WORLD'S CONGRESS OF CRACK SHOTS

Best Talent Ever Brought Together in Similar Contest-Excellent Quality of Birds and Some Tall Scoring.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6. -Seldom in the history of pigeon shooting was such an aggregation of crack shots and notables in the shooting world gathered together as yesterday at Watson's park, Burnside, Iii.

For the better part of two days the great World's fair contest at live birds has been in progress. The race was at 100 live birds, each man $125 entrance, divided in three moneys. The winner, besides one-half of the entrance money, was to take the beautiful championship trophy. There were twelve outries, representing the best talent tweive entries, representing the best tailed ever brought together in a similar struggle. They came from all parts of the country.

The list comprised: A. L. Bennett and J. A. R. Eillott of Kansas City, Frank Parmelee of Omaha, George Work of New York, Charles Budd of Des Moines, Charles Grim of Clear Lake, Ia., George Kleinman of Chi-cago R. Weich of Philadelphia, who shoots under the name of Armstrong, Captain A. W. Money of New York, John Ruble of Chiw. Money of New York, John Rules of Cal-cage, C. Robinson of San Francisco and flar-yey McMurchey of Fulton, N. Y. Each of the competitors has made grand records in the past, and those who predicted a hard run had their predictions verified.

The conditions which prevailed are those governing the American Shooting association except that guns were limited to twelve guage and the boundary was what is known among shooters as the "horse shoe" adopted by the Illinois State Sportsmen's associa-tion, which differs from the American Shooting association boundary only this much: At a point fifty yards from the shooter's score on each side along the dead the boundary runs at right angles with the dead line until it intersects the circle. King traps were used.

As a rule the birds were of an excellent quality—selected birds. When the sun went down Wednesday, McMurchey, Grim, Klein man and Welch were tied at 47 each out of 50. The rest were fairly well up. Elliott had the misfortune to get hold of a lot of badly primed German shells and lost six out of his first ten birds. He then made a beneficial change in his ammunition.

Grim, who is the pride of the campmeeting town of Clear Lake, began to forge ahead early in the race, Kleinman, McMurchey and Welch having the misfortune to drop several birds. They were nearly all hit hard and some fell dead out of bounds. McMurchey missed connection with his ammunition and through lake of an advance did munition and through lack of confidence did not continue the beautiful work he displayed during the previous day. Grim shot like a machine. Some of his kills were marvelous and were loudly applauded. Bennett also did remarked. Bennett also did remarked. nett also did remarkable shooting. He seemed to be unfortunate enough to draw a majority of the hardest birds. One bird he lost was literally riddled with shot, but the wind carried it out of bounds. Aside from Grim's almost perfect work the feature of yesterday's race was the game uphill work of Elliott. He never appeared in better form. Drivers, twisters, tailers and other hand bigs was appeared allies. Every high hard birds were grassed alike. Every bird was killed nicely. When he overtook Klein-man and slipped into second place the on-lookers gave a wild cheer.

Grim continued his splendid work to the finish, killing 96. He took first money, $600, and the trophy; Elliot second, $360, with 92; Kleinman third, $240, with 91. Kleinman third, $240, with 91.

The other scores were: Bennett, 89; Robinson, 89; McMurchey, 89; Parmalee, 88; Budd, 88; Welch, 88; Rubie, 86; Money, 70.
Work withdrew at 50. John Watson's efforts as referce were appreciated. The birds were retrieved with dogs.

The tournament continues today with a twenty-five live bird contest, $25 entrance.

RESULT OF THE REPUBLICAN PRIMARIES

Three Wards Solid for Him-Councilmanie Contests Settled-Democrats Spilt in the Seventh-Other Political News of Local Interest.

The republican primaries were held in the various wards of the city yesterday afternoon for the purpose of selecting eighty-one delegates to a city convention to be held today at Washington hall.

boomlets also received attention. In every ward, with one exception, therewas an exciting skirmish for supremacy. A large vote was polled and it required considerable time to complete the count.

From surface indications George P. Bemis will go into the convention today with sufficient following to insure his nomination for mayor on the first ballot. The First, Third and Fourth are solid for him. While not officially announced, the results in the Sixth and Eighth will doubtless be a victory for the Bemis tickets.

In the Second, Fifth and Seventh delegations Mr. Bemis has a number of friends who will rally under his banner, according to popular rumor.

At 2 o'clock this morning no complete official returns had been received from the Sixth or Eighth wards, but it is thought that the Bemis men have won the day in those wards. H. Jacobsen carried the Eighth for council man, against Rhoades. The vote stood 298

for Jacobsen and 149 for Rhoades. One of the most exciting contests of the day was the councilmanic fight in the Fifth. George F. Munro received 255 votes for the honor, but was defeated by W. H. Mallory, who secured ten votes more than his opponent.

List of the Winners. At 2 o'clock this morning the count in the various wards, except in the Sixth and Eighth, had been completed and the vote announced. The complexion of results is as First Ward-Charles Abney, W. F. Bates, Henry C. Cole, Ed J. Cornish, John Guthardt, W. H. Hanchett, R. K. Paxton, R. Peterson

Fun to the Flist.

In the First ward the republicans were mewhat amused at the frantic efforts o the Hascall, populist nominee for mayor, who worked diligently for the defeat of the Hemis delegates. The result was the triumphant election of the entire Bemis ticket. Over 400 votes were cast in this ward, and th struggle for supremecy was at times quite interesting.
Peter M. Back received 261 votes for councliman, compared with 76 for Goodman and 72 for Hensnel. All of the nine delegates to compared with 76 for Goodman and city convention in this ward are solid for Mayor Bemis. The clash in the Second resulted in the ection of a delegation, the majority of which is favorable to the renomination of Mr. Beinis. I. C. Bachelor carried the ward for councilman against all comers. The vote for councilman was: I. C. Bachelor, 146; William Alstadt, 134; John Jirak, 112; and J. L. Welshans, 28.

Soi Prince Got There.

There was a red hot fight in the Third ward, both Sol Prince and A. H. Comstock being in the field with delegations to support their councilmante aspirations. It was the most stubbornly found primary ever known in the ward, but Prince succeeded in carrying the day by a small majority and nis entire delegation was chosen. There were 703 votes cast, in which the Prince ticket had a majority of from 25 to 50. delegation chosen consists of John Alperson J. C. Hubbard, J. Lewis, William Peyton Sol Prince, O. H. C. Ross, S. B. Smith Frank Thompson and A. D. White,

In the Fighting Fourth. The Fourth ward fully maintained its reputation for political activity, yesterday. The booth was located at Seventeenth and Dodge streets. Five number and sixty votes were cast. Two tickets were submitted for the consideration of republicans in this ward. One was a "white" ticket of delegates favorable to the nomination of Mr. Bemis for mayor and Mr. Bechel for councilman. The other was a "pink" ticket with a glaring display of the word "unpledged" in letters as black as printers' ink could make them. The "white" ticket won. The men on the "pink" slip looked "blue" after a stack of 245 straight Bemis votes had been counted. This was enough. The sponge was tossed into the air and the "unpledged" candidates hier themselves to a sequestered spot and consoled each other. J. F. Wertz, a Commer cial Pligrim, whose name adorned the pink ticket, made a gallant fight and was high man of the opposition. He received 163 votes. T. W. Blackburn led the Bemis ticket and received 397 votes. The Bemis ticket, from top to hottom, "got there" and had pienty of spare time to sit down and wait for Eli to catch up with the procession. The times to say the time to sit the procession.

down and wait for Eli to catch up with the procession. The utmost rivalry existed at the polls among the various candidates. The opposing tickets were as follows:

Unpactged—J. T. Weriz, C. B. Denney, John H. Erck, Charies A. Jacobson, Luther Poland, Andy Reuck, Heury Smith, Richard Tizird and F. B. Kennard.

Berniand E. B. Kennard.

Bemis and Becnel Ticket—T. W. Black-burn, W. J. Coanell, Louis Faist, F. B. Kennard, F. R. McConnell, Frank E. Moores, T. K. Sudborough, Henry Talbot and A. C. Troup. This was the winning combination. combination.

There was a lively time out in the Sixth ward. By 6 o'clock the street in front of the poiling place at Twenty fourth and Lake streets was black with people. A line was formed which reached from the polls clear across Lake street, and from five to eight men were let in at a time to vote. Two tickets were in the field, one for Bemis and the other for Churchill. The successful aspirants for seats in the ity convention, who are Bemis men, were the following:

A. P. Gram, Milo C. Roberts, Chris Specht, John C. Wharton, John T. Yates, George L. Hurst, Scott Jackson, Albin Johnson, Adolph Matson.

The ticket which went into the fight unthe following:

Plumb, George E. Wilson, J. C. Wharton, W. R. Wilson, For councilman-at-large the voters had the choice of four names: George

When the judges closed the polis at 7 o'clock fully seventy-five men still stood in line waiting for a chance to vote. After the doors were closed the crowd slowly dispersed. At 6:40 o'clock there was a little row, and it looked for a moment as if a general fight would result. It seemed that the council manic tickets can out, and the judges suggested that the committee and the candidates for seats in the council be called in and the matter taked over.

These men wave called into the voting room and very soon agreed to permit the voters to write the name of their choice for councilman on the bottom of the general ticket. After this agreement was reached each voter was so instructed when his ballot was handed him.

While this little conference was grains or

While this little conference was going on Chris Specht was seized with the idea that these men had been called in out of the crowd to allow them to vote out of their turn. This suspicion grew in his mind until he became excited and vented his rage on Officer Haze, who guarded the door. A A number of republican councilmanic slight disturbance followed, but peace finally followed mutual explanations.

Quiet in the Seventh Ward. For councilman-at-large the vote in the Seventh ward was as follows: P. Schwenk, 213; J. B. Piper, 55; Joseph H. Taylor, 115.
George S. Ambier, Peter Christ, H. E. Cochran, S. Macieod, L. P. Norberg, H. E. Palmer, I. O. Rhoades, F. D. Wead and H. N. Wood were elected delegates to the city convention without opposition.

Divided in the Ninth. The pattle in the Ninth ward was a flerce me. The Mercer forces crossed swords with the Davis men and every inch of ground was stuppornly contested. When the polls closed both sides claimed the victory and sat upon the ragged edge of hope until it o'clock, when the count was completed. Dr. Mercer secured six delegates, while three of the un-pleaged ticket were elected. The winners in the Ninth consist of; G. S. Benawa, John H. Ghapman, Andrew Gibson, Robert E. Livesey, Andrew Wiggins, Phil Winter, I. R. Andrews, J. H. Daniels and M. E. Free. The last three named are unpledged. The balance are for Dr. Mercer.

A. G. Edwards defeated F. M. Ellis in the race for the councilmanic nomination in the Ninth. A large vote was polled in this ward and the contest was spirited. BENNETT NOT IN IT.

Caucus of South Omaha Republicans Re-

pulses the Sheriff's Boomlet. J. B. Erion presided at a caucus of South Omaha republicans at Pivonka's hall last night. The following delegates were chosen, to be voted on at the primaries as delegates to the county convention:

Bert Wilcox, W. W. Wood, Bruce McCullough, James Wilson, William Burness, J. B. Erion, O. E. Bruce, J. W. Sniveley, Alex Schlegel, J. O. Eastman, O. B. Morey, S. Chestler, George Brewer and Joseph Tate.

The capters the related in The caucus then placed in nomination the ollowing suggestions for political honors: For Justices of the Peace-C. E. Lake and

For Constables -Nathan Gordon and Bur-

For Assessor—Lyman Carpenter.
The delegation was instructed to use all honorable means to secure the nomination of C. C. Stanley for register of deeds. An effort was made by Scott Kenworthy to have the deligation instructed for George Bennett for Sheriff, but the motion was withdrawn after being sat upon by several of the members. The majority was opposed to being instructed for any candidate except Mr. Stanley.

Seventh Ward Democracy. Councilman Howell was the leading figure at the democratic caucus in the Seventh ward last night, and carried off all the honors with ease and grace. Not that there was no opposition to Mr. Howell among his fellow democrats of the Seventh, not by any means. There was his own statement any means. There was his own statement for it that a party, named Jackson, who is "jest pinin" for Mr. Howel's job in the council, was at that very hour holding a pleasant little caucus of his own somewhere down in the hollow, where obnoxious Howell partisans were not likely to interfere with his plans for selections a tighter transfer. his plans for selecting a ticket to be voted for at the primaries on Monday.

After the caucus had listened to the readissued it and thinks he had a better right to do so than the other fellows did, an organization was effected by the selection of Mr. Rheem as chairman and Mr. McPherson as secretary. Then one of the faithful arose and moved that Mr. Howell be permitted to secretary name his own ticket, a proposition that met with unanimous approval, particularly after Mr. Howeil, in a brief speech, declared that if there was any objection he dim't want it that way. He also called attention to what he stated to be a fact, and that was that his opponent did not own a foot of realty in the city; that all the taxes he paid were on his personal property; that this was in his wife's name, and that the taxes on the same had not been paid for three years. The statement was enthusiastically received, after which it was voted to extend to Mr. Howell the privilege of naming the ticket, which is as follows:

J. E. Dietrick, Nick Dargeezewski, Frank Fitchett, George Hicks, M. H. Ish, Dr. J. F. Lorimer, E. L. Magaus, A. T. McPherson, John W. Robbins, George Seay and John Schneiderwing.

At the anti-Howell caucus held at the Polish theater last evening 108 votes were cast, resulting in the nomination of the fol lowing delegates for the democratic city pri A. Waggener, Phillip Smith, C. E. Dixon.

Joseph Nowicki, Hans Faik, Michael Hogan Henry Voss, A. Ackerman, Joseph Czerwinski, J. D. Lacourse and John Walwork. Kilpatrick for Mayor. The democrats have been busy for some time casting about for an available candidate for mayor. A few days ago a committee of prominent democrats called upon Thomas Kilpatrick of the Kilpatrick-Koch Dry Goods company and asked permission to place his name before the democratic city convention for the mayoralty nomination. Mr. Kilpatrick asked time to consider the matter and gave his answer yesterday after-noon. He informed the committee that, while he would make no effort to secure the nomination, be would accept it if tendered Danish Democrats.

The Danish Democratic club held a wel attended meeting Thursday night at Washington hall. A large number of newcomers received their naturalization papers through the club. After an extended discussion of democratic principles the club endorsed the action of the Danish delegates to the democratic state convention. The club will in the future meet on Sakurday evenings. Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 5 .- Seldom has a state convention assembled in recent years in New York with so little slate making in idvance as did that of the republicans today. As the delegates assembled there was no one among them who would venture to predict what the outcome of their deliberations would be. No one man's hand was shaping results. The determination to have no "slated" candidates and to settle upon no one for any place until the whole state had been heard from is felt everywhere, and those who have attempted to run counter to it have suffered for their indiscretion.

Temporary Organization. Patrick W. Cullinane of Oswego was pre sented as temporary chairman. In his address to the convention Mr. Callinane spoke of the achievements of the republican party, referred to the administration of President Harrison, "illuminated by the genius of a Blaine," as the golden age of the republic. He then spoke of the present spectacle at Washingtor as humiliating to a nation before the eyes of the world. The assumption of the state control by the demo crats in 1891 was characterized as "the

After a comparison of stewardship, the After a comparison of stowardship, the speech closed with a canvass of state issues. When, in his speech, Mr. Cullinane re-ferred to the McKiniey bill there was a rattle of handelappings that died away and was renewed again and at length became significant and as the cheers finally subsided one delegate demanded three cheers for Me-Kinley, while another shouted, "And he'll be our next president, too." Renewed cheers greeted this declaration.

The convention being reassembled at 4 o'clock, Hon. C. M. Depew spoke ten minutes in response to yells from the convention. He referred to the resumption of labor and the closed factories, "but," he added, "wages are cut." He declared that a the past year of democratic rule labor had lost in wages a large percentage of the benefits that had been assured to it in twenty-five years of republican administra-tion. He demanded that the ship of state, now drifting on the rocks of bankruptey and distress, should be entrusted to the republi-can crew again for safety.

Judge Frank Brundage of Eric county was reported for permanent chairman, and after is speech nominations for court of appeals his speech nominations for court of appeals Judgeship were first made. These names were presented: Judge William Rumsey of Bath, Edward T. Bartlett of New York and John Sabine Smith of Kings county. The Bartlett nomination was the choice of Mr. Platt, as against the influence of Jacob Patterson for Smith and the disposition of the country for Rumsey. A ballet was, had and Mr. Bartlett was chosen by this vote: Bartlett, 5381c; Rumchosen by this vote: Bartlett, 5381c; Rumchosen by this vote: Bartiett, 5381; Rum sey 97; Smith, 80,

The committee on resolutions next presented its report. The platform starts out with this sentence: "The time has come to rescue the state of New York from the despote control of an utterly selfish and personal machine." All men are invited to join with the republican party to effect a reform. "Five men constitute the democratic ma-chine and seek the mastery of the commonwealth," runs the piatform, and then fol-lows a recital of Judge Maynard's action in the election of 1891 and denunciation of what he did and what his party has been enabled to do as a result. The reapportion-ment and the subsequent legislation in the democratic house and senate were analyzed and condemned. The only reference to silver is that ombodied in a clause "commending republican senators and representatives in congress for their adherence to the cause of sound money and reliable currency.

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

President Cleveland's Policy Endorsed by the Saratoga Convention. SARATOGA, Oct. 6 .- The attendance at the econd day's session of the democratic convention was even greater than yesterday. It might have appropriately been called "ladies day," so large was the number of women who graced the convention hall with their presen e. They seemed to have been encouraged by the bravery of their sisters in facing the array of good democrats on Thursday.

The proceedings started off with a snap and a vim that made even the dryest details of parliamentary routine seem for once interesting. A perfect cyclone of cheers struck the delegates when the plank endorsing President Cleveland's administration and his efforts to carry out democratic policies was read. The delegates fairly howled with delight at the resolutions referring to the fact that a democratic majority in the United States senate was made secure by the election of David B. Hill and Edward Murphy, jr., as senators. The endorsement of Governor Flower was also veciferously applauded.

Temporary organization was made permaneat, and Chairman Lockwood, without making another speech, called for the report of the committee on resolutions, which was presented by George Raines of Roches

The platform, after congratulations to the party and the people of the state for the way state matters have been managed since the democrats came into power, refers to national affairs and President Cleveland as follows:

Extracts from the Platform. To the federal issue and policy we affirm the principles of the state and national democratic platform so enaphatically endorsed by the voice of the people last November. The transfer of the legislative and executive branches of the federal government to the democratic party was mone too soon to correct, even if to late to avoid, the widespread distress caused by mesound and plutocratic legislation.

To the repeal of the nuwise and unjust laws of republican origin the democratic party is bledged, and it may safely be trusted to reconstruct our currency and tax laws in accordance with popular needs and sound principles, thereby restablishing the condition of commercial and industrial prosperity. Recent events have emphasized and confirmed the ulterances of the democratic platforms of 1891 and 1892 and the democratic platforms of 1891 and 1892 and the democratic platform of last year in demonstration of the Sherman law providing for the computery purchase and storage of silver builden, and in reterating that condemination we again demand the speedy

Von Ameer is also a member of the New York City Reform club. The name of Maynard was wildly applauded by the delegates.

Maynard Denounced. After Maynard's nomination had been econded the convention was thrown into an aproar by a delegate from Rockland named Wiederman, who, from the platform de-nounced the candidate's record. He charged that Maynard had committed a crime and that since he had been on the bench his career had not been such as to commend him for election.

The delegates tried to ery down this speaker, but the chair insisted that the Rockland delegate should be heard. Wiederman predicted Maydard's nomination would lose 10,000 votes to the whole treket.

On a call of the roll, Maynard's name was sustained, the delegate Wiederman alone voting in the nogative.

At the conclusion of roll call Mr. Weiderman came to the floor of the ball and stated that while he was still of the opinion it would be unwise to nominate Mr. Vaynard, he would how to the will of the convention and move that his nomination be made ananimous. This was done.
