Hotel Thief Confesses and Shows Officers Where Staten Goods Are Secreted. For the last three or four months the guests of the Brunswick hotel have been missing money and articles of jewelry, and on Sunday last the police detectives were called upon to fathem the mystery of the disappearance of the trinkets. After the arrest of Mrs. Gilmore yesterday for receiving stolen property in the shape of boits of cloth stolen from Larsen's, the detectives found that their prisoner was the same woman who for some months had been sew-ing for guest's of the hotel and she was suspected. Chief Detective Haze subjected the woman to a severe questioning and yesterday forence she broke-down and confessed to having stolen considerable of the property of the guests of the Brunswick and professed a willingness to show the officers where the ner to pick up little articles of jewelry and pocketbooks left lying around loose.

The attorney for Mrs. Gilmore says that his client's name is Mrs. Ella Guillemot and that her husband, who died a couple of that her husband, who died a couple of years ago, was a physician in good standing. She formerly lived in Iowa.

It is understood that some of the Brunswick people who have recovered their property will not prosecute Mrs. Gilmore, but Chief Detective Haze will file a complaint of grand larceny against her just the same.

The police detectives are still working on

The police detectives are still working on the Larsen tailor shop robbery and expect before the trial of the suspects comes up that they will have enough evidence to convict the entire gang. Although Detective Savage is confined to his bed he had a hand in the affair along with the rest of the detective force, for the original tip regarding Mitch Fleming and Mrs. Gilmore came from the sick officer.

All of the people who have been arrosted so far are held on suspicion, but the police expect to file grand larceny complaints in a day or so, as soon as they have collected all the evidence necessary to make a case.

Following is the criminal record of the men now under arrest for burglarizing the tailor shop as shown by the books at police headquarters:

climber.
Mitch. Fleming has always associated with toughs and was arrested once with Ed. Culver and Reddy Gallagher for confidencing a granger out of some money.

"Humpback" Welch is an all-around sneak.

Jim Aiken has long been suspected by the COLORADO W.LL RECOVER.

While Dependent on Silver, the Centennial State Has Other Rich Resources. A gentleman from Denver, at present sojourning in Omaha was resterday interviewed by a reporter as to his views on the situation in the Centennial state. The visitor stated as his best information and belief that note until the price of silver went up could there be any change for the better in the present deplorable condition of things in Denver and Colorado. And in fact it was never realized until now how dependent Colorado is on the silver in-dustry, and how really pretty much every-thing else has been either neglected or con-sidered of secondary moment as compared with the white metal.

"It has been urged time and again," said the Denverite, "by conservative men like E. B. Light, president of the Manufac-turers exchange, that more attention be paid to other industries, as for instance the coal industry. Why, in the county of Gunnison alone there is as much coal as in the whole state of Pennsylvania, and in the whole state of Colorado there is as much coal as in any three states in the union. This may seem like overdrawing the matter, but our experts who have given it careful and intelligent attention claim this to be the fact. Then the wheat and grain crop is the southern part of the state is upmense, and the agricultural interests of the state generally are beginning to loom up in great shape. But the enormous mineral resources of the commonwealth seem to have overshadowed everything else, and for years to come the production of the precious metals will engross the greater part f public attention.

The number of men employed in the mines and smelters will be better understood when it is stated that when the mines closed down 6,000 men were thrown out of em ployment, and then followed a slump in railroad traffic that added greatly to the general paralysis. "Of course thousands of people are leaving the state, going back east to friends and where they will find work, but as soon as the price of silver goes up again these same people will be flocking back, and it is predicted that the future of the state will bright enough—only silver must rise before this can be done. There is a disposition to look on the bright side of things, and be cheerful and to wait for the hoped-for good times that will surely come."

Views of a Visitor.

W. N. Nason, an Omahan who is at present in Colorado, writes to l'uz Bez an encouraging outlook for the young commonwealth, in spite of the present depression. Mr. Nason says that Colorado's other re-sources will be developed in the event that her silver interests are crushed. He writes, in part, as follows:
"Denver stands today serene in all its stately grandeur the gem of the mountains its heroic people bravely battling with suddenly acquired financial adversity. They are gallantly feeding and sheltering not only Denver's own but thou-sands of unemployed and destitute men, women and children who have hastened from many mining districts where work has been largely abandoned and interests tem-porarily paralyzed.

"While the people are depressed they have rallied from despondency and there is a unan-imity of sentiment that the origin of all the trouble is mainly the unprofitableness of silver mining under present conditions, and are looking anxiously but hopefully to the coming congressional session for such wise legislation as will afford not only immediate but permanent relief."

EX-RECEIVER RUST REPLIES.

General Denial offiche Charges Made by the E. Hyde Rust, exerceiver of the water works company, has filed his answer in federal court to the application and motion for his removal from that position. His answer is a general damial of the charges made

In the first place, the answer denies that the federal court of this circuit has jurisdiction in the case, claiming that the company is a New Jersey corporation that has never been incorporated or domesticated in any other part of the United States, and is not a resident of Nebraska. It is therefore claimed that the case should have been brought in the courts of New Jersey, and that this court is without jurisdiction to re-move the receiver.

brought in the courts of New Jersey, and that this court is without jurisdiction to remove the receiver.

The answer then recites the history of the appointment of Mr. Rust as receiver and dwells upon the fact that at that time no objection was raised by any of the parties to this suit, but by the local receivers, against whom the court finally held and a decree was issued in favor of the appointee of the New Jersey court, who assumed control of the plant October 18, 1892, and remained in charge until July 15, 1893. He avers that he was always advised and never heard to the contrary that he was to make all settlements as receiver in tife court of chancery of New Jersey, and was never required to administer the assets under the direction of this court. This court never gave him any instructions in the matter, with the single exception that Judge Caldwell of this court at St. Louis, where an order was applied for ratifying an order of the New Jersey court, gave instructions that duplicate copies of reports sent to New Jersey should be filed in this court, which order had always been carefully obeyed.

He deciared that it had always been his object to obtain full possession of all the plant here and in Colorado, that it might be object to obtain full possession of all the plant here and in Colorado, that it might be managed economically and distributions made with due regard for the rights of all in interest, and he had not misstated or misrepresented any fact or thing to the court in applying for recognition of the order of the New Jersey court. It was true that he had never been receiver of the plant at Denver, although he had endeavored to secure control of it, and had exercised due diligence, produces and described in the court of the prudence and discretion in that direc-tion. Dennis Sullivan is receiver there, having been appointed under a foreclosure pro-ceeding. He is one of the complainants in this case, but it was not true that affiant never intended to disturb him as receiver of that plant. It was true that he had not applied to be placed there as receiver in Sulli van's stead, as his counsel in Denver, Mr. Vaill, said Sullivan could not be displaced. Vaill, said Sullivan could not be displaced, having been appointed under foreclosure proceedings. He denied that he had co-operated with Sullivan in keeping both plants under control of the complainants. As to the receipts of the company, he insisted that the income was greatly in excess of what it was before he assumed control. He drew a salary of $500 per month, allowed by order of the New Jersey court, and he had drawn hotel and traveling expenses, but it was all necessary in transacting the but it was all necessary in transacting the business of the American Water Works company. He had kept Mr. Alonzo B. Hunt company. He had kept Mr. Alouzo B. Hunt doing the same work that he had performed ever since the organization of the company, and had tried to keep the office force the same. He had made no changes where any of the former employes were necessary to the business of the company. He denied that he had paid Collins and Corbin money, or that either of them had appeared before the court at Little Rock, His only counsel had been Charles Offutt.

He had assumed and paid bills without the He had assumed and paid bills without the

He had employed counsel to appear before this court at Little Rock and St. Paul, although not directed by this court to do so, but his honor, Alexander T. McGill, chancellor of New Jersey, had cautioned him to employ the best counsel he could secure whenever he needed advice or was in doubt, and he had acted on it, and had always been discreet and protect. M'GINN AND DODRILL.

Rumor that They Have Been Returned to the County Jall. Barney McGinn and George Dodrill, the murderers of Edward McKenna and Andy Ryan, are not in Council Bluffs, as has been reported. A policeman said last evening Sheriff Bennett would hardly take his prisoners into another state where he would have to get requisition papers before he could bring them back for trial. Then Council Bluffs is so nearly a part of Omaha hat the murderers would not be safe in that place any more than they would in this city in case a determined effort was made to lynch them. The sheriff took the men ou of the jail Monday night as a matter of pre-caution, but the men are now believed to have been brought back to the Douglas county jail, as there are no fears of an at tempt to take the punishment of these mer out of the hands of the courts."

Receiver Will Be Appointed. Judge Dundy made a ruling in the application for a receiver for the American Loan and Trust company yesterday. As a majority of the stockholders requested that the affairs of the company be left in the hands of the old officers and board of directors he granted their request. The report of the temporary receiver shows that the company was forced into liquidation by the recent financial depression and that it was only a question of time when they would be able to realize on their semrities and assets. President Carter states that his company will now go ahead with the business as if nothing had happened. He also says the receiver's report is very encouraging to the stock-holders.

COMING COMMITTEE CHANGES

Members Who Will Not Help in the House This Session.

SPEAKER CRISP MAKES SOME DISCLOSURES

Wilson of West Virginia for the Ways and Means and Sayres of Texas for the Appropriations-Bryan Likely to Be Dropped.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.-Speaker Crisp has been careful to talk in rather vague and general terms concerning congres-sional affairs since he returned to Washington. But he has at last given his confidence to one of the leading congressmen of the west, who was himself a candidate for speaker two years ago. The latter talked pretty freely as to Mr. Crisp's disclosures. He said that all the talk about the uncertainty of the leading committees was idle, as it was now definitely and positively settled that important changes would be made.

William L. Wilson of West Virginia

is to be made chairman of the ways and means committee in place of Mr. Springer, who will remain in the committee if he so desires.

Governor Sayres of Texas is to be made chairman of the committee on appropriations in place of "Watchdog"

Holman. It appears also that Mr. Crisp has not only settled these most important chairmanships, but he has given considerable attention to the make-up of the commit-tees as a whole. For instance, he has learned that Bourke Cockran desires to retire from the ways and means commit-tee, on which he served two years ago in order to give all his time and energy to the coinage committee. It is also probable that Mr. Bryan of Nebraska will be retired from the ways and means committee, for his attain-ments are regarded as of an oratorical and ornamental character, rather than of a nature to delight in the dry statistical detail of revenue measures. It is certain that Mr. Bynum of Indiana will be retained on the ways and means committee. It has also been determined that Turner of Georgia and McMillin of Tennessee will remain on the ways and means committee, and the latter will be leader in the tariff debate. Concerning the chairmanship of the coinage com-mittee it has been settled that Mr. Bland shall not serve in that capacity. He is expected to decline the chairmanship because it woul be an empty honor with the committee packed against him. If, however, he does not see fit to step aside, he will be summarily dropped from consideration. The leaning of Mr. Crisp is toward Bourke Cockran as chair-
