DUN'S AND BRADSTREET'S

Trade Waiting for a Revival in the Great Iudustries of the Country.

per cent heavier than last year. Business is unusually duli and the holiday trade not GRADUAL INCREASE OF BUSINESS NOTED

While the Predicted Era of Prosperity Has Not Burst Into Sudden Life, the Outlook is Better than for Weeks Past,

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Consumption increases slowly and all branches of business are waiting for its growth. The railroad earnings for the month thus far are only 3.95 per cent less than those of last year, the decrease for the latest week being even smaller in freight earnings. Trade waits for the revivat of industries, and the week's returns respecting industrial progress are rather conflicting.

There has been a heavy sale of cotton goods at very satisfactory prices and the market has decidedly strengthened in consequence. Though the production in this branch is still somewhat less than it was a year ago, the market for goods at current prices is strong. In woolens there is an increased demand, notwithstanding several mills having orders for 1,000 pieces or more have closed, the orders not being so assorted as to give them profitable employment. But the sales of wool have been the largest since September, 1892, amounting at three chief markets to 8,025,500 pounds, against 4,813,500 pounds for the week last year, and while it is stated that many purchases are of a speculative character, there is evidence that large buying by active mills is prompted by increased orders. In Boots and Shoes.

In the manufacture of boots and shoes the demand employs an increased number of factories, and the orders are in number about as usual for the season, though smaller in quantity. The shipment from Boston, according to the Shoe and Leather Reporter, shows a decrease of 12 per cent for the week.

A gradual increase in the business is reported at all centers not wholly confined to orders for immediate delivery. A new compact of the steel rail producers, the Pennsylvania and the Maryland works having been leased to others in order to keep them idle, has checked the increase in purchasers of ore and coal and other materials, and the Pittsburg manufacturers are playing havor with eastern markets through the prices made in that region.

There is a considerable increase in the number of concerns in operation, but there does not appear to be much gain in actual consumption of pig iron, and prices are as low as ever. Even in the Pittsburg districts, where the business seems more active than elsewhere, the works are not fully employed. and the state of manufacture is shown by the returns of Connellsville coke furnaces, of which 6.485 are in operation and 11,060 are idie, the output being only 57,755 tons weekly.
In the minor metals the sale of 5,000,000 pounds of copper at 9% cents by the Calumet & Hecla has been followed by higher prices, and lead and tin are both firmer. Produce Markets. The markets for produce have been irregular. Wheat has advanced 1 cent, though the receipts have been 4,300,000 bushels against 5,500,000 last year, and the exports from Atlantic ports only 600,000 bushels against 1,930,000 last year. The corn re-ceipts are remarkably large, amounting to 3 000 000 bushels, against 1,300,000 last year, and the price declined I cent.

There has been a slight decline in oil. about 14 cent in coffee, and also in hogs, and Cotton is a sixteenth higher, though considerably depressed during the week, with receipts of 242,000 bales, against 23,000 for the same week last year, and the belief in a short crop does not outweigh the fact that stocks abroad and at home are 3,242,000 bales, about 40 per cent of a full year's con-Failures for the week numbered 358 in the United States, against 180 last year, and thirty-four in Canada, against twenty-nine last year. But the list this week includes some of more than usual importance. New York, Nov. 24.—Bradstreet's will tomorrow say: A feature has been the stimulus of sales of seasonable staples of cotton wear at Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Duluth and St. Paul, at almost all of which centers winter clothing, flannels, shoes, hats and, in some instances, hardware have been in great demand by country merchants. Inquiry in the city trade is smaller. Second only in importance are improved collections at Atlanta, Chattanooga, Louisville, Omaha, St. Paul and Duluth. A tendency to make terms for purchases of iron and steel for future delivery at Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis constitutes additional symptoms of a revival in these industries, the beginning of which promises to mark the opening of the new year. There is no ad vance in prices of commoner grades of iron or steel, both selling at the lowest figures on record. The nominal advance in rails is because leading makers have renewed their agreement. Pig iron production is increasing slowly, and the total output for the year promises to reach 7,450,000 gross tons, a total of 17 per cent smaller than in 1892. The relative stiff prices for wool at western centers place that staple there above a parity with castern quotations and checks the movement. The Louisiana cane sugar crop will probably amount to 515,000,000 pounds, 15 per cent more than last year, while the total sugar crop throughout the rest of the country is estimated at 44,000,000 pounds for 1893, 63 per cent larger than last year, but aggregating only one-tenth the size of the Louisiana cane sugar crop last year. Bradstreet's estimate of domestic wheat available for export during the remaining months of the cereal year indicates that nearly 2,000,000 bushels of wheat are likely to prove available for export weekly if needed, notwithstanding our having exported more than 80,000,000 bushels up to the middle of November. Exports of wheat (flour as wheat), both coasts, this week aggregate 2.764,000 bushels, contrasted with 2,645,000 bushels

FILLS A PAUPER'S GRAVE UNMOURNED

Death of a Man Whose Greed for Gain Led Him to Commit a Cold Blooded Murder-Lived in Donglas County for Years. For a number of years Minor Milton has percentage of increase or decrease of the been a charge upon Douglas county and has occupied quarters at the poor farm, but he is there no longer, as he has passed away and his body has been laid in a pauper's grave. At the ripe old age of 85 years, Milton died Thursday night and today there are no friends or relatives to mourn, so far as is known. The old man was one of the carriest settlers in the state, and one who had a history. In 1848 he left an eastern home and enlisted in the United States army, going to Mexico, where he served his country until the close of hostilities, receiving two wounds, which assisted in placing him on the pension roll of his country. After being discharged from the service he drifted about the country for a few years and then came to Nebraska, locating in Washington county, not far from Fontenelle, where he took up a homestead. There he lived and was considered one of the most respectable citizens, accumulating a small fortune in lands, horses and cattle. 3.1 In those days lands in Nebraska were as free as air and could be had by simply paying the government fee. Milton secured all that he could carry and coveted for more, one particular tract, a portion of a school section which adjoined his many acres. This tract had been squatted upon by Henry King, and was being well improved. Each morning, as Milton arose from his bed, he would look out of his house and swear that he would have the King farm, even if he had to wade through blood in order to secure it. Upon several occasions he sent word to Henry King and a young brother that in order to avoid trouble they would have to move out. Each time the Kings sent back word that they were not of the moving kind, and that they proposed to hold the land, as it was their own and had been improved and paid for with money which they had honestly earned.

Blood-Stained Pages of History.

As time rolled on the neighbors took sides and a long and bitter feud followed, which in the end added several bloody pages to the early history of Washington county. The house of the Kings was burned, their crops were destroyed and their cattle killed. Being orderly disposed citizens, they did not seek vengcance, but allowed the law to take its course. They swore out a warrant against Milton, charging him with malicious destruction of property, and had him bound over to appear at the next term of the district court. This aroused the ire of Milton and his gang, all of whom took a solemn outh that the Kings would have to die or leave the country.
On the morning of May 16, 1876, Milton and two Swedes, who had taken up arms against the Kings, and who were named Christensen and Jensen, respectively, drove over to Biair, where they filled up with liquor. They went from saloon to saloon and swore they were going to kill the Kings. Later in the day Henry King and his young brother went to Blair and were at once in formed that Milton was upon the warpath and that he was best upon killing. They laughed at this, but kept shady during the entire day, starting for home just after dark. They had gone but a short distance when they discovered that they were being pursued by Milton and his party. They put the whip to their horses and for several miles it was a race for life. Seeing that their horses were failing, they An the Activity for the Past Week. New York, Nov. 24.—Bradstreet's finan-cial review says: Professional interests drove to the house of a fariner in order to seek safety. As they jumped from the wagon Milton drove up and, leaping out of his vehicle he threw the lines to one of the Swedes and commenced pounding Henry King over the head with a heavy club. The part in current speculation is too limited at participation of commission houses in the transactions. In spite, however, of these disadvantages, the tone of the market has undergone a change for the better, a section first blow felled him to the ground and the next crushed his skull. Not satisfied with that, he continued his cruel work until the was extinct. Then turning his attention to the young King, Milton beat him over the head until he was insensible, after which he umped into his wagon and, lighting his pipe,
