NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Rapid Progress in Their Erection—Will Be Ready for New Term, Architect Latenser reports with some pride the progress made on the city's new chool buildings, and calls attention to their almost complete condition as an evidence that the contractors have made due effort to comply with the terms of their contracts. Mr. Latenser says that when the public schools open on the 11th the Saratoga, Lethrop, Central, Windsor and West Omaha school buildings will be ready for occupancy, and that the children may be safely housed in them. As to the Hartman building, it will be ready, Mr. Latenser says, by October 1, all that remains to be done being some finishing touches on the basement and the cleaning of the rooms. Work on the Franklin school is necessarily delayed on account of the restraining order issued by Judge Ferruson enjoining the board from paying any money to the contractors, which order resulted in the refusal of the men employed to continue work.

fusal of the men employed to continue work. Judge Ferguson will today decide whether the order shall become a permanent injunction. The building will be finished, Mr. Latenser says, by February next.

All the new buildings with the exception of the Central schook are fitted with the Fuller & Warren dry gloset system. The Central building is to be steam heated and has the ordinary sewage system. Central building is to be steam heated and has the ordinary sewage system.

Ground has been broken on the sites for the Long and Center schools, and the work on them will be rapidly pushed. The committee on buildings and property opened the bids for the construction of the Hickory school yesterday afternoon, and will report on two of the bids, others, with their accompanying checks, being ordered returned to the bidders. John H. Thiessen made the lowest complete bid, offering to construct the building for $17,933. The lowest combined bid was that of P. Soderberg and John P. Thomas, the former bidding $9,492 for carpenter work and the latter $7,700 for pressed brick work, aggregating $17,192. Several bids for common brick were presented, but the committee declined to consider them. The board will probably award the contract at its meeting today.

SECOND DAY AT THE COUNTY FAIR

Impressions of the Venture-Comparison to Previous Affairs of the Kind-Fakirs and Their Fads-Features of the Exhibits.

Handicapped by the work of former managements, the Douglas County Fair association has been compelled to face tremendous odds in endeavoring to gather the material and present to the public an exposition of the resources of this county that would be at once creditable to the county and the association and satisfac-tory to the people. An exhibit has been secured that is by all odds a vast improvement over what has been presented to the public under the auspices of this associa-tion for a number of years past. But it must not be imagined that it is what can be classed as a first-class fair, when compared with what the Douglas county fair ought to be, for it is lacking in a great many respects. This, however, cannot properly be charged to the fair association, for the obstacles that they have had to encounter must be considered.

An entirely new class of exhibitors is represented at the fair this year. One of the new departures was to remove the bar of ex-clusiveness that has heretofore kept out exhibits from outside the county, and the premiums were offered for the open compe-tition of all. One effect was to bring exhibits from several other counties, princi-pally from those adjoining, but there are valuable exhibits on the grounds from Jefferson and Merrick counties, and even others farther away.

Although the exhibits are much more numerous than for some time past, they are by no means what might reasonably be expected from Douglas county. The manage-ment is aware of this and is endeavoring to so conduct the business of the present fair that every exhibitor will be satisfied and come again. The minutest details have been given close attention, and especial care is taken that exhibitors from outside shall not be imposed upon in any manner whatever. The best rates and accommodations have een secured for them and all have been requested to immediately report to the mangement any violation of agreements or unsatisfactory conduct on the part of subordinates, Cereals and Live Stock. There is one feature of the fair that could hardly have been better under any circumstances, and that is the quality of the exhibits. The corn, small grain, vegetables, honey, flowers and live stock are probably as fine as will be found at any western fair this

In striking contrast to the deserted cattle sheds of last year are the full exhibits of Jerseys and polled cattle, while the exhibit of swine is exceptionally good. The draft horse department is not numerously filled, but there is a poultry exhibit that has not been equaled in this county for years, even if such was ever the case. Not only are the various breeds well represented but there is active competition in the various classes, the poultry building being completely filled.

Although no prizes were offered for such exhibits there is a domestic animal exhibit that is of much interest. It includes a bench show of respectable proportions, and there are numerous pens of rabbits that are of much interest to the children.

The agricultural exhibit is 50 per cent larger than a year ago, and the same is true of the horticultural fruit and dairy exhibits. The art hall is filled to overflowing and some very fine work is there on exhibition.

The display of farm implements and those of other business houses is noticeably small, but former exhibitors are already regretting that they allowed their experience in years gone by to prevent them from availing them-selves of this opportunity to place their goods before the people this year.

The speed program is fully up to the stau-dard, and the boxes are more than well illed with fast ones. The first impression the visitor receives on entering the grounds is that the fair is principally made up of catch-penny affairs and side shows. Certain it is that this class of entertainment is not lacking, but with possibly a single exception these "grafts" are what might be expected at a fair. This one exception is what is gorgeously designated a "silver mine," and it probably is something of the sort for its proprietors. Its business is the sale of pictures of female in tights or still cooler apparel, and each draws a prize, sometimes a button, and once in a while a dollar, with an occasional lead pencil thrown in. It was Children's day yesterday, and these fakers managed to keep their booths besieged by school boys, with a slight sprinkling of boys of greater age and The attention of the management was called to the situation last evening. It was stated that the place had not been nvestigated, and that up to that time the directors had not known of its character. Pink-Cheeked Infants. The baby show at the fair yesterday after-noon was an immense success. It was the first day, and the girl babies were on dress parade. There were forty entries, and Supariate. Incre work was the happiest man on the grounds. The judges who performed their perilous duties without fear or favor, were J. C. McArdle, Mrs. L. E. Simpson and Mrs. E. H. Walker. After a great deal of critical inspection and careful consideration of the points that go to make up the perfect baby, whatever they may be, the prizes were awarded as follows:

Mrs. E. Gavin, 1206 North Forty-seventh avenue, Omaha, first prize, $12.50; Mrs. E. B. Talmage, 2582 Harney street, Omaha, second prize, $7.50; Mrs. D. W. Caruthers, 1320 North Twentieth street, Omaha, third prize, $7.50. prize, $5.

Today the boy babies will be on exhibition and a different and as yet unknown set of judges will adjudicate on their appearance as it is supposed to be of the utmost impor-tance to keep the personnel of the judging board a deep secret until the time of the contest, in order to keep them free from the preliminary lobbying of the ambitious mothers Old Abe Will Be There. CHICAGO, Sept. 5.-The Wisconsin state board is preparing a fine program for tomorrow, Wisconsin's day at the fair, speeches forming no part of it. The greatest attraction will be "Old Abe. the famous war eagle that followed his soldier comrades from the beginning to the finish of the rebellion. Old soldiers visiting the building always ask why he is not there and are disappointed when told that the authorities of Wisconsin will not allow him to be taken from the state house, where he stands. have, however, consented to send him to the fair on Wisconsin day, and his bald head will rear proudly above his old-time friends, although the eyes are sightless. Jewish Bakers Complain LONDON, Sept. 5.—A deputation of Jewish workmen waited on Mr. Adler, the chief rabbi, yesterday and com-plained of the way in which they were treated by their employers. They were employed, they said, in Jewish bakeries and were kept at work from 5 o'clock in the evening until I o'clock the next af-ternoon. Their average wages did not exceed 10 shillings a week. They also complained that they were unable to fulfill their religious duties, as their masters compelled them to work on Saturdays behind closed shutters. Rabbi Adler expressed sympathy for the men and promised to see their employers without delay.

London, Sept. 5.—The body of Ham-brough, the young American whose dead body was found on the Ardiamont estate in the county of Argyle, Scotland, was exhumed today at Ventnor, Isle of Wight. An examination of the remains showed that the gunshots in the head must have been fired from a distance, thus precluding the theory of suicide. The dead man's father says that his son had insurance on his life to the amount of $100,000 and that the policy had been assigned to Mrs. Monson, the wife of the man who is under arrest on suspicion of having murdered Hambrough.

TOUGH ON OFFICESEERERS. Nothing Being Done by the President and the Senate on Patronage. WASHINGTON, Sept 5,-President Cleveland has brought the question of federal patronage almost to a standstill. He is making very few appointments and these few are of such minor consequence that they make more conspicuous the important appointments which remain unacted upon. Mr. Cleveland has pursued this policy of inaction toward the office seekers ever since he summoned congress in extra session. He stated at that time that the candidates for office would have to stand aside until the financial question was settled. Some of the silver senators have as-serted that this was a threat to force a vote in the senate. Administration leaders have not denied that a threat was intended.

Yesterday the president sent to the senate a batch of appointments. The list was eagerly scanned by the demo-cratic senators, but it gave them no satisfaction. It covered a few postmasters, revenue collectors and quite a number of army and navy appointments. The significant feature of the list was that it did not contain any of the customs or revenue collectors endorsed by the senators and recommended by Secretary Carlisle. Mr. Cleveland has "held up" these important appointments for nearly two months.

The senators are as slow in confirming Mr. Cleveland's appointments as he is in making them. Of the 306 nominations sent to the senate since the extra session began, only 169 have been confirmed. Of the 101 foreign ministers and consuls recently nominated, only fifty-three have been confirmed. Of the treasury nominations the senate has confirmed only seventeen out of forty-four. Ten postoffice nominations have made in this time and the senate has not yet confirmed one. It is apparent, therefore, that the senators are reciprocating in the policy of inaction. This is due mainly to the fact that several of the important senate committees, mainly those passing upon postoffices and treasury appointments, have a preponderance of anti-administration senators. With the president and the senate thus turned away from patronage, there is a lull in this branch of business almost unprecedented in the early months of administrations. UNEARTHED A DOUBLE MURDER.

Summer Boarders from New York Killed in the Mountains of Counceticut.

MIDDLETON, Conn., Sept. 5 .- The discovery of what has the appearance of a double murder has just been made at Burlingham, at the foot of the Shawangunk mountains. The events leading up to the supposed murder date a little time back. Paul Holliday, a widower, who resides near Burlingham, recently married a young woman who had been working for him. Soon after the marriage the house and barn were burned and his crippled son was burned to death in the house. Mrs. Holliday was arrested for arson and held in the Orange county jail, where she showed evidence of insanity. She was sent to the state hospital, and subsequently being released returned home. The latter part of last week Holliday was missed. He had not been seen by his neighbors since last Thursday. A watch was set on Holliday's premises and Mrs. Holliday questioned as to her husband's whereabouts. She said he had gone to Bloomingburg to work as a mason, but investigation proved her statements false. Mrs. Holliday made some inquiries as to what would remove bloodstains, and her actions becoming mysterious, she was arrested, A searching party was made up to look for Holliday. In the barn at Holliday's place they found, under a lot of hay, the bodies of two women. One was that of a fleshy woman about 45 years old and the other that of a young girl aged about 19. In the body of the elder woman there were eight bullets. Death had evidently taken place about four days ago. While the names of the dead women are unknown, it is thought they were summer boarders from New York city. Coroner Soesh of Wurtsboro has summoned a jury and local physicians are smaking a post-mortem examination. The search for Holliday

JUROK HIGBEE'S CASE.

Unfavorably to Him-Fair Notes.
CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Evidence in the case of Juror Higbee, charged with offering to sell awards to exhibitors at the fair, is all in, and it is generally under-stood that Commissioner Massey and his special committee of investigation will report unfavorably to Higbee, who will be dismissed from the service. Highee declares he will fight the committee's decision in the courts if it is against President Palmer presided at the meeting of the National commissioners vesterday for the first time in nearly two months. He has been touring the east with his family to benefit Mrs. Palmer's health. The commission, as usual, did nothing except to take a recess, as the roll call showed no quorum present. Asked what about the fund for the duke of Veragua, about which President Palmer has been reported as solicitous, he replied that this was no time to look for subscriptions for any purpose. Nothing had been done therefore to help

LONDON, Sept. 5.—A dispatch from Rome to the Central News Agency gives an account of a riot in the town of Sulmona in the province of Aquila, Italy, which originated in the appearance of cholera in that place. A number of cases of the disease had occurred in the town, and, as a precautionary measure, the officials attempted to stop a religious procession. This led to serious trouble and an encounter between the military and police and the paraders was the re-sult. During the fight a captain of

MEN, MONEY AND MEASURES

Interesting Interview with an Official of the Overland Route.

SITUATION ON THE UNION PACIFIC

General Manager Dickinson Discusses the Situation and Reviews the Conditions that Have Led to Recent Reductions-Figures that Are Authentic.

Much has been written about the Union Pacific system in the past three months, much that has been sensational, for it dealt with receivers and strikes, and very much that had hard chunks of truth about it. But an inside knowledge of the system has only been vaguely hinted at. There is no denying the fact that the company has been hard hit, and that at one time not so very long ago the possibility of a receiver was much brighter than it is today. Earnings have tallen off in startling figures, which have been checked somewhat by wholesale reductions in train miles, in emwholesale reductions in train miles, in employes and in salaries. But it is claimed that further reductions are absolutely needed to meet the decreased earnings, and the scheduled men have been asked to stand their proportion of the losses, for a time at least until business picks up. Out of this last suggestion has grown all talks of a strike on the part of organized labor of the avstem.

General Manager Dickinson was in a somewhat communicative mood yesterday morning and he freely talked over the present situaand he freely tarked over the present situa-tion on his road with a representative of Ting BEE. He spoke kindly of the men and knew what reduction in salary meant, as he was one of the unfortunates to feel the ax. He alluded to the hearty support he he aliuded to the hearty support he was receiving from the shops men who were greatly reduced in hours. Yet they accepted the situation, knowing that reduction was a last resort. Then he drifted into a discusiast resort. Then he drifted into a discussion of the relative wages paid by different roads for the same class of work and produced figures which were startling in their character, Official Figures Given. There has been considerable talk of inte that machinists, boiler makers and black-smiths were paid less on the Union Pacific than any of its neighbors, but the figures do not bear out this statement. On the Bur-lington, Missouri Pacific, Atchinson, Topoka & Sante Fe, Northwestern, Chicago Milwau kee & St. Paul Chicago Rock Island & Pacillo railways the three classes of shopmen mentioned above are paid $2.75 per day of ten hours, nearly 1614 per cent more than is paid by the roads running into Omaha. In Denver the Union Pacific pays these classes of employes 18 per cent more than is paid by the other roads mentioned above, in Omaha. At Chevenne Evanston Lagar in Omaha. At Clievenne, Evanston, Lara-mie, Rawlins and Pocatiello the Union Pacific pays 27% per cent more wages than is paid by its competitors mentioned at Omaha. These are the facts which Mr. Dickinson is ready to vouch for. But, not satisfied with these figures, and probably somewhat afraid that they were not conclusive enough, he passed to a consideration of the engineers and firemen on the system, and offered the following comparative statements in proof of his assection that his road paid higher wages than any of its neighbors. Computed mileage basis the figures show that engineers wages to its earlineers and firemen than any of the other roads. Now is it a fair proposition that we should pay more than our competitors for the same class of services, espe-cially in those hard times when every leak must be stopped, everything closely scruti-nized, so that we may be able to tide over

Live and Let Live. However, the general manager did not stop here, but astonished the newspaper man by asserting that while they had operated 60,000,000 more car miles in the first six months of 1893 as compared with a like period in 1892, the Union Pacific company had netually earned $830,000 less for just that much increased service over last year t was startling, but the report for July holding his own, even when figures have to do with an argument, notwithstanding that he is essentially an operating man. The reporter then asked how many pas-senger miles had been reduced on the sys-tem since the first cut in expenses was or-dered, to which the general manager promptly replied: "We have reduced 150,000 miles of passenger service since July 1, this shows that Mr. Dickinson is quite capable of "The men know the condition of the road; they also know that we are doing the very best we can to pull the system out of the mire, and if we are aided in anything like a conservative manner we will succeed."

"What would be the course of the company should the men, as now seems probable, tender the road 10 per cent of their salaries as a loan until January 1, 1894?"
"That is a condition that has not been seriously thought of by us. I cannot say the company would refuse the profered loan, nor can I say that we would accept the offer. It is a matter that would have to be decided by higher authority."

Yesterday afternoon the members of the Local Passenger association metin Secretary Munn's office, on complaint of the Burlington & Northwestern to fix the responsibility for the Milwaukee's World's fair rate of $12.75 which was in effect about two hours

Monday.

Mr. Nash, after the charges were read, offered in evidence a letter in the form of an affidavit from the chief clerk in General Passenger Agent Heafford's onlice which stated in substance that it was his intention to advise the Omaha offered. ion to advise the Omaha office that a onefare rate was authorized September 4 on ac-count of Utah day at the World's fair. September 5, good to return September 20. Ho also desired Mr. Nash to confer with Mr. Lomax of the Union Pacific with a view of having the latter road apply that rate from Utan common points via the Milwaukee the same as the Milwau kee's compatitors. But in dictating the telegram his attention was called elsewher before the telegram was completed. The stenographer thinking the telegram inished, sent it out as received by Mr. Nash, stating that he should sell tickets for one fard Sentember 4, on account of Utah day, sign-ing George H. Heafford's name to the teleing George II. Headerd's name to the tele-gram. As the chief clerk's attention was not again called to the telegram in question. It was entirely forgotten until Mr. Nash's inquiry of Monday regarding the correct-ness of the rate, when it was withdrawn. The letter was satisfactory to the "Low Jointers," and they told Mr. Nush to "go and sin no more." In the vote to exonerate the Milwaukee from any blame in the matter the ancient rivals, the Burlington and

Rock Island, voted to fine the Milwaune but their efforts to attach a penalty failed.

The local freight men of Omahajand South Omaha, with an auditor or two thrown in to give the assemblage proper seasoning, gathered at the Millard hotel yesterday morning to discuss matters relating to the conduct of their business. There were present Messrs, Erastus Young, auditor of the Union Pacific, who Young, auditor of the Union Pacific, who was made chairman of the meeting, R.
