CAGED FOR AN AWFUL CRIME Omaha Police Elated at the Capture of Dink Wilson at Syracuse.

CHAPTERS FROM A CHECKERED CAREER

Dne of the (Worst Crooks on the Continent-Mr. and Mrs. Worrell Dedide that Marriage Was a Fallure-Minor Police Matters.

"Dink" Wilson, an old Omaha Crook, is held in Syracuse for the murder of Detective James Harvey in that city on July 31. The gang of burglars, of which "Dink" is the head, has been working through New York state and meeting with considerable opposition from the vigilant police. One of the burglars was wounded at Ovia and another was killed in the fight at Syracuse in which Detective Harvey lost his life, "Dink" was captured at the time and is now being held for murder.

The gang has a local reputation. About four years ago "Dink" and a pal were arrested at Topeka for having a set of burglar tools in their possession. They had done no job in the place, but were fined $100 each for having the weapons of their calling in their possession. They sent a telegram to a sister of Wilson, who lived at Twenty-eighth and Cassius streets. Nettie Wilson went to Topeka and paid the fine of the men, and the authorities of the Kansas capital acquainted the Omaha police with the facts in the case. The information came the morning after The information came the informing arter butcher shop had been burglarized, evidently by experts, and the safe blown. The police went to the residence of the Wilson family and arrested "Dink" and a pal in bed. They could not be proven guilty of the burglary, could not be proven guilty of the burglary, however, and were discharged. Soon after this the street car barns on Ames avenue were burglarized and a large amount of money stolen from the safe. The Wilsons were suspected of having done the job and several others that were turned about that time, but could not be caught in any of them. The close espionage of the police was ap-parently distasteful to the gang and the male members of the party left Omaha. This was in the summer of 1891, and a few days after the gang left Omaha a train was robbed at St. Louis and the express car touched to the extent of about $150,000. Two of the men were captured and sent to the pen for life. It was pretty well estab-lished that "Dink" Wilson was the leader of the robbers, but he escaped and has evaded police vigilance until caught in the affair for which he is now in jail in Syracuse.

Soon after the express car robbery in St. Louis the authorities here were notified to look out for Wilson. Detective Vaughn was given the case and visited the house dis-guised as a peddler of jowelry. He was get-ting along finely and was in a fair way to locate the gang. He had an engagement to call again, but when he left the place he forgot his note book, which contained accurate descriptions of the men who were wanted. The next time the detective called the house was deserted. The Wilsons had moved to Denver or Sait Lake or some city in the west and had not left any address for the jewelry peddler.

Chief of Police Seavey was in a position to aid the Syracuse officials in their search for the Wilson outfit. He has been working on the case for some time and had just located the other members of the family upon a farm near Williamsport, Pa., where Nettie Wilson and the mother of the boys are sup-posed to be. It is thought that the gang bought this place from the proceeds of the St. Louis robbery and have been using the

The farm as a hiding place when not engaged in their robbing expeditions. It is now protty certain that the excellent service of the Omaha chief of police will result in the capture of the entire game. The local police are elated over the car ture. Wilson was a lather by trade, but did not work at his calling very steadily. He found better profits in the burglary business.

ANOTHER NEWSPAPER.

Democrats of Omatia Have Launched a New Journalistic Venture.

As announced in THE BEE several weeks ago, Omaha is to have a new democratic newspaper. The following is the prospectus of the new sheet issued yesterday by the Journal Publishing company:

Journal Publishing company: This will be a straight-out democratic news-paper of eight pages, six columns to the page, and will begin publication on or about August 17, 1893. Its course will resemble the arrow's, instead of the pendulum's. Pursuing a con-sistent policy, it will aim to be worthy of the confidence of the party as the reliable cham-plon of its principles and candidates. It will work for the unity and growth of the party in the city and state. It believes that while, like the American eagle, the party may naturally and properly have two wlugs, their every movement should be directed to the bearing upward and onward of the grand political organism of which they are a part. It will oppose the intermixing of religion with politics. In judging of condidates for public office it will apply the enlightened test established by Thomas Jefferson. It purposes to devote its attention in a special manner to the promotion of honesty, efficiency and econ-omy in the administration of public affairs in the city of Omaha and Douglas county, sub-jeoting each act to its proper measure of ex-position and criticism, without fear or favor.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Nothing succeeds like success, and Richards & Pringle's Famous Georgia Minstrels are a case in point. Their business has been on the increase each season, and from the excellent press notices they receive throughout the country their success is not difficult to explain. In the first place, it is an exceptionally original and strong company, in fact the only recognized legitimate colored or-ganization on the road. It is headed by ganization on the road. It is headed by Billy Kersands; whose versatility has placed him as the leading comedian of his race. Among other notables are Tom Brown, James White, Hillman and Vernon, James Moore, C. F. Alexander, W. Q Terry, the Great Gauze and the celebrated Crescent City quartet, of last year's "Alabama." The company will appear at the Farnam Street theater four days commencing with a matitheater four days, commencing with a mati-nee Sunday, August 20, also a special mati-nee Tuesday, instead of Wednesday.

Story of the Breckinridge Scandal. NEW YORK, Aug. 16 .- A Washington correspondent, telegraphing his paper regarding the Breckinridge-Pollard episode, tells this story: Miss Pollard when quite a young lady was sent to college by an elderly admirer upon condition that when her education was completed she would marry him. She met Breckinridge and her generous generous lover was discarded without explanation. Recently when driven frantic by the marriage of Mr. Breekinridge to another woman and in her desolation Miss Pollard confided the truth to her old lover. He possesses ample means, and he promptly agreed to supply her with the money necessary to secure her complete revenge. He said he wanted to kill Breckinridge socially and politically, to condemn him to a life of ostracism, to make him an outcast, shunned by the people who had so long honored him. The old admirer sustains and supports the woman he fancied in her girlhood and is willing to make her his wife when he shall driven Breckinridge to utter retire-

The monetary question must be settled at once. "So says the" Chief Executive in his document to Congress. The speediest way of settling such a question in our opinion would be to satisfy every creed. According to silverites the white metal is the paper man's money; if so let him have his share and retire. The worshiper of gold who claims a silver dollar worth but 58c is entitled to a privilege of paying 18oc for every dollar he spends, if he is honestly inclined. If the treasury of our prosperous country has too much silver within its vaults, according to the ideas of some, let them dump it in the Chesapeake Bay. If anyone in our vicinity has too much silver fetch it for "Safe Investment" to Nebraska Clothing Co.

The way we define the silver question, 4121/2 grains of silver, 9-10 pure, moulded in shape of a dollar, will buy $1.50 worth of goods this entire week.

At this ratio you can buy anything about the house. 'Tis an "Odd and End" sale of Spring and Summer stock, and all goods in every department are "in it."

Besides a lightweight suit, stacks of cool furnishings and apparel you need right now, you will find medium weight clothing, furnishings for the fall and winter, light and heavy weight shoes, and hats that are "just out." All included-one dollar buys one and a half dollars worth.

Quite a sacrifice, ain't it? Can't help it. To carry goods to next season is entirely against our principle. Besides, we are crowded. Every inch of space on each of our four floors is crowded already and three car loads of Fall and Winter ware to hear from,

UNEMPLOYED WAGE EARNERS.

OMAHA, Aug. 16 .- To the Editor of THE BEE: The time has come when we are called upon to do something for the large class of people who are out of employment. We hear of persons frequently who have never thought of asking help, now compelled to do it. Two families visited last week vere found living together with nothing in the house to eat.

I have been going to the court house this many years for help for different persons, but never before at this season of the year have I seen so many people applying for help-nicely dressed children and respectable looking people. Surely help will come for them before cold weather. C One poor, aged couple who have never asked help through this long, tedious life's journey now ask for transportation to a distant point, where a daughter has promised support if they can only reach her. Another brave little woman, not 20 years old, deserted by her husband, with two little children, asks to be sent to a sister who will take care of her. Many children who should enter school in

SAVING THE PROPLE'S CASH.

County Clerk Sackett Discovers a Way for Getting a Handsome Rebate. It is reported that the county clerk has discovered a way by which he can save at least $150,000 to the taxpayers of Douglas county.

For years the levy for state purposes has been made and the money turned over to the state treasurer when collected. No account has been taken of the taxes that have been refunded in particular cases annually for for one reason or another. Every case of re-fund of course reduced the total proceeds of the levy, and Douglas county has had to the levy, and Douglas county has had to stand the loss, owing to ignorance or care lessness of former officials. It is now contended by Mr. Sackett that the state must pay back to this county the former's proper proportion of taxes legally refunded to property owners. The sum, it is said, will aggregate something like $150.000
