Browne & Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., won the 3-year-old and under 2:25 class today in hollow style. Dancourt is by Ambassador, dam Lowiand Girl (2:19%), by Legal Tender. Rowland Giri is also the dam of General Alger (2:24). In the first heat Ella Woodline, owned by Woodline farm, Fullerton, Neb., carried her field to the half in 1:05, but was taken back there, and Elloree, coming upon the outside, put her in a pocket, from which she was unable to get out until near the distance flag, when she was pulled out and finished very fast. Ella Woodline is but 2 years old. She was timed separately in 2:22%. In the second heat Ella fairly outfinished the Aller-ton filly and was a very close second at the wire, thus dividing second and third money with Elloree. In the second race Water Lily went away from her field in the first heat and won by several lengths in 2:3314. Alcantarus stepped the second mile in 2:2014, winning from Water Lily by two lengths. The next from Water Lily by two lengths. The next heat was taken by General Alger in 2:24, but Alcantarus was good in the next heat and won in a very close finish in 2:244. Summaries:

SPRINGER IS SOMEWHAT SORE.

The Illinois Congressman Threatens to Cause Trouble, WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 .- Congressman Springer threatens to turn defeat into victory. His displacement from the chairmanship of the ways and means committee was a serious blow to his standing in congress and to his opportunities for securing public prominence. But, instead of being crushed, Mr. Springer has adopted a course which promises to give him even more of a record than he could have secured as chairman of the ways and means committee. Speaker Crisp appointed him chairman of the banking and currency committee, which is a sort of fifth wheel in congressional affairs, and is usually subordinate to the coinage committee. But Mr. Springer proposes to set the banking and currency committee at the very front.

He called his associates together for the first time yesterday and took up the bill of Representative Tom Johnson for the issue of treasury certificates on the deposit of bonds. There was a lengthy debate, which attracted almost as much attention around the capitol as the open debate in the senate and house. The discussion went over until next Fuesday, when Mr. Springer's committee will again be heard from. By that time the Voorhees national bank bill will probably come over from the senate and that also will have to go before Mr.

Springer's committee. In this connection it is recalled that Mr. Springer made his first bound into public attention when he was appointed chairman of that insignificant committee of the house designated as "Expenditures of the War Department." The committee had not held a meeting for ten years, but Mr. Springer got it together and began digging into the ex-penditures of the War department until he unearthed the celebrated scandal which drove Secretary Belknap out of the cabinet. It is announced that Mr. Springer has started in at the present time to repeat his former tactics.

After the meeting of the committee Chairman Springer said: "I do not be-lieve the committee will report a bill in favor of the repeal of the tax, upon the state banks. I know that there is an opinion that there is a majority in the committee in favor of the repeal. It is probably too early to state definitely what the action of the committee will be, but in my judgment there will be a slight majority against the repeal bill. For my own part, I am opp sed to the removal of the tax upon state banks. I EIKLEJOHN'S SILVER BILL between of a Measure He Will Introduce

Representative Meiklejohn has prepared a bill for introduction in the house at an early day, providing; "For the coinage of legal standard silver dollars, and to repeal so much of the act of July 14, 1890, as requires the purchase of 4,590,000 ounces of silver allism is assailed. "If we do anything we should hold out an inducement to the Latin union countries to bullion, or so much as may be offered each month, and to make such coin a legal recoin silver at a profit, instead of a loss, and that can only be done by reducing the ratio to their standard rather than enlarging tender."

The bill directs that any owner of silver bullion may deposit the same at any mint and have it coined into standard silver dollars weighing 412% grains; that when the market price or value of silver shall be less than the coin value thoreof, there shall be levied a seignorage for converting the bullion into standard silver dollars in value equal to the difference between the coin value of 371.25 grains and the market value or price, which shall be paid by the depositor. The seignorage for the coinage of such silver bullion into standard silver dollars' shall be credited to a special fund to be denominated the silver seignorage fund, and it shall be the duty of the director of the United States mint to proclaim each day the price of silver builtion, which shall be the valuation upon which the superintendent of each mint shall make the computation of the coinage seignorage. All silver builton now owned by the government, which is uncoined and against which no certificates have been is-sued, and all silver bullion in the silver sued, and all silver outline in the silver seignorage fund shall be coined. Such standard dollars of the same weight and fineness heretofore coined, shall be a legal tender for all debts and dues, public and private, except where otherwise stipulated in the contract. This bill repeats all other silver purchasing and coinage acts. Worst of the Panie Over.

John Diamond of South Dakota to take charge of the First National bank of Ha-warden, Ia., which suspended yesterday. There have been less than a half dozen bank failures this week and the comptroller balieves that fewer of them will occur in the future. The reports from the banks throughout the country indicate a vastly improved condition of affairs during the past week or two. A half dozen suspended nathe earliest moment when the condition of our finances will warrant it." tional banks are resuming now to every one that fails. Bryan in Deep Water. Representative Bryan is getting into deep water. He made a free silver speech at Cooper Union in New York City last night and in the course of his remarks said: "Labor organizations may sustain for a time the price of labor, but ultimately the wages will have to come down. The manufacturer will be obliged to lower wages or discharge his men. The above was read by many of Mr. Bryan's acquaintances in congress today and it created surprise, as it was a direc acknowledgment that the "tariff reform" which Mr. Bryan is pledged to assist as a member of the committee on ways and means, will result in lowering the wages of laborers and mechanics. It is also a direct stab at organized labor, as it is a declaration that labor organizations cannot maintain wages. But Mr. Bryan is regarded as an opponent of organized labor anyway. News for the Army.

do not believe in going back to the days of the old state banking system and of being compelled to have forty-four different kinds of currency in this country. I remember very well, when a young man, what great difficulty there was in transacting business because of the different kinds of currency. The removal of the tax upon state banks and the re-establishment of the old system would be an obstruction to business. I, for one, am against it, and I do not believe that such a bill can pass. I believe in a currency that is as good in one state as in another. I do not wish to be compelled to trace every note that I receive in a book to ascertain whether the bank it pretends to be issued from issues notes of that denomination, whether the bank has that much capital, and to trace it down as we did in the old days. bill which proposes to increase the pensions of ex-union soldiers who contracted total deafness in the line of duty to $50 a month. The pension at present is $30. Senator Pettigrew has concluded not to go to his home in South Dakota until after the pending important legislation is disposed of, as preliminary votes may be reached either upon the silver or bank circulation bills almost any day. The senator believes that when these questions are disposed of the extra session will adjourn until the time arrives for the convening of the regular ses-sion in December PERRY S. HEATH. hence, it has no price in the United (States, but silver has a price. Silver purchases are simply government consent to prolong its derogation. Such purchases can bever pro-mote their proposed object, to-wit: The preservation of a parity between the two

"My own conviction is that had the last congress or the present one, if convened in extra session on the 5th of March, not de-layed to repeal the Sherman law, the United layed to repeal the Sherman haw, the United States would have escaped the panic and would have precluded the closure of the Indian mints to the free coinage of silver, which besides increasing the panic, scat-tered the seed of monetary disorder over the whole earth, as Germany did twenty years ago. Great Britain defeated the re-newal of the parity of the metals at the monetary conferences of 1878 and 1892. Great Britain new, in 1893, is combining her Asian with her European power to prevent a renewal of the parity of gold and sliver by the United States and France or other powers at any future time. — "It will be observed from what has already been said the permanent remedy is a return to the bimetallism which existed prior to 1873. The country has not tried free coinage since it was abandoned in 1873, but it has tried a limited coinage, silver purchases, the accumulation of silver bul-

Serious Runaway Collision. Last night while Mho and Mrs. Miele were driving south on 'Twenty-second near Grace, five young men on horseback coming in the opposite direction and riding their horses at a furious gait, ran into the vehicle driven by Mr. Miele. One of the horses succeeded in planting his fore feet in the bottom of the buggy and besides break-ing up things badly slightly injured the occupants. The young men, after the affair and before their names could be learned, escaped.
