Even Democrats Protest Against the Injustice to Pensioners.

WARM TIMES PROBABLE QUITE SOON

Messrs, Voorbees, Palmer, Vilas and Brice Determined to Attack the Position of the Administration on the Pension Revision.

> WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE, ) 513 FOURTEENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.

Today comment shifted from Hawaiian affairs and the recent elections, to the managrement of the pension office. It was stated in BEE specials a number of times prior to the recent elections that a lot of men in congress were preparing to uncork their vials of wrath upon Hoke Smith and the anti-pension policy of the administration. It was expected at that time the speeches which are to be delivered upon the subject in congress next month would come almost wholly from republicans. The result of the recent elections has changed the program. Leading democrats in the two houses of congress have relieved the republicans of the task as stated in a Bre special last Senators Voorhees and Palmer will lead the revolt. Four of the leading administration democrats in the senate have announced their intention to fairly "take the hide off" the policy of the pension office as soon as congress convenes, while the chairman of the invalid pensions committee of the house, Mr. Martin of Indiana, will, as soon as he gets some appointments which he seeks, come out from ambush and also join in the denunciations of the anti-pension policy of the administration.

The democratic senators who have concluded that their enormous pension constitu-encies will not uphold them in further silence are Messrs. Voorhees, Palmer, Vitas and Brice. It is expected that the speeches of the men who will denounce the opposition of this administration and congress to pen-sions will be sensational in character. Senator Voorhees knows a number of incidents where suspended pensioners have been re-stored to the rolls as seen as it was made known to the pension officers that the sus-pension were of democrats.

Chairman Palmer can, if he wishes, show that the failure to get a quorum of his com-mittee at any time during the extra session was due to administration influences. Chairman Martin occupies a similar position upon the house committee, which has jurisdiction over all pensions growing out of the late war and all questions relating to the pension bureau. He has for some time been sceking some appointments for his constituencies, and, of course, does not want his intentions against the administration known until he has secured his spoils. It is reported that the chairman of both the senate and house committee on pensions will resign their committee positions after scoring Hoke Smith's policy.

Castor-Morton Machine Broken.

It begins to look as if the Castor-Morton machine had broken down at the Postoffice department. There have been no fourth-class postmasters appointed for some time and it is reported that few will be made in the immediate future.

Today J. W. Steele was appointed postmasters. Sheef was appointed postmasters.

Carlisle Again Hedging.

Public opinion against the proposition to com the silver seigniorage in the treasury has caused Secretary Carlisle to announce again that it was never his intention to either coin the seigniorage or issue certificates against it. It will be recalled that Senator Sherman recently said that if the man in Ohio would be sent to the penitenttary, as that seigniorage, as stated in a Ber special, must be held as a sacred reserve to meet the fluctuations in the builion

Probable Presidential Candidate.

William Allison Merritt, an Iowan, is quoted in this morning's Washington Post to the effect that Senator William Allison is not without presidential possibilities on account of age or principles and that he will come before the convention of 1896. Mr. Merritt says among other things: "Senator Allison's chances as a presidential candidate for 1896 were never better between now and the next three years. But 64 years of age and looking younger by ten years, he is in the prime and vigor of a useful and well spent life. Despite the fact that he has served in Thirty-eighth. Thirty-ninth. Fortieth and Forty-first congresses, and, taking his seat as United States senator March, 4, 1873, is now serving his fourth successive term in that high body, which term will expire in 1897. His quick, clastic step, as seen in the senate chamber, his in-defatigable attention to all important measures, with ready and inexhaustible qualifications as a debater, will dissipate entirely the theory that Senator Allison's age will interfere with his duty, and with all of the elements of a model American statesman, including his past public life, which the breath of scandal has never touched, his polished address as a diplomatist, will place William B. Allison of lows in the front rank of presidential candidates for 1896,"

Will Let the Matter Rest.

The report of District Attorney Baker upon the conduct of the officers in granting upon the conductor the officers in granting special and disgraceful privileges to Bank Wrecker Mosher has been received at the Department of Justice. Attorney General Olney is out of the city, but officers of the department say the report is satisfactory and that nothing further will be done about the scandal, Mosher having been sent to the "pen." Owing to the fact that Baker's commission will run but eight or ten weeks longer he will not likely be removed.

What the Landslide Means.

Ex-Senator Charles H. Van Wyck of Nebraska, continuing his observations reported in last Monday's BEE, respecting the causes of the recent populist defeat and republican victories, said: "Yes, the outer edges of the storm twisted the entire west, and of course the victories struck us between wind and water. The storm commenced with this administration, and even before the sullen mutterings were heard afar off. Yet it was reserved for the democratic and reform administration to organize the elements that proved an awful

"That is a funny question," said General
Van Wyck. "The ammunition will be gen-Do you think it probab. ...t this lesson erousily accorded to the other fellow. Isn't it amusing? John Sherman and all that stripe of politicians think it means nothing but the dread that Cleveland would piay monster and annihilate the tariff at one stroke. That class has been playing dicta-tors to the democratic party and issuing tors to the democratic party and issuing ukases as to what they would accept. Through the republican party they force the purchase of silver; through the democratic party they destroy it; and when the people are seeking to execute their will, as lightning does the will of God, and the vivid gleam has rent the temple from turret to foundation stone, these men have the same composure that old Nero did when Rome was burned.

was burned.

As to Probable Results. "If the people say 'well done' to the contraction of the currency and the annihilation of silver, held sacred as money by the world for thousands of years, and the president only securing the prosperity of the nation from cheap money, why this fearfully scathing rebuke! Under a democratic administration their own pet is a goog one wholes. tration their own pet is a gorgeous, hydra-headed evil. If they are patricts, and Creveheaded evil. If they are patriets, and Cleve-land also, the people must have been singing hosannas instead of breathing curses. The dread of the tariff is too far off to produce this present upheaval."

"What will be the result?"
"No prophet can tell. All admit that soon we must have an increase of currency. Wait and see what it will be. There WILL ROAST HOKE SMITH the real trouble will commence. Silver is discarded. Nothing is left but paper, and this same democratic party must fly in the face of all its traditions and teachings and create flat money in its most dangerous form-state bills. What a sequel and result that will be from this most unnatural war-fare against silver? The administration will find this more troublesome than free trade or a protective tariff."

Personal Mention. Mr. L. B. Clark of Wyoming, who is spending a few days in the city is entertain-ing members of the Capital Press club with some stories about the early settlement of state and physical contests with the red skins of that section which would do honor to yellow covers. Mr. Clark has made him-self quite famous with the Washington newspaper men by his ability in story telling. Secretary Morton, who has been closeted for several days writing his annual report, Springer Gives His Views on Changes Needed in Banking Laws. WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 .- One of the first subjects ta engage the attention of congress when it convenes in regular session in December will be a new banking and currency system. For many years this matter has been under consideration and at times has figured quite as prominently in congressional discussion as free colnage and other phases of the financial question, but not until now, when the monetary necessities have been in such an acute condition, has radical legislation on this subject become an immediate probability.

Following closely on the repeal of the Sherman act has come a study of the banking and currency system of the country and the past few weeks Congressman Springer of Illinois, chairman of the committee on banking and currency, Senator Voor-hees of Indiana, chairman of the senate committee on finance, Congressman de Witt Warner of New York, and others who will be prominent in any legislation on this subject this winter, have been engaged in consultation with the president, the secretary of the treasury, the comptroller of the treasury, and other financial officers, with the view of proposing legislation which will meet the necessities of the government and provide a large and more convertible circulating medium without involving any of the financial and political embarrassments that would grow out of the revival of the flat money days.

Two Parties Working Together.

Chairman Springer of the house committee on banking and currency has just left the city after a number of conferences with the administration chairman of the senate finance committee, and it is expected he will submit to the house important legislation on this subject immediately after the reconvening of congress. Congressmen Warner, Sperry and the leading republican members of the com-mittee are understood to be Mr. Springer's active colaborers and it is quite generally conceded that any legislation which may become law can only be the result of harmoni-ous action between the two parties and will not be credited as the marked achievement not be credited as the marked achievement of either.

When asked for the marked copy understood to be under consideration, Mr. Springer stated that it could not be given out in detail until it nad met the full approval of the various other members of the committee over which he presided. "We have been engaged for several months," said Mr. gaged for several months," said Mr. Springer, "in the preparation of a measure which, at the proper time, I will introduce in the house and have referred to the committee on backing and currency, of which I am chairman. Our object is to respond as far as possible to the reasonable demands of the country for a better system of currency and to provide some plan by which our cur-rency may be placed upon a better basis.

Mr. Springer's Private Views.

"Any effort in my judgment to return to the system of state banks which prevailed before the war would be futile, and even if the 10 per cent tax on state bank circulations should be removed it would furnish little or no relief to the country. The reason of this s obvious. A great many states in the union have adopted constitutional provisions prohibiting the charter of banks in those seigniorage should be coined or certificated states for the purpose of issuing or with the the act would constitute a crime for which a authority to issue circulating notes. Such notes, therefore, could only be of local value. While some states provide a sare system, the experience of the past shows that irredeemable issues of paper money would flood the country, that counterfeiting would be universal, and the currency of the country would be thrown into confusion. What is required and demanded by the country is a natural currency which shall at all times be convertible into coin on demand, which shall be elastic in character, sufficient in volume, and so distributed throughout the country as to respond to the wants of trade and prevent congestion in the money centers.

> "I do not think the present national banking system has proved itself equal to the demands of the country. There is less than $200,000,000 of bank notes now in circulation, and there is no prospect of an increased circulation unless that favorable legislation to the banks is secured. The government hav-ing practically relieved the banks of the responsibility of redseming their own notes and the experiences of the past having demonstrated that the people do not look to the banks for redemption, I do not see why this needless operation should be carried on

Other Securities Must Be Had.

"The near approach to the time when national bonds will be due and payable, the limited volume of such bonds of this kind and their high prices in the market prove conclusively that other security for circula-tion must be resorted to. With proper regulation under government supervision the bonds of the states, of counties and of certain municipalities can be utilized for the purpose of securing a national circulation, and all banks, state as well as national, de positing such securities ought to be per-mitted to take out currency to at least 90 per cent of the par value of such bonds. Of course, the structest scruding should be ex-ercised in regard to such bonds and they should not be accepted unless they had been at par in the market at least for two years previous to their deposit and unless there had never been default in the payment of interest upon them. Efficient provisions should be enacted requiring addi-tional security in cases of depreciation of these securities. The government should assume all responsibility for the payment in coin on demand of such notes, and provisions should be made therefor by a coin reserve equal to at least 20 per cent of the outstand-ing circulation. The government having thus assumed all responsibility for redemp-tion and requirement of its currency, there would be no necessity for a bank reserve or for holding any portion of the currency that might be issued from circulation among the

the people.
"These generally are my individual views and I hope that with the aid of the commitand I hope that with the aid of the commit-tee on banking and currency and the mem-bers of congress generally without regard to party we will be able to formulate such leg-islation upon the general lines. I have indi-cated as will commend it to the favorable action of both houses and the president. Although the committee is not in session, the conferences ameng the members are fre-quent, and immediately upon the reassem-bling of congress we shall meet and promptly agree upon a measure which can be bling of congress we shall meet and promptly agree upon a measure which can be presented to congress and serve to relieve the distressed financial condition of the country and command the confidence of the

For a week or two past, Congressman Wheeler, Senator Pugh and others have been interviewing members of the ways and been interviewing members of the ways and means committee with a view to having a hearing accorded to the representatives of the Commercial club of Birmingham who desired to protest against the proposition now pending in the committee to place iron ore and coal on the free list. As Birmingham is the great manufacturing city of the new south, the stand taken by these manufacturers is having considerable weight upon the Alabama members. Congressman Wheeler has had several conferences with Chairman Wilson of the ways and means committee and Senator Pugh has

The creek has everflowed upon several occasions and the damage to tne property of the city and the people liv ing along its course has amounted to many thousand dollars. After the work of straightening the creek commenced Kendall & Smith, proprietors of a large flouring mill near the city, commenced a suit against the county for $50,000 damages, claimthe county for $80,000 damages, claiming that the work of straightening the stream had deprived them of their water power. The case of the state against W. D. Sewell for alleged frauds in the matter of furnishing flour for the use of the state insade asylum proved short and uneventful. FREMONT, Nov. 15 .- [Special to THE BEE.] -The bondsmen of City Treasurer Forbes are in hot water over a deficit of $5,000 or more, as shown by a check up of the office, and as the records only of the second term have yet been investigated it is thought probable that there are many surprises yet to come. The treasurer protests that he cannot account for the shortage and has offered to turn over his property, including his residence, to satisfy his bondsmen, but as his property is not valuable the bulk of the shortage must come from his condsmen, who are stockholders in the Fremont National and the Commercial National banks.
This occurring on the heels of a $3,000 shortage in a former police judge's accounts has caused the people to distrust the busi-ness methods of officials whose business it is to check up and look after offices of responsibility in the city.

RESULTS OF IRRIGATION.

CULBERTSON, Neb., Nov. 15 .- [Special to THE BEE |-The big Culbertson irrigation ditch is now nearly completed to Black wood creek, thirty miles from the head gates at Palisade. The water will soon run the full length of the ditch, and preparations are being made to irrigate a large area under this ditch next year. The effects of irrigation have been demonstrated here this year in the yields of corn and potatoes. Corn on irrigated ground produced as high as ninety bushels to the acre and potatoes 200 bushels. It will not be surprising if corn can be made to average 100 bushels and potatoes 400 bushels per acre when the farmers once understand the best method of applying the water to the land.

Fall wheat on dry land is looking exceed rail wheat on dry land is looking exceedingly well and may go through the winter all right. On the large farm of the Frenchman Valley Land company, one-half mile north of Culbertson, there are 500 acres in fall wheat in splendid condition. This farm consists of 2,000 acres of the very finest land in the country all of which its value the Colin the country all of which is under the Culbertson ditch; 1,500 acres are now in cultivation. It is the intention of the company to subdivide this farm into forty and eighty acre tracts as soon as possible. Mr. S. E. Solomon of Culbertson, the manager of the company, tinforms. The Ber correspondent that this will probably be done after another eason.

With 20,000 acres of irrigated land adjacent, Culbertson's future is established and her prosperity will not be excelled by any of the towns located in Nebraska's most

Officers intertered.

THE BEE. ]-The county commissioners of Cedar county have put a damper on the "grand balls" at the poor house south of town. Dances seemed to be highly enjoyed at that place until last Thursday evening, when the proprietor, or rather the overseer of the poor farm, ordered a certain girl to leave the dance room and go home because he was of the opinion that her character was not what it should be. This was the talk of the town for the past week and many more so, as the one sent from the place.
