CURRENCY IN GREAT DEMAND

New York Banks Paying Big Premiums to Secure It.

SCHEMES THAT ARE BEING RESORTED TO

Silver Freely Used in Paying Checks—The Banks Have Ceased to Ship Greenbacks to the Country—Notes from the Financial World.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The overshadowing question this morning in financial circles was the scarcity of currency. At many banks it was admitted that cash payments for large checks over the counters had been suspended for some days, except in cases where it was known that the actual cash was necessary. In other words, the banks used discrimination, and where it was thought the demand for actual cash (currency) was for the purpose of hoarding, the bank insisted on a certified check being taken.

Domestic Exchange.

In the very general collapse of the machinery of domestic exchange the collection of drafts on banks in other towns and cities has been managed on an unusual scheme. Usually when a New York bank depositor turns in a check drawn to his order on an out of town bank the New York bank remits to its own correspondent in the same place for collection, or else sends direct to the bank drawn upon. In both cases out of town banks have either delayed remitting or have neglected exchange, and thus charging up to the New York bank the cost of exchange. The city banks have, therefore, resorted in an unusually large measure of late to direct collection through the express companies, which make a specialty of presenting drafts direct at distant points, drawing out the money and shipping it to New York. The cost of this transaction has for a long time been materially below the rate charged for interior exchange.

Many curious incidents are related by the bankers as to the working of such collection. Some outside banks have taken pains to pay such drafts in inconvenient currency, notably standard silver dollars. One case is mentioned of a country bank on which a draft for several thousand dollars was collected returning the money in gold, $400 in standard silver dollars and $800 in subsidiary coin, almost entirely dimes, with a liberal sprinkling of Canadian pieces. It is quite probable, unless the draft actually exhausted the little bank's resources, that the country banker got the better of its city creditors, for the loss on exchange could hardly have exceeded the virtual loss on non-legal tender.

Must Part with Their Bonds.

While the majority of savings banks officials persisted today in saying that they will not be tempted to part with their government bonds, yet a well informed minority of them declare that it is unavoidable. A former savings bank president, and now the head of a trust company which has extensive dealings with savings banks, said that the sale of bonds would not be necessary. He explained as follows: "The savings banks are well prepared for the scarcity, and it is not entirely unexpected. They have guarded their reserves fully by the application of the notice rule, and previous similar experiences go to show that the notices given will not be availed of."

He explained by relating that when he was president of a savings bank in 1873 the notices given him in that time called for $600,000. The notices were for sixty days. At the end of that time only $300,000 were taken, and adding: "I cannot now remember the proportion, but I do recollect distinctly that returns were made daily. This shows, of course, that hoarding is going on to enormous amounts; and as evidence of this, I may repeat what a Louisville banker told me yesterday. He said that the Louisville safe deposit had never done a good business and was constantly advertising space. But since this period of currency famine the institutions have not a box to spare. Another amusing incident is that which took place at a local safe deposit. A man who had closed his account, $12.50, at a savings bank, put it in a safe deposit, paying for his little hole, $5.

Stopped Shipping Currency.

The banks here have shut down on the shipment of currency to the interior. The scarcity is so pronounced that agents are bidding a premium of $10 per $1,000 today. Institutions with large pay rolls have been compelled to resort largely to the use of silver. One bank is reported to have paid 1 per cent for all the currency received at a big retail establishment. The banks request depositors to use checks as much as possible, and where cash is required are paying a large portion in silver dollars. The supply of bills at the subtreasury is growing limited and has caused a refusal on the part of the subtreasurer to receive checks from the banks in payment for silver dollars and currency for shipment and pay roll use. The subtreasury has collected its checks through the clearing house. An order of the subtreasurer today that the banks must deposit cash against the withdrawal of currency and silver is one of the results of the conference yesterday between Carlisle and Assistant Subtreasurer Jordan.

MORE CERTIFICATES ISSUED.

Further Action by the New York Clearing House—Features of the Stock Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—At the Stock exchange money on call was 3½@5. Time money and mercantile paper was neglected. The subtreasury was $273,000 debtor at the clearing house today and paid the difference in gold.

The usual ten-day statement of the kinds of money in which customs at this port are made shows large increases in gold coin. Payments for the past ten days show that 12⅛ per cent of the total was gold coin; 4.6 gold certificates, or over 17 per cent, which is the largest proportion of gold coin in years.

The loan committee of the clearing house today issued $1,300,000 in certificates, making the total outstanding $31,550,000.

Inquiry for stocks in the loan crowd, while not as brisk as on previous days of the week, is still large. Leading issues command a premium. New York Central, lent at ⅛@1-16 per diem; Lackawanna at ⅛; Burlington & Quincy at 1-32@1-16. General Electric, Western Union, Lake Shore and Rock Island at 1-32; Northwest at 1-64. Good judges of the market say there are still very heavy short interests outstanding. They say there has been a perfect craze to go short on stocks for the past month and the bulk of this remains to be covered.

Sterling exchange is decidedly stronger, with posted rates up to $4.81½ and $4.85. Demand for bills to cover gold importations were again heavy this morning and accounts in a great measure for the strength of the market. Advance in the bank of England discount rate also affected the market and has a tendency to check the outflow of gold from London. Foreign bankers here thought the movement would let up for a time, as a rise in actual selling rates reduces the profit materially.

Balfour on Money.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—A meeting was held at the lord mayor's residence today to consider the financial situation. There was a large attendance of legislators and financiers. Ambassador Bayard of the United States being among the number.

Hon. A. J. Balfour made an address, in which he said that a gold standard could never satisfy the commercial wants, the double standard alone would prevent dangerous oscillations in trade. He deprecated isolated action by single governments, and recommended an international agreement fixing a ratio between gold and silver.

The meeting adopted a vote of thanks to Balfour for his address.

Charles Foster's Overdraft.

FOSTORIA, O., Aug. 3.—The statement of Assignee Gormley, for Charles Foster and Foster & Co., shows that Foster had overdrawn his personal account to the amount of $136,000. Foster admits the overdraft, but says he has now more than $100,000 of his own securities pledged for the endorsements of the bank. He courts investigation.

PATTERSON ON SILVER.

What the Colorado Editor Has to Say Upon the Subject.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—In an interview this evening Hon. Thomas M. Patterson, son of Colorado, said: "Tonight's dispatches give the denial to all charges made by the single gold standard press to the effect that silver is an unpopular money and that it lies hid in the treasury at Washington without any demand. United States Treasurer Morgan has given out that no more silver certificates will be issued by the Treasury department at present, as the limit prescribed by law has been reached. What he means is that there are 39,000,000 standard silver dollars, and certificates representing them, in active circulation doing the business of every section of the country. There is not a silver dollar left in the treasury that can be issued, because there are silver certificates already issued and outstanding representing every one of them. The Treasury department also says the reduction in the number of silver dollars in the treasury has been brought about by recent large demands for these dollars from the south to move its crops and pay off its farm hands.

Demand for Silver Certificates.

"There is also, according to the same dispatches, an immense demand in New York for silver certificates of small denominations, which the Treasury department is unable to supply for the same reason that prevents it sending the silver dollars to the south. These statements carry with them two lessons, one showing that people are in nowise averse to silver money or its representative, the silver certificate, and that owing to the process of withdrawal by timid money owners there is a dearth of currency of small denominations, which might be readily removed if the Treasury department would but coin into silver dollars some part of the large amount of silver bullion now in the treasury.

"Is it not a glaring shame that the south should be seeking in vain for silver dollars to move its crops, and the eastern cities should be suffering for small denominations of silver certificates for their needed commerce, which is denied them, while there are 180,000,000 of ounces of silver bullion in the treasury which the department has a perfect right to coin into silver dollars and put in circulation either in the form of certificates or coin? This extraordinary fact should be well considered by southern members of congress before they succumb to the demands of President Cleveland's reference to anti-silver legislation.

"The same dispatches tell us that the $100,000,000 of the gold reserve has been fully restored, with but little danger of its being reduced below that amount in the future; also that $6,000,000 or $8,000,000 of gold lately arrived here or is on its way from Europe f it was the silver purchasing clause of the Sherman act that drove gold from the south a month ago, it must be the operation of the same law that brings it back. There is no ground for either claim. The gold goes and comes under laws and through transactions in which the Sherman law plays no appreciable part.

If Carlisle Would Only Listen.

"If the Treasury department was not so hostile to silver and determined that it should be given no chance until after congress has acted upon the Sherman law, Secretary Carlisle would listen to the cry that is coming up from the south for more silver dollars and supply its wants by coining the treasury bullion, which he has a perfect right to do. If he would do this it is confessed by the Treasury department it would relieve the present demand for money in the south, and which it is anxious to obtain."

Will Sue the Cordage Trust.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Henry Allen & Co., brokers, have announced that they intend to bring suit against the officials of the National Cordage and the other members of Cordage pool for whom they operated previous to the collapse of the Cordage company. Mr. Allen tonight said the Cordage pool for whom he operated still owed the firm some $300,000. He said the suit would speak for itself when it was filed. He would not say whether it would be of a civil or criminal character.

Several members of cordage people seen tonight say that they owe nothing to Allen & Co.

It was a failure on the part of members of the Cordage pool to come up with margins that caused Allen & Co. to suspend when Cordage dropped sixty points on the Stock exchange.

Lazarus Silverman Fails.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Lazarus Silverman, the well known private banker, has suspended. Liabilities, $500,000. Assets said to be greater. Cash on hand $6,000.

Silverman was one of the largest operators in northwestern iron properties, and interested to a considerable extent with the Schlessinger syndicate. In the absence of Silverman, a representative of the house claimed that the embarassment is only temporary. Deposits are estimated at $600,000, mostly by Hebrews engaged in small business. Other liabilities are estimated at from $100,000 to $200,000. The assets have a nominal value of $2,000,000, of which $700,000 is real estate.

New York's Idle Thousands.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The World tomorrow will have a long article indicating that the metropolis will soon be overrun by an army of idle men. Statistics from fifty-seven trades in New York City go to show that in these trades alone over 36,000 men are out of work. This represents only a portion of the city's unemployed. It is stated that thousands are coming here from the west and that immigrants are tarrying in New York because of the stagnation in western states. It is also pointed out that the host of idlers is being daily increased by the shutting down of factories.

Will Apply to the Courts for Relief.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—J. Edward Simmons, chairman of the Reading general mortgage bondholders' committee, and William Mertens, chairman of the income bondholders' committee, have issued a circular calling on bondholders of securities to join in protecting their interests and will apply to the courts for immediate relief.

England's Gold Stock Decreasing.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Stocks quiet, market steady. Americans were in better demand. The Bank of England advanced its rate of discount from ½ to 2½. The proportion of the banks reserved liability has been reduced since last week from 48.33 per cent to 46.11. During the week its stock of gold decreased $10,272,000. Stocks closed dull and firm.

Frightened for Her Gold.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—At the regular weekly meeting today of the directors of the Bank of England it was decided to advance the rate of discount to 3 per cent. The advance, which was unexpected, is attributed to the further large withdrawals of gold today, and the probability of fresh shipments on Friday or Saturday.

Reducing the Hours of Labor.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—President Roberts of the Pennsylvania Railroad company has issued an order for the reduction of hours of labor in the mechanical department from six days a week of ten hours a day to five days of nine hours each. This action is taken with a view to reducing the expenses.

WILL PAY ALL DEPOSITORS.

Closing of the American National Bank of St. Paul—A Good Showing.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 3.—The American National bank of this city will not open its doors for business tomorrow. This step was rendered necessary by the steady drain upon its resources for several months, depositors having withdrawn $1,562,000 since January. The present financial stringency has made it impossible to realize ready money on assets in sufficient amounts to meet all withdrawals, and the directors today decided to close temporarily in order to get the affairs of the bank in better shape. The bank has a capital of $2,000,000, with a surplus of $200,000. The deposits amount to $2,400,000, and the bank holds bills aggregating 4,000,000. The assets are more than ample to meet all liabilities. The officers announce that they will pay all depositors with interest, so that no loss will be sustained.

JAMAICA, L. I., Aug. 3.—Fred W. Dunton, president of the Bank of Jamaica, president of the New York and Brooklyn Suburban Investment company and the Boynton Bicycle Railroad company, has assigned. The assets are more than enough to cover liabilities.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 3.—The Michigan-Peninsular Car company has cut down expenses by discharging 1,500 men and by reducing the wages of 1,600 men still at work. The Standard Pearl Button factory has decided to close down. This is the first pearl button factory established in the country after the passage of the McKinley bill.

BAGGED A PAIR.

William Elburn Neatly Captures Two Young Men Who May Be Burglars.

William Elburn, foreman of the Twenty-second street car barn who lives on Franklin street was awakened about 1 o'clock this morning by two men trying to get into the house in the next lot to his own. He fired a couple of shots at the fellows and went out in his night clothes, and making them hold up their hands, marched them to Twenty-fourth and Decatur streets and turned them over to an officer, who sent them to jail.

One of them gave the name of Lewis Murphy, and said he had been discharged from company G, First infantry, yesterday and had arranged to leave the city this morning. He said he wanted to see Clara Ruby and that she lived on Franklin street, but he did not know her number. He claims he was only trying to awaken the people at the house where he was found by Elburn.

The other man gave the name of S. C. Lumly. The young men do not look like burglars, and tell a pretty straight story.

The police think they were making pretty late social calls and Elburn will appear against them in the police court this morning.

IN THE COUNTY JAIL.

Sheriff Bennett Admits that McGinn and Dodrill Are Back in Their Cells.

Messrs. McGinn and Dodrill are again the guests of Douglas county, having returned Wednesday afternoon from their visit to Council Bluffs, whither Sheriff Bennett so neatly escorted them Monday night for the good of their necks, they having agreed in consideration of the sheriff's solicitude in their behalf to return when called for without legal quibbles or anything of that kind.

The sheriff was rather doubtful as to the advisability of bringing back the men on Wednesday, and therefore requested a BEE reporter whom he found waiting to meet him and his charges not to say anything about their return, but yesterday afternoon, having sized up the situation, he decided that the public might as well know of their presence as not, as he considers that the excitement is about over.

HULDA'S THREE FAST MILES

Sensational Performance of the Mare at the Buffalo Track Yesterday.

BROKE THREE RECORDS IN ONE RACE

Maud S and Martha Wilkes Both Laid in the Shade—Bid Pointer Outfoots Mascot in the Free-for-All Pace—Other Sports.

BUFFALO, Aug. 3.—Some sensationol racing marked the third day of the Grand Circuit meeting here, and several records went by the board. In the stake for 2:15 trotters Hulda trotted the fastest three-heat race on record, beating the best average of Martha Wilkes, and also twice lowered the Buffalo track record, 2:10¾, by Maud S. Hulda's third mile was also the fastest ever made by a 5-year-old, and the time, 2:08½, should be universally considered the race record, as the 2:08¼ made by Martha Wilkes at Evansville, Ind., last year bore a taint of suspicion.

Hal Pointer won a great free-for-all pacing race after an interesting and hard fought battle. In the last heat two noted side wheelers fought it out down straight, and Pointer clearly and fairly outfooted Mascot.

Class 2:15, trotting, stake $5,000: Hulda won, Pixley second, Dandy third. Time: 2:12¾, 2:10½, 2:08¼.

WHEELS AGAINST WHEELS.

Directors of the Roadster Club Take Summary Action—Deplorable Differences.

The first fruits of the case of Two Wheels against Four Wheels, that has been agitating the members of the Gentlemen's Roadster club, were harvested at a meeting of the directors last evening when William Snyder was expelled from membership "for conduct liable to endanger the welfare of the club." A resolution preferring a number of charges had been presented at a previous meeting, but the sentiment of the directors, after hearing the evidence, was that they were not sustained, and that expulsion could only properly be effected under section 26 of the constitution, which provides for removal for the cause outlined above.

Each side in this unfortunate controversy, that promises speedily to undo all that the club has accomplished in the past two years, maintains that it has a majority of the members with it. While it is probable that each and every member has a more or less well defined preference in the matter of racing vehicles, it is apparent to any one who has canvassed the situation at all that there are but a few on each side who have taken the matter seriously to heart. These few, however, have become greatly wrought up, and some very bitter feeling has been engendered.

The wrangle is even more to be regretted in view of the fact that the June meeting given under the auspices of the club was such an unqualified success that the Commercial club is anxious to have another this year, and has already submitted a proposition to the Roadster club, guaranteeing $10,000 in purses for a race meeting to be held under the same auspices this fall. Those who have witnessed with pleasure the vast improvement in the past two years in the class of roadsters driven on the streets of Omaha can only deplore the unfortunate controversy, and hope that the wheels in the heads of a few individuals will not further imperil the success of the club by allowing the question of a few additional spokes to disrupt a prosperous organization, that has given its members much pleasure and accomplished such general good for the city at large.
