Disagreeable Set-Back Was Given the Wheat Market Yesterday.

CORN WAS CONSIDERABLY STRENGTHENED

Bilverman Failure, Combined with the Deeline of Stocks in Wall Street and Disappointing Cables, Crippled Business Generally.

CRICAGO, Aug. 3.-A disagreeable set-back was given the wheat market today. The first repuff came from the suspension of Silverman, a leading private banker. The effects of this blow were more than overcome, but in the last hour the market slumped again on ugly rumors about mercantile concerns, the failure to work round lots of cash wheat for shipment and the light export business reported from the seaboard.

Corn was strengthened by discouraging crop news and tonight, compared with last night, September wheat is off Ic, corn is from 1/c to %c higher, oats are unchanged, lard is 45c higher and ribs 25c higher.

Wheat started lower and weak and during the first half hour sold off 13ce from last night's close. Besides the Silverman failure, the decline was due to lower stocks in Wall street and to some disappointment in the cables, which did not advance as much as many expected they would in view of the

The market dragged along for a time, The market dragged along for a time, gradually recovering its tone but making no material advance. Towards noon Logan, Schwartz-Dupee and some other leading houses got a string of buying orders, and as there was little wheat for sale the effort to fill them resulted in sharp competition. Wheat sold up 14c from the early decline. The crowd became bullish and when the leaders were observed buying vigorously sverybody seemed to be seized with the desire to follow suit. It was a part of the gossip that Schwartz-Duppe's buying orders were that Schwartz-Dupee's buying orders were largely from N. B. Ream. At this point unfavorable rumors were being circulated and a fresh decline began. The market closed easy at about 1/4c from the bottom figures of the cay.

Corn opened with 1/4c advance and after selling up 1/4c more reacted 1/4c on the Silverman failure. The depression was of short duration, as the demand soon improved on the server of the corner of the c increased buying orders coming in and the price reacted from %c to %c, declined %c, ruled steady and the closing was from %c to Me from the top. The weather conditions caused alarm among shorts and a good many came in on today's upturn. The situation in the interior is said to be really serious, reports being that the conditions are the statements. the interior is said to be really serious, re-ports being that the crop has been perma-rently injured by the severe drouth and every day increases the damage. Oats were a little higher early, but eased off. Business was mostly local off. Business was mostly local.

The provision market was very quiet compared with its condition for three days past. The general impression is that the bulk of the stocks have worked into the hands of P. D. Armour & Co., and that is considered a guaranty of comparative steadiness in the meantime. Lard was taken to the extent of 4000 tieroes for shipment above. 4,000 tierces for shipment abroad. Lard was actively traded in.
Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat,

160 cars; corn, 350 cars; oats, 200 cars; hogs, Freights were slow, but offerings of boats not large. Rates to Buffalo were from 1%c to 1¼c on wheat and 1c on corn. The leading futures ranged as follows

Omaha Produce Market.

Butter—The butter market is sick. The condition of eastern markets which are depended upon to take the surplus stocks from the west are in such a condition that there is little encouragement for packers and shippors to extend operations, and as a rule they are not trying to do much. The result is that the low grades of butter are decidedly lower than they were a short time ago. EGOS—The market is dull and weak. The receipts are not large, or at least they would not be so considered at ordinary times, but with the demand as light as it is at the present time they are heavy enough. There are a great many poor eggs coming to market and the proportion of seconds is large. Dealers find it very slow work trying to dispose of their seconds, which are a drug on the market even at vory low prices. The bulk of the sales of good eggs are being made at 104;421c.

Live Poursy—The receipts of spring chickens are not quite so large as they were a few days ago, but there is a great plenty to supply the demand. Old fowls are not pienty and choice old hens sell quite readily. Cherkinds of positry, as gesse, ducks, etc., are out of season and are not wanted. Choice old hens, 7,298; old roosters, 4-20c; spring chickens, 10-21c.

POTATORS—There are no potatoes to speak of being shipped either in or out of the city at the present time. The local growers are supplying the demand and there are few potatoes being handled by commission houses. Choice

MKLANS—Watermelons are not very plenty and prices are accordingly firm. Cantaloupes are coming in more freely and the market is quite a difference in the quality of cantaloupes and accordingly a wide range in prices.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

Traders on 'Change Played for a Reaction in Business Yesterday. New York, Aug. 3.-The traders at the Stock exchange played for a reaction on the theory that yesterday's sharp rise would bring long stocks to market. They were assisted in their operations by the breaking out of fresh troubles in banking circles in Chicago, by the advance in the Bank of England rate of discount and the higher rates for sterling exchange here, and also by the unprecedented scarcity of currency, for which various premiums were paid today. The large issue of clearing house certificates was still another cause for the decline. It was noticeable, however, that despite the efforts of the bears the market was comparatively free from excitement and that the drop in prices was brought about at the expense of a material increase in the short interest. At the start some stocks scored a sharp advance, General Electric and Chicago Gas moving up as much as 3 per cent. Subsequently the market yielded 1 to 6% per cent, the latter in Chicago Gas, which fell off from 53 to 46%. General Electric declined 514 per cent to 46; Sugar 43% per cent to 601%; Manhattan 354 per cent to 10814; Burlington & Quincy 3% per cent to 75; Rock Island 3% per cent to 58%; Western Union 3 per cent to 75; St. Paul 3 per cent to 51%; Lackawanna 3% per cent to 138, and the remainder wanna 3% per cent to 138, and the remainder of the list 14 to 3 per cent.

Just previous to the close there was a rally of from 14 to 2 per cent, the latter in Burlington & Quincy, and speculation left off steady at the recovery. Taken altogether, the market received more effective support when raided than for many days past.

The Post says. In suite of the sharp ad-The Post says: In spite of the sharp advance in sterling exchange, which carried de-mand rates today more than 1c above yesterday's forenoon prices, the Bank of England continues to sell American gold coin. Today $2,435,000 more was taken for export to New York. This may be the last withdrawal for the present, but the advance in the banks minimum discount rate today was less than had been anticipated and the simultaneous rise in Paris exchange on London opens the possibility of a benefit to us possibility of a benefit to us.

It is not to be surposed that such a move will necessarily be immediate and heavy. London's gold shipments for the present week are largely anticipated, based as they are to a considerable extent on sales of exchange against grain nurchases for future change against grain purchases for future months. The French importers may not months. choose this to anticipate their bargains; but it is certain, nevertheless, that sooner or later the exceptional inquiry for our fodder crops will come less from England than from the European continent. The Bank of

OMAHA LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Cattle Recover Slightly in Price - Hogs Bound Up from the Slump. THURSDAY, Aug. 3.

The demoralization of yesterday was followed by very light receipts and somewhat improved markets. Compared with supplies for the corresponding four days last week there has been an increase of nearly 4,000 cattle and 1,000 sheep and a falling off of about 10,500 hogs.

The light supply of useful cattle, together with reports of a steadier market in Chicago, gave the trade a little strength, while an increased demand from local dressed beef houses caused a slight firming up of values at least for the more desirable beef grades. There was not much activity to the trade and holders of western grass cattle said there was no improvement in prices paid for that class of stock. That only a small part of Wednesday's big decline was regained is evident from the fact that good 1,412-lb. beeves topped the market at $4, while medium grades sold around $3.25 and $3.50 and common stuff at $3 and $3.10. The feeling was better on all sides, still the close found quite a few cattle still in first it was Wednesday except that there was a better demand for the stock. Prices were as low as they have been yet, common and canning cows selling at from 75c to $1.25 and good to choice butchers' stock at from $1.75 to $2.50. Calves were perhaps a shade firmer at from $2 to $4.25, but bulls were slow sale at very mean prices, from 75c to $2.10. There was some life to the feeder trade, but prices were very generally in yester-day's notches. Good smooth 950 to 1,200-lb. stock sold at from $2.50 to $2.75, while some common northern 'knot-heads' sold down around $1.25 to $1.75. Representative sales DRESSED BEEF.

Hoss—The recovery from Wednesday's bad slump promises to be rapid if not com-plete. Fresh receipts were the lightest since early in April, and with a decrease in supplies so far this week compared with last of nearly 11,000 hogs, the bulls had a good argument. There were enough stale hogs in the yards to make the total offerings over 3,000 head. Fresh meat men wanted hogs, and outside packers and butchers had good orders. At the opening packers were very indifferent but toward the close they were indifferent, but toward the close they were the biggest buils in the yards, Cudahy especially bidding high, but not getting a hog. Good to choice light and butcher weight hogs sold from $4.25 early up to $4.50 late, while heavy and mixed hogs sold largely at from $4.05 to $4.25. The trade was active from $4.05 to $4.25. The trade was active throughout and the close was at the high point of the day. Fair to good hogs sold largely at $4.20 and $4.25 against $4 on Chicago Live Stock Market.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—[Special Telegram to The Bre ]—There was a partial revival today in the cattle trade. The several classes of buyers were well represented, and while there was no radical advance in any grade of stock the tone of the general market was sensibly firmer. For yesterday's cut of from 25c to 50c there was no earthly excuse. There was an advance Monday in the London market of 1½c per lb. and the receipts here for the expired part of this week have been 2,000 head short of the number received during the same time last week, but the dressed beef "ring" took advantage of the flurry in the down town market to flich from the pockets of countrymen who fall into their clutches from $5 to $10 per head on every bullock bought. There were about 11,000 head of fresh receipts and between 8,000 and 9,000 stale cattle. Of today's arrivals it was estimated 6,500 were Texans. Sales of natives were largely at from $1.50 to $4.40, while from $2.50 to $3.50 took most of the westerns and from $1.75 to $3 the bulk of the Texans. Not all the cattle were sold.

The hog market was firmer than on Wednesday. Buyers had partially recovered their equilibrium and were less inclined to "bear." They fought against any advance, but paid a moderate one nevertheless, the average of prices being about from 10c to 15c higher than lor yesterday. Choice heavyweights sold at from $4.70 to $4.75 and there were several sales of light sorts around $5.25. The advance in the latter was not as marked as the advance in the latter was not as marked as the advance in the supply (there were fully 40,000 head in the pens) the appreciation in values, though trifling as compared with yesterday's decline, was perhaps as great as seliers had any reason to expect.

Prices were about as at the close o' yesterday's market, ranging from $1 to $1.25 to $3.75, and western grass fed at from $2 to $3.50.

A GAME OF DRAW.

The Mayor Made a Raise and Swiped the Pot. The mayor of a western town was playing a small game of draw in his office with the city marshal, the editor, the hotel keeper and a councilman, says the Detroit Free Press. At first the mayor was in great luck, and he piled the chips up around him a foot thick, and then he began slipping, and before very long he had only a couple left. next deal gave him a great hand and he wanted more chips, but he couldn't get them. The other fellows were in to clean him out and wouldn't lend him a

D"Boys," he said earnestly, "will you allow me fifteen minutes in which to make a raise?"

They knew he couldn't borrow on the outside, so they agreed to that.
"Here, Tom," he said to a policeman who was watching the game, "skip out on the street and arrest somebody quick and bring him here."
Tom skipped in about a minute, and in about ten minutes he was back again with a victim. The mayor looked the man over. "What's the charge, Mr. Officer?" he said, sternly.

"Drunk and disorderly, your honor." "What have you got to say?" said the court, addressing the prisoner.
"Guilty, your honor."
"Ten dollars and costs," decided the mayor, "with costs remitted if the fine is paid on the spot." "Good enough, your honor," and the prisoner pulled out a tenner and rolled out of the room.

"Gentlemen," said the mayor to the company, "I have a few minutes left, but I shall not ask your further indulgence. Give me $10 worth of chips," and the mayor, with characteristic enterprise, swiped the pot. Don't Discard the Suspenders.

The stout man who wears a tight belt around his waist to give him an appearance of jauntiness, as well as to do the suspender service, does not know what harm he is doing to himself. A famous doctor says that the wearing of a tight belt by a man, especially a stout man, is most injurious to health. It stops the circulation, and does not permit the digestive organs to operate as they should. When asked why it should be so much more injurious for a man to wear anything tight around his waist than it is for a woman, who is laced up year in and year out, the doctor said: "A man and woman can't be compared in that regard. A man uses entirely different muscles in breathing than a woman. He becomes accustomed to breathing from his abdomen, while a woman breathes almost entirely from her chest. Men had better wear loose belts and provide some other substitute for suspenders."

UNCLE JOSIAH'S BEDTIME

The Dear Old Man Gave Himself a Tem perance Lecture. Such headaches as Uncle Josiah had! And such doctors! Their efforts left the patient worse instead of better. At last, however, a young doctor gave Aunt Polly a prescription which, he said, was sure to help, if not cure, says the Youth's Companion.

Uncle Josiah was a strict temperance man. Not a drop of ardent spirits, as a beverage, had passed his lips. He was a man firm of principle—strong and unyielding where his well trained conscience was concerned. The doctor's prescription was eggnog. Aunt Polly was to prepare and administer it to Uncle Josiah at his bedtime, when sleep would follow and the headache disappage.

Very grateful the remedy proved, pre pared under Aunt Polly's skillful hand. She was generous to a fault, and per-haps mixed a thimbleful more than the prescribed portion of whisky in the nightly draught. As the headache was a very real fact,

Uncle Josiah's conscience did not forbid him to give the remedy a fair trial. His usual time for retiring was 10 o'clock. When he was in bed Aunt Polly carried to him the fragrant steaming cup.
One night, about two weeks after he began taking the nightly stimulant, Uncle Josiah grew restless at about a "Polly, I feel pretty tired; I think I'll go up now and be ready for my medicine and sleep."

"Well, Josiah, it's only a quarter of 10; but you do look tired, and I will pre-quarter to 10 o'clock, and said:

The next week, one rainy night, as the clock struck 9, Uncle Josiah left his old arm-chair, a bright fire and his cheerful wife. He was "quite tired out and would have his nog now."

"What makes you so tired tonight. Josiah ?" "Well, working about the factory all day, I suppose, Polly," and he drained his nightly remedy and went off to sleep-One week later Uncle Josiah's bed time came at quarter to 9 o'clock! He went up stairs, but just before Aunt Polly was ready for him he called down:

"Well, Josiah." "Don't bring up that stuff! I'm coming down."
"Coming down! I thought you were ready for bed!"

Polly!

"So I was, Polly, but I'm coming down to be with you till 10 o'clock, and I shall never take another cup of nog!" He came down, fully dressed, and getting tired so early of late? It was just because I was in a hurry for that medicine; and when a man begins to relish whisky as I have been getting to do there's a serpent lurking near, We'll both sit up till 10 o'clock and then sleep the sleep of the just. Not another drop shall pass my lips, Polly.'
And he kept his word.

A RUSTIC COMPLIMENT.

The Annoyance of a Sculptor Changed to Pleasure.

When Hiram Powers, the American sculptor, had his studio in Washington ne employed his spare time in carving likenesses of the wild animals with which he had grown familiar during his boyhood days among the Green mountains. It was at this time that he made the figure of the couchant panther which nov adorns one of the rocks on the main driveway in Central park. He was very much interested in this piece of work and did not like to be interrupted, says the New York Times.

One day a raw in suntaineer from Ver-ment, who had come to Washington to see the sights, thinking that he must not return without paying a visit to his talented countryman, sauntered into the studio. Mr. Powers paid no heed to him and did not ask him to sit down, but the Vermonter was not abashed. He not only remained, but he came so close to the sculptor as to interfere with his work. Mr. Powers tried in various ways to intimate that his visitor's room would be vastly better than his company. Still he stayed. At last the sculptor Still he stayed. At last the sculptor called the office boy and bade him sweep. As the studio had not been visited by a broom for a month, the cloud of dust was almost suffocating. The Vermonter choked and coughed, but did not let go. He still stood with his gaze rivited upon the piece of stone that was receiving such wonderful grace under the skilled hands of the artist. hands of the artist.

At last Mr. Powers could stand it no longer. Turning to the countryman he said, with a savage frown:

"My friend, I shall be very much obliged to you if you will put yourself on the other side of that door." countryman began backing toward the doorway, not once removing his eyes from the panther.

"All right, sir," he said, "I'll go, but—but—geewhittiker, what a pring she't goin' ter make!"

"That," said Powers, "was the most genuine compliment I ever received in my life. What about the man-well, what do you think? I begged his pardon. He furnished me afterwards with some of the best models I ever had."

Buffalo Courier: "What is your name, sir?" the other evening inquired a hotel clerk of a guest who was asking about his mail. "House'n lot." carelessly answered the man as he leaned against the counter. "But, sir, I want your name in order to look up your mail," said the clerk. "I don't want to know anything about, a house and lot." "And I am not telling you anything about a house and lot," replied the man rather warmly. "You asked my name, and I gave it. It is Howsen Leat." it. It is H-o-w-s-e-n L-o-t-t."

> The Secrets [ of Pearline's success? Well. there are several. Here are some of them, just to prove that its enormous growth was only natural. First: The article was precisely what its makers claimed it to be;

it has never changedno improvement has been found. Used for years - always alike. Second: The public was kept informed about Pearline. This was necessary. With anything so new and so different from old ideas, people had to be educated. Third: The best advertising Pearline has ever had (and it costs nothing) is from every women who has used it. She tells everyone how much it has done for her in all kinds of washing and cleaning; that while the cost is nominal, she has found it to be better than anything else, always the same, and perfectly harmless; and that the saving by using cheaper imitations for a year wouldn't be enough to pay for one ruined garment. Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, Beware "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back.
