While Not a Prohibionist the Major Never Indulged in an Overwhelming Jag-

> Esed Whisky Only as a Breath Perfumer.

The city council met at 10 o'clock vesterday morning to begin the investigation of the charges against Sewer Commissioner John B. Furay.

Councilman Elsasser had a little grievance because of the $10 fine imposed for his tardiness at a previous meeting, and wanted the same dose administered to Hascall, Munro, Back and McAndrews, who were not present at roll call, but the council did not feel that way, and sent out the sergeant-at-arms to bring them in, and refused to assess any fine against them. Major Wheeler presided, and after a brief statement has been made by Assistant City Attorney Cornish for the prosecution, and General J. C. Cowin, who assisted by Judge H. J. Davis, represented the defense, the councilmen drew their chairs up to the southwest corner of the council chamber to listen to the testimony. Fred Luchzinger, secretary of the Board

Fred Luchzinger, secretary of the Board of Public Works, was the first witness called by the prosecution, and it was shown by him that Charles E. Furay, the son of the ac-cused major, was never appointed by the board as timekeeper. The witness was also called upon to read from the records of the board to show what meetings Major Furay attended during July, August and Septem-ber. ber. On cross-examination by General Cowin, the witness testified that the records showed that the board ordered that Frank Furay perform the clerical duties of the sewer com-missioner's office during the absence of Charles E. Furay at the World's fair, and that the board had also approved the claim of Charles E. Furay for his services as time-keeper, and had included the amount in the pay roll, thereby approving the employment of the said Charles E. Furay. HORSES WINTERED $6 PER MONTH. AD-dress W. B. bay roll, thereby approving the employment of the said Charles E. Furay. The defense also brought out the fact that the failure of the record to show the ap-pointment of Charles E. Furay had no special significance and did not reflect on the sewer commissioner, as no such appoint-ments were shown on the record in any ia-stance, so that this was no exception. City Computed for the sever called

City Comptroller Oisen was next called and showed by the records of his office that the Furay claim was stricken out of the appropriation ordinance by the council. Major Birkhauser Testifies.

P. W. Birkhauser, ex-chairman of the Board of Public Works, was the third wit-ness, and after testifying as to his ac-quaintance with the accused was asked by Mr. Cornish as to Major Furay's drinking habits.

General Cowin objected to going farther

General Cowin objected to going farther back than the time alleged in the charges, but the objection was overraled by Judge Wheeler, who expounded civil and criminal iaw and the assumption of the statutes. The witness said he had frequently seen the accused under the influence of liquor while a member and at meetings of the board. He thought the accused was always more or less under the influence of liquor, and could tell it by his "ways, looks, actions and talk." He thought the major made too much of trivial things for a sober man to do. On cross-examination, General Cowin asked if it were not true that all the mem-bers were quite irritable at times, and the wincess admitted that it was. He said he was not a teetotaler, but he was never Rates, 10c a line each insertion, $1.50 a line per nonth. Nothing taken for less than 25c. ENGAGEMENTS TO DO DRESSMAKING IN Etamilies solicited. the witness admitted that it was. He said he was not a teetotaler, but he was never under the influence of liquor in his life, which was more than Grant could say. He could not state positively as to any par-ticular meeting when he saw Furay under the influence of intoxicating drink. Councilman Saunders wanted to know if Major Furay had been so much under the in-fluence of Hquor as to be incapacitated for the duties of his office. The witness thought that such was the case, and said he would not have allowed CJacobs, deceased: later with M. O. Maul, ander-taker and embalmer, 615 S. 16th st. Tel. 696, 838 H. K. F. H. Marshall, an engineer in the employ of the water works company, was called, and it developed the instance that came under his knowledge occurred in the latter part of September, two weeks after the charges were preferred, and an objection was interposed by Judge Davis.
Councilman Howeil also objected, stating that the council had allowed the prosecution to go back hearly to the first of the year, several months before the time alleged in the charges, and now it was sought to bring the period down to date, although no such charge bad been made, and the accused could not be presumed to have prepared a defense against it. Ho wanted simple justice accorded all parties. Judge Wheeler once more sat down upon the objection of the defense, and declared in favor of throwing down the bars at both ends and ignoring all rules of evidence and the legal conduct of the prosecutions.

Howell, Munro and Parker appealed from the decision of the chair, as under the rules adopted for the investigation three dissents were required before an appeal could be entertained. The chair was not sustained on roll call by

SUIT AGAINST NEW MEXICAN OFFICIALS

Ex-Bailiff Norberg Arrested on the Charge of Bribing a Juryman-Other Balliffs Surrender Their Street Car Passes -Accused of Stealing Liquor,

The records of the courts of this county have become burdened with another chapter in the history of the financial troubles arising in Holt county, wherein Deli Akin played the star engagement by having been arrested in Mexico and remaining in jail for several days prior to coming to the states.

It is well known that upon reaching this city, and before he was released from his captors, Akin brought a damage suit in the courts of this county, alleging that by reason of the confinement in the Mexican jail his reputation had been damaged to a very large extent. Not satisfied with the suit then brought, Not satisfied with the suit then trought, Akin yesterday went into the district court, where he commenced a $50,000 damage suit against W. T. Cunningham, Frank Simmons and H. E. Murphy, alleging that prior to Soptember he was a man of good repute and moved in society that was the best. He avers that during the day of the 23d the three men, Cunningham, as the then sheriff of Santa Fe, N. M. Simmons, as the sheriff of El Paso, Tex., and Murphy, as the county attorney of Holt county, Neb., conspired together and by reason of such conspiratoy caused him to be arrested on a pretended charge of being an embezzler and a fugitive from justice. After the arrest, he avers that Simmons threw him into the jail at El Paso and kept him there for the period of that Simmons threw him into the jail at El Paso and kept him there for the period of fifteen days, making him perform various disgusting offices and services for the other prisoners. While he was not doing these services, he alleges that he was confined in solitary imprisonment in a foul cell that was reeking with filth and vermin. Prior to the time of arrest. Akin avers that he was a man of good reputation and stood well in the community in which he resided, and that by reason of the arrest and imprisonment he has been brought into pub-lic scandal and disgrace.

Sadness reigns in the hearts of the bailiffs who attend to matters in the various sections of the district court, and instead of riding on the street railway cars they are riding on the street railway cars they are walking during these days. At the trial of Louis P. Norberg, the balliff who was convicted of tampering with a jury in a case in which the Omaha Street Railway company was a party, the fact was developed that all of the balliffs were enjoying the privilege of carrying annual passes issued by the street railway company in their pockets.

company in their pockets. When the entire bench met behind closed dcors to determine what course the court should pursue in the Noreerg case, the question of why the street railway company should furnish court bailiffs with annual basses was discussed. No valid reason could be discovered and it was agreed that the men should return their pasteboards or resign. Not wanting to resign the men have sent their passes back, while they now walk or pay fare.

further remember that it was probable that every man had enemies. Judge Wheeler again overruled, and the witness said the accused had unquestion-ably been under the influence of liquor at meetings of the board, and this had con-tinued after the charges had been preferred. He could not tell how many times, but was certain it had been quite often. He drew his conclusions from the majors language, which was loud, bolsterous and profuse, and the odor of liquor was also discernible. He testified that the major had also used some profanity and had taked a great deal.

General Cowin wanted to know if Furay talked any louder than Birkhauser. The witness didn't want to answer, but finally 5.55 p.n 8,00am admitted that Birknauser might have found it becessary to talk loud some times.
