The street cleaning gangs under the charge of police officers are doing splendid work. The old man has always been very sensitive about growing old, and has always represented himself as younger than he really is. His daughter says he is 89 years old, but he insis s that he is only 74. He has all the other proof necessary to establish his right to a pension, but the discrepancy in ages makes the officials suspicious. His freak of pride is keeping him now from receiving the need-ful to make him independent.

BEE NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

One of the Old Landmarks of the City Has Been Removed.

DESTRUCTION OF AN ANCIENT DWELLING

It Has Been Removed to Give Way to a Structure More Modern in Its Details-Uneanny Stories Concerning the House.

O What is said to have been the oldest house in this city has been torn down to make way for more modern improvements. On Sixth avenue, near Twelfth street, there has stood for so many years that the oldest inhabitant fins lost track of its origin, a queer nondescript building, composed of all kinds of building material, ancient and modern. It Is said to have been erected when Council Bluffs was still a Mormon settlement known as Kanesville, and its architect, builder and proprietor was an Indian with a name that has not survived the assaults of fifty years of change and forgetfulness. There have been some wierd stories told of the old shanty, uncanny stories that dealt in ghosts and hobroblins, with an occasional mys-terious disappearance of some settler or vis-iting redskin. A crowd of gazers have watched the process of tearing away the old place with a morbid curiosity. Nothing, however, has been discovered that will jus-

NOT THE MANAWA LINE.

Colonel Reed Smiles Grimly Over the Council's New 3-Cent Ordinance.

Colonel F. C. Reed, general manager of the Manawa motor line, is enjoying a sort of Leatherstocking laugh at the expense of the city council. The occasion is found in the amendment of Alderman Hathaway to the 3-cent ordinance gotten up for the benefit of the electric motor line, making it include not only the Manawa line, but requiring that company to accept and issue transfer checks, carrying any passengers who may present an electric motor check, and carry-ing them free at least as far as the city

"I would like to have the council con down and give an exhibition on my lawn for the benefit of the public. I believe it would be a great attraction. They are better jokers than the end men in a minstrel show. Of course, they know that such an ordinance could not be enforced, and they are only putting in their time punning. But I don't know what they are going to gain by it. In my opinion it weakens their efforts to bring the electric motor to time by discrediting their work and intentions. There is not a school child in town but knows that such an ordinance is unconstitutional, be-cause it is unjust. There will be no 5-cent fare on the Manawa line for some time to come, and unless the motor company buys out the line motor 3-cent checks will not be accepted for passage to the city limits or anywhere else. We haul people anywhere this side of Manawa for 5 cents to and from the Broadway depot, and that is the best we can do at the present state of the

It was tacitly agreed at the meeting of the council when the or-dinance was passed that Alder-man Smith should be the person to make the test case on the Manawa line by tendering a otor check or a 3-cent fare. It was argued that he was the best natured and fattest member of the body and it would hurt him less than any other member to be violently ejected from the train when it was flying through the cornfields south of town at the rate of twenty miles an hour.

Chasing a Fake. It will be hard for a heavy, targe-boned, red-faced farmer, or alleged farmer, named A. V. Williams, claiming to live four miles north of Glenwood, to establish a reputation for veracity in Council Bluffs. He came to town at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening and told a very plausible story about the finding of the body of Watson at Silver City, claiming that his informant was Sheriff Campbell of Mills county, who had just driven over from Sil-ver City to report the find to the coroner and get his deputy to return with him and follow a trall left by the murderers. Although doubting the story, it took the newspaper mea nearly half of the night to prove it to be an unqualified fake. After midnight bicycle trips and sending special messengers to Glenwood, the newspaper reporters were in a proper frame of mind by 3 o'clock to Wanted the Whole Country. CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 7 .- [Special Telegram to The Bee.]-The settlers about Laramie peak are exceedingly wrought up over the alleged encroachment of John Martin and his 15,000 sheep on their pastures. They assert that if some limit is not placed on the reckless manner in which his sneep are permitted to feed in their pastures and all over the country that they will be driven out. The settlers depend almost entirely upon their stock, without which they cannot live. At last accounts Martin insisted upon his right to graze his sheep wherever he pleased and the people of that section are up in arms about it. Unless some amicable arrangement is made serious trouble is looked for.

Notorious Jack Skinner Arrested on Strong Circumstantial Evidence.

ACCUSED OF THE SCHULTZ MURDERS

Known to Have Been Near By When the Deed Was Done and to Have Acquired Sudden Wealth-Story of the Crime.

SIOUX CITY, Sept. 7 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE.] - Jack Skinner, a notoriously desperate character, was arrested here today y Sheriff Unger of Cherokee, Ia., for the nurder of Martin Schultz and wife, near that city. The murder of the Schultz family was an unusually brutal crime and the citizens of Cherokee offered a reward of $1,500 for the arrest and conviction of the murderer.

Martin Schultz and his wife lived on farm sixteen miles southeast of Cherokee nd were hardworking Germans who had ccumulated some property and were known to keep money secreted in the house. A day or so previous to the murder they took some money from the bank in Cherokee for some money from the bank in Cherokee for the purpose of making a purchase of some land, they at the time being tenants on a farm belonging to Mrs. Schultz's brother. On the night of August 16 the house was entered by unknown parties, and it is sup-posed that in their efforts to escape without being identified the robbers thought it necessary to murder the old people. On the morning of August 17 neighbors who visited morning of August 17 neighbors who visited the Schultz home found Mr. Schultz dead in bed and Mrs. Schultz lifeless in the yard, a few feet from the door. The house had been ransacked and the furniture was in confusion. Mrs. Schultz's head was beaten to a jelly and the husband's skull was frac-tured in half a dozen places, either of the wounds being sufficient to produce death The wounds appeared as if made by a ham ner, but the instrument of murder has never been found and the tracks of the murdere were so well covered that the Cherokee county authorities have been groping to find a clew but their efforts thus far have been attended with little success. Several parties have been arrested, but were released later. County Attorney Hobart of Cherokee, who is also here, says he has an amazingly strong circumstantial case against Skinner. Skin ner was near the scene of the murder Au gust 16 and was not at home that night. He knew of the Schultzes having money and disappeared immediately after the murder He never had any means of his own and since that time he has spent money lavishly here and at O'Neill, Neb. Skinner's claim when arrested that he could prove an alibi worked, was quickly exploded. He will be taken to Cherokee tomorrow.

WAITING FOR THE VERDICT.

Mawhor Murder Trial Has Reached Its Closing Stage-Yesterday's Proceedings. Avoca, Ia., Sept. 7 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. | -The jury in the Mawhor murder case, which has been attracting attention to this city for some time past, was charged at 3:10 this evening and the public is now swaiting the verdict. Sentiment appears to be evenly divided as to the guilt of the de fendant.

From the time court convened this morn ing the court room was thronged with large crowds of people listening to the addresses of counsel. C. S. Keehan opened the cas-for the defense and was followed by L. T Genung. The state then closed with John All the attorneys made strong pleas for their respective sides. LOGAN, Ia., Sept. 7 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-It now turns out that it is very doubtful about fixing the diamond robbery on Frank Shercliff. The prosecuting attorney had Robert Fleming, after his return from Terre Haute, Ind., subpossaed before the grand jury now in session for the purpose of indicting Frank Bruce, the bank robber, for stealing the $25,000 package of diamords and assaulting Pollock. COLONIA WOS THE RACE.

she Outfoots the Vigitant in the First of the Trial Ruces. NEW YORK, Sept. 7 .- The first of the series of trial races to determine which of the new American sloops is best fitted to compete with the English yacht Valkyrie in the coming international races for the America's cup was sailed today,

The race was from the Scotland lightship to and around a float fifteen miles to wind-ward and return. The course was lined with all descriptions of crafts, from the decks of which thousands of people wit-

It was long after 11 g clock when the signal to start was g. . The Vigilant was the first to cross the line and she was closely followed by the Javilee and Colonia. These were the only star ers, the Pilgrim having broken the jaws of her gaff before the start broken the jaws of her gaff before the start and withdrawn from the race. A twenty-mile breeze was blowing from the southeast and the sea was moderately rough. Five minutes after the start it was noticed that Jubilee's main mast did not look exactly right. "She's broken the outer block of her gaff," said an oracle. A moment later the Jubilee swung around and started back for New York like a crippled pigeon. This left the contest between the Hereshoff boats, and it was evident that the wind and weather were too much for the Boston sloops.

dent that the wind and weather which much for the Boston sloops.

The Vigilant and Colonia were standing off on different tacks. Through glasses, the crews of the two vessels could be seen clinging to their sloping decks like rats. The ing to their sloping decks like rats. The Colonia lay over far more than the Vigitant and seemed to hammer the sea more, but she moved like a ghost,

"She's holding her own," said everybody.
So she was, for not an apparent inch had the scissor-bowed Vigilant gained on her.
There were no streams of wind or flukes about this race. The wind blew as steady as clockwork. The race became a monotony of tacks and it became apparent that the Vigilant had burrowed her way up into the wind, leaving the Colonia a quarter of a wind, leaving the Colonia a quarter of a mile astern. The Vigilant rounded the stake boat first and was followed by the Colonia five minutes later.

The race home was a silent slippery pro cession. The Colonia gained gradus Ng on the Vigilant. Inch by inch and foot by foot she crept up, and when the flaish gun was fired she had won by six seconds. Then her crew threw up their ints and ranted around like mad men and the conglomeration of yachts made for their docks.

MONEY IS EASY AGAIN.

New York Banks Begin to See Their Wey Clear to Retire Certifica;es. NEW YORK, Sept. 7 .- The banks and operators in stocks and bonds are much interested just now in the question of time money and there is a decided variety of opinion on the subject. A well known and conservative broker today said:

Time money is undoubtedly now in sight and call money promises to be easy—is, in fact, fairly easy now. Of course money will not be a drug in the market until the clearing house certificates are retired, but the time when their retirement will be begun is evinot very far distant. things are combining now dently to make money plentiful simul-taneously with the repeal of the Sherman law. Superfluous currency is being returned from the west. country banks, too, are much better prepared to provide money for the move ment of crops. Consequently the de-mands on the banks of this city for money to move the crops is likely to be much lighter than usual. That is shown by the fact that the banks report this week a very slight demand for redis-Then, too, the banks in the counts. New England and Middle states are finding that they have no use for their large supplies of cash on hand and are tiring of keeping so much money lying idle. Under the law they are permitted to keep part of their reserve on deposit with approved reserve agents, and they are taking advantage of that provision again to send money to this city and receive interest The savings banks are also finding they have more money on hand than they are likely to need, and much of that will quickly find its way back to the banks. Exchange between New York and the leading cities is becoming nor-mal again, and the business blockade is therefore practically over, so that every indication points to money being very plentiful in this city in a very time. The banks have practically all got their legal reserve, and as their deposits increase, no doubt, the loan cer-tificates will be retired."

Mills and Factories Resuming.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 .- Notice of resumption in the eastern and middle states continue to come in. The rod mill of the Iowa Barb Wire works at Allentown, Pa., started up today and other departments will shortly follow. The Broad silk department of the Adelaide Silk mill and the Tamagua

Knitting mills have resumed operations at the same place.
Glass and bottle works at Clayton, N woolen mills at West Rochester, N. Y.; collar factory of Holmes & Ide at Troy, N. IN THE WOMAN'S BUILDING,

It is There a Man is Made to Feel His Utter Insignificance. Somebody had been calling the attenion of the wife of the maharajah of Kapurthala to objects of special interest at Jackson park. "So that is the Woman's building," she said, as the great white structure was pointed out to

"Do they allow men inside its her. "walls?" The question is amusing in itself, says the Chicago Record, and yet a great big interrogation mark of the same kind has ap-peared before the blurred visions of a the thousand men who have paused at its threshold. It cannot fail of notice that the man who wanders through the Woman's building seems invariably embarrassed and ill at ease. If he go alone he looks conscience-stricken, glancing furtively about as if expecting to be ejected. He doesn't allow himself to become deeply interested in anything and when he finally reaches the bronze statue of Leif Ericson at the west portal he feels relieved. Naturally enough, the married man accompanied by his wife shrivels into insignificance in this atmosphere. He pecomes merely the husband of woman and looks on meekly as she makes the rounds. He feels about 11 years old and 3 feet 7 inches in height. He may have been always the self-assertive, domineering lord and master of his household, but fifteen minutes of the Woman's building reduces him to a minus quantity. He feels submissive to a painful degree.

Yes, the women allow men inside the Woman's building. But in the nature of things they can't encourage such in vasions.
