Congress was not summoned to prepare a plan of action; it was summoned to act.

These opportunists are doing much to assure the Nebraska farmer of a successful crop.

The country is now safe. McKelighan has put in an appearance at the Capitol at Washington.

It is now evident that the president's message is not sufficient in itself to restore confidence.

The disasters of the first Cordage trust ought to be a warning to the projectors of another.

The Commercial club is letting no grass grow under its feet in the matter of securing an Indian supply depot at Omaha.

Foreign intervention in Samoa has failed, seemingly, to bring the natives to a proper appreciation of the innumerable blessings of civilized government.

The socialists are complaining of excessive hours in the working day. American laborers are complaining that the working day has itself disappeared.

We wonder whether congress will take steps to furnish safe quarters for the department clerks at Washington in accordance with the lesson of the Ford theater disaster.

Holding a diplomatic office and using language reflecting on the secretary of state are incompatible elements. The next minister to Siam will be appointed to fill a vacancy caused by resignation due to incompatibility.

Will some of the New York newspapers who have been crying so loudly about "troubling victims" let us know how many people have been injured by the Broadway cable in the few months it has been in operation?

SIX weeks notice of an extra session does not seem to be long enough for congress to determine on what lines its action should be conducted.

AS MIGHT have been expected, county poor relief officials report a greatly increased number of applications for public assistance from people who until recently were self-supporting.

THE party whose courage has been so terribly affected by a "rumor" that consignment of arms and ammunition are being constantly received by Catholics bent upon a general uprising in this state should refrain from alarm until he has something more tangible upon which to base his fears.

THE people of Omaha must not forget that the movement for securing an Indian supply depot at this point was begun over a year ago by Senator Manderson.

POWER OF THE STATE TO ESTABLISH MAXIMUM RAILWAY RATES.

Some of the attorneys for the railways interested in the pending injunction proceedings have taken pains to give it out that the confidence of the railways in their ability to overturn the maximum freight rate law on the ground of unconstitutionality rests upon the decision of the United States supreme court in the celebrated Minnesota milk case.

While it is true that one of the judges, in his dissenting opinion in the Minnesota milk case, reported in 134 U. S., did claim that the majority opinion practically reversed the decision in Munn vs Illinois, the leading granger case, yet the court did not profess to go so far.

The decision in the Minnesota milk case has been much misunderstood. The very fact that the railways hailed it as overturning the doctrine of legislative regulation of rates impressed it upon the supreme court that its ruling was not entirely clear and consequently that court embraced the earliest opportunity that presented to explain its position upon that point.

The very fact that the railways hailed it as overturning the doctrine of legislative regulation of rates impressed it upon the supreme court that its ruling was not entirely clear and consequently that court embraced the earliest opportunity that presented to explain its position upon that point.

In Chicago, etc., Railway Company vs Minnesota, it was said by Mr. Justice Bradley in his dissenting opinion, in which Mr. Justice Gray and Mr. Justice Lamar concurred, that the decision of the court in this case practically overruled Munn vs Illinois, but the opinion of the court did not say so nor did it refer to Munn vs Illinois; and we are of the opinion that the decision in the case in 134 U. S. as will be hereafter shown, quite distinguishes from the present case.

Justice Blatchford then goes on to cite the cases in the state courts referred to, among them the western telegraph case, 17 Neb., 123, where the business of the defendant was held to be subject to the public control, and concludes that "we must regard the principle maintained in Munn vs Illinois as firmly established."

What is said in reference to the Minnesota milk case and in reference to the claim that that case made the fixing of charges a judicial question as to whether they are reasonable or not, is so important as to deserve literal quotation: But this is a misapprehension of the decision of this case in the case referred to. In that case the legislature of Minnesota had passed an act which established a railroad and warehouse commission, and the supreme court of that state had interpreted the act as providing that the charges for the transportation of property by railroads, recommended and published by the commission, should be final and conclusive as to what were equal and reasonable charges and that there could be no judicial inquiry as to the reasonableness of such rates.

THE people of Omaha must not forget that the movement for securing an Indian supply depot at this point was begun over a year ago by Senator Manderson. Senator Manderson has lent his aid to the plan from the beginning. To be certain of doing all he can to further it, he is also Secretary Morton. The whole Nebraska delegation will join in the cavalcade as soon as their attention is called to the matter. We want the aid of every one of them and we are anxious to give them credit for all that they may do.

THE OHIO DEMOCRATS.

The Ohio democratic convention yesterday nominated Lawrence T. Neal for governor, thus placing in opposition to Governor McKinley a candidate who represents the extreme anti-protection wing of the democracy, and is also an advocate of the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

Mr. Neal obtained a national reputation at Chicago in connection with the plank in the national platform denouncing protection as fraud and robbery and without constitutional authority. It has been a question whether the authorship of this plank belonged to him or to Mr. Waterston, but Neal has publicly claimed it and there is no question as to his having introduced it as an amendment to the platform framed by the committee on resolutions, and made a speech in its support.

The candidacy of Mr. Neal will make national issues predominant in the campaign and the Republicans of Ohio would not have it otherwise. It will be a square fight between the acknowledged representative of the policy of protection as embodied in the McKinley law and a recognized champion of practical free trade.

So KAGER is the Lincoln Journal to defend the contemplated action of the State Board of Educational Lands and Funds in disposing of the saline lands to the present lessees, that it rushes forward in its haste to defend in its anxiety to uphold the job. On one page it announced that one of the lessees has applied for proceedings by which he may secure the title to the land and that the board had referred the petition to the attorney general for a report on the legality of the recent saline land sale.

The platform is of the characteristic democratic type. It arraigns the republican party as responsible for the financial and business ills from which the country is suffering, declares for more currency, and throws a spear to the old soldiers, who will hardly be misled by it in view of the policy regarding them that has been instituted at Washington. The Ohio campaign will soon become interesting, the republicans being already pretty well organized to prosecute the contest with vigor.

Showing a better spirit. The action of the free silver members of congress in their caucus Wednesday, pledging themselves to support a bill for free coinage of silver in such a ratio as will provide and maintain the parity between gold and silver, indicates a better spirit among them which is as welcome as it was unexpected.

Far-seeing taxpayers. Globe Democrat. Europe sees that American wheat at present prices is cheap, and is buying large quantities of it. For a similar reason it is buying heavy blocks of American securities. Thus the imports of gold, which are now reaching large proportions, will be kept up for several months to come.

Two deaths at Pensacola and People Leaving Town by the Hundred. Pensacola, Fla., Aug. 10. The county Board of Health has issued a bulletin announcing that two deaths have occurred in the morning. The surplus hay of this section can be exported at a good profit, and that foreign demand will place higher prices on hay than ever before.

Temporary stringency. Springfield (Mo.) Republican. If anything is certain it is that present business and financial conditions are temporary. No prediction is safer than that the essential prosperity of the country will be restored.

REPORT FIRST, TALK AFTERWARD.

The congressional discussion generally to air their opinions on finance are ready to those whose opinions have least value. This is a very little use for the talkative crank or the man who knows it all.

Duty Above Party. Philadelphia Times. Gentlemen of the American congress, let your deliberations be short, sharp and decisive. The people want no pettifogging for political purposes at this stage of the game.

NEBRASKA AND NEBRASKANS. Wait Jarman of Osceola is minus a thumb as the result of carelessly loading a shotgun. Mrs. Leroy Johnson, a prominent lady of Hubbard, died of an attack of neuralgia of the stomach.

Mark Coad of Fremont will be an exhibitor at the horse show of the World's fair and will next week ship about a dozen Arabian horses to Chicago to be shown at the entrance to the horse show, which will continue from August 21 to September 9.

Two emigrants burglarized the house of J. W. Armstrong, a Sarry county farmer, during the night of last week and secured a shotgun, some money and a few other articles. They were seen leaving the house by a young brother of Armstrong and followed to Louisville by the marshal.

Chairman Stenberg Reviews the Work in Progress and Prospects. Chairman Stenberg of the Board of County Commissioners was asked yesterday morning as to what the commissioners were doing with reference to county road work.

WELL, said the chairman, "there is really nothing of any special importance going on, but we are getting the roads of the county in a first class shape and at a minimum of expense to the county."

As to what will be done in the matter of Port Creek road I can't say just now. There is more or less objection to the expense of any county funds in this respect, and I have not yet been able to bring a majority of the board around to my view of the case.
