He has made a good rec ord as a prisoner, and has announced his intention of behaving himself in the future so as not to have to go back.

Manager E. F. Clark of the Grand hotel received a telegram yesterday from Messrs. Bush & Tabor of Denver, authorizing him to deny the report which has been circulating freely and has gotten into the telegraphic disputches that the Brown Palace hotel of that city is to be closed up.

The first report that was sent out with reference to the burning of Robert Budatz's meat market on East Broadway was incorrect. It was the barn that burned, but the market, which was some little distance away, escaped injury. Mr. Budatz thinks the blaze was caused by some small boys that have been loafing about in the vicinity and making themselves a nuisance generally

Willie Henry and Hugh Silcott, two small boys, went out into the woods east of the Wednesday afternoon to gather strawberries and walnuts. Young Henry climbed to the top of a tall tree and while he was filling his pail with the luscious berries that grew there the limp on which he sat broke and he was thrown to the ground about forty feet below. He was knocked senseless by the fall, but finally managed to get up and walk home with the assistance of his companion

J. Reeder was given a hearing yesterday afternoon before Justice Vien on the charg of assault with intent to commit murder There were no witnesses on hand who could swear that they had seen the knife in Reeder's hands with which Officer Wiatt was stabbed, but it was shown by the testiony of three witnesses that he had been in the crowd and an active member. He was accordingly bound over to the grand jury and his bond for appearance was fixed at Murphy, his companion, was discharged for lack of evidence.

Ask your grocer for Domestic soap. Crossing the Lake for a Nickel.

The recent action of the management of Manawa in putting on a 30-cent rate for a round trip to Manhattan beach from Omaha has resulted in giving what amounts to a 5cent rate across the lake. The tickets, which are sold by motor conquetors for 30 cents provide on their face that the holder shall be allowed to ride across the lake for 5 cents any time during the season, instead of 10 cents, which is the nominal rate. There is no coupon attachment, and the holder of the ticket simply has to show it to the conductor on the boat and hand in his nickel. The consequence is that one 30-cent ticket can be made to last during the entire season and can be used for 500 trips across the lake just as well as for one. The 30-cent rate was adopted mainly for the benefit of Omaha patrons, and most of the Council Bluffs vis-itors at the lake have not yet become aware of the tremendous possibilities for saving 10 cents per night that is afforded by the new order of things. Quite a number of Socient tickets have been sold, however, and are being used industriously every night.

Efforts Made to Settle the Tax Case Against the Union Pacific Company.

CAPTAIN SCRIBNER MAKES AN OFFER

County Treasurer Reed Refused to Accept the Pile of Greenbacks Tendered -There is Only a Difference of $148.69.

Captain Scribner of Omaha, tax agent of the Union Pacific Railway company, paid a visit to County Treasurer Reed yesterday afternoon for the purpose of talking over the tax question which has been brought into so much prominence of late by the action of the treasurer in scizing fifteen of the big engines that the company has been using in its dally business. The treasurer has posted notices to the effect that unless the taxes are paid prior to August 11 the engines will on that day be offered for sale and the general public will be enabled to lay in a stock of locomo tives for fall consumption at very reasonable rates. The visit of the tax agent was for the purpose of making the treasurer a tender of the amount of taxes due, together with the penalty that has accrued since 1891. He refused, however, to pay the costs of the

The law provides that in case of seleure the delinquent shall be liable for the pay-ment of a 5 per cent penalty, which amounts to $404.94. In addition to this the treasurer was to an expense of $60 for assistants and his amount was also reckoned in to make the total sum due. The taxes, interest and penalties amounted to $5,081,75, and Captain Scribner was willing to pay $16,25 more than Scribner was willing to pay $10.50 more than that toward the expenses in order to make in even money. He counted out $8,100 in bills which made a pile about two feet high and allowed the treasurer's eyes to take it in from several points of observation for a couple of minutes. Much as it hurt him. Reed said he couldn't take i unless Scribner would plank down the other $448.69. To this Scribner demurred, and so the proceedings had to be declared off.

Reed is rather confident, however, that the company will climb down the ladder as gracefully as possible within the next fedays, for every move that is made toward the final confiscation of the company's property piles up the costs, which will have Bloodthirsty Richard Jenkins Wanted to Walk in Gore Kure Deep.

Deputy United States Marshal Richards arrived in the city yesterday with Richard Jenkins in his custody, the prisoner being wanted to answer to the charge of delaying a fast mail train. Jenkins was in Council Bluffs last Friday, on his way to the east from Leadville, where he had been working. Like many more of the "Colorado sufferers," he displayed a good deal more anxiety to find out just what prohibition red-eye tasted like when taken n large quantities than to find work. powling up to a considerable extent, he made his uneven way to the Burlingto yards, where he announced his intention o going out of town on the first train, no mat ter whether the conductor wanted to honor his tie pass with a seat in the Poliman car or not. He made the announcement with a wealth of fervid, but not beautiful, language, and said that he would kill any conductor who opposed him and walk in his

He managed to get on board the train and for some distance before being discov-When he was finally found he picked up a club and chased the brakeman into the cab. A pitched battle ensued, and as Jenkins was as big as four of the brakemen denkins was as big as four of the brakemen the latter did not take much pains to convince the unruly passenger that the man who ran the road did not have to use a club. Another man, a pal of Jenkins', was on the back end of the tender armed with a coupling pin, prepared to slaughter any one that happened to came his way. By means of a grun the to come his way. By means of a gun the two fellows were compelled to alight from the train, promising to stay off. As soon as the train started they hopped on again and the operation had to be repeated.
In all they delayed the train about ten minutes, and the probability is that Judge Woolson will see that Jenkins is rewarded with a liberal term in the state penitentiar The other fellow, whose name is G. lory, has disappeared, but the United States officers are after him. The affair took place at Hiteman, a small station on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road, about three miles from Albia.

While he was in Richard's custody Jenkins stated that there were six men he would like to kill.

SPOILED A SENSATION.

Mangled Corpse that Refused to Be Interviewed by the Police. Lewis Lovell, a man who lives on Upper Lincoln avenue, telephoned to City Marshal Templeton yesterday morning and stated that there was the making of a horrible sensation in a little house just two doors from his home. An old woman had been living there, but she was missing. Groans and muffled cries for help had been heard by the neighbors during the night and he was certain that if a search were made some thing would be found which would freeze

the marshal's young blood and harrow up

Deputy Marshal Fowler responded to the summons, and when he arrived at the place mentioned found a crowd of about fifty neighbors, each one anxiously waiting to t the first one to run in case anything too hor-rible should be found. There did not seem to be any groans on tap, and an investigation of the outside of the building failed to show anything that was not strictly as it should be. The door was then broken open and the spectators were given an opportunity to go inside and interview the mangled corpse. But there was no corpse there, and every-thing was in good order. It appeared to be a case of overheated imagination, and although the materials for a sensation were there, the sensation was wofully spoiled in the making.

Insurance Man Gone.

Frank Stacy, a young man who has been the junior member of the firm of James & Stacy, has left the city and his relatives and friends claim not to know where he is. He has been missing for a little over a week, but nothing was said about it in the hope that he would return in a day or two. The way matters stand now, however, there seems to be but little probability of his returning at all Judge W. C. James, who started the young man up in business by taking him into parinership, stated yester-day that just before leaving. Stacy removed all the papers of the firm from the desk in the office to some place unknown, and he ordered the firm mail sent to some place which the postal authorities refuse to divulge. He left no word with his partner as to his intentions. Judge James thinks he has held back quite a sum of money that belonged to the firm, but just how much it is hard to tell, from the fact that there is no way of telling how much he collected until the receipts ar how much he collected until the receipts are brought to the surface in the hands of the patrons of the company. He knows of about $100 of the firm money that Stacy checked out for his own use. The missing young man belonged to one of the best families of Council Bluffs, and his friends cannot believe that he has been guilty of any wrong-doing. He was a member of one of the prominent church choirs of the city. Carbon Coal Co., wholesate and retail coal. Removed from 10 Pearl to 34 Pearl street, Grand Hotel building.

Phenomenai Train. One of the most remarkable trains that ever came into Council Bluffs rolled in on the Rock Island road last evening. It comprised fifteen cars loaded to the very tops with wagon boards, the product of one factory in an Illinois town, and consigned to one of the big agricultural implement houses in this city. The boards would make a sidewalk three feet wide and long enough to reach half way across Pottawattamie county, and this county is nearly half as big as England. This indicates the big as England. This indicates the stupendous character of the agricultural implement business in Council Bluffs. Trainloads of threshing machines and reapers are common enough, but when it is necessary to bring in one little article like this in trainloads to supply the demands of one house it gives a graphic idea of the extent of the business. General Agent J. A. Roff accompanied the train the entire distance and made use of every effort to make the passage of the train an event. It made a daylight run across the two states and got into Council Bluffs on exact schedule time.

PICKING UP WATER.

Several Basketsful of the Missouri River Bettied Up for Analysis.

City Physician Macrae, Chairman White of the city council water committee, Chief Nicholson of the fire department, and Manager Hart of the water works company, made a tour of the city yesterday afternoon for the purpose of picking up a few speci-mens of the city water to be carted off to Des Moines and submitted to the state chemist for analysis. The specimens were taken from hydrants on Nineteenth avenue. Eighth street, Scott street and at the hildern factory, these hydrants standing n what are known as "dead ends" of the water system, where the water sinnds a long time in the pipes. In addition to these, specimens were also taken from the river and from the water works reservoirs will be bottled up and sent to Des Moines

Selling Dinner Tickets. The furniture that is now in use in the Grand hotel has been sold and is to be taken out on the 5th of next month. For some time past there has been some little uncertainty as to whether it would continue under its present management after that time. A number of the business men of the city called on Manager Clark and offered to make up a purse of $1,500 for him on condition that he would consent to retain the managemen for another year, but Mr. Clark refused to accept anything in the way of a bonus. He stated, however, that if the citizens would dub together and purchase 1,000 dinner tickets, to be used any time during the year, it would be very acceptable. A bargain is now pending between Mr. Clark and the Pennsylvania Mutual Inserance company, which owns the building, and whether or not it will be made depends largely whether this proposition is accepted. ommittee of the citizens has the matter charge and is making a canvass. Mr. Clark has made a thorough success of the establishment since he has had charge of it and it is hoped that he can be prevailed upon to continue at its head. The indications are

ARTHUR'S TASTE IN DECORATION The Blue Parlor at the White House as Center of His Skill.

If the walls of the state dining room had voice they could tell of a little incident in the Arthur administration that has never been made public. If it proves anything at all, it is that a man can change his mind with all the case supposed to be the sole prerogative of woman President Arthur's personal taste in matter of decoration, writes Kate Field, was excellent, as many portions of the executive mansion aftered under his direction bear evidence at the present The Blue parlor, as decorated during his occupancy, presented decidedly the handsomest appearance it has ever done. At the time when that room, in common with the others on the first floor, was being decorated, the president, one evening at dinner, promised one of his guests that to her he would entrust the important matter of selecting the decorations of the state dining room. The order had been given to a New York firm, but the selection of material and colors was left to the lady, who forthwith posted off to

New York for that purpos The president gave the matter no further attention until he was called in to inspect the completed contract. Then came the order from the president to undo without delay the entire decorations of the room. Subsequently, when they had been exchanged for others selected by the president himself, he made a polite apology to the lady, declaring the change arose from no lack of taste on her part, but simply that the final effect was not sufficiently handsome to be in keeping with the dignity of the

HIS AFFAIRS IN BAD SHAPE

Warden McMillan of the Fort Madison Penitentiary to Be Suspended.

HOW THE COMMITTEE FOUND HIS ACCOUNTS

Several Hundred Dollars Cannot Be Lo cated, While the Officer is Said to Have Used State Funds Freely.

DES MOTSES July 27 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE | The suspension of Warden McMillian of the Fort Madison penitentiary for misappropriation of funds is now inevitable. The report of the special committee appointed to investigate the charges against the management of the Fort Madison and Anamosa penitentiaries was made public today in regard to the Fort Madison prison. The report on the Anamosa prison was made some time ago, exonerating in nearly every particular Warden Madden's admin istration, but attaching blame to Chief Clerk Galbraith, who has since resigned. In respect to the Fort Madison prison, the ommittee finds that Warden McMillan has received the sum of about $1,188 which he has so far been unable or unwilling to account for. It also finds that the warder and Clerk Butterfield are interested in the Indianola, Neb., Paint and Ochre company and have given the company contracts in direct violation of the law. It also finds that the warden has on several occasions used the state funds to the extent of $1.100 for private purposes and it also finds that the vouchers are unsatisfactory, though it cannot say the state has suffered loss in this direction. There is also a discrepancy in the surplus guard fund which the warden is unable to fully explain, saying that he never expected to be called upon for an accounting of the same. The charges in regard to dis-cipline and other management of the prison the committee finds were not sustained

The matter was referred to the attorne general and, after reviewing the report and the law, he comes to the conclusion that the governor could not do otherwise than suspend the warden, which will probably done shortly. The governor went to For Madison today to confer with the warden who has made a written defense and depos ited a sufficient sum to reinburse the state for any-losses that may have occurred. warden claims that misappropriation, if any has occurred, has been wholly unintentiona on his part. It is probable that a democratic successor to Warden McMillan will be ap He Hase't Been Seen Since.

West Union, In., July 27.-The quiet township of Windsor, Fayette county, comes forward with a startling sensation. The first part of the episode dates back two months and the scene was Canada. Ed Palmer, single, was altogether too intimate with the wife of a friend. The pair were occupying a house one night when a crowd surrounded the dwelling and pelted it with rocks. Under over of darkness or through the cellar the pair escaped and came to Windsor, where the woman has relatives. There they lived as they had in Carada. In a short time the condition of affairs be came known, and a few nights ago a party of men went to the home of Fay Phompson, where Palmer has been stopping walked in and upstairs to his room and dragged him out of bed. Taking him into a three-seated carriage, his clothes w brought and he was dressed on the road. heated argument was had as to whether h should be shot or hanged, it being finally de-cided to hang him. They stopped at a farm house and procured a rope. but before the deed was committed one of the party softened and induced the balance to abandon so severe a penalty. However, they took him to the center of a dense piece of timber, and there in the blackness of impenetrable darkness set him on the ground, admonishing him that if he was ever again seen in this region a rope would stretch over his head. He has not been seen since.

Life Termer Hid Himself. Anamosa, Ia., July 27 .- Quite a little excitement was occasioned at the penitentiary last Monday night when the count was made for the night lock-up. After the count ed it was discovered that Joh Wesley Elkins was missing. Alarm was at once made and search instituted. Young Elkins was found in an old garret in a pile of lumber, with the atmosphere hot end to sufficiate him. He was taken out and put in the chains in the solitary.

Wesley Elkins, it will be remembered, began the life sentence when 11 years old for the crime of killing his father and mother while they stept, with a rifle. He is now 14 years of age and has been ugly and unruly for several weeks. He has had an easy job of it heretofore, but from this on will be set to cutting stone. He is a bad boy and does not regret con crime for which he is imprisoned.

Paying for Cyclone Damage. FORT DODGE, Ia., July 27.- [Special Telegram to The Bee |-Over 100 people have filed properly authenticated claims for damages before the relief committee at Pom The treasurer commenced paying these today. All payments will be made in part, as it seems extremely dubious that a sufficient amount will be raised to pay th claims in full. The committee has received something over $40,000. The exact losses that should be reimbursed will foot up to about three times this amount. The committee is sifting claims very carefully and quite a number have been readjusted. building houses is going on rapidly and the town is getting into habitable shap once more. Smooth Work of an Embezzler. Sioux Crry, July 27 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE]-Two years ago Eugene D. Pennock, formerly a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul conductor, came to this city as agent for the Ætna Life company of Hartford. He defrauded the company and his bondsmen by returning $1,000 policies as $10,000 and $2,000 policies as $20,000, and when discovered fled to Mexico. Six months ago newspaper clip-pings were received here giving an account of his death from yellow fever. Last night he was seen at Manilla, Ia., by half a dozen railroad men who knew him, but got away before officers could get to him. It is cer-tain that his death notice was of his own invention, and that his object was to throw his pursuers off the track so that he could re-

BIG BURGLARIES.

It Takes Brains to Plan and Execute

Very few people have an idea of the omense amount of labor, forethought and scientific skill brought to bear on a big burglary. The first thing necessary is to find a house containing sufficient valuables to repay the trouble and risk, and this first step alone may take many

Let it be understood that only the highest class of expert burglars are meant; men with comfortable banking accounts and houses of their own, and who, after reducing risk to a minimum by elaborate plans, acquire enough ir one night to keep them in affluence and eminent respectability for more than a year, although having but a third share, as these burglaries are invariably worked by three. To illustrate the wonderful resource and leisurely way of proceeding adopted by burglars, take a case related by a prominent detective, says the Cincinnati ommercial. The principal of burglars in this instance, having fixed on a certain house, was unable to acuire sufficient information concerning it and the owners. This man then went to the local butcher supplying the house and applied for a situation as driver of one of his earts which delivered meat at customers' residences. After producing unquestionable references (how obtained no one ever knew) the man was engaged on the round, which included the house fixed upon.

Incredible as it may appear, he stayed with his employer for over seven months, and gave the utmost satisfaction; his only failing being a weakness for chatting with the servants.

Five days after his resignation a gigantic burglary was effected at the house elected, and property valued at over $20,000 was stolen. The thieves had smoked several cigars and drunk a bottle of port, so that they were in no hurry, and to crown all, the booty was conveyed to its destination in the owner's pony phaeton, which was duly returned the same night, but no real clew was afforded, and the burglars were never captured.

On another occasion a chambermaid was escorted out, with a view to matrimony (and burglary) for two months before the event came off. A conveyance is always at hand, and generally of stylish appearence; in fact, on one occasion a brougham was used, which the passersby and even the policemen on the beat imagined was the property of one of the residents close by.

As regards tools, very few are necessary, owing to the skill and ingenuity of the operator. With a jimmy, spreader, drill, a few pieces of strong bent wire and a little gunpowder, the expert burglar can make his way anywhere. these are sometimes added a set of "stumblers." These are lengths of fine steel wire, with pointed stakes about a foot long attached to each end, and half a dozen of these make but little bulk. These stumblers are fixed on the lawn or paths about the house in such a way that the wires are raised about six inches from the ground, and prove such a success in case of pursuit, that the burglars are compelled to hang pieces of white paper from the wires in order that they may escape their own traps, as they always run over them.

Masculine "Don'ts" Demanding Feminine Attention.

Don't hate other women so. Think of the way you look at one another on the street. Don't keep all your politeness Don't keep smoothing the wrinkles out of your waist. A few wrinkles will keep you from looking hideously smooth, like a fashion plate. Don't have your skirt badly fastened below to be an in the said cheerily. "You wont know yourself in twenty minutes." Got the Blues.

A Kentuckian, who is a patient in a hospital in that state, is as blue as a new stovepipe from the top of his head to the bottom of his feet. His finger nails are blue, the wnites of his eyes are blue, his lips are blue, and so is his tongue, and altogether he is the bluest man in America. The doctors say that the discoloration is caused by nitrate of silver poisoning. Asbridge for years has been subject to epileptic fits, and took great quantities of nitrate of silver in order to ward them off. This was gradually deposited in the skin, and on exposure to light turned a blackish sort of blue, just the way it does on a photographer' plate.

Receivers of Nebraska Land Offices Not to Be Removed.

DEMOCRATS ANXIOUS TO MAKE CHANGES

Good and Sufficient Cause Must Re Advanced in Each Case Before Action Will Be Taken Toward Dismissal.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEN, 1 NASHINGTON, July 27.

Secretary Smith is expected to return to Washington August 4. While there has been considerable talk about the proposed changes in the registers and receivers of land offices in Nebraska and the Nebraska democrats are urging the changes the policy of Secretary Smith will be to allow the republican incumpents to serve out the ful time abowed in their commission. It this decision It is understood the secretary is acting in accord with the policy of President Cleveland to make no changes in these offices except for good and sufficient cause until the commissions expire. In most cases no changes may be expected for several months today affirmed the ruling of Land Commis-sioner Lamoreaux in the case of Radford against Doyle, Watertown, S. D., land dis-trict. Radford, the plaintiff, filed a contest on a timber culture entry for the northeast quarter section 10, township 114, range 48. This was dismissed by the local officials and on appeal, sustained by the commissioner.

TENDERLOIN REJUVENATOR.

An Application for the Man About Town When He is Tired. Two frequenters of the Tenderloin distriet walked unsteadily along Upper Broadway on Friday afternoon, says the New York Sun. They were both well dressed, but they showed the effects of too much jubilation. The face of one of the men was marred by a stubby two days growth of brown beard, and he looked tired. He leaned heavily on the arm of his friend. "You're all right," said the latter.

"Just step in here and Bob willr ejuvenate you in a jiffy."

They turned into a barber shop in Sixth avenue. The boss barber stood leaning against a shaving chair.

"Here, Bob," said the sober man about town, "give my friend a tenderloin rejuvenator. He's been up the better part of two nights and needs it.". The tired man about town sank wearily into the boss barber's chair.

"I'll fix you all right," the latter said soaked two towels in ice water for two minutes, while the tired customer lay in the chair. Then he wrung the towels out and bound one over the tired man's forehead and folded the other and placed it under his head at the base of the brain. "You can go to sleep now if you want

THE BEST Is the best Blood Medicine, because it assists nature to throw off the impurities of the blood, and at the same time tones up the entire organism. This is just contrary to the effect of the various potash, mercury, sarsaparilla mixtures, which bottle up the impurities in the system, thus producing much sickness and suffering. Therefore, for a

The tired customer closed his eyes and did go to sleep within two minutes. The slumbered and shaved him skillfully, He changed the feed towels every five minutes while the customer slept. The process of shaving took a little over ten minutes, but the boss barber let the sustomer slumber on for nearly half an hour, renewing the towels. Then he woke him up, took off the deed towels, and dressed his hair and annointed it with bay rum. The customer looked surprised as he arose from the chair and gazed at himself in the mirror. His headache had gone, and he looked chipper and neat.
