A Company Formed to Produce Cold Wayes When Wanted. ABERDEEN, S. D., July 20 .- Some of the rainmakers and citizens of Aberdeen have formed what is to be known as the International Coid Wave company, with a capital stock of $1,000,000. The organization claims to have discovered the secret of producing cold waves. For instance, when heat running at 90° to 100° drives in upon the Dakotas from the plains of Kansas or Montana, the company says it will set a counter breeze blowing from the ice fields of the north, which will dissipate the hot wave and bring a temperature of about d82 to 702 Farhenheit. The company refuses to make public any part of its secret, but offers to guarantee

SUSPENSION OF PENSIONS

Men Who Are Entitled to Relief Have No Trouble in Getting It.

JUDGE LOCHREN MAKES A STATEMENT

The Commissioner Asserts that Not a Case Has Reen Dropped from the Rolls Except Where Papers Indicated that the

Pension Was Uniawful,

Washington, July 20.—"Not one single pensioner has been suspended under the face of his claim unless under the law he was not entitled to a pension," said Commissioner of Pensions Lochren to a reporter, "There has been a great deal of misrepresentation of the facts as to the actual policy of the pension bureau in these cases," con-tinued the judge. "I have just written conout a statement as to that policy, and

The statement to which the commissioner referred is a very interesting one to all pensioners and reads as follows: "Under pension laws enacted prior to June, 1880, pensions were granted based upon disabilities incurred in the military or naval service, and in many cases specific ratings for particular disabilities were designated in the acts of congress, and it was provided, generally, that for inferior disabilities, an amount proportionate to that for total disability should be granted. Under this general provision, specific ratings for such in-ferior disabilities were fixed by rules and orders of the bureau, with the approval of the secretary of the interior. Pensions granted for such disabilities of service origin are presumed to have been properly granted and there will be no interference with these pensions.

"Section 2, of the act of June, 1890, provides that all persons who served ninety days or more in the military or naval service of the United States during the late war of the rebellion, or who have been honorably discharged therefrom, and who are now suffering from a mental of physical disability of a permanent character, not the result of their own vicious habits, which incapacitates them from the performance of manual labor in such a degree as to render them unable to earn a support, shall, upon making due proof of the fact, according to such rules and regulations as the secretary of the interior may provide, be placed upon the list of invalid pensioners and be entitled to receive a pension not exceeding $12 per month, and not less than $6 per month, proportioned to the disability to earn a support. This act permits the pensioning of soldiers for disabilities of a permanent character, although not of service origin, which incapacitates them from the performance of manual labor in such a degree as to render them unable to earn a support. It is this inca-pacity for manual labor alone which entitles them to be pensioned under this act, and it is plain that no specific injury or disability which does not affect the capacity for manual labor gives any right to pension under the act last referred to. 'Under an order, 164, issued October 15, 1890, and approved by the assistant secretary of the interior, it was directed, in substance, that claimants under the act of June 27, 1890, should be rated for specific disabilities the same as if they were of service origin up to the maximum rating of $12 per month, and where the disability, if of service origin, would be rated higher than $12 per month it should be rated at $12 per month. The effect of the order is illustrated by the Bennett case, which called attention to it. In that case a claimant under the act of June 27, 1890, was rated for slight deafness at $12 per month, yet it was manifest that slight deafness would not interfere materially with the claimant's capacity to perform manual labor. Upon inquiry the medical referee reported back that slight deafness did not produce inability of a claimant to perform manual labor and was not ordinarily considered under the act of June 27, 1890. "It was, therefore, deemed necessary that these cases be re-examined, and that where it appeared upon the face of the papers that the claimants were not, upon the evidence submitted, entitled to pensions under the act of June 27, 1890, such pensions should be suspended and notice given to pensioners to present further evidence in support of their claims. But where the claimant ultimately failed to show himself entitled to pension under the law of June 27, 1890, the pension should be dropped and the case rejected. "This is the only class of cases that is being examined and revised by this bureau, and the necessity for such action is, I think, sufficiently obvious." "That is the statement," said the commissioner, and I wish to say that not one single pensioner has ever been suspended, save those where, upon the face of their claims, it appeared that under the law they were not entitled to the pensions, and each one had and will be given an opportunity to be heard." JOWA'S LIVE STOCK EXHIBIT.

Hawkeye State is Going in to Capture World's Fair Prizes. CHICAGO, July 20.-Iowa's live stock exhibit will bring to the World's fair the choice of the Hawkeye cattle. stock raisers of the state say they are out for first honors only in everything from poultry to beef cattle, and all their stock associations are working for the state's credit. The Iowa Columbian commission, inspired by Commissioner Packard, who is in charge of the live stock department, set apart $10,000 for stock exhibors in transporting and keeping the stock to be exhibited. This fund is to be apportioned among those interested according to the rules adopted to govern the distribution. All the actual and necessary freight charges incurred in transporting horses, cattle, sheep and swine to the exposition and return will be paid by the commission. The payments are to be made upon railway freight receipts. As poultry is shipped by express, the commission will pay all the actual charges on chickens, ducks, geese and pigeons. The commission will pay the actual cost of forage, feed and necessary bedding required for the main-tenance of the horses, cattle, sheep and swine. Eckels Hears from Washington CHICAGO, July 20.—Washington got in the first kick against Comptroller Eckels' speech at the bankers' dinner at

How the Millionaire Disposed of His Property-Charity Not Forgotten.

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.-The will of the late Anthony J. Drexel was probated this morning. The valuation of his personal estate was placed at $1,000,000, and of the real estate $1,000,000. Under the law of Pennsylvania, when the estate exceeds these figures, it is not imperative that the excess should be stated. The executors named in the main instrument are the deceased man's sons, John R. Drexel, Anthony J. Drexel, jr., George W. C. Drexel, the two sonsin-law, John R. Sell and James W. Paul, fr., his life long friend, George W. Childs, and Richard C. Dale, who drafted the will. In a codicil the deceased also named John Lowber Welsh, as co-executor and trustoe. By the will Mr. Drexel devises $1,000,000 to the German hospital at Philadelphia and $1,000,000 as a fund for the establishment of a public art gallery at Philadelphia. His books, pictures and works of art are given to the Drexel institute. He creates six separate funds of $1,000,000 each for the benefit of the six children left by his deceased daughters. Mrs. Biddle and Mrs. Paul, each having left three

He provides for the acquirement by his estate of the full control of the Public Ledger after the demise of Mr. George W. Childs, in accordance with an agreement now in existence, and leaves it within the discretion of its executors whether corporate powers shall be secured for the control and maintenance of the Drexel building and Public Ledger. He provides for the con-tinuance of the Drexel interests in the firms of Drexel & Co., Drexel, Morgan & Co. and Drexel, Harjes & Co. Mr. Drexel further devises the sum of $500,000 to James W. Paul, ir., his son-in-law, as a token of his affection and he further provides that in case of the death of George W. Childs Drexel without issue there shall be given $500,000 to his widow in order that she may be left properly

The estate is generally believed to be worth $30,000,000, and by the document fully $8.000,000 is directly disposed of.
The residuary estate, after the creation of the funds referred to, is committed to his executors, not one of whom shall receive more than $50,000 for his services, to be changed and reinvested in their discretion

Mr. Drexel in his will makes no reference to the Drexel institute beyond giving to that institution his books. pictures and articles of curiosity. During his lifetime he contributed to the institute nearly $1,000,000, $600,000 for the building and securities for its endowment, which are now worth $1,300,000. Otto Beal Triumphs. Judge Walton devoted the entire day to hearing arguments in the case of Otto Beal against the city, restraining the grading of Twenty-fourth where it intersects Pierce street. Beal owned property on the latter named street and some time ago when the ordinance ordering the change of grade was made he secured an injunction restraining the city from filling up the intersection and the court decided that the restraining order should continue in effect until the council had made the grade of the two streets conform, after which the fill could be made and the approaches graded, thus doing away with the construction of a viaduct at the intersection. By an order of the district court, issued by Judge Walton the Delos Beard injunction, which has tied up the paving of the streets under this year's contracts, went glimmering and the logal process heretofore preventing the commencement of the work was removed. This action was a mere matter of form, but nevertheless it had to be done as the supreme court had dissolved the injunction and the record of the district cours had to be corrected to conform with the find ings of the higher court.

Manley says: "I am not one of those who believe that the business depression is owing to the so-called Sherman act. It seems to me that act has little to do with it. I attribute it mainly to the success of the democratic party in November last. The business men of the country became alarmed when they fully understood what the democratic party declared to be its purposes and found that party placed in power." Denounced by Prof. Briggs.

FINANCES IN WASHINGTON

Very Little Can Be Learned of What Congress Will Probably Do.

ALL TALK ABOUT COMING LEGISLATION

Every Member of Cleveland's Official Family Except Secretary Morton Keeps Still About the Policy to Be Pursued

When Congress Opens.

WASHINGTON, July 20,-For two weeks to come affairs will be in a nebulous condition regarding financial legis-lation by congress. Mr. Carlisle is at his post today, but he will declare no policy for the administration other than the repeal of the Sherman law until the president arrives. Mr. Cleveland's conclusions are not known. He seems to bo enjoying himself on the salt water and fishing excursions, much in the condition of a man who knows that he has soon to be subjected to a severe ordeal. He is not without means of communication with the outside world and he is digesting the situation thoroughly. On the assembling of the extra session of congress it is expected that the president will present a message. Secretary Carlisle has had in course of preparation viewed from a democratic standpoint. Morton the Only Indiscreet One.

data upon which to frame an intelligent statement of the needs of the country,

The remarkable feature of the situation, which has been commented upon quite freely of late, is that republicans are making the same arguments for the repeal of the Sherman law that Mr. Cloveland is expected to make: in fact, there should be no difference in the views as to what should be done to improve the condition of things. Members of Mr. Cleveland's cabinet are preserving a discreet silence with the exception of Secretary of Agriculture J. Sterling Morton, who has traveled far enough outside the path of policy to hold the republican party responsible for the present condition. This may carry weight in Nebraska, but in the east and other portions of the country it is understood that politics have nothing to do with the solving of the question. Of course, strong political feeling will preiominate, and every effort will be made to gain political advantage as events present themselves. Interest in the legislative department centers in the house just now. Ex-Speaker Crisp is taking the reins in hand as though he expected to be elected sure. He will do nothing without the consent of the president. Who Will Do the Work. The president proposes but the members dispose, and whatever program may be agreed upon at headquarters it is believed that there will be a terrible amount of work to whip the rank and file into line. New York seems to have the call in the prominence of its delegation over others in the house. Congressman Tracy and Representative Cockran are being advanced for leaders in the crusade on the floor against the Sherman act. Mr. Cockran is a Cleveland man, whatever he may have been at Chicago, and the only question to be decided by the committee is where to place him in order to profit by his availability. He has been suggested for the chairmanship of the ways and means committee, of which he was a member in the last house, but this important position is not given to meteors, but to men of training, experience and proved ability in the affairs submitted to that committee. Mr. Cockran may remain a member of the ways and means, and in committee on banking and currency He will have nothing to do with the silver question directly in this place, but it will give him a standing on the floor where his acknowledged talents will be given every opportunity for dis-play. The whoel-horse work of the house will be assigned to such men as Wilson of West Virginia, McMillan of Tennessee, Turner of Georgia, Breckinridge of Arkansas and the much derided Bland of Missouri.

CAPITAL OF SIAM. Facts About the Region Invaded by the French. The accounts of the French move ment on the capital of Siam say the two gunboats forced the passage of the bar below Bangkok and proceeded up the river Menam to the capital after a fight with the Siamese gunboats. The Menam, or "mother of waters," says the Cleveland Plain Dealer, is the only large Indo-Chinese river whose course lies directly within the limits of the peninsula. It flows mainly southward through Siam to the head of the Gulf of Siam, which it enters through three channels. The most navigable of these is the eastward, and that is obstructed by a bar with scarcely four feet of water at ebb and twelve at flow of the tide. Large vessels proceeding to Bangkok, about twenty miles further up, discharge most of their cargoes in the roadstead below the bar. Bangkok is deceptive in its appearance from the water, the panoramic view presented being one of glittering palaces and temples surrounded by dense masses of a gorgeous tropical vegetation. The change on closer inspection is startling. - The town is found to be a confused aggregate of narrow, muddy lanes, stagnant canals and wretched hovels, occupied by a mixed Siamese and Chinese population estimated at from 400,000 to 500,000. The local trade is largely monopolized by the Chinese,
