WHAT HAS BROUGHT ABOUT THE CHANGE

Pavorable Action by the Senate on the Repeal Bull Helping the Good Times Along-Many Signs of Renewed Prosperity.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade will say: Port is in sight after a long and stormy voyage and the prospect of a speedy end of the struggle over repeal has brought bright hopes to business. It is still too soon to expect much effect in trade and manufactures and though monetary obstacles are to a large extent removed there still remain other legislative questions which create uncertainty. A fact of real encouragement is that railroad earnings for the third week of October show an increase of 3 per cent over last year, the first increase for a long time. Wheat rose 2 cents, although exports fell to 1,100,000 bushels for the week, against 1,900,000 bushels last year, in part, because western receipts were but 5,863,000 against 8,900,000 last year. Corn declined an eighth of a cent with better reports of the yield, coffee decitned three-sixteenths of a cent, pork products made only slight gains and cotton fell one-fourth of a cent, receipts being 60,-000 bales greater than last year Increased Distribution. As yet there is seen only a continuance of the slow increase in the distribution of products which has been noticeable for sev-eral weeks. Nor does this gradual revival in demand extend to all branches. Most of the increase yet seen in cotton and shoe manu-factures may be availabled by more expansfactures may be explained by mere exhaus-tion in stocks of dealers, as frequent re-quests for immediate delivery show, but there is also reported a somewhat better de-mand from consumers, and four more cot-ton mulls have started and seven increased forces against seven decreasing. A similar demand has increased by six the number of hostery and knit goods works reported in operation. The shipments of shoes from the east in four weeks of October was 28 per cent less than last year, against 32 per cent in September, but against eight comparatively small wocien mills starting five have tively small wooien mills starting five have stopped, including one of 3,000 and another of 1,000 hands.

The total sales of wool at three chief markets, including several cases believed to be for speculation, have been 9,724,211 pounds in three weeks, against 21,975,000 last year. Two additional iron furnaces have gone into blast and the present output may be a little larger than at the beginning of the month. Some rail mills have resumed manufacturing, evidently to provide for manufacturing, evidently to provide for further, rather than present wants of their customers, and there is some addition to the number of nail and iron works and machine shops employed. But the demand for most products is small; steel billets are called firmer at $50; ship plates are delivered at Philadelphia yards for $155 and bar sells with decreasing demand at $135 at Chicago.

Hopes for the Future. It is hoped that monetary ease and security may encourage railroad extensions and improvements and more architectural work, but the shrinkage in demand is not wholly due to the state of the money markets. The number and magnitude of failures decreased less than had been expected, the liabilities in three weeks of October amounting to $15,072,920, against $7,000,000 for the same period iast year. This week for the same period iast year. This week there have been 372 failures in the United States, against 187 last year and forty-four in Canada, against twenty last year. In-cluding one bank and two western failures ### for $1,000,000 or more, there were sixty-five with liabilities exceeding $5,000 each. RRADSTREET'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

Many Cities Report an Increase in Business -Omaha's Good Showing. row will say: Orders for merchandise in larger volume have been seen at Baltimor and Pittsburg, at Nashville and Richmond, Memphis, Birmingham, New Orleans Houston, Dallas, Little Rock and Galveston, and at Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis and Omaha in the west. This is an unusually long list of cities in which an increase in th volume of business has been recorded within a week, and it is worthy of notice that reports from them in almost all instances specify increased orders for dry goods, shoes, clothing and groceries. Mer cantile collections are mado more freely the cotton growing regions, as well as in the larger winter and spring wheat states. At cities in Georgia, South Carolina and south-ern Alabama no increases are reported in ### the volume of trade, and at some a decline is visible, The industrial situation at more important centers in the west is as unsatisfactory as heretofore, while at St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Milwaukee and Detroit the record of the year's business in staple lines does not promise to equal expectations of a month ago.

A conspicuous upward movement of prices last week is succeeded by a corresponding list of decreases, among which are quotations for Indian corn, cats and cotton, due to heavy receipts; in coffee, a reaction from extreme high prices is noted, and also in hogs, lard, wool, in some instances, and lumber, particularly with the south, where it has been sold about normally figures. Rice is still held firm at extreme quotations, as are naval stores.

Rice is still held firm at extreme quotations, as are navall stores.

Exports of wheat and flour from both coasts of the United States and Cacada this week amount to 3.321,000 bushels, compared with 2.709,000 bushels last week, 4.678,000 in the fourth week of October last year and 3.381,000 bushels in the year before. North 1,200,000 bushels were exported from Pacific coast ports.

Toronto's wholesale business is quiet, the only signs of improvement being in grain. The volume at Montreal is smaller than at this time last year, all lines reporting a moderate inquiry.

WALL STREET FOR A WEEK.

Marked Revival of Speculative Activity Now Noticeable. New York, Oct. 27.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: The changed situation at Washington and the assurance that the unconditional repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act will pass the senate has caused a marked revival of speculative activity and bullish sentiment. Europe apparently has some misgivings about the withdrawal of opposition by the silver fac tion and has been a seller rather than a pur-chaser of Americans today. This, however, has not had any appreciable effect on the temper or tendencies of the markets. Buying by commission houses has once more become a feature, while large operators and professional bull pools have found abundant help from that source in advancing various specialties. The advance of values has been general and though the covering of short contracts results in a large reduction of outstanding bear accounts, the operations of that party have been so ex-tended there is still a large unprotected short interest in the market. The leaning rates for active stock furnish ample proof of the above fact. While the market has

FITTING END TO A BAD LIFE

Doc Taylor, the Famous Virginia Outlaw, Hanged for One of His Crimes.

WILL BE REMEMBERED FOR ONE GOOD DEED

When No One Else Dared He Brought His Arch-Enemy and Brother Bandit to Justice and Guarded the Court House During the Trial.

Morron, Va., Oct. 27.-Doc Taylor expiated his awful massacre of the Mullins family on the scaffold at Wise Court House, Va., a few moments after 2 o'clock this afternoon. He met death boldly and under the noose, dressed in a suit of pure white tinen, preached his own funeral sermon to the crowd of assembled witnesses of his death. To die the murderer's death on the gallows was the only end fitted to the cowardly career of a man like Marshall Taylor, known in the regions where the states of Kentucky and West Virginia join hands as Doc Taylor, dead shot and relentless on the trail of lor, dead shot and reientless on the trail of those who had incurred his enmity. Years before the desperado, Talt Hall, whose red record, furnished display head-lines for every newspaper in the country, ended his crimes on the gallows at Wise court house September 1, 1892, there had existed a bitter feud between the followers of those two outlaws. The death of one or both of them in a duel was the expected climax of this enmity. A reward was offered for the arrest of Hall on account of the mur. der of Officer Hylton, for which crime he was hanged, and he was arrested at Memphis, Tenn.

Taylor Captured Hall,

But Hall became so much of a terror that no one could be found to take the requisition papers and bring the outlaw back for trial. It was during this juncture that Doe Taylor came to the front and offered to undertake the dangerous mission. His services were promptly accepted, and he not only brought his man back, but he guarded him with a large posse in jail and to and from the court house during a trial that lasted over a week. All this time Wise court house was in a state of siege by a band of Hall's followers and outlaws from Kentucky, who threatened to rescue Hall. Taylor headed a heavily armed body of citizens, and by presenting a determined front defeated the purpose of Hall's sympathizers.

Doe Taylor's alliance with his enemy, the But Hall became so much of a terror that Doe Taylor's alliance with his enemy, the law, and the arcest or his greatest enemy, caused him to carry things with a high and bloody band among the mountaineers. His last cruel and inhuman crime, of which he was found guilty by a jury, was the massacre of the Mullins family. Ira Mullins, his wife and two children, and a driver were returning to Virginia in a wagon from Kentucky. Mulims had all his possessions with him, including some $100 in cash. The family was set upon in the neighborhood of Pend Gap by Dec Taylor and his gang, and not one of them survived to tell the tale; father, mother, children and the driver were murdered, the bodies rifled and the wagon robbed of its contents.

The news of this crime spread rapidly and the people of the entire country surrounding the scene became first alarmed and next united in a determination to bunt down Taylor and his gang. Every man became a law officer, and after a pursuit that was close and marked by several skirmishes, Taylor was finally captured and placed in the Wise county jail. He was tried and speedily convicted.

Was One of Morgan's Raiders.

Taylor belonged to the famous cavalry band commanded by the dauntless John Morgan during the war of the rebellion and was conspicuous for deeds of reckless daring. was conspicuous for deeds of reckless daring. When the war ended he returned to Kentucky and inaugurated a reign of terror in the moutains. Murders were the daily amusements of his gang and although they were frequently arrested, the terror which they inspired insured their acquittal when brought to trial. It was well known that any juver who voted to consider any other. any juror who voted to convict any of the narked for veneger by their friends, and as a consequence they always escaped. Taylor ran his bloody course and it was the atrocity of the Mullin murders that caused the people of a whole region to rise up against him, and made his conviction, once he was in custody of the officers of the law, certain. He was very eccentric and had queer reaglou-ideas, a kind of faith which may cause some to think his mind was unbalanced. It is said and generally believed here that Taylor was hired to kill the Mullins and that he got a large sum of money for it. He was a very eccentric man of spiritualistic ideas. He would hold spiritual scances at his home where he claimed to perform won-
