Unexpected Incident at the Funeral of Little Vera Withrow.

OFFICER MURPHY'S PAINFUL EXPERIENCE

In Attempting to Arrest William Carnahan an Old Offender, a Driver of One of the Carringes, He is Assaulted.

A variation from the program of the funeral of little Vera Withrow was the cause of an almost unlimited amount of criticism yesterday afternoon, and, if the state ments of Mr. Withrow, an Omaha liveryman, are to be believed, the police have yet to hear the closing chapter of the affair. William Carnaban, a hack driver, was arwilliam Carnahan, a hack driver, was arrested by Officer G. L. Martin several months ago and on trial was convicted of drunkenness. As he was leaving the court room he called out to Officer Martin, informing him that he would get even with him. Justice Vien, who was holding court that morning, thereupon called him back and sentenced him to thirty days on the chain gang. Carnahan miled the nick on the chain gang. Carnahan plied the pick and shovel for a few days and then skipped to Omaha, where he has been ever since. The police have been patiently waiting for his return, but never had a chance to let their optics fall on him until yesterday

Assaulted the Officer. Carnahan was sent by Mr. Withrow to this side of the river to drive a hack contain-ing six of the mourners to Fairview ceme-tery. The police got wind of the fact that he was here, but decided not to take him in custody until he was on his return from the cemetery. They lay in wait for him at the corner of Bryant street and Washington avoice, and as he passed Officer Washington averue, and as he passed Omeer Murphy ran out and ordered him to stop. He evidently surmised what was wanted, but instead of stopping whipped up his horses. Murphy jumped on the back end of the back and finally climbed up onto the top. In the meantime the vehicle had gone and all blocks. several blocks. When Carnahan saw that Murphy was intending to get him he reached around and dealt nim a terrific blow on the head with the butt of his whip, dazing the officer and almost knocking him senseless. Carnahan then jumped from the hack and The horses were flery animals, and it was only Murphy's presence of mind in climbing forward to the seat and seizing the reins, in spite of his half dazed condition, that prevented the people who were riding in the hack from being seriously, if not fatally, injured. Carnahan Arrested. Officer Cousins was informed of what had happened, and, getting in a buggy, gave chase to Carnahan, overhauling him finally in the sunflowers near the corner of Seven-teenth street and Sixth avenue. He was charged with assaulting an officer, and will be tried on the charge as soon as he has completed his sentence on the chain gang for his old offense.

Mr. Withrow, the owner of the back, was indignant at the action of the officer in climbing over his back, scratching up the varnish that had been put on but a day or two before. The fact that the hack was being used at a funeral aggravated the injury, and what made it still worse from Mr. Withrow's standpoint vas the fact that he is a relative of the parties who were riding in the vehicle at the time of the second the vehicle at the time of the occurrence. He says he means to find out before he is through with it whether any officer has a right to try to arrest his driver while officiating at a funeral, and, besides putting the mourners in a very embarrassing stua-tion, doing actual damage to his property. He threatens to have Murphy arrested. Murphy's injury is a very painful one, but is not thought to be serious.

AFTER DULL'S WEALTH.

Attorney Haldane Comes to the Front with a Generous Request for Fees. A. W. Askwith commenced a suit in the district court yesterday which reminds a good many people who have reason for being acquainted with one Charles Haldane, who formerly practiced law here, that there is still such a man in existence. Daniel Dull is the defendant in the suit, and Askwith, who laims to hold an assignment of claims from Haldane, wants a judgment for $10,000 at-torney fees. Dull, it will be remembered, was interested in the case of Blackman against Wright, which was tried at the last term of the district court in this city. In this suit Mr. Haldane was quite a prominent feature by reason of his sharp and shrewe

In his petition Askwith alleges that be tween September, 1892, and May, 1803, Hal-dane acted as attorney for Dull, and in that time Dull managed to run up a bill of $8.615 for legal information purchased at Haldane's emporium. He giso alleges that Dull and Haldane entered into an agreement by which the former was to pay the latter $50 a week for the period of one year, in return for the for the period of one year, in fetting in assignment of some property in litigation in New York City, and as Dull failed to pay him his weekly stipend during the year, he wants $2,600 on that deal. Five hundred and fifty dollars is all he admits having received from Dull, and so his entire bill runs up to $10,665.

Judge McGee rendered his decision yesterday morning in the case of Charles Wareham, whose trial on the charge of making a beastly exhibition of himself has been on for several days past. It was a decision which would seem to be an eye-opener to this class of offenders. There were three charges of the same kind, and a fine of $100 was levied in each case, the heaviest fire that could be imposed for an offense of the kind. The cost in the three cases will run up to nearly another $100, and in default of the $400, which Wareham would have to raise to pay his fine, he will have to remain in the county jail for about four months. He was identified as the guilty party beyond the shadow of a doubt and during the triat other evidence was introduced which showed him to be a brute of even a worse character than was at first even a worse character than was at first

M'CORMICK WILL COME.

Big Manufacturing Enterprise to Be Located

In Council Bluffs. A deal was consummated yesterday by which Council Bluffs will secure one of the largest enterprises that has ever set foot within its borders. For months negotiations have been pending looking toward the consolidation of the four warehouses of the Mc-Cormick Manufacturing company of Chicago and the removal of the entire concern thus formed to this city. The warehouses are now located at Des Moines, Lincoln, Omaha and Kansas City. The McCormick people through their representatives in this city have been casting about for a location fo the mammoth building which will be erected The property they finally chose is located near the corner of Tenth avenue on South Main street. A large portion of it belonged to the Palmer estate, and the title was far from clear. The perfecting of the title was a matter that took weeks to accomplish, and that is the research to the fact of the street of that is the reason the fact of the re-moval has not been allowed to be an-nounced to the public through the pa-pers. It has been several weeks since it was practically decided that Council Bluffs should be the future distributing point for this mammoth concern, but the company was not willing that the announcement should be made until the title to the prop-erty should be cleared up and the deeds placed on record, when there would be no. danger of a backset. Yesterday all the pre-liminaries were completed, the deeds were placed on record and the removal is now an established fact.

The plans for the building have already been drawn and the work of erection will probably be commenced within the next three weeks. By the terms of the contract the buildings now on the site are to be removed within ten days. The building to be erected will be 80x240 feet in size and five stories high, the lot being 100x270 feet. Shipping facilities will be afforded by the Union Pacific, Northwestern, Rock Island, Kansas City, Milwaukee and Burlingtor roads, all of which have tracks in direct communication with the site. A twenty-foot platform will extend along the east side of the building throughout its entire length. It will be by all odds the largest jobbing establishment in the city. and its capacity of 500 carloads of imple ments will make it a suitable headquarter for what is probably the largest institution of the kind in the west, if not in the whole ountry. The people of Council Bluffs are to be congratulated on the success of the nego tiations which will give the city an enter prise of such magnitude, for it is another recognition of the unsurpassed shipping fa cilities of which Council Bluffs can boast.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, IA.

Will Try to Prove that His Wife Committed Suicide.

YESTERDAY

leighbors of the Alleged Iowa Wife Murderer Explain the Manner of the Accused at the Scene of the Crime. Avoca, Ia., Sept. 1 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. ]-It is now quite apparent that the defense in the Mawhor case is to be made along the theory that the death of wife No. 5 was the result of suicide. Every effort is being made by the attorneys for the defense to form a case along this line, and every scrap of testimony that in any way tends to strengthen the theory is called in and carefully made the most of. In the hearing to day this plan was made very apparent, great stress being laid on the testimony of witnesses to the effect that on the second hearing before the coroner of Fremont county Mawhor had claimed his wife had told woman acquaintances of her intention to kill herself, saying that twice she had tried it and her courage had failed when she had put the cup to her lips. Evidence was admitted to the effect that one of Mawhor's hired men had complained that he could not stay on the piace because of the wife's animosity; she having been in censed at him because he refused to accede to her advances. The court refused to allow the state to go into any inquiry concerning the aeath of wives Nos. 3 and 4.

Evidence of the Day. The testimony taken in the forenoon was that of a man named Smith, who worked for Mawhor. He testified that Mawhor had told him that another hired man named Smith had been forced to out his employ because Mrs. Mawhor had used him despitefully, and had assigned as a reason for her conduct toward him that as a reason for her conduct toward him that she sought his company as a bedfellow. Two other witnesses testified that Mawhor told them the same story. It was also brought out that at the November meeting of the coroner's jury Mawhor asked leave to testify that on the night of Mrs. Mawhor's death, when he went after a light he found on the table in the kitchen a cup he had not noticed there before. Mawhor also said to the there before. Mawher also said to the coroner at that time that his wife had told a Mrs. Edgerton and another woman of her intention to kill berself, but that on the two occasions she had undertaken the act her courage had failed her at the last moment. Minor testimony, going to show that Maw hor and his wife lived together happily without quarreling? and that he was pre-paring to leave the farm, and go to Kansas City to reside, was introduced. The corone testified to having made an examination of the body of the deceased woman, and not finding any cuts, bruises or any other causes from which tetanus might have developed, thus destroying the theory of the defense to the effect that death was caused by lockjaw Prof. Dav.s' Analysis.

Prof. Davis of Scorro, N. M., president of the New Mexico College of Mines, testified that he had received a box from the coroner of Fremont county containing the stomach and part of the heart, lungs and brain of the deceased. He made chemical tests of the same and found .828 grain of strych its basic state, which 1.2 grains of commune. At the close of make commercia strychnine. testimony the crystals produced from the organs on chemical test were placed on glass slides and compared and tested with known strychnine and found tested with known strychnine and found beyond question to be strychnine. The use of 01 of a grain will cause convulsions in thirty minutesand death in an hour and a half. The professor also tested a small quantity of crystals, which were extremely bitter, conclusively showing the presence of strychnine in the organs of the deceased. Prof. Davis destroyed the organs after the experiment, which caused the defendant to object to his testimony, because of no notice being given to the adverse party of the examination by which method another chemist could take part in the investigation and because of a rule that the party who destroys evidence

Mrs. Hoon testified to being at the Mawhor homestead twenty minutes after the death of the deceased and helped to dress the body for burial. She said Mawhor ex-hibited no emotion till the burial, when She said that Mawhor came in when the body was being laid out and said: "I can as well do that," and sat down, pulled off his boots and jumped on the bed and lifted the body off. She considered such conduct exceedingly impudent. She had called on Mrs. Mawhor once and thought she lived happily with her husband and had no cause for complaint.

S. R. Smith worked for Mawhor till noor of the day of the deceased's death. He lived at home and saw nothing of Mawhor's life.
