BEE NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Doctors Take Up for Discussion the Subject of the City's Drinking Water.

PRESENT QUALITY ROUNDLY DENOUNCED

Will Try to Enjoin the North Omaha Sewer-Strictures on the Company-Dr. Macrae Defends the Missouri as a Source of Supply.

A meeting of the regular physicians of the city was called for Wednesday evening to consider the water supply question, which has been agitating the people of Council Bluffs for the past few years. Fourteen responded and a lively discussion was had upon that all-important topic. Some of the physicians took the water company to task in extreme terms for the filthy condition of the water which is dished up for drinking purposes. Dr. C. H. Pinney even went so far as to offer to buy $10,000 worth of stock in a company to be organized for the purposes of digging artesian wells and conveying the water from the vicinity of the famous Mynster springs.

The recent opening of the North Omaha sewer at a point several miles above where the water supply of this city is taken from the Missouri river was made the subject of a resolution requesting the city council to take some immediate action toward having such a state of affairs prevented by legal measures in the United States courts if necessary. The same resolution recommended that the council compel the water company to filter the water furnished the citizens.

Defended the Missouri. City Physician Macrae, in a conversation on the subject vesterday, stated that he did not think the strong language against the Missouri river as a source of drinking water supply was justified.

"The Missouri river water is the best in the world," said he; "whatever fault is to be found must be laid at the door of the com-pany. I presume that there is six feet of pany. I presume that there is six feet of filth in the bottom of the reservoirs, and it is to that fact that we must ascribe the oc-casional finding of a fish scale or some other canny object in the water we are supposed Dr. Macrae intends to have a chemical analysis of the water made by the state chemist in order to determine whether or not it is actually unfit for use from a sanitary standpoint. Samples will be taken from the river at a point as far below the two cities as the source of the present water supply is below the mouth of the North Omaha sewer is order to asserts in whether the sewer, in order to ascertain whether the river scours itself in that distance. During the evening the two young men presented themselves to the stable and turned over to the proprietor a paper purporting to bear the signature of Niles, ordering him to give them his rig. The order was, of course, obeyed, and the two fellows started out for a gay and glorious time of the old fashioned sort. When the horse came back he bore evidence of very hard treatment. Niles claims that he never—issued any order of the kind, and has had both the young men arrested on the charge of forgery.

When the night switchmen for the Stock Yards company went to work yesterday evening Mr. Tungate, the new night yardmaster, put a new man on the "hill engine," which does the work for the Cudahy packing house. Mr. Stallers, foreman of the crew on that engine, refused to go to work with the new man. He said the work on the hill was hard and dangerous and he refused to go on with the new switchman. Mr. Tungate agreed with the foreman that it would be better to give him an old man and did so. The new man was then but on another engine and all the men went to work. Nothing unusual took place during the night. It was reported on the street that Staliers vould not take the new man on his engine ecause he was a "scab," but that was not because he was a "scab," the excuse he gave Tungate. Mr. Tungate was seen by a Ber reporter about 10 o'clock. He is a pleasant man to meet and goes about his work as though he Pnew what he was doing. He said: "I was never a member of any organization whatever of laboring men. I never cared to join Unions are all right for those who want to ioin them, but I never did. I have taken charge of these yards and will endeavor to man does or does not belong to the union will not cut any figure with me. All I want is a man to do his work. The old men who were at work here when I came on will not be discharged because they belong to the urion. I know that I was not the man they wanted Mr. Babcock to hire, but I can't help that. The men worked throughout Wednesday night and no disturbance took place. Three of the old men have been let out and three new ones have taken their places. A meeting of the union switchmen was aid Wednesday night, but the result of their conference was not made public.

There was a rumor set affoat yesterday norning that the engineers and firemer would walk out tonight, together with the union switchmen, but none of the switchmen would admit this to be a fact. Manager Babcock said yesterday morning that he was satisfied there would be no trouble whatever. None of the union men would be discharged unless for good cause. Some of the switchmen had worked there for five or six years and they could stay that much longer if they attended to their work. Tungate would not be allowed to discharge any man on purely personal grounds or because he belonged to the union. It is claimed by the union switchmen that Tungate had ample switchmen close at hand last night to take the place of men who wished to quit work. Among the Christian People. The Sunday school childeen of the Baptist church, accompanied by their parents, teachers and pastor of the church, Rev. Stevenson, had a picule at Courtland beach

How the Eccentric Critic Was Wedded and Divorced. John Ruskin did a strangely wayward thing when he consented to get married. He did a most erratic, and to the public, a most inexplicable thing when he arranged for his divorce. He had accepted some of the loftiest traditions about womanhood that men sometimes read and talk about, and he looked for his ideal companion. One night he met her in the drawing room of a London friend, who, without his knowing it, had brought the young lady to meet the eyes of the great writer. It was a June night; he was 35, and she looked like a Greek goddess. He was dazzled. She was a tall, graceful girl of 19, with a face and figure as faultless as one of the statues of old. No one ever expected Ruskin to fall in love and he did not. She was poor, needed a home and its comforts, and so they were married.

Their wedded life was peaceful, friendly, kindly to the highest degree, but there was not a spark of affection t enlighten their existence. But the two men and that one woman who knew best have been happy and contented with the change that John Ruskin's pure unselfishness brought into their lives. And so the world should not complain.

CRIME IN HIGH PLACES! It is not strange that some people do wrong through ignorance, others from t failure to investigate as to the right or wrong of a matter. But it is strange, that individuals and firms, who are fully aware of the rights of others, will persist in perpetrating frauds upon them. High-toned, wealthy manufreturing firms will offer and sell to retail merchants, articles which they know to be infringements on the rights of proprietors, and imitations of well known goods. We want to sound a note of warning to the retailers to beware of such imitations and simulations of "CARTER'S LIT-TLE LIVER PILLS." When they are of fered to you, refuse them; you do not want to do wrong, and you don't want to lay yourself liable to a lawsuit. Ben Franklin said "Honesty is the best poliey"; it is just as true that "Honesty is thebest principle."
