WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 .- The legislative meda county was startled a few days ago by receiving a mysterious letter stating that in the Poulson residence at Fruitvale was a zine box that contained the body of a babe which had been born nearly two years ago, but which had never been buried by Dr. Poulson. It is said that the same authority stated that the doctor had never reported the birth or death of the baby to the health authorities, but that to intimate spiritualist friends he acknowledged that it was his child and held several "seances" over it.

Caused a Small Sensation.

The exposure of this alleged mysterious conduct and tales of frequent weird incanta tions over the little corpse in the zinc box, at mystic hours of the night, when the moon was but a curved silver thread in the sky plunged Oakland, Fruitvale and 'Frisco into a small sensation. It is said that after the death of the child that the doctor had a plumber make the zinc box, and after placing the baby within, he sealed it. The letter to the coroner, reciting the strange story, was signed by a man named Mc-Junkin, whe it seems, knew the secret, and when the divorce proceedings were com-menced, the mysterious box was brought which will be 100 more. On the other hand, Mr. Bland says there are representatives who may vote against the bill at any ratio, who will not vote to forth. Dr. Poulson has been away from California since the exposure was mage. In fact he left several wroks before. Mrs. Poulson, according to 'Frisco papers, was reticent for several days and subsequently left her home at Fruitvale to visit a fortune teller named Mrs. Seip. The coroner of Alameda county at orce took possession of the zinc box and its contents, according to the statement printed in the San Francisco Examiner, last Sunday

Piayed Singles Rapidly. When Hart and McCague opened the tournament there was little evidence that any unusual event was in progress. Hart got a lead in the first few games and although he had a little trouble in the second set the match was soon over. Dungan and Millard at once took their aces in the court and their contest kept up the interest of the small crowd of spectators that had gathered. Dungan, who is secre-tary of the Hastings club, is looked upon in his native town as quite a player, and every success of his younger Omaha rival was received with applause. Webster and Parrish were the next very painstaking game and this carried him through. But it would be an injustice to a very scientific pastime to describe his play as cientific tennis. There are few strokes that he trusts himself to deal with with one hand, and to get his racket round with both hands on it to any angle that may be re-quired takes too much time to succeed. Before this game was finished the second Shepherd got to work. These were the two bottom byes and theirs was the only second round match decided during the day. In th first set Murray seemed to have little confidence against his more experi-enced rival and scored but little. Still he hit the balls well and with greater confidence he started the second set by scoring two of the first four games. Of course there was no chance for him to win, but it is to his ill luck in being drawn against a strong man, rather than in his lack of ability, that his defeat is attributable. Setting the Doubles.

Meantime the first tie in the doubles was being played off in the adjoining court. It had been decided that in the doubles the rubbers were to consist of the best of five sets throughout. This had been intended to be the rule in the singles as well, but was finally thought better of. In the first and inally thought better of. In the first and second rounds of the singles two sets will be enough to win a match, but in the subso-quent rounds of the singles and throughout the doubles three sets will be required. This first match was between the two Mc-Cagues and Mattocks and Austin, and though the brothers finally came out winners they had a hard fight for it and scored only the same number of games as the losers. It was the longest and closest match of the day. Before it was over Geisthardt had beaten Wahiouist, the Cookson and Dungan and Wahiquist, the crack Hastings pair, had begun the attempt to overthrow the champions, Culling-ham and Battin. Cookson falled con-spicuously against Lincoln's Goliath, who was too fast for him at all points of the game. Cookson's method of play is not of a kind to be successful against a game as lively as Geisthardt's, but yesterday he never warmed to his wo and only gained three games in the entire match

GRESHAM DISSATISFIED.

He Does Not Like the Decision in the Bering Sea Case.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.-Secretary Gresham is dissatisfied with the Bering sea tribunal in regard to the regulations established, and it is understood his views are shared by other cabinet officers. The regulations are interpreted to mean that the United States will have entailed on it the patroling of Bering sea without benefit to it, while Rus sia, Japan and perhaps other nations will reap a harvest, the regulations being bind-ing only on Great Britain and this country. It is not likely any definite policy respecting the guardianship of the sea will be outlineduntil the opening of the first season next year, because had weather will put an end to the operation of the sealers in about two weeks. The restrictions placed on sealers with reference to firearms will have the effect of causing Canadian sealers to resort to desperate means to secure good catches and much poaching is feared. In the close season, June and July, both Great Britain and the United States will keep a fiect of vessels to keep peachers from the scaling waters and, it is believed at the Navy de mayor partment, this will result in the establish ment of a permanent Bering sea squadron for duty during these months. The United States will also be obliged to maintain a who rendered the Beatrice decision, was not present when the case was passed upon and the two judges sitting did not consider and pass on more of the questions involved than necessary. watch on the waters within the sixty-mile
