Omaha's Lacrosse Team Gives the Hub Cracks a Hard Fall.

TOO HOT FOR THE KEARNEY VISITORS

Home Players Set the Pace at the Start and Never Relaxed for a Moment in Their Vigorous Wark-5 to 0.

Omaha has regained the lacrosse champlonship, which was won from her by Kearney last Thanksgiving day.

That is the outcome of what took place at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon, and the Omaha boys are highly elated at it. Well they may be, too, for Kearney had come to be looked upon as quite the team. Lincoln tried it on June 19 and failed, losing three straight, and Omaha tried on July 4 and got only one goal to Kearney's two, Yesterday there was no doubt about who came out on top, for Omaha did not lose a game and won five.

Although the Omaha club is now entitled to rank as champion of the state, it really ranks only about equal to Kearney on the season's play. But in the present stage of the game in Nebraska-it is only a foreigner and a very recent immigrant-defeat of the champion gives the championship. No one will question that the Omaha boys deserve the title for they have made wonderful progress during this summer, and their best team now plays excellent lacrosse. Next year will perhaps see a league formed and rules for the championships formulated.

Three o'clock was the time set for the be ginning of yesterday's game; but it was nearly 3:30 when the teams lined up in the field and Ditchburn and Smith faced off the ball. From the moment the signal was given the play was fast and exciting. Even a man who didn't know the game could see that. And it very soon became evident even to the most unsophisticated that Omaha was winning. The ball came down to the Omaha goal at the start and seemed to stay right there all the time. Were in it from the Start.

The Omaha boys, conspicuous in their white jerseys, with Omaha in bold letters across the chest, backed each other up well all through, and it was not long before the ball was thrown, apparently between the posts. But it needs a practiced hand to throw a nine-ounce rubber ball off a lacrosse stick through a space measuring six by six feet, and it needs a very watchful eye to be certain when the ball is thrown that it passed between the posts and not too high. In this case the decision was given against the Omahas, and they started out again. In a few minutes another similar throw was made, but again no goal was allowed. It was nearly twenty minutes from the start when Prickett got the ball in his stick and threw it indisputably between the posts. Then there was a shout and "ten minutes allowed for refreshments."

With the restart the field was changed around and the Omahas attacked what had been the Kearneys' goal. At one time Kearney seemed to be going to score. The ball was down at the grand-stand end for several minutes, but eventually it was freed, and almost immediately Ott threw it between the posts at the other end of the field. The next stage was evenly contested until Ditchburn Omaha's center, got the third game for his side. By this time the Kearney men were thoroughly disheartened and demoralized and Omaha got through and Ott scored his second goal in one minute and a half.

This was really the end of the fight, but there was thirteen minutes more play, and then when Prickett got another goal and Omaha's score was five straight, it was de-cided to call time. It was hardly 5 o'clock, but the piayers had had enough. The Kear-ney men no doubt had been convinced that the longer they went on the worse would be their defeat, and there was no use therefore, in prolonging the agony to the full extent of Omaha's Team Work Did It.

There had been all through some excellent team work on the part of the Omaha men, and it was abundantly noticeable that it was in this that they excelled. The Kearney men played each for himself, and that is a game that never succeeds. Lewis, the colored man, is head and shoulders above any of the rest of the team, and possibly this fact tended to emphasize the evil of in-dividualism from which the team suffered. On the Omaha side, when one man got the ball, others would back him up and there was some very pretty passing done at all stages of the game. At the same time the Omaha boys had to keep their eyes closely on Lewis, for if he had once got well away re is no telling what he might have done. The following were the positions of the

In the face of a money stringency that one would naturally suppose would seriously in terfere with the receipts at the box office of the theater, last night's formal opening of the season at the Farnam Street was a round $100 better than the opening of a year ago when "Little Tippitt" was the attraction With bran-new carpets on the floor of the auditorium, with new paint to add to the color scheme and new portieres at the doors and in front of the boxes, the audience was in great good humor to follow the varying fortunes of the hero and heroines and to hur anothemas upon "The Wolves of New York," the latest product of Leonard Grover' fertile brain.

There is a strange fascination about the doings of that half world which lives while the other peacefully sleeps, and herein is found the potent reason for the crowds that flock to see plays, which lurid and melo-dramic in quality, reflect in large measure composite types that make up the life of a great city. "The Wolves of New York" is great city. "The Wolves of New York" is largely predominate with bunco steerers "short change" individuals, toughs, touts with a "deep-dyed" villain here and there to add a certain spice to the ensemble But the morale of the play is well defined, for virtue is ever triumphant, while villainy receives its just deserts in the end, as th good dramatist, who sooks to elevate the stage, must ever terminate his play. The scenery of this new candidate for western favor, having played to big business in the cast last year, is particularly note-worthy, especially the winter racing at Gut-tenburg, Jefferson Market prison, City Hall and Printing House square, where all the big dailies of New York are clustered, and the old Tetlow oil yards by the East river. There is in this last scene an element of the intensely realistic that carries the house by storm and must be seen to be appreciated.

The cast is entirely adequate, the of Leonard Grover, jr., in the part of Robin, who turns out to be a hawk in his ability to protect the defenseless and swoop down upon villainy, was thoroughly acceptable, up to the young man's previous efforts in comedy drama. Miss Foltz made a sweet and lovable heroine, while Miss Hillman, as the Blind Girl, played a very hard role with quiet ability that was very refreshing. Charles Edmonds, after the newness of his part wears off, will make an acceptable villain, although he was a bit too boisterous last evening. The action of the play is rapid, and a pleasing innovation which Mr. Grover has introduced, that of showing the progress of certain seemes by means of the stereopticon, adds materially to what must prove a success at the Farnam Street this

Ex-Governor John In Routt. Ex-Governor Routt, who has filled the gubernatorial chair of Colorado three times. and one of the most progressive of men, regarded the situation as being one of extreme gravity, but said that he could say nothing but what has been repeated time and again. "We have formed no definite plan of procedure yet, but will decide what course we will pursue today, as soon as we can hold a meeting on our arrival in Chicago," concluded the governor.

Chimes from Other Silver Bells George Merrick, chairman of the Colorodo State Silver league, remarked: "Everybody knows the object of our convention. We are fighting for nome, liberty and bonest motto, "For Silver," and we are for it strong. We are making a struggle for life now, and will soon know where we stand." Joe H. Hutchinson, secretary of the Colo-rado Mining Stock Exchange, said: "The result of this coming session of congress means life or death for Colorado. We are in a more desperate position than any one in the east can imagine, and there is only one way out. I think congress will find it." Senator Newman wouldn't talk much, but he has a speech all ready to deliver at the Chicago convention, and it is sure to hit the silver nail on the head. Thomas M. Patterson, editor of the Rocky Mountain News, preserved a dignified silence, but he had his thoughts in training on a kite-shaped track. His voice has been heard at Lincoln quite emphatically in the past few days.

E. C. Gard of the Daily State Mining

Halsey M. Rhoads, editor and proprietor of the Rocky Mountain Herald and one of the oldest newspaper men in Colorado was shaking hands with some Omaha friends.

He said that the people of the Centennial state were in a bad shape. "We are like the Irishman who had grabbed the bull by the horns. We are going to laugh some time, even if we get the worst of it. People who have not been in Colorado for a year have no idea of the situation. I have lived in Denver twenty-five years and seen many ups and downs, but this is the worst thing that has ever happened to us. But it cannot last much longer. This is a case of catching the ground hog or having no meat, and we propose to have meat. Denver and every other Colorado city is in very poor shape, but the eastern gold bugs can't keep us down that we have got started." General George W. Cook, one of the most popular men in Denver, and a Grand Army celebrity, was as jolly as ever. George is extensively interested in coal and iron mining and is one of the most energetic and public spirited of citizens. He hailed a reporter and said: "Say, young man, we may be hard up in Colorado, but we have sot enough money to Hve on yet."

Mr. Cook said that the situation was very serious, but they were all hoping for the best. "I can't see why we should not re-ceive fair treatment in the matter, and all our interests are strongly represented in this delegation—the capitalist, the merchant, the miner and laborer and mechanic all have delegates with us, and we propose to make the effort of our lives to secure relief for our state." Donald Fletcher, the wealthy real estate dealer, inspired the delegates with his cheerful words when they show signs of de-spondency. He has great faith in Denver's future. Edward R. Holden expressed the belief that if the Sherman law was repealed and no favorable silver legislation substi-tuted, it would precipitate a panic in this country. Mr. Holden said that the only acceptable substitute for Colorado would be free and unlimited coinage. He thought that unless this was obtained the sus-pended banks of Colorado and the east would

Hon. Archie Fisk, president of the Pan-American Bimetallic league, said: "The unconditional repeal of the Sherman law without a good substitute would demonstize silver entirely and increase the purchasing power of a gold dollar. It would mean eventually bankruptcy to banks, if they attempted to operate on a gold basis. It would mean that more than one railway would go into the hands of receiver the first time that interest on bonds defaulted. No railway could ever pay another interest coupon. England is simply seeking to dictate the financial policy of the

O. N. Hilton, president of the Law and Order league of Denver, desired to contra-dict the exaggerated reports of the lynching of Aratta. He said that Colorado was suffering by false reports of anarchy and lawlessness that jeopardized her interests, silver ixcluded, but he hoped that people would not judge Coloradoans harshly. Hon. Charles S. Thomas, the "tall sycamore of the Rockies." had evidently heard of Nebraska zephyrs, as he appeared minus a luxuriant growth of chin whiskers. Mr. Thomas said that the depression in silver, if it continued, would affect the price of agricultural products, and that cereals might take a drop in the future unless some rehef came to hand. He regarded Colorado and Nebraska as sister states, one rich in min-ing resources, the other crowned as a queen of agriculture. He honed that the Chicago

He has no doubt that free coinage will triumpo at the special session. He said: "The deplorable condition of affairs all through the mining region of the west has strengthened the determination of the silver people and it may become a battle for the pre-servation of the financial and commercial in-terests of the west, and the effect of the crisis there is being felt in the east, and only the establishment of free coinage can save the entire nation from a financial ruin worse than any it has ever experienced. The delegation from that state will number about 150 and will report at the Montana state building at the World's fair tomorrow. The delegation will be headed by Senators Powers and Mantle, Governor Toole, ex-Governors Hauser and Ricketts, Congressman Hartwell and ex-Congressman Dickson. ized. The story is to the effect that certain employes of the Northern Pacific Elevator company of Minnesota issued $1,500,000 worth of forged duplicate certificates for grain in storage in the "country" elevators, owned by the concern, where the inspection is not so strict as at the terminal elevators. These forged certificates were deposited with the Eastern banks as collateral. About $800,000 was secured in New England and the balance in New York.

Some of the eastern holders of paper became suspicious, and on an investigation being made the true state of affairs came to light. The stockholders of the elevator company were dumfounded when the facts came to their notice and offers of settlement with the banks were at once made and terms of compromise offered.

"and we insist upon the 1 to 16 ratio."

The 400 lowans who will come in on a special train tomorrow morning will be quartered at the Great Northern hotel.

Senator Stewart of Nevada is the most mentioned for permanent chairman by the western people, but a growing sentiment has developed in favor of General Warner as Reorganized the Company. The company was then reorganized as the Lake Superior Elevator company, with George Cook, secretary of David Dows & Co., George Cook, secretary of David Dows & Co., New York, as president. The terms offered to the bank were 60 per cent cash, the remainder to be paid in five annual payments. It is impossible to say exactly what course the bankers will pursue, as they are loth to talk, and, in fact, they have done all in their power to keep the whole affair from the public. The few who do say anything—and they are very few—admit that they have been swindled, and declare that the swindlers outh the secret to restrict the swindlers outh the secret to restrict the secret to the secret the swindlers outh the secret to restrict the secret to the secret to the secret to the secret the secret to so far as the delegates here tonight are aware, that any recommendation will be made to congress for action. While some of the western and eastern men talk freely as to what ought to be done, it is asserted that diers ought to be sent to prison. At the same time they say that good business pola number of those expected to be present and conspicuous in the proceedings are disposed to fight shy of the affair until they ascertain what elements are to control. One delegate said that the fact of all industrial organizations being invited to send reports would require a declaration from the convention, or ley under present conditions forbids such severe action, especially as the stockholders of the elevator company are ready to make a compromise settlement.

The Northern Pacific Elevator company is now in the hands of a receiver, the frauds of its employes having wiped out its existence. Among the New England banks swindled are nearly all the state institutions here, which were hit heavily, banks at Portland, Me., and various banks in the towns about Boston.

NEW YORK BANK SWINDLED.

Colonel D. C. Robinson of Eimira, N. Y., Imposed on His Friends. NEW YORK, July 30.—The Herald tells an interesting story in connection with the Elmira National bank of Elmira, N. Y. After the failure, three notes aggregating $54,000 turned up among the assets. All of them bore a New York date and all were made on the same day. One was for $17,000, made payable on demand to the order of the Elmira National bank and signed by George R. Israel, and the others made in the same form were signed, the first for $19,000 by H. S. Roll, and the second for $18,000 by F. M. Mollenhauer. These notes, it is stated, were deposited in the Elmira National bank by Colonel D. C. Robinson, mayor of that city and a son of the late ex-Governor Lucius Robinson, and discounted by Cashier Bush. Colonel Robinson was a large stockholder in the bank.

The identity of the signers of the three notes was a matter of the deepest mystery. Bank officials came to New York to learn who they were and the extent of their financial responsibility, but their names could not be located in New York or Brooklyn directories or in the stiger. directories or in the ratings of commercial agencies. At last their identity has developed. They are clerks in the banking house of Isaac B. Newcomb & Co., in the United Trust building. Not a single one of them has a dollar outside of a clerical salary. They signed the notes at the request of Colonel Robinson. They did it on their own Colonel roomson.

STOLE TEN THOUSAND. Patterson, N. J., Bank Teller Behind the

Bars on His Own Confession. PATTERSON, N. J., July 30 .- A defalcation of $10,650 has been discovered in the cash of the First National bank of this city. The money has been abstracted since July 1. The loss was discovered by United States Bank Examiner George W. Stone in an official examination last Friday. He informed the officers of the bank and went before Alfred Van Hovenbeerg, commissioner of the circuit court of New Jersey, and made a complaint against Abraham Fardon, the paying teller.

The latter was arrested last evening and committed to the county fail. The money was taken from four packages, containing $5,000 each. Ten dollar bills were abstracted from and replaced with $1 bills. The paying teller is insured with the Fidelity and Casualty company of New York for $10,000, leaving a loss to the bank of only $650, which amount was charged to profit and loss by the directors. The defaulting teller is 50 years old, and unmarried. He has been con nected with the bank for twenty-five years and some years ago was cashier of it. He has always been considered an upright mar and has the confidence of the entire com munity and depositors of the bank. He admitted that he was responsible for the loss and asked that he be committed to prison.

LOOKING FOR PIERCE.

Arrival of a Deserted Wife from New York -Her Mission.

A well dressed little woman stepped from one of the early westbound trains at the union depot yesterday morning and inquired of one of the depot employes the way to the police station. While waiting for her baggage the woman related her story. She said that about six months ago she married William Pierce in New York City. After a short season of wedded happiness her husband had the misfortune to break one of his legs. She devoutly nursed him until he had recovered from the effects of the accident. He then resumed his occupation, that of a liquor salesman, and went out on the road. He came west and, after waiting quite a length of time, she began to look him; not having heard from him since he had left At first she thought that he had met with fcul play, out later on she heard he was in Chicago. Mrs. Pierce went to the Windy City and found that her husband had been there, but had come on further west. She believes that he is in Omaha or was here last week. The lady is budly worried over her husband's unaccountable actions and can give no reason why he should treat her in a such a strange manner. She went to a hotel and today will seek the aid of the police to assist her in locating her husband.

COMPROMISE VERDICE.

Some Idea of the Decision of the Bering Sea Commission.
New York, July 30.—The World's Paris cable says: Since the closing of the arguments in the Bering sea case the arbitrators have been sitting as regularly as before at the foreign ministry endeavoring to agree upon a decision.

While it is impossible to tell when they will announce their decision a general idea of what that decision will be may be given with reasonable assurance of its accuracy. The arbitrators will decide that pelagic scaling should be restricted so as to prevent the extinction of the fur scal spe-cies. But they will not give to Americans the full property rights in the herd which are claimed.

The question of damages is understood to be the one which is chiefly bothering the labors of the arbitrators. The speculation as to the time of announcing the decision based on the fact that Senator Morgan had announced his departure for August 5, is not trustworthy. He has changed his date to August 19, and says he is not sure he can get away then.

DETHRONED A FEIERAN'S Suspension of a Pension Causes Hoke Smith

to Be Burned in Emgy. PORTSMOUTH, O., July 30.—Secretary Hoke Smith was hung in effigy by the enraged citizens of Rome, a little town of Adams county, Saturday night. A number of pensions had been suspended recently. The climax was reached when the pension of J. D. Reed, a veteran of the Eleventh Illinois cavalry, aged 83, was dropped. Mr. Reed had served four years and five months and his pension was his sole support. When he received the news of his suspension he be-came a raving maniac.

The aroused citizens, led by John Furnier, a democrat, proposed to hang Smith in ef-flgy Saturday night. Over a thousand people, irrespective of party affiliations assem-bled to participate in the ceremony. It was intended to burn the president in effigy also, but wiser counsel prevailed. A platform was erected on the public street and several speeches were made, after which a procession marched through the town headed by a brass band. The effigy was then hung and afterwards burned.

CHICAGO, July 29-[Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-Nebraska is likely to be out of competition in the live stock and fruit shows next month through the action of the au-ditor of Nebraska in refusing to issue warrants in advance whereby Commissioner Garneau may draw money to pay the expenses of transporting the ex-hibits to Chicago. Hereafter no money will be paid out on account of Nebraska's exhibit except for services already rendered, and then by warrant which will not be paid for a year and a half. For some time Mr. Garneau and Secretary Mobley have been advancing money for the running expenses, but when it comes to a question of paying out thousands of dollars for freight and express charges they say they will not do it. Mr. Garneau is now in St. Louis.

At Sedalia, Mo. Unemployed men from Colorado continue to pass through in great numbers. The people of the city provided lunch for all who cared to partake of it.

Schedules in the assignment of Francis H. Weeks, the New York lawyer, filed in the court of common pleas, show total liabilities, $1,646,633; nominal value of assets, $733,423, and actual value of assets, $58,845.

The dispatch from Victoria, B. C., stating that the United States steamer Alert collided with the steamer New York, seems to be incorrect. The Navy department has heard from the Alert twice since that date, and nothing was said about the reported accident.

At Mexico, Mo., Sam Turner, a well-to-do farmer, came to the city, and becoming intoxicated, was decoyed to a ionely spot in the outskirts of the city and nurdered, presumably for his money. HUSBAND OF THEIR VICTIM LEADS

Sixteen-Year-Old Boy Confesses that He and Two Others Committed the trime-He and Oue Other Lynched-

After the Third-

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 30.-Two negroes, who committed an assault upon Mrs. Rightler of Gaston, were lynched today. Will Thompson, an overgrown 16-year-old boy, was caught in Columbia and taken to Gaston early this morning. Thompson confessed that he, Moses Preston and Andy Kaigler, also colored, committed the crime one week ago. The crowd proposed to nail him up in a turpentine barrel and burn him, but instead he was hanged to a small tree.

Before the hanging Archie Rightler, husband of the woman, laid fifty lashes upon the wretch's back with a heavy buggy trace, every blow bringing blood. When he got tired another man took his place and continued the whipping. Thompson could not yell, as the rope around his neck choked him. After the hanging a hundred men fired into his body with pistols, shotguns and rifles. Hardly a square inch of his body escaped a bullet.

At 11 o'clock Preston was captured eleven miles from Gaston and was taken to the scene of the early morning tragedy. Preston was stripped and pinioned to the same scaffold which had served for Thompson. Archie Rightler, with the same heavy buggy trace, beat the unfortunate wretch, and when he was exhausted the whipping was continued by others of the mob until the negro's entire body was a mass of bleeding flesh. At 1 o'clock, after Preston had regained consciousness, he was strung up to the same limb to which Thompson had been hung and his body riddled with bullets. Preston declared has innocence to the last. At 9 o'clock tonight the mob at the Lexington court house has swelled to fully 1,000 people, and an attack upon the jail where Kaigler is confined is momentarily expected.

MURDERER AND HIS VICTIM.

Iwo Denver Funerals from Which Trouble Was Expected.

DENVER, Colo., July 30 .- It was announced that B. C. Lightfoot, the Grand Army man who was murdered by Dan Arrata, the Italian saloon keeper, would be buried at 2:80 o'clock this afternoon. It was also given out that Avrata, who was lynched for the killing of Lightfoot, would be buried at the same hour. The citizens in general expected that a collision would occur between the rough element now in town and the funeral train of the dead murderer.

Shortly before 2 o'clock it was learned that Arrata had been privately buried early in the morning and any possible trouble was thus avoided. Arrata's remains were en-cased in a handsome casket, costing $300. The only mourners were his two sisters, a brother-in-law and an unknown gentleman. A great demonstration had been planned for Lightfoot's funeral. By 2 o'clock fully 10,000 people were in the vicinity of Lincoln hall ready to follow the remains to the grave. Shortly after 2 o'clock a heavy rain storm broke forth and the crowd burriedly sought shelter. The funeral was not post-poned, however, but started at the appointed time, being followed by about 300 Grand Army men. Lightfoot's coffin cost but 865— a moticeable contrast to Arata's elegant casket. No trouble occurred during the day and everything is quiet tonight.

Three hundred additional unemployed men arrived in Denver this morning from points in the state. The cheap transportation of a cent a mile hitherto existing, but which was withdrawn last night, prevented many leaving for the east who desired to go. There were, however, 100 or more persons carried out on freight trains.

It is a feast for many of them. Their petition will scarcely be complied with.
