RARE EVENT IN OMAHA TRACK HISTORY Flyers Whose Reputations Are Continent-

postponed until this afternoon on account of the threatening condition of the weather.

It is to be ardently hoped that everything will be auspicious, in which case some rare sport indeed will be forthcoming, as the Breeders association is determined to give the public something that will preclude the possibility of dissatisfaction or complaint.

In the first place Belle Acton, who was the champion yearling of 1892, will make her first public appearance as a 2-year-old and will no doubt acquire the championship honor for 2-year-olds over a half mile track. If she does Mr. Gould will $1,000 richer, as the management will hang up this purse. She is big, strong and very fast, and the people of Omaha and the surrounding country will be given the bene-fit of the queen's debut upon the turf for 1893.

Not only this, but the 4-year-old champion, Ontonian, fresh from his victory over the cracks of the east, will give an exhibition of is matchless speed and race horse qualities. Last week, at Buffalo, Ontonian won his race in straight heats, beating the best in his class in hollow style. This afternoon he will have for competitors the great Nebraska bred horse, Smith, 2:1514; the Omaha horse Prince T, who paced a mile in 2:13; Cebron, 2:1634, and other fast ones, who may force the 4-year-old king to take a new record.

Omaha's great 3-year-old, The Conqueror, 2:17, which record, made in a hot race two weeks ago, was the fastest ever made by a 3-year-old so early in the season, and was the fastest at that time for a 3-year-old for 1993, will start in the 2:24 trot. The Con-queror is owned by W. A. Paxton, jr., and is ne of the most magnificent and most valule, if not without equal, among the horses of the west.

These rare stars of the turf, while worth a trip of thousands of miles to see, are not the only attractions, for there will be four regular events, each of which promise to be fighting races from wire to ire. The best of music will be on hand in a presence of the Military band, and as the card is the very best ever presented to Omaha and the admission but 50 cents, a vast crowd should be in attendance to par-ticipate in the high-class sport. The first will be called promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

The officers of the State Breeders association have worked hard and conscientiously in the interests of this meeting, and it is obligatory upon the citizens of Omaha to see that they have a rousing attestation to the city's appreciation of their efforts for one day at least. There would have been a large attendance yesterday without a doubt, as the superlative attractiveness of the program was about the one theme of conversa-tion, and it is quite probable that the neces sary postponement has in nowise diminished the general enthusiasm and interest. Let everybody who can improve the opportunity of witnessing a series of speed trials never equalled here before. The Breeders asso-ciation is deserving of the fullest recogni-tion, and business men should combine in an of witnessing a series of speed trials never equalled here before. The Breeders asso-ciation is deserving of the fullest recogniendeavor to give it to them today and tomorrow.

Ball club, accompanied by a delegation of sports and fans, came up today to meet de-feat at the hands of Blue Hill. Hopka was the box for the nome team and pitched a rilliant game, striking out fourteen men to Moore's six. Betting was heavily in favor of the visitors up to the fifth inning, when the home team rallied, making six scores by heavy batting, finding Moore at every turn. At the end of the eighth the betting was reversed to 25 to 5. The Red Clouders went and nerve home wiser and poorer. The home team won by a score of 10 to 2.

SUCCESS ASSURED.

State Tennis Tourney Next Week Will Have Good Attendance.

At the present stage of the game there is every prospect of a large and representative entry for the state lawn tennis tournament which opens in Omaha next Tuesday. Mr. C. H. Young returned from Hastings yester. day morning-a day earlier than he had intended. His first match down there was against Cullingham and Hart, who were looked upon as the most dangerous pair in the event. And the hurricane which was blowing down the court carried so many balls out and so much dust into the eyes of Mr. Young and his partner, Larry Denise, that they came out of the en-counter wrong end up. This was unfortu-nate, for the pair had gone down with every intention and plenty of prospect of achieving some measure of success. But in the other business that cook him to Hastings Mr. Young did perhaps better than he expected to. There were very few men down at Hastings who did not give him a more or less definite promise to play in Omaha next week. Hastings herself promises at least four pairs, probably more, and Beatrice, Ord and Lincoln will each be rep-resented. There are at least two pairs in Minden who ought to be here, but they both seem doubtful whether they will be able to come. Arapahoe was expected to send one or two pairs to Hastings, but didn't, and it seems quite likely that eity will treat Omaha in the same way. This will be a pity, for the play is for the championship of the state and the absence of representatives from Arapahoe and Minden, two cities which might send good pairs down, will detract from the rep resentative character of the meeting Omaha seems likely to do herself full justice. Mr. Young expects at least a dozen entries from the metropolis for the doubles and already has promises for half that num Omaha men made 21 and Hastings 11, ber, Cullingham and Battin will play to-gether again, and Denise and Young seem not to have been disheartened ing the total obtained for Omaha 138 and for by their nonsuccess at Hastings for they still hold to their intention of wresting the championship from the present holders. Hart and Cookson will make another strong combination, and Caldwell and Haverstick Johnson and Murray, and Will McCague and his brother have also promised their entrance fees. Among the other pairs that are looked upon as certain are: Lincoln-Geistiardt and Shepherd; Hastings-Mattox and Guilmette, Johnson and Henry, H. S. Dungan and Walquist, and Hartigan and and Powers; Beatrice-Scudter and Thompson and Ord-Milford and Laverty. Milford and Laverty are said to make a very strong combination. Milford is a little doubtfu whether he can get here, but in any case Laverty will be here for the singles and some partner or other will be found for him in the doubles also.

Valuable first and second prizes will be given in both singles and doubles, in addi-tion to which the winners will hold the titles of state champions. The present champions are C. S. Cullingham in singles and Cullingham and J. W. Battin in doubles entry fee is only 50 cents for each player in each event, a price which should debar no one who can handle a racket. The tourna-ment is open to all residents of Nebraska. All entries must be in by tomorrow after-noon. The address of the secretary is Mr. C. H. Young, 203 New York Life building. Mr. Ernest Hart, one of the members of the tournament committee, has charge of the general arrangements and will spare no pains to make all visitors comfortable. intends to erect an awning along the wires on Harney street so that anyone who wishes to see the play will have to pay the admis-sion fee. New nots and of course new balls will also be provided. For the privilege of doing this he will pay the club $25 and be

Close and care-ful shooting followed and at the end of the race the score stood 43 to 48. The ten birds shoot-off stood a tie. HOT TENNIS AT HASTINGS. Cullingham and Hart Find Plenty of Work

Cut Out for Them. HASTINGS, Neb., Aug. 10. - Special Telegram to THE BEE |- The tennis tourney under the direction of the Hastings Lawn Tennis club closed here today, and was a success in every particular. The third round this morning attracted a goodly number of spectators, who were quick to appreciate any good plays. Cullingham and Hart of Omaha opened against Geistharut and Shepherd of Lincoln, and defeated them. 6-4, 6-3, 6-3. This match was witnessed with much interest, since the two teams had never before met, and both had won many honors in the tournament. Henry and Johnson met Milford and Foght of Ord and won after an exciting though prolonged struggle, 5-7, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2. In the afternoon a large crowd assembled at the club grounds to see the finals to be played between Callingham and Hart and Johnson and Henry of Hastings. The Queen City boys were a little bit in awe of the Omaha champions at the beginning of the match and lost the first set, 6-1. After this they recovered their nerve and in the second set were only defeated 6 to 4. The next set and the final aroused the enthusiasm of the spectators to the fever heat. In the third set "five-all" was reached after some pretty playing on both sides. From then on till the conclusion of the match the play was brilliant and the applause of the bystanders was more like that common to a ball game than a tennis match. After hard playing Johnson and Henry won the set, 11-9, and then the crowd went wild. The last set was won by the Omaha players after some exciting work, resulting 6-4, and then the tourney was over, with Cultingham and Hart victors. To show how even the finals were after the first set, the Omaha men scored 117 points and Hastings 120. In the first set the Sudden Demise of a Telegraph Operator Under Peculiar Circumstances.

CORONER WILL INVESTIGATE THE CASE

Dr. Ward Breakfasted on Bologna at the Dead Man's Side-Three in a Bed-Grief of the Sweetheart of the Deceased.

Mystery seems to be rapidly surrounding the sudden and somewhat suspicious death of William Rogers, a telegraph operator in the employ of the Associated press, who was found dead in bed at 1418 Dodge street vesterday afternoon.

Investigation shows that Rovers had been drinking for three or four days, and last night he went back to the Houston liquor cure establishment and went to bed. Nothing was thought of this by the managers of the institute, as Rogers was well known there

About 4 a. m. yesterday "Dr." Ward called at the institute and took Rogers to his room at Dr. Lavender's house at 1418 Dodge street. Both men were very drunk, so say the inmates of the house, and were accompanied by a man named Shea, a corporat in the Second infantry. All three went to bed in the same room. About 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning one of the servants em-ployed in the house rapped at the door and asked permission to come in and make the bed.

Ward Was Dogmatic.

"Dr." Ward positively declined to allow any one to enter, saying that he had a friend in there who was drunk. Later on the corporal of infantry left the house and another call was made at the door. Again the same answer was given. When Dr. Lavender came home he went up to investigate, thinking that perhaps this friend of his tenant was ill. He insisted upon entering tenant was ill. He insisted upon entering and found Dr. Ward sitting on the bed be-side the dead body, busily engaged in munching a big hunk of bologna. The phy-steian saw at a glance that Rogers was dead ician saw at a glance that Rogers was de and after directing some of his household to keep a watch on Ward he notified the police. When the patrol wagon arrived Ward was placed under arrest by Officer Mitchell and was sent to the jail. The coroner removed the body to the morgue and will make a thorough investigation of the case, as will ward, or h. S. reyson, as most of his mail found in the room was directed, claims to be a regular graduate of medicine, and was formerly connected with a dipsomania cure establishment. From instruments found on the dressing case it was supposed that Ward had given Rogers doses of morphine. Coroner Maul will hold a postmortem in order to determine the exact cause. In the meantime Ward will be held a prisoner.

Rogers' Last Drink.

At about 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning Rogers, in company with a small man who is supposed to have been the one now under arrest, enteged a saloon and drank a whisky sour. At that time, the bartender says, Rogers looked and acted as though he felt as well as usual, and engaged in cheerful conversation while the drinks were being mixed. Za

Several days ago an acquaintance of Rogers met him on the graded floor of the BEE met him on the graend floor of the Bre building and stopped to chat with him. At that time he seemed to be only slightly under the influence of lignor and inclined to be sorry that he had started on a second spree. "I'm a chump, old man," he remarked. "I got myself sobered up and feeling all right, and then has to go and get another jag on. Here's what started have a added, and displayed a telegram from Atlanta stating that a draft for $600 had been sent him. couldn't stand too much prosperity, you see,'

This is the last seen of him by any of the institute people. Dr. Henderson says that they gave Rogers no treatment.

He said that Peyson had also been a paient in the institute and had written to De troit trying to get a new diploma so that he could practice medicine.

Peyson's Strange Conduct.

Alma Graventine, the fiancee of the unfornate operator, was seen in her rooms at 1911 Farnam street last night and said that she saw Rogers at suppor time Wednesday night, and yesterday morning went down to the Houston institute to take him some breakfast. She was told that he had left there about 4 o'clock with Peyson. She was alarmed and made inquiries where Peyson roomed. It wa where Peyson roomed. It was nearly noon before she could trace the people to the room on Dodge street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth, where the dead body of her lover was found. She met the landlady, who said she had called at Peyson's room twice, once at 9 and once at 10:30 o'clock to make up the bed. She had been told by Peyson that he had a drunken friend in there and she could not get in. Peyson said Rogers died at 9:30. He certainly knew then that Rogers was dead. Finally, after much persuasion, the land-lady went upstairs with Miss Graventine and knocked. She received no answer and then went after her pass key. was locked with a catch lock and the landlady secured help and broke it in.

There they found Peyson sitting chair apparently asleep. He had a big chunk of ham or bologna in his hand. As soon as the people entered the room and began to talk Peyson was wide awake. He said then that Rogers was dead and had died at 9:30. He was cool and collected and said that Rogers was better off dead, as he was a living drunkard.
