

THE DAILY BEE

COUNCIL BLUFFS OFFICE: NO. 12 PEARL STREET

Published by carrier to any part of the city. H. W. TILTON - Manager.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 43 Night Editor, No. 23

SINOR MENTION

N. Y. Plumbing Co. Boston Store, dry goods.

Furnished room to rent, 710 First Ave. Th. Mayne Real Estate Co., 621 Broadway.

A marriage license was issued to John V. Gilson, aged 22, and Ellen Footo, aged 16, both of Pottawattamie county.

Sheriff Boothard of Harrison county left yesterday morning for a burglary at which the convict, burglar who broke jail, is in charge.

There will be a social given by the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor at the Christian church on the corner of Scott and Myrtle streets Wednesday evening.

Refreshments served by the ladies. Eph North was arrested yesterday for larceny on a charge made by his brother Dan. It is said he is rational on all subjects but one, and that is, he is continually afraid that some one is after him to kill him.

The funeral of Belle McMillan will occur this morning at 8:30 o'clock from W. C. Estep's undertaking rooms, Rev. J. E. Simpson officiating. The inmates of the house with her are furnishing her with burial.

John M. Adams, who attempted to steal a diamond pin from J. C. Ham of Omaha at Courtland beach Sunday afternoon, was taken to the county jail yesterday morning. His case has been continued until this morning.

William Mayhew went to Avoca yesterday in charge of Sheriff Hazen for a consultation with his attorney, but was not taken to the Avoca court, commencing the 20th, on the charge of poisoning his four wives. Sheriff Smith will preside at that term of court.

The August term of district court will convene a week from today. The docket, which is now in the hands of the printers, contains 600 cases, including 200 new suits, and 456 law. Of these 201 are new suits. In addition there is also a heavy criminal docket.

A Northwestern freight train, loaded with fruit, was run into by a Rock Island freight Sunday morning at the crossing of the two roads in this transfer. The Rock Island engine was seriously damaged, and one of the cars of fruit was tipped over, to the great delight of the small boys of the neighborhood.

A crowd of small boys has been making life miserable for the people who attend the Bethany Baptist church, on the corner of High street and Sixteenth avenue, for several Sundays past. Last Sunday evening there came near being a riot through the unwillingness of the people to pay for the amusement that the youthful toughs were inclined to give him. The police will be requested to keep order on the subject.

Ed Middleton was arrested yesterday on the charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses. George Meppin claims he got a nickel watch from him by pretending that another party had stolen it from him. Middleton had the watch in his pocket at the time he was arrested and offered to leave it at the station, but he refused to do so. He left it at the station, but he is there himself as well and will have a hearing in police court this morning.

Four young Omaha boys crossed the river Sunday night and proceeded to give the people of Council Bluffs an interesting object lesson in how to apply paint to cities of the first class. They were rounded up by the police while howling like Apache Indians and driving a horse and one-seated rig through the streets of a "Nancy Hank's" gate. At the police station at midnight they gave the probably assumed names of E. H. Allen, George H. Smith, William E. Gibson, and John W. Miller. The case was continued until this morning.

The New Twin City Dye Works. Although engaged in erecting a new building, getting new machinery, etc., customers will find no delay in getting their work promptly done and in the most satisfactory manner. All kinds of dyeing and cleaning. Omaha office 1521 Farmington street. Evening hours at 20th and Avenue A, Council Bluffs, on electric motor line. G. A. Schoedsack.

Greenshields, Nicholson & Co., real estate and rentals, 600 Broadway, Tel. 151.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Albert Paul and Harry Warren have gone to Chicago. Miss Belle Snyder is home from a month's visit to Galburg, Ill.

Miss Selburg of Waco, Tex., is the guest of Mrs. H. S. Jones on the 20th. D. R. Huchey and Ed Donquette leave next Friday for Maquoketa to take part in some bicycle races.

Rev. J. H. Davis and family have returned from a vacation at the lake. They are returning to the southern and southwestern parts of Iowa.

Notice to Picnic Parties. Change in time, commencing Monday, Aug. 7. Trains for Minnawa leave at the following hours: Morning trains leave Broadway at 10 a. m. Evening trains at 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 every 30 minutes thereafter until 12 p. m.

Cinders for Sale—200 loads nice, clean cinders for walks and driveways. Apply to E. D. Burke, Taylor's grocery, Broadway.

Look Out for the Toughs. The city authorities have received word from the management of the circus which is to hold forth here today, to look out for a gang of toughs that accompanies the circus on its tour. In an incident reported by the police resulted in the capture of five criminals, all with national reputations. As this raid hardly made an impression on the outside, it is readily seen that the citizens of Council Bluffs will be wise if they take special precautions against the capture of burglars, sneak thieves and the like during the day or two. The gang has been arriving ever since Sunday night and includes toughs and fakirs of almost every description.

Coal cheap for cash. 34 Pearl street, Grand hotel bldg. Domestic soap outlets cheap soap.

The Price of a Finger. A. B. Cline has commenced action in the district court to collect the price of his left forefinger from the Burlington & Missouri River Railway company in Nebraska. He lost his finger while coupling cars for the company in Saunders county, Nebraska, December 10, 1891. He alleged that his injury was due to the carelessness of the railway employees in letting the draw bar of the car slip out of place and the strap connected with it become loose. He also claims that the engineer and conductor allowed the train to run violently into the car which he was endeavoring to couple, catching his finger and crushing it so that it can be amputated. He demands a judgment for $1,000.

Stop at the Ogden, Council Bluffs, to rest 6:00 house in Iowa. Cook your meals this summer on a gas range. At cost at the Gas company.

Levee-it-It-It. W. J. Levee has returned from a trip to Billadale, Mich., where he was married August 10 to Miss Julia M. Reynolds, at the home of her parents. After the wedding they went to Chicago, where they have been taking in the World's fair until yesterday, when they reached home. They will be at home to their friends after September 15, 1893. Mrs. Levee has occupied a responsible position in the First National bank for the past year. His many friends will unite in extending congratulations.

Williamson & Co., 106 Main street, largest and best bicycle stock in city. Domestic soap is the best.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Tests Made by the Committee of One Hundred of the 3-Cent Fare Ordinance.

THEY HAD TO WALK IN EVERY INSTANCE

Conductors Refused to Take the Proffered 3 Cents and Put the Gentlemen Off the Cars—Arrests of Railway Employees to Be Made.

Unless all signs fall when the administration is democratic the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway company may look within the next few days for a bunch of such dimensions that the strains of a German street band would sound like an organ in comparison. The air has been rife during the past week or so with conjectures as to what the "committee of one hundred" would do about the 3-cent fare ordinance which was passed by the council at its last meeting. Yesterday the conjectures were partially answered.

Spencer Smith, J. W. Crossland, Frank Trumble and J. Meyer boarded a train and tendered the conductor 3 cents each in payment for their respective rides. The conductor refused to take less than a nickel. The passengers refused to pay more than 3 cents; there was no chance for a compromise and the consequence was that the train did not start. The conductor was very careful but firmly set feet downward on the paying, for which the motor company has so far failed to pay the taxpayers, who are to be paid for the train. The operation was repeated eight times.

Met With the Same Treatment. While this was going on two other detachments of the committee were trying the same plan on trains in other parts of the city. One of these was E. Baker, J. C. DeHaven and L. A. Casper composed one squad, and J. T. Evans, S. E. Waele and J. C. Saunders another. The other, Shubert, W. C. Dickey and I. N. Flickinger.

They met with precisely the same experiences as the first. President Trumble and the committee were taken on board one of the trains, but declined to take any notice of the fact that the conductor was going on in which he might properly be interested.

Information is to be filed in police court today against the superintendent of the line and the conductor of the train which was officiated at the putting-off of the train. The penalty provided by the ordinance is $100 for each offense, and if the committee succeeds in carrying out its plan, it will be a large measure of compensation for the loss of the thousands of dollars in taxes which the company refuses to pay. The war now seems to be on, and the outcome will be decided for the greatest of interest by the general public.

JONES IS DISCHARGED. Coroner's Jury Unable to Decide Whether He Killed Belle McMillan or Not.

Charles Jones is again at liberty, after spending two days in jail, because he was not discharged because the coroner's jury has exonerated him from the killing of Belle McMillan, but because the jurymen, who were at first inclined to hold him to the grand jury, changed their minds on the arguments of the one who was in favor of releasing him. The coroner's jury was held yesterday afternoon, but the evidence that was brought forward was in no respect different from that which the jury had already heard.

Now what would be the result if you substitute the New York Life, your special contributor of $100,000, for the policies of $1,000 each, payable in twenty years, five years less than they have figured as the possible period of maturity of our bonds. They say, of $75,000. The "rake off" on the same business for only twenty years for the New York Life is $100,000. The policy holders in all these organizations get precisely the same returns. $100,000 for $100,000. The cost of each company's obligations, with the difference that we take from the policy holder about 1,000 per cent less "rake off" in the way of cost than our competitors. The cost of the old line company, for a period of twenty-six years, an average per year of $8. The cost of the new company, but they exacted from the policy holder an average of $42 a year per $1,000, while in the Perpetual Maturity company a policy of $1,000 would cost only $15 a year, only $3 of which could be used for expenses. But it would require twenty years to pay back the $1,000, and only if there were no lapses and no growth, two absolutely impossible conditions.

This question of lapses is one that all old line organizations shy of. It is their citadel that must be jealously guarded as the very principle of their business. In their chief source of profit, in fact, they are in three of the big eastern insurance companies, it poured into the coffers of these companies the $100,000 of cash, and it was a dollar for each of the contributors who never got back a cent. In the Perpetual Maturity Bonding company every cent of the interest on the bonds goes to the payment of the bondholders, and not a cent of it for expenses.

There is another feature that is not to be spoken of, either for its delicacy or its delicately vast sums pouring constantly into the pockets of the contributors. It is a rough inquiry made a short time ago by a curious gentleman for an estimate of the amount of money that went out of Council Bluffs each year in the form of life insurance premiums, and he found that it approximates between $50,000 and $75,000, with perhaps three lines as much from Omaha. How much of it ever comes back?

The very fact that this gigantic and concerted attack is made upon the bonding companies indicates their strength. There is no other kind of financial institution in the world that could stand up to such an attack. The attacks that have been made for months upon the bonding and low premium investment companies have been made on the Sabbath day assault upon the Perpetual Maturity Bonding company.

The principle of cheap, quickly-maturing insurance has, and will, be laid down under any attack that can be made upon it. They do not charge us with failing to perform any of our obligations. They do not say that we are not to pay for what we when due, or intimate that a penny of the funds set apart for that purpose has ever been misapplied by them. They seem to be that something like this might occur in the future. This is singularly like the old cry of "Stop thief."

J. B. ALLEN, Secretary Perpetual Maturity Bonding company.

Domestic soap is the best. Bad Bills Made Good. Business men need their money in these times. If you have bills against people not living in Iowa employed by any railway, express, telegraph or telephone company entering Iowa, write to the Nassau Investment Co., Council Bluffs. Collections guaranteed.

Ask your grocer for Domestic soap. Smoke T. D. King & Co's Partagas. His Part. Judge: Tired William—I was not always this way, madam. Up to recently I was a member of the theatrical profession.

Lady of the House—What part did you take, William—I was under study to the sleeping beauty.

Piles of people have piles, but Davitt's Wizard Hazel Salve will cure them.

A Drawing Card. Museum Manager—I have procured a man who has never said: "Is it hot enough for you?" Friend—Impossible! Where did you get him? Museum Manager—in Greenland.

Piles of people have piles, out De Witt's Wizard Hazel Salve will cure them.

Museum Manager—I have procured a man who has never said: "Is it hot enough for you?" Friend—Impossible! Where did you get him? Museum Manager—in Greenland.

Piles of people have piles, out De Witt's Wizard Hazel Salve will cure them.

Museum Manager—I have procured a man who has never said: "Is it hot enough for you?" Friend—Impossible! Where did you get him? Museum Manager—in Greenland.

Piles of people have piles, out De Witt's Wizard Hazel Salve will cure them.

Museum Manager—I have procured a man who has never said: "Is it hot enough for you?" Friend—Impossible! Where did you get him? Museum Manager—in Greenland.

Piles of people have piles, out De Witt's Wizard Hazel Salve will cure them.

Museum Manager—I have procured a man who has never said: "Is it hot enough for you?" Friend—Impossible! Where did you get him? Museum Manager—in Greenland.

ED JOHNSON'S REPORT BOBS UP AGAIN

Lively Pugilistic Encounter on the Street—Policeman Arrives on the Scene and Declares it a Draw—Magie City Gossip.

All the members of the city council were present at the regular meeting last night. Mayor Walker made two appointments, and the preliminary steps were taken for the opening of both South Thirteenth and East N streets.

An ordinance was introduced to grade S and U streets from Thirty-sixth to Forty-fourth.

There was a number of revised ordinances read Mr. Schultz moved that the rules be suspended and that the special matter of grading J street from Twenty-second to Twenty-fifth street be taken up. At the last meeting of the council, in response to a petition, this street was ordered graded in the district above indicated. There were a number of property owners present who filed a protest against the work being done.

Mr. A. H. Miller, who lives on Twenty-second street, said that he would be assessed once for the grading of J street when the grade was established in that street from Twenty-third to Twenty-fifth street and the individual who lives on J between Twenty-second and Twenty-third bring the street to grade as they have offered to do. This proposition seemed to meet the favor of all parties and it was so ordered.

Mr. F. Swoch paid for a walk in front of a lot which was afterwards, through his lawyer, Al. Geary, who was present, the gentleman redeemed his lot and in a communication to the council Treasurer Geary stated that the money be paid back to him.

A bill for $55.95 in favor of Charles Splits and one for $10 in favor of Dr. E. L. Ernout were recommended paid by the finance committee.

E. Bibler petitioned the council to refund to him the $600 he deposited for a liquor license for Al. Geary some time ago. This matter was laid on the table. It seems that Mr. Bibler was to back Mr. Geary in case the latter failed to get the license. Mr. Bibler did not do so and now Mr. Bibler wants to cash out.

Joseph Kiratzy petitioned the council to refund to him the $200 he deposited for a liquor license for Al. Geary some time ago. This matter was laid on the table. It seems that Mr. Kiratzy was to back Mr. Geary in case the latter failed to get the license. Mr. Kiratzy did not do so and now Mr. Kiratzy wants to cash out.

Mr. D. S. Curtis was appointed to succeed Leeper on the police force.

The board of assessors of the county commissioners relating to the opening up of South Thirteenth street was read. It provides that the commissioners pay $2,000 returns to the contractor and the contractor also build a 200-foot culvert, to cost not more than $3,000. Mr. Wyman moved that the clerk ascertain from what fund this expense should be paid. The clerk reported that it is to be taken from the South Omaha road fund. The motion prevailed.

The engineer was instructed to draft an ordinance to establish the grade from Thirteenth street and Missouri avenue south to the Twenty-fifth street on N street—west of Thirteenth to Eighteenth.

An estimate in favor of Stimson & Hubert for sewer work on N street for $3,574.90 was allowed.

Councilman Bruce entered a vigorous kick on any more garbage being dumped on L street between Twenty-second and Twenty-third.

The bond of W. S. Glynn for laying the culvert on Thirteenth street was accepted. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work.

The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work.

The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work.

The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work.

The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work.

The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work.

The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work.

The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work.

The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work.

The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work.

The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work.

The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work.

The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work.

The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work.

The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work.

The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work. The contractor was to be paid for the work.

CONSUMPTION IN THE FAMILY

The Knowledge of This Fact Was a Constant Source of Apprehension and Shadowed Her Life.

Mrs. W. J. Trick lives with her husband and family at 221 Hamilton street. Her husband has been for a long time an employe of the Postal Cable Company. Mrs. Trick is a most sensible and cultured lady and her words will be taken as absolute truth by all who know her. She says:—

"I can't help it." Well, says de doctor, "if financial stringency an each day you'll have to get these checks certified." An 'den de trouble commended."

The difficulties under which a church dignitary labors in time of battle can hardly be appreciated by the average layman, says the Atlanta Herald.

These are Bishop General Polk. He had to swear by proxy.

"Charge, men!" he used to say, riding to the front. "Charge!"—charge like Cheatham's men.

The men would laugh and cheer, for Cheatham's inspiring profanity was a proverb in the army. More than once the gallant bishop narrowly saved himself from original indignation, so to speak.

On one occasion his men had been compelled to remain inactive for quite a while under fire, and when finally the opportunity did come to charge and even up the score the general was desperately eager and enthusiastic.

"Now's our time, boys," he shouted. "Give 'em hell!" Charge! Charge the ————

And then he shouted: "—, as my friend Early would say, charge!"

There was one hymn of which Parson Black was especially fond, and which so accurately expressed his sentiments that he made use of it on all possible occasions, says a Boston paper. One of these was the funeral of his most prominent deacon, who, though active in the affairs of the church, had, in the business world, a reputation for sharpness and closeness that was not wholly enviable.

The services were drawing to a close, Parson Black rose slowly from his chair, and, in a voice of sepulchral sadness, said: "Friends!—before removing the remains of our dearly beloved brother from this house to the house appointed for all the living let us join in singing 'the twenty-seventh hymn:—

"To see the curse removed."

Rev. Mr. Wilcox—I believe it would be a good idea to preach a sermon on the wickedness of horse racing. Some of the members are betting I hear.

Deacon Potbury—"Don't do it. Next Sunday, before removing the remains of our dearly beloved brother, you will make the winners mad. While the losers will fully agree with you they haven't anything to give."

Hugh McDonald of Athens, Ga., attended an Adventist meeting, and when the preacher told of the fool of fire that would destroy the world, Mr. McDonald promptly called the preacher a liar, adding a few choice oaths by way of emphasis. He was arrested for disturbing public worship and sentenced to the county jail for 100 days.

They grabbed the missionary and the church collection day. If you preach against horse racing you will make the winners mad. While the losers will fully agree with you they haven't anything to give."

A supposed miraculous fall of manna in Martin and Diabouric (Asiatic Turkey), has been found by chemical investigation to be due to deposits of a species of lichen, which was carried by winds in quite a natural manner, so to speak.

A certain minister whose health had become impaired by too close attention to his duties in a large parish applied to his physician for counsel.

"Go outside and get some of the good old-fashioned 'Beecham's Pills' and the advice he received. "It will help you and it won't hurt the birds."

Resurrecting Her. She was a little bit afraid of the big waves, but the presence of her big cousin from Chicago reassured her. "Now," she said, "I'll get right on it. I shall make a vociferous appeal for assistance."

"Be careful," he said, heartily, "don't do that. Jest you holler for help an' I'll be on hand."

Extravagance. Washington Star: "John," she said to her husband, "do you mean to say I mustn't get any more out of the bank?"

"Well, I think it's dreadfully extravagant of you to let that lovely check book you gave me on my birthday lie idle and go to waste. There!"

Church Bells Toll a Day's Repose. "I remember," said an old soldier last Sunday morning, "when church-going bells much more distant than those saved the city of Atlanta. It is a story I never saw in print."

In early August, 1864, General Sherman's army, in on Atlanta. The Eleventh Indiana battery had placed in position with our assistance four sixty-four-pound rifle guns to shell the city with heavy artillery, under the command of General John M. Brannan. Our regiment, the Second Massachusetts, had had Sunday morning inspection and parade, after which the men of the regiment went to the hill back of the camp to see the effect of the fire on the city lying below us and two and a half miles away.

"We could see the churches of Atlanta from the spires of several of which were floating rebel flags. The batteries were in position, the guns were shotted, the fuses were lit, and an officer stepped up to pull the lanyard to fire the first shot. As he lifted his hand the sound of a church bell ringing the people to worship fell on his ears.

"For a moment there was silence. The officers looked from one to the other, and the shot was not fired that day. The Sunday church-going bell was too much for the Twentieth corps of Sherman's army. But on Monday the city got it."

Missed Connection. Harper's Bazar: "What are you standing on this corner for?" queried the policeman of old Abner Brown of Westport.

"Why, I just put a letter in that box there for my wife, an' it's just occurred to me as how she ain't likely to get it."

"Because she ain't comin' this way, an' even if she was she ain't got no key to get in the box with."

THE KICKAPOOS' GREETING

Words of Sympathy to the Sick and Suffering Whites.

After the Kickapoo Indians had consented to allow their roots, herbs and berries to be introduced among the whites, they had a grand Medicine dance, lasting all night. Their wild movements in fantastic array around the medicine bag, and their time to a chant they sang. The meaning of the words of their song was wholly of kindness, love and sympathy—a portion translated as follows:

"Have kindness bring you health."

"Have love for all that you see."

"Have hope for the great spirit."

"Have peace for all that you see."

"It will make you well and happy."

It was with the feelings expressed by the roots, herbs and berries about which the Indian has more knowledge than any living biologist or physician.

Remember, too, that "Kickapoo" Remedies are genuine Indian preparations. In their use get the best and prepare them for shipment. Indians receive them at Lakamport, in Kansas, then for the medicine and berries and the finished product. From first to last they are true medicines.

Kickapoo Indian Sarsaparilla, the Great Liver, Blood and Stomach Renovator, and other Kickapoo Indian Remedies are Sold by All Druggists.

It is this "Thy Thy Tree."

Washington Star: Mr. Briny Billins, who has recently made his appearance in literature as the "poet of thirst," has just evolved the following after a trip to the summer resorts:

The farther from home That your footstep you steer, The bigger the "saw" On a sashover of beer.

Origin of the Trouble. "What was de trouble at de pokah pah ty last night?"

"Well, you see, one ob de gemmen tried ter cash in er han full ob brass buttons. De banker says, 'All de red ob de checks is rubber buttons.' So odder feller answers:

ON THE OUTSIDE—That is the best place to make a man's appearance in literature as the "poet of thirst," has just evolved the following after a trip to the summer resorts:

The farther from home That your footstep you steer, The bigger the "saw" On a sashover of beer.

Origin of the Trouble. "What was de trouble at de pokah pah ty last night?"

"Well, you see, one ob de gemmen tried ter cash in er han full ob brass buttons. De banker says, 'All de red ob de checks is rubber buttons.' So odder feller answers:

ON THE OUTSIDE—That is the best place to make a man's appearance in literature as the "poet of thirst," has just evolved the following after a trip to the summer resorts:

The farther from home That your footstep you steer, The bigger the "saw" On a sashover of beer.

Origin of the Trouble. "What was de trouble at de pokah pah ty last night?"

"Well, you see, one ob de gemmen tried ter cash in er han full ob brass buttons. De banker says, 'All de red ob de checks is rubber buttons.' So odder feller answers:

ON THE OUTSIDE—That is the best place to make a man's appearance in literature as the "poet of thirst," has just evolved the following after a trip to the summer resorts:

The farther from home That your footstep you steer, The bigger the "saw" On a sashover of beer.

Origin of the Trouble. "What was de trouble at de pokah pah ty last night?"

"Well, you see, one ob de gemmen tried ter cash in er han full ob brass buttons. De banker says, 'All de red ob de checks is rubber buttons.' So odder feller answers:

ON THE OUTSIDE—That is the best place to make a man's appearance in literature as the "poet of thirst," has just evolved the following after a trip to the summer resorts:

The farther from home That your footstep you steer, The bigger the "saw" On a sashover of beer.

Origin of the Trouble. "What was de trouble at de pokah pah ty last night?"

"Well, you see, one ob de gemmen tried ter cash in er han full ob brass buttons. De banker says, 'All de red ob de checks is rubber buttons.' So odder feller answers:

CONSUMPTION IN THE FAMILY

The Knowledge of This Fact Was a Constant Source of Apprehension and Shadowed Her Life.

Mrs. W. J. Trick lives with her husband and family at 221 Hamilton street. Her husband has been for a long time an employe of the Postal Cable Company. Mrs. Trick is a most sensible and cultured lady and her words will be taken