MAYNARD TUNED DOWN IN NEW YORK

Sections in Massachusetts, Michigan, Iowa, New Jersey and Other States Redoubt to the Glory of the Grand Old Party.

COLEMAN, O., Nov. 7.—With a plurality of 3,000 and two-thirds of both branches of the legislature, McKinley was on the most decisive victory recorded in Ohio since the first war. It has been won on national issues. Although McKinley was running for re-election as governor, he made state affairs secondary to protection and honest money in all his speeches, numbering 110.

It would not have been a surprise two weeks ago, but after the action of congress there seemed to have been such a reaction that the overwhelming vote is a surprise.

The democrats did not allow the contest to go by default, but made a most vigorous fight with its working forces. Ex-Governor Campbell canvassed the state for Lawrence L. Neal all last week, and the democratic committee was hopeful after congress reached decisive action.

Governor McKinley was not surprised at the result. He has expected it all along and felt confident that the impressions of the changes of conditions would not be overcome by the campaign efforts for reaction.

The weather was pleasant all over the state, and there was a full vote of over 800,000, and McKinley has a majority over all, with democratic, prohibition and populist tickets opposed to him. This is the first majority over all any state candidate has had since Foster's election, just after Garfield's death in 1881. The republicans are apprehensive of one part of their victory. The legislature elected today does not select a United States senator, and it is over two-thirds republican, the strongest since the war. With such a large working majority they fear such legislation by city members as may lead to defeat two years hence when another legislature is to be selected that will choose Senator Bruce's successor.

Before a look was given by Starn

Before a look was given by Starn, before headquarters rushed into the state house and took Governor McKinley by storm. He was surrounded by Congressman Boutelle, R. G. Howard, R. G. Hoar and others in the canvass, state officials and leading republicans who had come in expectation that McKinley would have a full vote and not talk on the result and said it would not do to estimate the extent of the result until after midnight returns would show. McKinley's victory was compared with those of the towns and cities.

Franklin county, the home of Thurman, in which Columbus was elected, has never been carried by the republicans. The latter claim that a plurality of 1,500 has been reversed for McKinley. Republicans elect county clerk, mayor and judges where they have never had local offices.

At 9 o'clock Chairman Dick, at republican headquarters, said that if the average gain in the rural vote was 20,000, the total gain would be 63,000, but that the rural districts would not keep up to this average. He feels confident McKinley's plurality will be more than that of 1891, and a gain of 40,000 over last year's vote.

Has no Estimate to Make.

Chairman Seward of the democratic committee has no estimate, but claims that the rural vote will be only slightly less than that claimed by McKinley. He has no estimate to make, but says it is an "off year," and that the party in power has been held responsible for the campaign.

CHAIRMAN REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE.

Chairman Seward of the democratic central committee was seen after midnight. He has no statement to make, but admitted the present ratio of democratic losses continues to be about 200,000. He says a plurality of 70,000 for McKinley, Chairman Seward and Colonel W. A. Taylor, democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor, laughingly conceded Neal's motion to make it unanimous.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 7.—Twenty-nine of the 173 precincts in Cuyahoga county show net republican gains of 1,789. The net gain in election of 9,900 in the county and a plurality of nearly 7,000 for McKinley.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 7.—The length of the precincts in Hamilton county show a republican gain of 932 over 1892. At this rate, the republican plurality will rise to over 12,000, which appears to carry the entire republican ticket, including three senators and ten members of the house. At 9:30 the streets in front of the republican clubs were jammed with cheering and shouting masses of people, while everywhere horns were blowing and men yelling.

Two hundred precincts give McKinley 32,170; 20,982 give populists 61,100; 1,307. The same precincts in 1892 gave Harrison 30,610, Cleveland 34,718, showing a republican gain of 1,130.

AN USUAL.

Results in Kentucky Strongly in Favor of the Democratic Party.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 7.—Full election returns throughout Kentucky will not be available for several days, but so far as the reports have been received it is pretty certain that the relative standing of the two political parties has not changed. Senator William Lindsay was elected last winter over Governor Brown and Congressman McCrea and Stone. Lindsay then had 60 per cent of the democratic caucus votes. In the primaries fully 80 per cent of the democratic nominees for both house and senate were pledged to Lindsay, and they are all friendly to Senator Blackburn, who will stand for re-election two years hence. The Kentucky legislature will be democratic on joint ballot by about four to one. The only issues in this election were factional, the dominant faction of the democracy being the Cleveland party, as opposed to the wing which supported Mr. Henry Watterson. In this city, Tuler, democrat, was elected for mayor by about 5,500 majority.

HOUSED REELECTED IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Republicans Win by Good, Large Majority.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—The election today closed the quietest political campaign in the history of Pennsylvania for many years. In a few counties in the eastern part of the state local issues have excited interest outside of party contests, and lively struggles over the committee on pleas judgment in a half dozen districts brought out an exceptionally large vote. This was particularly true in Lackawanna, Schuylkill, Bucks and the Carbon mining districts. There are all more or less democratic sections, with the possible exception of Lackawanna, which is pretty evenly divided politically, and Blair, which is strongly republican. In the eastern part of the state the greatest interest centered around the contest in Monroe county district, where a bitter fight has been waged by admitting the anti-administration democratic faction.

At midnight the following counties in western Pennsylvania had been heard from, with estimated results: Allegheny county, 15,000 republican plurality; Venango county, 10,000 plurality; Lawrence county, 2,000 republican plurality; Cambria, 500 republican plurality; Blair county, 2,000 republican plurality.

Returns from Franklin county show a republican gain of 900. Northumberland county, republican gain 400; Armstrong county, republican gain 6,000, compared with 1891.

The entire republican ticket is elected in this city.

MIDDLEBURY, Pa., Nov. 7.—In consequence of the failure of the standing committee of both the democratic and republican parties in Florida county to certify the nominations of the candidates for associate judge, the ticket is mixed and occasional much antagonism and delay in counting the votes. Hence the reports are meager and it is impossible to estimate results, but it is safe to say that the entire republican county ticket is elected and Adams county will have a plurality of from 700 to 800.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 7.—The election in Allegheny county today was the hottest in the state. The tickets were in the field for county officers, and a determined fight was made on the regular republican ticket, but the republican ticket was elected by a majority of 5,500.

LEGISLATURE BELIEVED TO BE SAFE

Retain Estimates, Based on Comparisons, Careful the Democrats from Power—How the Figures Look—Reports from Various Iowa Counties.

Des Moines, Nov. 8.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Up to 3 a. m. this (Wednesday) morning comparisons had been made on 721 precincts, which was the end of the figuring for the night. These give Jackson, 90,857; Boies, 78,822. Same precincts last year gave Harrison, 90,160; Cleveland, 82,708. Net republican gain, 3,582.

This covers one-third of the state and indicates Jackson's plurality in the entire state will be about 33,000.

The legislative vote will run ahead of the state ticket, and will undoubtedly be republican in both branches by a good majority, though no figures can be procured this morning.

The indications are the prohibition vote will be about 12,000, and the populist vote in the neighborhood of 25,000.

IT WAS A LANDSLIDE.

Boies' Popularity Faded Before the Onset of Republican Voters.

Des Moines, Nov. 7.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The election returns so far in this state show nothing less than a republican landslide. Republican reports, however, have been slow in coming in, it being nearly 9 o'clock before enough to base any predictions upon had been tabulated. There has been a steady net republican gain in the first 100 precincts of nearly seven to a precinct. This is compared with last year when Harrison carried the state by a plurality of nearly 21,000. The precincts first heard from were mainly in the large cities, leaving the county precincts to be heard from and there the prohibition vote may prove to be large and cut down the republican plurality as now figured.

The total vote in the state will fall, it is estimated, at least 3,000 and maybe 4,000 short of last year, the majority of stay-at-homes being democrats, who probably could not consistently vote the republican ticket and still did not want to vote their own.

The democrats have lost heavily to the populists, which can be accounted for partly by hard times and principally to the recent silver legislation. The prohibition party vote, unless the county districts (generally the last to be heard from) pile up, the total will be small—much smaller than anticipated by prohibitionists and feared by republicans.

All the estimates are based upon the first 100 precincts heard from. The total number of precincts in the state is 2,008, so that the 100 comprise one-twentieth part of the state, and what is true of these will very likely prove true of the whole state, with nothing more than a small change at most.

The first 100 precincts just in and tabulated at 10 o'clock show as follows: Jackson, total, 14,777. The same precincts last year gave Harrison 13,862. Boies' total vote, 10,894. The same precincts last year gave Cleveland 9,487; net republican gain, 565, or about 6 per cent of the total vote, or 40,000, of which the republican candidates will receive 65 per cent. Actual figures will not be available until tomorrow night.

LEAD CITY, Mo., Nov. 7.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Judges point out the three republican supreme judges have carried the county by a fair plurality. Rice, republican candidate for circuit judge, has been elected by a large majority. The populist candidate for the whole state will make a republican supreme court, candidates have between 500 and 600 majority in the three counties named.

Republican Judges Elected.

St. Paul, Nov. 7.—Returns from ten different counties in North Dakota show a republican gain over last year's vote and indicate a republican plurality of fully 5,000. The returns indicate that six republicans out of eight chief justices are elected. Kellam and Bennett for supreme court judges have large majorities and it seems probable that the third judge is also elected. Chairman Seward and his associates in the state committee claim the county precincts will show at least one of the independent supreme court judges elected.

RESULTS NOT QUESTIONED.

YANKTON, S. D., Nov. 7.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Information received from the election returns in the republican democratic central committee at 6 p. m. assures the election of all of the republican candidates for judgeship upon the republican ticket. The republican state committee claims the county precincts will show at least one of the independent supreme court judges elected.

Disgraceful scenes at many places in New York state yesterday, when the race track element has wrought up more than ordinary interest in today's election, and both sides are out in force and working hard. The reports that are coming in are definite only in the statement of unusual activity in the election of the four republican candidates for judgeship. The republican state committee claims the county precincts will show at least one of the independent supreme court judges elected.

Many Persons Injured at Camden.

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 7.—Small sized riots took place in several of the precincts of this city in the forenoon. The democratic policemen and ward warden had possession of many of the polls, and the republicans have appealed to Sheriff West to place the military force at the polls in favor of the republican ticket.

Many deputy sheriffs were shot and beaten, but not seriously.

The following have been admitted to Cooper hospital to-day:

SAMUEL WILLIAMS, 812 Chestnut street, shot in the hand.

GEORGE BANKS, Kaigh avenue, shot in the hand.

MICHAEL KELLY, democratic worker, stabbed in the chest by a republican.

FRANK SEVERIN, eighth ward, shot in the head and back-jacked.

SOUTH DAKOTA REPUBLICANS.

They Are Confident of Success in All Departments.

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Nov. 7.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Chairman Greene of the republican state committee tonight stated that republicans of South Dakota would get their percentage of last year's vote, which will give republicans candidates for supreme judges about 5,300 plurality. Judge Hayes (rep.), candidate for circuit judge, this district, is elected by a good majority. The state ticket of the vote in the state has been cast.

Reports at Sioux Falls.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Nov. 7.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—At 11 o'clock the city vote is counted. The supreme judges have a large majority. For judges of the second circuit, J. W. Jones, republican, 732; W. A. Wilkes, populist, 198; H. H. Keiser, republican, 265; S. E. Lincoln, republican, 205. The state commissioner.
