HELD FOR MURDER.

Coroner's Jury Hears the Evidence in the McGinn-McKenna Shooting. A coroner's jury heard the testimony in the McGinn-McKenna murder case at the morgue yesterday forenoon and returned a verdict to the effect that Edward McKenna came to his death from the effects of a gun shot fired by Bernard McGinn with intent to kill. The testimony was as follows: L. H. Robins of 88 1/2 North Twenty-fourth street said that he heard McGinn swear at McKenna as the latter stepped from the car and saw McKenna start to run away. McGinn followed and caught him on the edge of the sidewalk. McGinn drew a revolver and after saying "I'll shoot your heart out," fired the fatal shot. The murderer pointed the smoking revolver toward the witness as he started on a run for the weeds. Charles H. Lear, 2324 Ames avenue, saw the struggle and the shooting. His testimony was the same as other eye witnesses. Lear hurried to McKenna and raised him from the ground and asked, "Why did McGinn shoot?" "He shot me," answered the injured man. He saw McGinn draw the gun and flourish it at the crowd as if he intended to shoot. He started to follow McGinn, but stopped when McGinn told him to go back or he would get shot too. The next witness was Fred A. Tripp, who was sitting on the porch at the Saratoga house. He heard some loud talk, saw the men struggling and saw McGinn fire his revolver. William McGee was on a passing motor and saw the shooting. He left the car and telephoned for the police and the doctors. Miss Rhoda E. McKenzie, who lives at 4804 North Twenty-fourth street, was an eye witness. She was on the car with McKenna and was just stepping off when McGinn walked over and spoke to McKenna. As the latter started across the street McGinn followed, and after a short struggle the shot was fired and McKenna fell. McGinn then ran. Several other witnesses testified to the same facts. Drs. Impey and Matthews described the dead man's wounds and the post mortem. The bullet, the doctors said, split on a bone in the left thigh and could not be found. The intestines were cut in seven places. Death was caused by peritonitis, the result of the gun shot wound. This ended the testimony and the jury brought in a verdict inside of ten minutes.

FOR SHOOTING TO KILL.

Young Louis Goldsmith on Trial for Wounding Alfred C. Patterson. Patterson was the first witness and told how he, in company with George Sheeber, Jr., William Grimes and John Brown, went into the saloon on the night of the 14th and asked to get change for a dollar. Continuing the witness said: "A couple of women were standing at the end of the bar smoking cigarettes. I spoke to them and it seemed to anger Goldsmith. He called me vile names and then ordered me out of the place. As I started to go he grabbed a couple of beer bottles and threatened to strike me. Then he dropped the bottles and turned to the north end of the bar, opened a drawer and took out a pistol. By this time I was near the middle of the bar. When Goldsmith started toward me with the pistol the women cried 'Louis, don't do it' and put their hands to their ears. Louis told them to get out of the way, that he was going to kill me. The bartender took the revolver away from Goldsmith and then he got a billiard cue and struck me on the left arm. Then I ran into the street and was shot." Dr. Somers testified as to the treatment of Patterson and exhibited the bullet found in his body. Several other witnesses followed and at 1 o'clock the state rested. The trial will be continued today. After the state's evidence was all in the attorney for the defendant declined to introduce his witnesses, and Goldsmith was held to the district court in the sum of $2,500. Bail was furnished at once. Cheap Excursion to Burlington Beach. On Sunday, August 6, the Burlington route will run a special excursion train from Omaha to Burlington beach (near Lincoln). Round trip tickets $1.00. Train leaves union depot at 9 a. m. Minor Prisoner Matters. Only two prisoners appeared before the police judge yesterday morning. One was a drunk and one a vagrant. Both were allowed to go. William Barber and George Smith complained that they had been "hoodooed" out of $2 by an employment agency. No complaint was filed. The case of illegal construction of a sidewalk against John M. Wilson was argued in police court yesterday forenoon. A decision will be given later. The Byron Reed company complained to the police that disreputable women occupied a house at 1622 Jackson street. Police officers compelled the women to move. John Dent who owns a small farm in the north part of the city complained to Chief Seavey that boys were stealing his green corn. An officer was sent out to abate the nuisance. Don't Forget the Date. Sunday, August 6, of the monster cheap excursion to Burlington beach. Train leaves Omaha at 9 a. m. Round trip tickets $1.00.

PULLMAN'S TAXES.

Prospects that Sir George Will Be Required to Settle a Delinquency. The question of whether the Pullman Palace Car company will escape the payment into the city treasury of several thousand dollars of personal delinquent taxes for several years back will probably soon be decided. The company failed to pay its personal taxes to the city for 1886, 1887, 1888 and 1889, as returned by the assessors, and the total footed up about $5,000. Several months ago, upon the advice of the city attorney, Treasurer Bull took steps to force the collection of the delinquent taxes. He levied upon three palace cars belonging to the company, and held them for several days, pending the time he gave notice of sale. In the meantime, just previous to the day of sale, the company's attorney appeared before Judge Dunly at Lincoln and secured a temporary order restraining the sale of the cars until the case could be heard. An order was also issued ordering the release of the cars the treasurer had tied up in the Union Pacific shops until the company paying into court the amount of disputed taxes. This the company did, and secured the release of the cars pending the hearing of the case. Advice from Chicagoore to the effect that the taking of testimony in the cases will commence today. City Attorney Council is there, and he has been served with an order to take testimony in the case, which is now pending in the United States circuit court. Mr. Council will examine all witnesses. He will return home the latter part of the week.

Paying Taxes Freely.

Yesterday was a big day in the office of the city treasurer. Over $50,000 in taxes were paid, which is considered a very large amount in view of the existing conditions. Treasurer Bull has written to a large number of dealers in western securities seeking information as to the outlook for floating the $50,000 block of long and short time bonds of the city August 17. Mr. Bull has hopes that the replies will be favorable and believes that the bonds will be floated at fair figures.

Plans for a Market House.

City Engineer Rosewater is making preparations to prepare the plans for the new market house to be located on Capitol avenue, between Eleventh and Thirteenth streets. The engineer was directed by the council in conjunction with Building Inspector Tilly to prepare plans and specifications. This will be done with as little delay as possible and it may be that not more than a week or ten days will elapse before they are ready for the council.
