Expiaining the Situation There. Pomerov, Ia., July 11.4 The following was issued tonight: To the People of Iowa: The tornado Thurs day, July 6, which visited upon this town almost unparalleled destruction of life and property has left the citizens no resource except to appeal to the unfalling generosity of Iowa people. More than seventy-five are dead and, at this time, over 100 are in the lands of the surgeons here. Our people have buried the dead, and with the kindly assistance of neighboring cities, are caring for the wounded. It is proper also to state that the loss of property has fallen mainly upon those who are in humble circumstances and left them in nost cases entirely destitute: A careful and reliable estimate of the loss of property in this community is $250,000 which does not include other losses in the track of the storm, amounting to nearly as much more. This misfortune falls with cruel hardship upon those poorly able to bear it. Already more than $23,000 has been received, besides the services of skilled surgeons and nurses and supplies, which have literally kept us from hunger and nakedness. For all these things in behalf of the people of Pomeroy and vicinity, I desire to make grateful acknowledgment. While much remains to be done, we feel certain lowa, always foremost in ministering out of her alundance to suffering in all lands, will glidly lighten the calamity which has befallen her own people.

In this situation our people are helpless and we must leave the organization of relief to the discretion and good judgment of the state, with assurance that the committee appointed by the governor will distribute the relief fund to the best of its ability for the benefit of those in need.

Comptroller Eckels Favorably Inclined Toward the American National.

CREDITORS ANXIOUS TO HELP MATTERS

After a Conference with the Committee Representing the Shareholders of the Institution the National Official Will Determine the Case.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE, 1 513 FOURTEENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, July 11.

Comptroller Eckels has been deluged durthe day with telegrams relative to the affairs of the American National bank. The telegrams come from creditors of the bank and bankers in and about Omaha, all requesting that the American National be granted until September 1 to get its affairs into such shape that it may resume business.

The comptroller is inclined to grant a reasonable extension. He will, of course, not be able to reach a definite conclusion on this point until he has had a conference with the committee representing the shareholders of the bank, which he is advised will reach the city early next week. If this delegation can give positive assurance that the bank can be placed upon a sound and safe basis by September 1 it is probable that Mr. Eckels will consent to an extension of the time to News for the Army.

WILL HAVE BETTER WEATHER NOW. Secretary Morton's Plans for Improving the Weather Service. Washington, July 11.-The atmosphere about the weather bureau has cleared off very perceptibly since the recent investigation, and affairs are running along smoothly. The position of chief of the weather bureau, Secretary Morton looks upon as one entirely without the pale of politics, and Prof. Harrington will probably remain. This bureau is one in which Secretary Morton has taken a lively interest, and he said today that it was his wish to make it popular; remove it from the rather high scientific plane to which it had grad-nally ascended and bring it down to a level where it would abound in practical work. In short, he will insist upon usefu, forecasting, so that the farmer, the miner the shipper and the commercial man can de-rive from it the greatest possible good. What the people most want, said Secretary What the people most want, said Secretary Morton, is the knowledge beforehand of what is to happen, so they can prepare for it, rather than a scientific diagnosis in the line of cause and effect after it is all over. GOLD IN THE TREASURY. It Has Been Gradually Increasing for Sey-eral Weeks Past. Washington, July 11.—A statement issued from the Treasury department today shows that the net gold in the treasury at the end of June last was $95,485,413, which was more than the total at the end of either of the two months preceding. In the ten days from June 30 to July 10 the gold holdings increased from $95,485,413 to $97,286,677, and the tables show a slow but steady increase from June 10 last, when the net gold statement was $85,072,985, the lowest point touched in many years. The customs receipts at New York last month were $9,337,798, a reduction of $629,900 as compared with the preceding month, and of $253,472 as compared with the corresponding month of 1892. A significant feature of the treasury statement s that not a cent of the receipts for last June were paid in gold or gold certificates, but were made up of silver certificates 13 per cent, United States notes 53 per cent and treasury notes 35 per cent, and the May statement was little better in this respect. In June, 1892, 8 per cent of the receipts were paid in gold certificates and 26 per cent in gold coin.

DISCUSSION OF CLAUSE NINE

That Section of the Irish Home Rule Bill Bothering England's Parliament

MR. BRODERICK CAUSES QUITE AN UPROAK

His Insulting Reference to the Irish Race Resented by Mr. Sexton, Who is Forced to Retire from the Floor of LONDON, July 11 .- The House of Commons, sitting in committee, continued this evening the discussion of clause 9 of the home rule bill. The clause concerns the question of the House,

Irish representation at Westminster. Henry Seton-Karr, conservative for St. Helens, moved that the Irish members be elected by the constituencies which would elect the native council. Under this amendment the Irish in the House of Commons would number forty-eight instead of eighty as proposed by the bill.

Morley replied that this proposal could not be accepted by the government.

Insuited the Irish.

William Broderick, conservative, said even forty-eight would be too many. The Irish were both impecunious and garrulous, that being two reasons for reducing their representation to a minimum.

Thomas Sexton interrupted to say that such language was grossly impertinent and ought not to be tolerated in the House.

The chairman told Sexton that he was out of order and must withdraw his expressions. Sexton expressed his willingness to obey in case Broderick would first express regret for his language.

The Irish cheered. The unionists shouted their protests and for two or three minutes their protests and for two or three minutes

the House was in an uproar. Chairman Mellor appealed to the members to support him and close the incident.

Mr. Gladstone spoke a few words in favor of the chairman's decision, but added that the person striking the first blow ought to make the first overtures for a reconcilation.

Baltone said that acting under his advice. Balfour said that acting under his advice, his honorable friend (Broderick) refused to apologize. The chairman turned appeal-ingly to Sexton, who did not respond as was

"I am willing to do anything consistent with my duty to please the prime ministen;" he said, "but considering the gravity of the insult offered my countrymen, I decine to nake any apology. I submit myself to the udgment of the committee." Loud cheers greeted this statement. The chairman hesitated and finally ordered Sexton to withdraw.

Disorder for a Time Prevailed. Sexton shouted back hotly: "Such a course is unprecedented. Why am I not named and my conduct submitted to the Irish cheers, unionists' shouts and cries of Divide" followed this challenge. The chairman pulled himself together and epeated his order that Sexton withdraw. te again refused to do so. The Irish cried 'Don't withdraw."

The unionists shouted that Sexton should be compelled to obey. In the turmoil the chairman gave his third order that Sexton withdraw. Sexton stuck doggedly to his seat. The chairman then explained the standing order concerning the expression of members disregarding the authority of the chair. His last words were almost taken from his mouth by Healy, who exclaimed: "This is a shame! It has never been done before. It is due to Milman.' This reference to Archibald Milman, clerk assistant in the House, and the immediate inference taut he had been coaching Mellor as to his duties, caused a general disturbance. The unionists shouted derisively:

"Who is chairman?" The Irish replied in chorus: "Milman is boss." Several liberals called: "Let the chairman alone."
Mellor sat helpless throughout the tumult.
As the disorder abated he was again baited by Sexton, who shouted: "Am I to be the victim of a malicious intrusion of the clerk?"

The inquiry was answered only newal of the uproar, above which could be distinguished cries of, "Put him out!"

Sexton Retires. Mr. Gladstone appealed to Sexton to obey the chairman. Sexton replied with evident rejuctance that he would leave his defense with the prime minister. Cheers and counter cheers were given when he made this statement. As he retired the Irish jumped to the benches, waved their hats and cheered furiously.

Then Mr. Broderick withdrew his state. nent that the Irish were garrulous and impecunious and order was restored.
Seton-Karr's amendment, which had seen lost to view, was rejected by a vote of 251 to 210.

Subsequently, on a motion to adjourn, Healy appealed to Speaker Peel ngainst Chairman Mellor's treatment of Mr. The speaker, however, supported Mr. Mellor's decision.
