WILL CLOSE THE CAMP THURSDAY

Professional Bums from All Parts of the West Flooding into Colorado's Capital to Obtain Free Meals and Lodging.

Denver, July 31.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—In some respects this has been one of the liveliest days that Denver has experienced, as a portion of the people have been constantly on the move since early morning...

Early this morning new faces began to appear at the office of the executive department, and before midnight more than 800 men had registered and more than 100 had been assigned to tents and listed for meals. It is estimated that one-half the number came from the mountains and that the balance drifted in from the east, north and south...

Soon after the serving of breakfast Mayor Van Horn visited the "White City," and congratulating the most active men, in a short speech informed them that employment could be furnished for fifty in cutting weeds, clearing the alleys and removing dead trees in the suburban portions of the city. "Parson" Uzzell, who has been one of the strong props of the free hushery, placed himself at the head of 300 who started up town...

Not Anxious to Work. The lines marched in their phalanx until it reached the north end of the city, where, next of the members seeking saloons and dry goods boxes on the shady side of the street, so that when the "parson" reached the city hall where the assignments were to be given out, the variant army had dwindled away until there only remained fifteen individuals...

Not Permitted to Meet. The mass meeting which was called for Thursday night was held in the city hall, where the Colorado State guards, who are on duty, do not take kindly to the idea of giving up the work of playing soldiers and guarding the life and limb of the throng who slumber within the tents...
