NTERESTING ENCAMPMENT INCIDENT

Scenes of the Days of the Rebellion Vividly Recalled-Those Who Participated in the Affair - Notes of the Day.

CAMP LINCOLN, SUPERIOR, Neb., Aug. 4. -[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-An im mense crowd gathered last evening at the speakers' stand in the grove and listened to an eloquent and rousing speech by General Russell. His reminiscences of the rebellion brought cheer after cheer from the enthused audience. Colonel Majors and General Dilworth entertained their old comrades for a few moments by recalling very interesting sketches of the campaign, and especially under their commanders, Grant and Sherman, to whom they paid the most glowing tributes. Their hearty wishes for the future welfare of the comrades brought the veterans to their feet and three cheers were given for the speakers of the evening. The officers of the militia and the First Regiment band marched to the residence of Commander Adams, and, with the officers grawn up in line at parade rest, the band rendered an exquisite serenade, after which it was entertained in the most hospitait was entertained in the most hospita-ble manner by the commander. At 10:30 today General Hanback read telegrams of regret from many who could not be present. These were followed by addresses from the general. Commander Adams Praised.

He particularly impressed on the audience how much they owed to Commander Adams for his splendid management and good order of the reunion. The most hearty applause was given these closing remarks.

At noon Governor Crounse arrived and was escorted to camp. As he was being welcomed at headquarters battery A gave a thundering salute of thirteen guns to the honored guest. He inspected the camp. The tents in their perfect neatness were thrown wide open and no flaw could be discovered. Not even a stray paper blown by the wind was allowed to rest near them. Successful Sham Battle.

At 2:30 the assembly sounded and the old veterans, militia and band proceeded to form in line for the sham battle. Fully 18,000 people watched the bogus robel forces take their stand on the bluffs, build entrenchments and throw out the skirmish line. Meanwhile, the union forces appeared in the valley a half-mile away. The opening gun was fired from the entrenchments. The was fired from the entrenchments. The union battery immediately stationed its guns and then commenced a heavy artillery duel. The advancing skirmish line of federals soon ran out the rebs' skirmishers and a fierce contest ensued, in the midst of which Colonel J. F. Kendall with his cavalry company rushed up, driving the skirmishers to the fort. The charge of the old volevants and Colonel Koncharge of the old veterans and Colonel Ken-dall's attempt to flank the Johnnies was the first time repulsed, but the second attempt the stars and stripes was planted firmly on the fort built by the confederates.

The battle was under the charge of General J. M. Thayer and General C. J. Dilworth, so that it could not be otherwise than a success. The dress parade by the national guards at 6 o'clock was witnessed by a large crowd. On the evening train came Hon. John J. Ingalls. He was royally received by the officers of the camp and addressed the large crowd awaiting him this evening at 8 o'clock.

STABBED BY THE BOUNCER.

One of the Attaches of Richards' Aggregation Uses a Knife. SCHUYLER, Nob., Aug. 4 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. ]-Last night while Richards' circus was being loaded on the cars an altercation arose between two of the colored attaches, which ended in Dick Ruddis being seriously cut and stabbed in the head, neck and shoulders by one of them, known as the foreman's bouncer, the foreman being a small man who calls said bouncer to his assistance when unable to manage his men, all of whom are much afraid of the bouncer

A warrant was issued for the arrest of the wielder of the knife, but the sheriff was told he had left town at once, going east. It is thought he was in hiding near at hand. Ruddis' wounds are severe, but not danger-ous, the worst being a thrust into the back of the neck that struck the vertebre.

Low Rates Swell the Travel to Chicago on

All Western Roads.
CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—All the western roads are enjoying the sensation of witnessing a substantial increase in the amount of their passenger traffic. Every road in the Western Passenger association is doing more business than at any time since the opening of the fair, and at least two of the roads which were strenuously opposed to placing the rates below 80 per cent of double locals are now denouncing themselves for not coming down at an earlier date. The agents of the various western lines are almost unanimous in reporting that the prospects for a continued increase of the prospects for a continued increase of business are most favorable. This showing is a decided surprise to some of the lines which have been croaking about the financial stringency, which they claimed had been keeping people back from the fair. They are now carrying more passengers and making more money from their passenger traffic than at any time since January 1.

The Union Pacific, Rio Grande Western and Denver Rio Grande-Colorado Midland were accorded permission some time since to make second-class rates from Pacific coast points to meet the reductions made by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific. They have decided among themselves, however, that such rates are not called for at ever, that such rates are not called for at present and will not put them in.

TRENTON, Mo., Aug. 4.-Joseph A. Howells was hanged here at 10 o'clock today for the murder of Mrs. Nettie Hall and four children near Brookfield, Mo., January last. This was the first hanging ever known in this county and, of course, the feeling in the matter was intense. The crime for which Howell was executed was one of the most atrocious in the annals of history. In January, 1889, about 11:50 o'clock at night, the house of Mrs. Hall, near Brookfield, was discovered to be on fire. Through the burning windows could be seen the bodies of Mrs. Hall and one of her children burning windows could be seen the bodies of Mrs. Hall and one of her children burning on a bod having been talled an dren lying on a bed, having been killed, ap-parently with an axe. By tracks in the snow the murderer was tracked to Brook-field and arrested in a hotel. The case went field and arrested in a hotel. The case went through the courts with one reversal and one hung jury, and a bold effort to alter the records before the supreme court. Crowds of people were in the city. The doomed man was cool throughout, and there were no sensational incidents at the close. Sheriff Winters had taken the precaution to have the jall inclosure patroled by ten men with rifles and fixed bayonets.

Moving Lower Brule Agency. CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Aug. 4.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—It has finally been decided to remove Lower Brule agency to the regular reservation set apart for these Indians. The government is now taking the preliminary steps toward moving the agency. The new location is on the west side of the Missouri, nearly opposite Crow Creek agency. Ten new buildings are to be constructed at the agency as soon as the bids now being advertised for are disposed of and a contract made. At present Lower Brule agency is located on but a small strip of ground, which is surrounded on all sides by land ceded to the government by the Sioux a few years ago, and it is intended by the Indian bureau to remove the agency to a more secluded place as soon as possible. At the time the Sioux ceded the government a portion of the reservation, land was set apart for the Lower Brule Indians, but until now no steps have been taken for their re-The new location is on the west side of the now no steps have been taken for their re-moval to the land.

ASSESSMENT-

Valuation of Nebraska's Property is Considered Ridiculously Low.

ONE-TENTH OF CASH VALUE

Counties-Lincoln Police Make # Startling Discovery of a Racy Character.

LINCOLN, Aug. 4 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-Chief Clerk Everett Babcock this forenoon completed the work on the annual state assesament roll. The total state levy amounts to 6% mills, which upon the assessed valuation of all property in the state, $194,783. 124.73, will raise a revenue of $1,263,995.50. The assessed valuation of the state is considered ridiculously low. At the auditor's office it is estimated that the average assessment is about one-tenth of the actual cash value of the property. Multiplying the total valuation as re d rned by the assessors by ten, the total value of all kinds of property in Nebraska would thus amount to the sum of $1,947,331,247.30. The revenue accruing to the state is apportioned among the several counties as follows, the first column showing the assessed valuation and the last the amount each county will be required to turn into the state treasury: Valuation. ney General Hastings, Assistant Attorney General Summers and Secretary Dilworth are busily engaged in preparing an answer to the petition filed in Judge Dundy's court. The board has also passed the following res-

Resolved. That Attorney General Hastings is hereby directed to take such steps and to do and perform all things necessary to make a vigorous, emphatic and successful defense to the action against the board and the individual members thereof now pending in the United States circuit court, and he is hereby empowered and authorized to that end to enter the appearance of the board and each of the individual members thereof. In the Banking Department.

Chief Justice Maxwell today issued an order directing Receiver Thomas of the American Savings bank of Omaha to proceed, without unnecessary delay, to convert the goods, chattels, rights, credits, property and effects of the bank into money and to wind up the affairs of the bank. The receiver has filed a bond for $200,000.

The chief justice also filed an order directing Receiver E. H. Marshall to wind up the affairs of the State bank of Franklin. Mr. Marshall's bond for $50,000 has been ap-Marshall's bond for $50,000 has been approved by the clerk of the supreme court. Another order was filed by the chief justice requiring all creditors of the Ne-braska Savings bank of Lincoln to appear on August 10 and show cause why the proposi-tion of the stockholders to give a bond for $150,000 to pay off all claims of the bank within two years should not be accepted. If the proposition is accepted the stockholders agree to pay all claims in full, together with interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, 25 per cent of the claims to be paid within eighteen months from August 1, 1893, and the remaining 75 per cent within two years from August 1, 1893. Gossip at the State House. The first report from Traveling Auditor Fodrea reached the auditor's office this morning. It was from Boone county and was entirely favorable. The one notable feature was the statement that the banks of Boone county not only refuse to give bonds for the security of county funds deposited with them, but decline to pay interest for the use of the same.

Made a Startling Find.

The police raided a suspected block at the corner of Twenty-first and O streets last night and made one or two startling discoveries that will, in time, doubtless furnish the material for one or more racy divorce cases. They found in one room a man and a woman, both well known and highly connected in the city. The gentleman's wife happened, however, to be visiting for the summer in the east and the lady's husband was also out of the city. The man is the case there have the city. The man in the case at first blustered and threatened and attempted to pull a gun, but he finally wilted and begged for the secrecy of the police. After some little negotiation he paid a regular fine for himself and his female companion, and both were allowed to depart. The woman who managed the house was The woman who managed the house was arrested, together with two young women. They gave their names at the police station as Mrs. S. B. Kempton, Stella Vernon and Jennie Booth. The latter girl is already known to the police, but Miss Vernon, as she calls herself, is a stranger. She is both handsome and elegantly dressed, and was greatly embarrassed at the police court this afternoon when called for trial. Ex-Attorney General Leese has been retained to defend the trio and the case was continued until next Monday afternoon.

select Dr. A. J. Taibot of New Albany, Ind.
A committee of the trustees appointed for the purpose had recommended Dr. Talbot, but when the whole board met last evening the committee's choice was disregarded and Dr. Crook elected. Three ballots were taken, the unsuccessful candidates being Dr. C. L. Lasby, paster of St. Paul's Methodist Epis copal church of this city, and Dr. Hancher of Hot Springs, S. D. Dr. Crook is well known in university circles on the Pacific slope and comes to the Weslevan university with the prestige acquired in ten years of earnest, faithful work.

Sued for False Arrest.

victs confined in the penitentiary hospital regained their liberties this morning and are still at large. The prisoners took with them a stretcher used for transporting the sick, and converting this into a ladder, mounted the wall. They lowered themselves to the ground by means of a rope tied to the railing around one of the guard houses. This was a most nervy and daring piece of business, as the guard was at the timb in the little room eating his lunch, and which fact accounts for their not being seen.
