Trouble in Paying the First Dividend of the Defunct Capital National.

ANOTHER CLASS OF CREDITORS OBJECT

Holders of Charley Mosher's Fraudulent Western Manufacturing Company Notes Scoure an Order Restraining the Receiver from Making Payments.

LINCOLN. Aug. 29 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-The depositors of the Capital National bank are again in trouble. When the recent announcement was made that the receiver was about to pay a 10 per cent dividend on proved claims to those holding receiver's certificates many thought the news too good to be true. From present indications their fears were well founded. The checks calling for the disbursement of some $80,000 among the depositors were received yesterday, and the payment thereon began today to all who called and presented their receiver's certificates. Late this afternoon, however, the Coldwater National bank of Coldwater, Mich., stopped the payment by securing an order from Judge Strede restraining Re-ceiver Hayden from paying out any more Argument on the matter was set for Friday next, and until that time depositors will be compelled to indulge in some further perspiratory exercise.

The Michigan bank holds two of the Western Manufacturing company notes, bearing the brand of the Mosher-Huribut manufacture, calling for $5,000 each, and it claims that they should be paid out of the assets of the bank. These notes, it will be remembered, were made payable to the defunct bank, and after being endorsed by Mosher as president of the Capital National, were sold to the Michigan institution. The receiver refused to consider them as a claim on the bank assets, asserting that they were fraudulently manufactured, that the Capital National had never discounted the same, that they never formed any part of the assets of the bank, nor did it receive any money from the Coldwater bank when the same were alleged to have been sold to it. The point involved is a nice legal one, and as the fraudulent issue amounts to some $150,-000 the decision is of great interest to the depositors. If the court holds them to be valid claims against the bank's assets it reduces the proceeds of the depositors to that extent.

Despite the injunction of the district court Receiver Hayden is going right ahead and paying out the checks, and is holding open this evening for the purpose of paying whoever calls properly equipped. To a BEE reporter Mr. Hayden stated that the injunction was not very sweeping in its terms, but he had announced that he would pay the dividend, and he was going to do it if he went to jail for it. It is probable, however, that he relies on the advice of counsel that the local district court has no jurisdiction over United States officials, and cannot restrain them from doing an act under the Bishop Bonacum's Troubles.

Although shrouded in great secrecy, it develops that the petition of the Catholic laity asking Mgr. Satolli for an immediate trial in the case of Bishop Bonacum, announced in The Ber some time since as having been in circulation here, has finally been forwarded to the papal delegate at Washington. The petition is said to contain the signatures of half a hundred of the leading members of the church in this city and diocese, although no action thereon is anticipated for some months under the rules of the church, which takes its time to such matters. Owing to the strict secrecy maintained it was impossible to secure the charges embraced therein, but it is understood to be a rehash in part of the charges of tyranny, oppression and financial profligacy contained in the charges preferred by the priests at the recent meeting with Satolli in Omaha, together with other events that have transpired since. It sets forth as the opinion of the forth as the opinion of the signers that the best interests of the church will be conserved by his removal to another field, and that the constant turmoil in which the diocese has been thrown for the past year or more has done great damage to the interests of the church.

No Satisfaction Secured. The councilmanic committee that went up to Omaha yesterday to interview the rail-road officials on the probability of their forking over the money necessary to pay the abutting damages in connection with the new viaduct and thus allow the work to proceed, returned today, but received little satisfaction: The members found the Burlington ready to put up its four-sevenths. but the Union Pacific deferred an answer until the future. Attorney Kelly of the legal department of that road stated that they had received instructions from the Boston division to pay out no more money on any western improvements, and although the facts had been laid before them and immediate and favorable action taken, nothing has yet been heard of it.

State House Notes.

The case of Ross R. Mattis, trustee, and R. N. Ball against John Connolly et al., appeal from Pawnee county, involving a decree of foreclosure for $1,700, was filed in the Supreme court today.

The case of Wilhelm Viergutz and Julius

Some time since the city of Lancoln was enjoined by the district court from enforcing against the property on the northeast corner of Fourteenth and Q streets any special assessment for the paving of Fourteenth street, and the city has rushed into court with an appeal. This property is located in a corner of a block 720 feet long, instead of the usual 200 feet square, and the defendant objects to paying the usual proportion of the cost of paving side streets in blocks of 300 feet square. The case of Charles Green against Rachel

B. Green, appeal from York county, presents some interesting features. In the lower court Charles Green applied for a divorce from his wife, with whom he had lived for nineteen years, on the ground of desertion. He showed that the wife was He showed that the wife was possessed of an estate worth $125,000, left her by her father, and sought to obtain the custody of the children and reasonable alimony from his wife. The court, however, found that he had been guilty of extreme cruelty he had been guitty of extreme crueity toward his wife, and gave her a divorce and the custody of the minor children, but gave him a $4.400 equity in some of her real es-tate. From this finding Mrs. Green, who is a resident of New Jersey, appeals. Among the exhibits in the case is a photograph of the town of York in 1877 that presents an interesting study for one familiar with the

The position of jamtor at the state house is no longer a sinecure. Heretofore there have been five jamtors, enjoying a salary of $58 per month each, and a mail carrier $58 per month each, and a mail carrier who drew $66.65. Yesterday the Board of Public Lands and Buildings let out three of the janitors, John Birchell, Mart Dougherty and Gus Redding. It also cut the salary of the remaining two, Harry Johnson, a colored man, and D. C. Mosher, to $50 each. Each will care for half of the first floor. The salary of Mail Carrier Bax was also cut to $50 and he will do the janitor work of the upper floors. This course was necessitated by the refusal of the state auditor to pay by the refusal of the state auditor to pay the $100 salary of the engineer out of the fuel and lights fund instead of out of the state house employes' fund, thus making inroads on the other salaries. Johnson, the colored man, is the indispensable man of the list, as he has been doing most of the work. State Auditor Moore today paid to Mrs. Dora Paxton the $2,000 allowed to her by the last session for the killing of her husband.

Sued for Negligence. The Western Union Telegraph company is made defendant in a suit for $2,000 damages filed in district court by Wortendyke & Spelts, real estate dealers of this city. They wired the owners to know if it could be done, but never received

He insisted on the payment of the 35 cents due on the message, and got it. The plaintiffs claim that if they had been promptly notified by the this claim that if they had been brompthy notified by the company, as was its duty, they could still have saved the trade from falling through, and think they ought to have that amount of damages for the company's negligence

NEBRASKA'S OLD VETERANS

Success of Their Encampment at Grand Island Now Assured.

SOME OF THE ATTRACTIONS AT CAMP LOGAN

Thousands of People Crowd Its Grounds An Interesting Program Arranged for the Remaining Days of the Reunion-Camp Incidents.

CAMP LOGAN, GRAND ISLAND, Aug. 29 .--[Special to THE BEE.] -If any one who has feit that the fifteenth annual reunion of the soldiers and sailors of Nebraska was not going to be a success could see the camp today there would be a rapid change of opinion. The crowd on the opening day exceeded in numbers those of former occasions. It is also noticeable that more veterans are here with their families, and indications are that by tomorrow fully 20,000 strangers will be in the city. Every train arriving comes in heavily loaded, and there is a constant stream of new arrivals in camp.

Inquiry at the different state headquarters discloses the fact that nearly 3,000 veterans are registered, and still they come. Although this is but the second day those in a position to know say that the attendance is as large as it was on the third day of last

The avenues and lanes are crowded with a romenading throng, and enjoyment is de-picted upon every countenance. The Grand Army uniform, the Woman's Relief corps badge and the attire of the Daughters of Veterans and Sons of Veterans are to be seen everywhere and are decidedly in the majority. Just a Little Polities.

The veteran element is as chock full of enthusiasm and patriotism as in the days of the late unpleasantness. Politics is frequently mentioned, both in private conversation and at the campfires. A grizzly old veteran explained this morning old veteran explained this morning that the crowd had not gone democratic this year, and those who did last year have troublesome consciences did last year have troublesome consciences and are returning to the fold of righteous and are returning to the fold of righteous-ness. He said that when an old soluier made a speech that the temptation was ir-resistible and could not refrain from saying a few things about Clevelandism. Tomorrow the entertainment will begin in earnest, and from sunrise to sunset an inter-esting program will be provided each remaining day of the encampment. The camp-fires promise to be very interesting and some of the ablest speakers in the state will make Among those more prominent in Grand

During the afternoon a "navy" camp fire took place. Governor Abbott of Grand Island made the first address. He was fol-lowed by Hon. Church Howe, who had recovered sufficiently from his illness to enable covered sufficiently from his illness to enable him to reach the grounds. He said he was not in condition physically to talk at this time, but before the week was out he wanted to talk to the boys for an hour or so. He said a great majority of people had demanded a change and got it, and now they were clamoring for another. He thought it time for the clamoring He thought it time for the old soldiers to ge together and vote as they fought. He had an idea as to how they should proceed as men to bring this about. Just as soon as he was able he would give his views, and he wanted to talk to the veterans, not as inde-pendents, democrats or republicans, but as comrades, and he proposed to do this. Landgrabbers Given a Serious Backset by the General Land Office.

MUST KEEP OFF INDIAN RESERVATIONS

Shrewd Plan by Which Choice Locations Were to Be Grabbed Frustrated by an Order from Washington - Honest Settlers' Silm Chances.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., Aug. 29,-Yesterday

B. S. Barnes telegraphed Secretary Smith asking if settlers would be allowed to make the run from the Chilocco, Osage and Ponca reservations. This morning he received a telegram from S. A. Lamoraix, register of the general land office, which settles the question of points from which the run can legalty be made. The Indian reservations of the Poncas and Otoes are all parts of the Cherokee Strip and many people had made preparations to make run from their boundaries, . The south boundary of the Otoe reservation is only two miles from the county seat and land office between Perry and Wharton, and hundreds of Guthrie men intended going to Perry on the morning of the opening and walking into the new county seat and claim the choicest town lots, arriving ahead of the horsemen from the Oklahoma line. In the same manner many intended going from Arkansas City to the Kansas and Nez Perces reservations and make the run to Butter creek, Pand creek and other important projected townsites. The telegram received from the commissioner is as follows:

Dishonesty Checked.

The president's proclamation preserves Chiloco, Osage and Ponca reservations from lands to be opened. I have no authority to grant parties permission to gothereon.
