DAILY BEE NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

City Council Session One of the Most Important of the Year.

SOME INTERESTING MAITERS DISCUSSED

Interstate Bridge and Street Railway Company Asks an Extension of Its Franchise for Two Years-Ex-Fire Chief Nicholson's Case.

Besides Alderman Geise, who is always absent, Hathaway was the only absent alderman at last night's meeting of the city council. In the absence of Mayor Lawrence Alderman Jennings occupied the chair. After some routine business of an important nature had been transacted, J. R. Webster of Omaha, who was present in the interest of Omaha, who was present in the interest of the Interstate Bridge and Street Railway company, presented the following resolution, which he asked to have adopted:

Whereas, The franchise heretofore granted by the city council of the city of Council Bimfs, Ia. to the Interstate Bridge and Street Railway company provides that the time within which said company shall complete its tracks may be extended for the period of two years, provided said company suffered delay in obtaining permission from congress to build its bridge across the Missouri river, or was delayed by strikes, high water or other unavoidable causes; and

Whereas, Said company was delayed in obtaining its franchise from congress and was required by congress to build a much larger bridge than was at first contemplated, thereby necessitating the expenditure of a much greater sum of money in its construction; and Whereas, Tangent work about and upon the pier upon which the draw span of said bridge rests was twice washed out by high water, thereby subjecting said company to great delay; and

Whereas, Said company has already built and now has in operation its main line of street railway from the city of Omaha; thereby demonstrating that it has acted in good faith, and that it intends to complete its line as rapidly as circumstances will permit; and

Whereas, The said franchise further provides that said company shall charge not more than a 5-cent fare from the city of Council Bimfs, Ia., That because of the said above mentioned delays, the Interstate Bridge and Railway company is entitled to the two years extension to the time limits mentioned in said franchise.

Explanations of Mr. Webster. of the Interstate Bridge and Street Railway

Explanations of Mr. Webster.

When the resolution had been read Mr Webster made some remarks in which he stated the reasons which he thought would justify the city in thus extending the time for the company to complete its operations. In the first place, when the bridge charter was brought up in congress Senator Vest put in an amendment requiring the company to build a heavy railway bridge. This neces-sitated a reorganization of the company and the securing of a complete set of new plans. The latter required the expenditure of $30,- 000 in cold cash. A second amendment, he continued, had been put in, requiring the company to give congress a map showing high and low water marks for a mile above and below the bridge site and the strength of current at all times. This he considered an entirely useless proceeding, and it cost the company $5,000 to carry out the provisions of the amendment, besides a delay of many months.

The delay of contractors, the strike in the Carnegie iron works, which was the only place in the country where iron for caisson piers could be bounded and the country was the country with and the country was the country wa where iron for caisson piers could be bought, and the repeated washing out of the false work were mentioned as ad-ditional reasons why the company had not been able to complete its work in the allotted time. Mr. Webster said he had been in-formed that the company would meet with obstructions and litigation if it tried to push its way into the city, and he wanted to ascertain the truth of this report before the company laid out any more money for rails and the like.

One Objection Mentioned.

Alderman Smith pushed that $1,200 judgment at him and said that as the company's neglect had caused the city this expense he thought the company should reimburse the city. Webster replied that that was a matter which should be discussed by the attorneys for the city and the company. Tibbetts moved that a committee of three be appointed, with the city attorney, to consult with the attorney for the company, and that the resolution should be referred to the committee of the whole to be discussed nt a meeting to be held after this conference took place. Keller seconded the motion, and Chairman Jennings appointed Aldermen Keller, Smith and White to act as such a committee with the city attorney. There was some dispute among the members of the council as to whether the motion was put to a vote, but whether it was or not, the minutes of the clerk say it was carried, and whether it was or not will probably come up for discussion at the next meeting.

The ordinance allowing sidewalks in any part of the city to be built of hard burned brick instead of natural or artificial stone was read the third time and passed. Alderman Smith presented an ordinance forbidding the scraping of snow from the tracks of any railway so as to form embank-ments at a greater distance than four feet from the curbstone, and providing a fine of not more than $100 nor less than $25 for each fracture thereof. It went over under the Ex-Chief Nicholson's Case. A matter then came up in which the general public feels a good deal of interest, namely, the question of investigating the alleged official misconduct of ex-Chief Nicholson of the fire department. Alderman Keller was the one to first suggest it, and next Thursday evening was finally determined upon as the time for be-ginning the investigation. Alderman Smith then introduced a resolution that made a decidedly uncomfortable feeling apparent among the other aldermen. It has been contended all along by some people that the aldermen, or rather a part of them, never intended to make a thorough investigation but intended, if public sentiment would allow it, to go through the motions and then reinstate Nicholson merely on the ground of his being a democrat. Smith's resolution instructed the city attorney to collect such evidence against Nicholson as he might think proper and bring it up on the night of the investigation.

This evidence was just what the whitewash members of the council didn't want. Smith is the only republican member of the council, so far as Nicholson's investigation is concerned, for Tibbetts is, to all intents and purposes, a democrat, voting and working with them whenever Nicholson's shortcomings are brought up. For some minutes it looked as though Smith's resolution was not going to have any second, but finally, after a couple of minutes exceedingly awkward silence, White dropped out of line and sec-Then each alderman had to show his hand, and the resolution was adopted

Smoke T. D. King & Co's Partagas. CLAIMS HOLMES WAS NOT HIRED.

Suit in Which the Ex-City Attorney Sues

the City for $3,000. The suit of George A. Holmes against the city was placed upon trial yesterday afternoon in the district court. Holmes, who was formerly city attorney and appeared for the city in three of the cases in which suit was brought against the city by private individuals for the purpose of regaining possession of chunks of Fairmount park, is suing for $3,000 attorney fees in the three cases. Nothing had been heard of Holmes' claim for several years until last spring, when the sum of $10,000 was awarded to two other attorneys who had represented the city in certain park litigation. Holmes had up to that time received about $600, and he immediately awoke to the situation with such a vengeance that the suit now pending was started. The $3,000 is merely for the time during which he claims to have been employed by the city after his term of office as city attorney had expired.

The defense of the city is that the claim is exorbitant for the work that was actually done, and that Holmes, moreover, was never employed by the city in the cases. City Attorney Hazelton is using up a good deal of the gray matter in his brain in the effort to discover a lawyer whom he can call in to swear that $3,000 is an exorbitant charge.

If an arrangement could have been made between the attorneys by which the case should be tried to the court, however, a different result might have been reached. Last Saturday Judge Smith heard the testimony of three different lawyers as to the reasonableness of the charge of $1,500 made by certain attorneys of this city in a diverce case. All three testified that $1,500 looked all right to them, but in spite of that testimony Judge Smith looked back at the time when he was conducting law suits and gave the attorneys a judgment for $500. It is reported that Holmes' attorneys in the present the case to Judge Smith's decision, but the city attorney preferred to go before a jury.

Variegated Honeymoon. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Scott, two of the leaders of the Big Lake "400," have been married about a month, and they celebrated the end of their honeymoon by having a lively fracas. Mrs. Scott was determined to leave her lord. and the latter was determined that she should not leave without giving him the ring which the parson had used in uniting them in wedlock. Their quarrel was cor-ducted in so public a fashion as to awaken Dan Ferguson, the Big Lake policeman. He put them under arrest and left them with a neighbor, while he went to send for the patrol wagon. When he returned Scott had skipped, but the woman was waiting for the wagon. An old-fashioned, muzzle-loading shotgun was brought in with her, and with this, she claimed, her husband threatened to exterminate her. Later in the afternoon Scott was also arrested and put behind the bars, the charge of disturbing the peace being preferred in each case.

In connection with the retirement of the inspectors a mild passage of arms occurred

Chief Seavey remarked with some asperity that the board had no political debts to pay, and that no man should draw a salary for stick ing his head into the door every day. If the board was to be turned into a political machine he wanted to be registered as on the other side of the fence.

STOLE FROM A CHURCH.

Thieves Endeavor to Sell Silver Service Taken From a Sanctuary. Yesterday afternoon two young men went into Max Meyer & Co's, jewelry store at Eleventh and Farnam streets and offered to dispose of a quantity of old silver. Max Meyer was present and he asked to see the goods. The men placed a small sack on the counter and exposed some pieces of broken silverware and offered to sell them quite cheap. Mr. Meyer examined the metal and discovered that it had formerly been in use in a church, but he was more than surprised when he ascertained that the stuff had been purchased from his store and had been inscribed by one of his engravers. He came around the counter to see if he could find a policemen to arrest the fellows. The thieves suspected his intentions and ran out of the door before he could stop them. They left their plunder behind them and an officer was soon placed on their trail. It was ascertained that the silver service used at the Congregation of B'nai Israel church, 1407 South Thirteenth street, had been stolen a few days ago, and this is part of it. The thieves had endeavored to destroy the identifying inscriptions by breaking up the vessels. Possibly they might not have been discovered but for the fact that they tried to sell the pieces to Mr. Meyer. The silver is valued at $20.

Bloody Cutting Scrape Between Two Co:ored Waiters in a Hotel. There was a large and enthusiastic cutting scrape in the kitchen of the Merchants hotel vssterday forenoon and two colored waiters who have been in the habit of "chasingchuck" will be absent. One is in jail and the other is being watched over by a doctor.

For some time there has been bad blood

between Sam Wilson and Thomas Jefferson

They have "sassed" back for several months and there seemed to be quite a rivalry as to which was the best waiter. Yesterday the war of words came to an end and a po-tato knife in the hands of Thomas Jefferson played a star part for a few moments. Wilson opened hostilities by throwing a plate at the head of Jefferson and the latter picked up the nearest weapon at hand, which happened to be a potato knife. With this in nappened to be a potato smile. With this in his right hand Jefferson started after his enemy and in the language of the street gamin, "he got-him good and hard." There was a clinch and a slash. Wilson's face was cut from ear to ear and looked a good deal like Billy Kersands' mouth in the minstre show. This did not satisfy the negro with the knife and he went at it again. Nine cuts on Wilson's head was the result of this encounter. Two of these cuts were six inches in length. Wilson fell to the floor and fainted from the loss of blood. Jefferson jumped out of a window into a passageway and hid in the cellar.

Sergeant Ormsby happened along and Manager Hulett reported the matter to him Ormsby called a doctor, and then hunted up his namesake Thomas Jefferson. He found the negro hiding behind a big pile of pota toes in the cellar, and dragged him out.

When taken out Jefferson asked "is he

When told that Wilson had not ye expired, the prisoner remarked: "I wish that I had killed the -Jefferson was at once taken to spolice headquarters and locked up. On the blotter he is charged with assault with intent to kill. Ormsby then had the wounded man taken to his home, 1316 Capitol avenue, and remained there while Dr. Bacon sewed up the cuts. It took thirty stitches to close the gaps in Wilson's face and head. He is very weak from the loss of blood, and it will be some time before his physician will allow him to go into court and testify against his assailant. Dr. Bacon says that if inflam

The Would-Be Bank Swindler Has a Record in Other Cities.
Omaha's bank swindler, W. C. Coffield, waived a preliminary hearing in police court and was held to the district court in the sum of $2,000. Ellis and Reynolds, the men arrested on suspicion of being accomplices of Coffield, were discharged from custody.

Yesterday a letter came to the chief of police from W. A. Pinkerton saying that he saw in The Ber a notice of Coffield's arrest and asking for a photograph of the swindler. Mr. Pinkerton said that he be-lieved Coffield belonged to a gang who had their headquarters in New York and were operating in the west at the present time. He said all the members of the gang were smooth men and were well known to his own men and the eastern detectives.

Another letter was received from the Farmers National bank of Arkansas City, Kan., saying that Coffield had worked them
