Reply of the Missouri Pacific to the Petition of the Lincoln Merchants on the Subject-Prefer Federal Jarisdiction.

LINCOLN, Aug. 16 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-Another twist was taken in the complications which surround the efforts of the state authorities to put the new maximum rate law into effect by the attorneys of the Missouri Pacific who went into the district court with a petition for the removal of the case instituted by the wholesale merchants of this city to the United States courts. Some weeks since, and before the Newberry bill was hung up by the injunction taken out by the stockholders, the wholesale merchants of this city became alarmed at the possibility of the railroads applishing the interstate rates which have enabled the Capital City men to compete with Omaha and other Missouri river points. They accordingly secured the services of Hon. G. M. Lambert-son and applied to the district court of Lancaster county for an injunction to prevent the railroads from abolishing the interstate

Today the attorneys of the Missouri Pa-cific, one of the railroads involved in the in-junction proceedings, filed with the clerk of the district court a demurrer to the original petition on the grounds that it does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of ac-tion; that the causes are improperly joined because there is a defect of the parties plain-tiff; that the plaintiff has no legal right to sue and that the district court has no jurisdiction of the subject matter involved. In this demurrer the Burlington joined. Want the Case Removed.

In addition to the demurrer another petition was filed by the attorney for the Missouri Pacific asking that the entire case might be removed to the United States circuit court, for the reason that the amount of money involved in the controversy exceeds $2,000; that the controversy is of a civil hature arising under the federal constitution in that it involves the construction of an act of congress passed on February 4, 1887, and that it is an attempt to enjoin the company from putting into effect or force certain rates, as a common carrier, known as certain rates, as a common carrier, known as interstate rates, which it is alleged are in violation of the act of congress approved July 2, 1890. The petition further alleges that the plaintiffs (meaning the Lincoln wholesale merchants) base their rights to the relief prayed for solely upon the construction of the two acts of congress referred to and that the controversy involves a construction of said acts. versy involves a construction of said acts. It is further asserted that the controversy, as between the Missouri Pacific and the as between the Missouri Pacific and the Burlington, is separable and can be disposed of as to the Missouri Pacific without the presence of a co-defendant. The petition was accompanied by a bond for $1,000 with C. C. Burr of this city as surety for the payment of all costs if it shall be determined that the case is improperly removed from the district to the United States courts.

Taken to Omaha.

Doe Blanchard, the smooth young man ar-rested in this city last night upon the charge of grand lareeny, preferred by Omaha par-ties, was taken to the metropolis this morn-ing by Officer Dempsey. His real name is Edward LeMott, although he is known to have a number of aliases in different parts of the country. It has also been discovered that he has served time in the state peni-tentiary of Missouri. The trunk which he is charged with stealing belonged to Miss Florence Reddington, a daughter or sister of the private secretary of General Manager Burt of the Elkhorn system. It is valued, together with its contents, at $300. LeMott was traced to this city and was found in a room at the Merchants hotel. It was also discovered that he had been accompanied to Lincoln by Sadie Smith, a colored damsel of Council Bluffs, who is well known to the police authorities of that place. Sadie was resort in this city, and in her possession was found a number of articles from the stolen trunk. Most of the stolen goods were re

DETAILS OF HENRY YATES' BANK MEASURE

How the Omaha Financier Would Have the Clearing House Associations Utilise Their Certificates - Other Washington News Notes.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE, 513 FOURTEENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.

Senator Manderson reintroduced today a large number of Nebraska bills which were pending in congress on the 4th of March last when the Fifty-second congress expired. Many of them he had pushed to advanced stages of completion, but they failed. Among them are the following: To reimburse the state of Nebraska for expenses incurred in repelling the Sioux invasion of 1890-91; for the issue of ordnance stores and supplies to Nebraska to replace similar stores destroyed by fire; for the relief of Thomas Fletcher Foley, alias Thoma Fletcher, Brigadier General John R. Brooke, U.S. A.; John A. Wacker, Adolph Van Haake, George H. Jewell, John Feider, William W. Lowe, Jeremiah L. Daly, Wells C. McCool, John Little, Hobart Williams, John Holmer, Captain Augustus R. Egbert, Mrs. Isabelle Morrow, Theodore L. Vandorn, A. H. Reynolds and Samuel J. Haynes; extending relief to Indian citizens and for other purposes; for the retirement of John Tempany, Ninth cavalry, U. S. A., and to establish postal savings banks and to encourage small savings. small savings.

The senator also introduced two important financial measures which were drafted by President Henry W. Yates of the Nebraska National bank of Omaha. One directs the secretary of the treasury to purchase silver bullion at any time, the price paid to be de-termined from time to time by a mint com-mission and to issue in payment for such purchases silver bullion notes of the United States, which shall be redeemable on demand in coin at the treasury or any of its mints in silver bullion at the price established by the mint commission, and when so redeemed may be reissued, such treasury notes to be a legal tender for the payment of all debts, and when held by any bank association to be counted as a part of its legal

The other bill, which was drafted by Mr.
Yates, provides that the secretary of the treasury shall receive at not more than par

These notes shall be redeemable on de-mand in coin, and when so redeemed may be reissued, except when received in redemption of clearing house certificates purchased under this act. The clearing house certificates purchased are to be made payable on demand, draw interest at not less than 6 per cent per annum and shall not be issued in an amount to exceed the aggregate capital of the banks that are members of the association issuing the same. The banks forming the Clearing House association are jointly liable for the payments of the certifi-cates issued by them, but they shall have the privilege of redeeming them at any time. In presenting the latter two bills Senator Manderson stated to the senate that they were prepared by a financier of pronounced ability and that they deserved the consideration of our ablest statesmen.

Material for Omaha's Postoffice,

Senator Manderson stated to THE BEE cor respondent today that tomorrow he would call upon the supervising architect of the treasury in reference to materials to be used in the Omaha public building. The senator had a conference with Mr. O'Rourke recently and urged upon him the necessity of visiting Omaha with a view to learning upon the ground the needs with respect to materials, but Mr. O'Rourke stated that he had so many things to look after in connection with the Chicago build ing that he could not visit Omaha at that time. Senator Manderson's intended Senator Manderson's intended visit to the supervising architect is in connection with the subject of material for the general superstructure. The senator says that granite should be used in the construction of the building, as he believes it will be much more serviceable and handsomer than any kind of sandstone.

Bryan's Silver Bid.

William Jennings Bryan, the Lincoln representative of the Firs. Nebraska district, addressed the house this afternoon on the proposed repeal of the silver purchasing act. Mr. Bryan was at his best, oratorically speaking, and was given as fair an audience any man who has spoke upon free coinage of silver. His ce filled the great hall of the house of representatives and there was con-siderable interest manifested in his personal views upon the subject, as it is generally known in Washington that the democrats of Nebraska are opposed to the individual views of the representative of the First district, besides there was considerable curios-ity entertained as to what Bryan would say in the face of the recent message of Presi-dent Cleveland demanding unconditional re-peal and the open opposition of silver by Hon. J. Sterling Morton.

Mr. Bryan was very outspoken in favor of the unlimited coinage of the unlimited coinage of the uniform and that and stream would be more uniform and reliable in its supply if it had more than one source. Mr. Bryan's flights of oratory were source. Mr. Bryan's hights of oratory were not frequently interrupted, members gen-erally preferring to watch his graceful gestures and well modulated voice rather than interrupt him with questions. A few times, however, Mr. Harter of Ohio, who is a gold standard democrat, cross-questioned Mr. Bryan on his knowledge of financial history.

CUSTER'S LAST BATTLE FIELD

A visit to this spot, which is now a national cemetery, is extremerly interesting. Here seventeen years ago General Custer and five companies of the Seventh United States cavalry, numbering over 200 officers and men, were cut to pieces by the Sioux Indians and allied tribes under Sitting Bull. The battlefield, the valley of the Little Big Horn, located some forty odd miles south of Custer, Mont., a station on the Northern Pacific railroad, can be easily reached by stage. If you will write Charles S. Fee, St. Paul, Minn., inclosing 4 cents in postage, he will send you a handsomely illustrated 100 page book, free of charge, in which you will find a graphic account of the sad catastrophe which overtook the brave Custer and his ollowers in the valley of the Little Big Horn in June, '76.
