TRIUMPHS AT THE TARGET

Proficiency with Rifles Displayed by the Sharpshooters at Ruser's.

SHOTS MINGLED WITH MERRY SONGS

Singing Societies Participate at the Pavilion in the Park—Parade and Banquet—Major Wirth's Exclusive Prize for Star Boarders.

The third day of the eighth biennial tournament of the Western Shooting league, held at Ruser's park, witnessed the largest attendance of any day of the gathering.

In addition to the teams already on the ground, representatives of the South St. Louis club, Joliet, Ill., Milwaukee and others, arrived to participate in the rifle contest.

As usual, many of the riflemen stood ready to fire when the opening signal by the becher was given. Thereafter no time was lost by any of them.

In this way the forenoon passed under a continuous fire without any other incident to attract special attention except the announcement that the contestants had scored the necessary number of points (123) for a gold medal on the Keith target.

While those in the park, after partaking of a good dinner, were pausing for a fresh start in the afternoon, members of various German societies were gathering at the headquarters in this city preparatory to marching in a body to the Webster street depot, where a train was taken to Schustzer park.

The positions were formed in front of the headquarters, with King and Butt heading the parade. Next came the Musical Union band, preceding the committees from the Bavarian Verein in carriages, President Fischer with the flag of the society occupying the first one.

Marshals Adam Snyder and Herman Schafer led the portion composed of a section of the Omaha turnverein clad in their gray suits, the Saengerbund and the Swiss society.

Welcomed by Heimrod. In the large pavilion at the park the gathering was welcomed by Hon. George Heimrod, post president, who was introduced by Herman Schafer.

The Saengerbund then rendered the "Welcome," and in the park, "The Last Greeting," "Marguerite" and many other inspiring songs under the masterly leadership of Prof. Charles Peterson.

The singing society demonstrated that Omaha has only one Saengerbund. The steady park by this time presented an animated scene with the band playing in one part, the singing society rendering songs in another, the Saengerbund in another and the music of the crowd of people of the steps to the bowling alley, where a great deal of noise was occasioned by the rolling of the balls and the clapping of the hands.

The feature of yesterday's program was the shoot at a twenty-five ring target by teams of six men, the St. Louis sharpshooters, South St. Louis club, Bennington, Davenport and Omaha taking part in this. The Milwaukee team also desired to take part in this, but were ruled out by the shooting on account of having only five men present.

ROADSTER CLUB MATTERS.

Stockholders Make a Statement Explaining the Trouble that has Recently Arisen in the Omaha Gentlemen's Roadster Club has not been fully understood by the members, and in order that it may be before them correctly and openly, we wish to state that the actions of the board of directors caused the members of the club to wish for a stockholder's meeting.

The trouble that has recently arisen in the Omaha Gentlemen's Roadster club has not been fully understood by the members, and in order that it may be before them correctly and openly, we wish to state that the actions of the board of directors caused the members of the club to wish for a stockholder's meeting.

Having made the objects of the call of this special meeting to touch upon some apparently tender subjects for the board, they held a meeting of the board and changed the by-laws, changing section 8 from "shall call a meeting upon the request of the stockholders" to "may call."

It was taking from the stockholders the power of calling a special meeting. The constitution and by-laws of the club, which were made according to the power to change the by-laws for any other purpose than for the proper government of the club, and in no way shall any change be made to conflict with the laws of the state. They also changed sections 6 and 7, preventing the use of proxies at stockholders' meetings, thinking that by so doing they would prevent the stockholders from having a

Accepted the Challenge. NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The anarchists' heads and the policemen's locusts came in violent contact again yesterday. A meeting was in progress and the usual speeches were being made, when finally one of the speakers shouted: "The police dare not come in here. If they show themselves in here the scenes at Wall-hall will be repeated."

Just as he said this a captain of police and ten men appeared. The captain told them to clear the hall. They marched to the front and began operations. It was the liveliest incident lately. The men tore through the doorways, lurched through the windows and tore the clothes from each other in their efforts to get out. The police plied their clubs vigorously. The man who had been denouncing the police tried to find a way into the cellar. In less than two minutes the room was cleared.
