Vouchers for Assistants' Pay Liberally Pruned by the State Auditor-Applieation for Mandamus to Compet

Him to Issue Warrants in Full.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 6 .- Special to THE Ban.]-The controversy that has existed for several months between State Auditor Moore and Commissioner General Garneau will indirectly reach the supreme court again. After visiting Chicago and looking over the Situation the auditor was convinced that the salaries paid to many of the commissioner s meral's assistants were entirely too large. Last month he drew vouchers for several of these employes at a reduced figure, giving them what in his judgment he believed to be a sufficient remuneration for their services. Among those whose salary was subjected to the pruning knife were Seth Mobley, Harry Ashburn, Emma Gillespie, Carrie Wells and others. In order to test the legality of the auditor's action the two ladies named have commenced an action in the district court in this county in which they ask for a mandamus to compel Auditor Moore to issue his youcher for the full amount of the salaries they were to receive under their agreement with the commissioner general. In their petition they Bliege that they received orders from the commissioner general for the full amount of their saiaries and that the orders were duly presented to the auditor. Instead of drawing a voucher for the full amount that official paid them but a portion of the salary to which they claim they are legally entitled. It is further alleged that the auditor is not estopped by law from issuing a warrant because of the failure of the a warrant occause of the failure of the legislature to make an appropriation and that the plaintiffs have performed their part of the contract with the representative of the state. Secretary of State Allen is made a codefendant in the suit.

May Have the Vinducts After All.

Councilman O'Shea and several other rep resentatives of the city are in Omaha today to complete what they believe will be the finanal arrangements for the resumption of work on the long-neglected O street viaduct. Word was received last evening from At-torney W. R. Kelly, the legal representa-tive of the Union Pacific in the matter, that the directors in the east had finally given their authority for the advancement of the funds necessary to the resumption of the work. Mr. Kelly intimated that all ob-stacles had at last been cleared away and that the money to ay the appraisement dam-ores and the estimates already made would be promptly forthcoming. The citizens of Lincoln will experience a feeling of relief now that there is a prospect for a speedy renewal of active work on the viaduct. The work progressed only far enough last spring to render one of the principal thoroughfares of the city practically impassible, and the unsightly debris has been an eyesore to the pride of the city ever since. Several accidents have occurred along the street, and the condition of the work is a standing menace to the safety of the people who are compelled to use the street.

David Newman's Sad Fate.

The remains of the late David Newman, the Lincoln citizen who met an accidental death at Mendota, Ill., yesterday, were brought to this city at noon today by an escort of Knights Templar. Mr. Newman was one of the best known and respected citizens of Lincoln and was a brother-in-law of Hon. John M. Thurston of Omaha. He started Monday evening for the east and as his train reached Mendota he alighted from the cars to get a lunch. When he emerged from the eating house the train had already started and had gained considerable headway. Not caring to miss the train Mr. d his footing and was thrown beneath the wheels. One hand was severe at the wrist and one leg broken. But the wound which probably caused his death was caused by the square lubricating box at the end of the axle striking him heavily on the back of his head. He lived but forty mmutes. A committee of the Knights Templar logde of Mendota accompanied the remains back to Lincoln. A committee from this city met the cortege at Osceola, Ia., and the two escorts reached this city today at noon. The remains were removed to the Newman residence at 1728 L street, accompanied by the Knights Templar of Lincoln in full regalia. The arrangements for the funeral bave not yet been completed.

Norfolk's New Four-Story Hotel Throw Open to the Public. Nonfolk, Sopt. 6 .- (Special to The Bre. !-At 7:30 o'clock yesterday evening the doors of Norfelk's new hotel, "The Oxnard." were thrown open and appropriately dedicated to the public.

The building is four stories in height, and is built of pressed brick and stone. The exterior is Italian renaissance in design, and presents a beautiful appearance. The build-ing contains seventy sleeping rooms, all sup-piled with steam heat and electric lights. On the first floor is the office, ladies' parlor, gentlemen's parlor, dining room, kit-chen, billiard room, bar and rotunda. On the second floor are two parlors, balcony and chambers, and the third is a duplicate. The rotunda and entrance have tiled floors. The first floor is finished throughout in an tique oak, the second and third in hard pine. The ladies' waiting room is carpeted with a beautiful moquet. The gentlemen's parlor is carpeted with a handsome brussels and furnished with a heavy cane easy chairs and rockers, as are also the parlors. The kitchen contains a tweive-foot range and a steam chest.

The elevator is a safety, direct acting, and is operated by hydraulic pressure. The hotel is the property of Dr. D. R. Daniels, and is operated by W. D. Williams and Charles R. Knapp. The interior of the building was profusely decorated for the opening with bunting, ribbons, flowers, etc., while above floated the stars and stripes. After inspecting the building from corridor After inspecting the building from corridor to dome the guests listened to an address of welcome by Colonel J. E. Simpson, which was well received. Hon. John R. Hays officiated as toast master. After the banquet dancing was indulged in

The male 'cycle race was won by Landis, Leach second, Wanzer third. Time: 2:54.

The track in all the events was probably ten seconds slow.

One accident marred the occasion. One of the long poles supporting the balloon during its inflation was improperly secured and fell. It struck a barrel, which partially stopped the fall. This fact, combined with the fact that Henry Putman had involuntarily "ducked" when the pole fell, is all that saved him from instant death. As it was he received an ugly scalp wound.

Pawnee Has a Good Show. PANNER CITY, Sept. 6.—[Special Telegram to The Ber.]—The fourteenth annual fair of Pawnee county opened yesterday under fa-vorable auspices. Secretary Barnard and his assistants were kept busy receiving articles for exhibition and by noon today nearly 1,000 entries had been made. The agricultural and horticultural exhibits are good and the display of fine stock is up to the usual stand-ard. Prof. Ward made a successful balloon ascension and parachute jump this evening. The attendance has been small but large crowds are expected Thursday and Friday.

PLATTSMOUTH PICKINGS.

Popular Wedding, Clever Cigar Theft, and

Minor Matters of the Day.

PLATTSMOUTH, Sept. 6.-[Special to THE BER.]-St. Luke's church was crowded this morning by invited friends to witness the marriage of R. W. Clement, manager of the Western Union office in this city, to Miss Jennette, youngest daughter of the late Gen-oral R. R. Livingstone. The newly married couple were both born in the city, and have many friends here. Immediately after the wedding they started for Chicago and castern cities for a month's honeymoon.

Last night thieves effected an entrance to W'edeman's saloon, and also into the Riley house, securing about $8 and a few boxes of cigars at each place. Tools were stolen from a carpenter shop near by, which shows that the work was done by parties ac-quainted with the different places. The funeral of Mrs. Hannah Newell, which occurred from the Methodist Episcopal tended divine services for nearly a quarter of a century, was largely attended by the old-time friends of the deceased. The remains were brought in from Havelock at noon today for interment, she having died while visiting at her daughter's home. The canning factory, after standing idle for three years, started up again today, caning tomatoes, giving employment to about fifty persons.

Methodists in Conference. NORFOLK, Neb., Sept. 6 .- [Special Tele gram to THE BEE.]-The conference of the Methodist Episcopal churches of north Nebraska, now in session in this city, is being attended by a large number of earnest workers. FIREMAN'S FUND.

Custodians of a Widow's Cash Finally Decide to Give it Up.

As a result of the agitation by THE BEE, a meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the office of Mayor Bemis, with a view to bring about a disposition of the various funds for the victims of the Shiverick fire.

At the meeting were: Mayor Bemis, Commissioner Hartman, Chief Galligan and G.

M. Hitchcock. Mayor Bemis, Chief Galligan and Mr. Hitchcock reported the amounts in their possession. Mayor Bemis has $752. Chief Galligan reported that in the hands of the committee was $461.90 realized from the Farnam Street theater benefits, and Mr. Hitchcock said he had $594.50. The amount in Mayor Bemis' hands included the sub-criptions secured by Dr. Galbraith and J. A. Fuller, which provided that the money should be placed in the hands of a committee composed of his honor, Commissioner Hartnan and Chief Galligan, and should be dis tributed by them among the victims of the Mayor Bemis favored placing the funds in the bands of a trustee to be invested for the victims in the best possible manner. He was opposed to turning the same directly over to them and thought that the donors would be better satisfied and the beneficiaries would reap better results if such

Mr. Hartman was convinced that the reading of the subscription paper left open but one course for the committee to do, and that was to distribute the funds in the most equitable manner. This he favored doing, and so did the other gentlemen, the mayor at last becoming convinced that the com mittee had no authority to do otherwise. Then an effort was made to agree upon what might be considered an equitable basis. The suggestion was made that Mrs. Captain The suggestion was made that Mrs. Captain Cox be given 60 per cent. B. J. There are in uncollected subscriptions $190, and of this amount it was promised by the donors that $175 would be paid Mayor Bemis today, while Chief Galligan will hustle for the other uncollected $15.

In order to give an opportunity to bring in the uncollected subscriptions the committee adjourned to meet again at 4 o'clock this afternoon, when an effort will be made to agree upon a basis of distribution. If the uncollected subscriptions are paid in today there will be for distribution $2.008.40.

of Hostility of the Department-Touching Tribute to the Memory of James G. Blaine.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BRE, 513 FOURTEENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, Sept. 6. Great surprise was expressed among the republicans in congress when they learned today that the senate committee on pensions had agreed by a strict party vote-the republicans all voting in opposition-to consider no pension legislation whatever during the present congress. It was understood that this action was at the suggestion of President Cleveland, who did not want to continue his record of vetoing pension bills. THE BEE correspondent this afternoon asked Representative Pickler of South Dakota, who is one of the leading pension advocates of the lower branch of congress, what was the present status of affairs at the pension office under the modified order of Commissioner Lochren, and whether he thought pensioners would now be given a fair chance to have their claims acted upon. Major Pick-

Puts Matters Where They Were. "Under the last modification of Commis-sioner of Pensions Lochren I understand that he will rate pensions exactly as Commissioner Raum was rating when he was commissioner. In other words, it is a com-plete reversal of the orders to suspend pen-sions and a return to Raum's and Noble's practice. If the order that now stands is practice. If the order that now stands is carried out in good faith pensioners should receive pensions as in the last administration. One very significant fact, however, is that from March 4, 1893 to August 26, 1893, there were only 51,276 pension certificates issued. Whereas, under Raum's administration than the research of the control of the contr tion there were about 30,000 a month issued."
"Do you think there will be any attempt at general pension legislation?"

"I think there will be attempts at pension legislation and attempts made to modify and circumscribe the laws now upon the statute books. I do not believe, however, that this will be successful. The soldiers of the country should stand firm and as one man and demand that they be fairly treated by all parties. If they do so I don't think any party can afford to enact hostile legislation."

Touching Tribute to Blaine. There was a simple, but striking, tribute today to the memory of James G. Blaine, and to the achievement with which his name is inseparably connected. Three carriages bearing a number of dark-skinned men entered Oak Hill cemeters this afternoon and drove to the west bank of Rock creek, where the remans of Mr. Blaine are interred. The party carried a large wreath of immortelles of a dark purple hue. It was placed at the head of the grave, lending a bit of color to the withered funeral emblems and fallen leaves which covered the ground There were no exercises or speeches. The party merely left its wreath, glauced at the unpretentious surroundings and the dome of the capitol building far off, and then drove

Learned a Costly Lesson. A young Polish girl living in Michigan has filed a protest with the Treasury department against an inconsiderate construction of the contract labor laws which will interest many BEE readers. The girl came from the old country two years ago, leaving her behind. Recently she wrote him that if he would come to this country she could get him a place on the farm. The brother started at once, but when he landed in New York the immigration inspector se-cured possession of the sister's letter, and at once detained the immigrant on the ground that he was a contract laborer. The Treas-ury department has sustained this ruling and the brother has been obliged to return to the old country. It establishes a pre-cedent that great care must be taken in sending for relatives in the old country lest the strict letter of the new immigration laws be violated. To Tax Indian Lands.

Representative Meiklejohn introduced a number of bills in the house today. One provides that the lands allotted to any Indian in severalty, or which may be the property of any Indian citizens, when such Indians become entitled to the benefits of and subject to the laws of any state, shall be subject to state and local assessment and taxation the same as any other lands similarly located in such state; but it does not authorize the sale or incumbrance of any such land on account of such assessment and taxation, or in any manner interfere with the trust in which such lands are held by the United States while such trust continues, and during the continuance trust the tax assessment levied shall be paid from the treasury of the United States to the county treasurer upon the sworn statement of the county treasurer that such tax has been legally assessed and levied, and is then due and payable, accom-panied by the certificate of the secretary of the interior that said lands are within the states. This is the measure intended to cover certain conditions, especially existing near Pender, in Thurston county. Another measure provides for the erection of a public building at the city of Norfolk and appropriates $200,000 therefor. Another bill gives national banks the full par value of circulation upon bonds deposited, and still another measure fixes the rate of postage upon letters and other first-class matter at cent an ounce, instead of 2 cents, as at

Will Get the Indian School. As a result of the visit to the Interior de-partment this morning of Senators Petti-grew and Kyle and Duff Hanie of South Dakota, Secretary Hoke Smith has promised to take up the question of beginning work upon the Indian school buildings at Chamberlain and Pierre, which were provided for by act of the last congress. The delegation made a strong presentation of the necessities of those schools, and not only convinced the secretary that the needs of the Indians were strong in favor of the establishment of the schools, but that the government owed it to the Indians and they had been led to expect the schools by the act of congress and the promise made by the department.

RECEPTION TO MARETZEK.

Citizens of Omaha Heartily Welcome the Veteran Music Master.

The reception tendered by the board of directors of the Omaha Opera Festival school to Mr. Max Maretzek, the director of the school, was flattering to a degree, not only to the men and women who have interested themselves in this new musical enterprise, but to Miss C. C. Tennant Clary, who has been an indefatigable worker for he advancement of a cause in which she is an enthusiast.

The large audience room in the fifth story The large audience room in the fifth story of the city hall had been pieusantly arranged for the occasion, with pretty rugs on the floor and plenty of chairs scattered about for those who, tired of standing, desired a moment's rest from hand shaking and the exchange of congratulations over the success of the reception. Adjoining the immense room, which will be used for chorus work during the season, another room has been fitted up for the particular use of Mr. Maretzek, provided with a piano, some good pictures, a rug or two and last night looked gay with flowers.

Throughout the hours of the re-

Full of reminiscences touching the careers of many of the famous lyric artists of the bygone, and interesting stories of their struggles and debuts, Mr. Max Maretzek last night certainly made as much of a social hit as he made years ago when he located in New York, then a ninth rate musical city and brought it to first place by his fine ability and wise direction of the companies appearing under his management. There was only one hope uppermost Tuesday night so far as Mr. Maretzek was concerned, that his coming to Omaha will mark an epoch in the musical life of the city and that he will be as signally successful here as he
