

THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE.

ESTABLISHED JUNE 19, 1871.

OMAHA, SUNDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 3, 1893—TWENTY PAGES.

SINGLE COPY FIVE CENTS.

ONE OF THE OLDEST CROCKERY HOUSES IN THE CITY.

MOODY'S CHINA STORE GOING OUT OF BUSINESS.

Having decided to retire from business, we will at once close out our entire stock of Queensware, Glassware, Lamps, etc., at prices regardless of cost. Orders by mail carefully filled. Store open till 9, Saturday till 10 o'clock.

Grid of product categories and prices: Hanging Lamps, Dinner Sets, Toilet Sets, Silver-plated Ware, Carving Sets, Cut Glass, French China, Water Sets.

MOODY'S CHINA STORE, 302 North 16th Street, Corner Davenport Street.

LARRABEE ON THE RAILROADS Further Schemes of the Powers of Monopoly to Rule the Whole Roost. SUBSIDIZED PRESS AND SUBSIDIZED BARRATRY System of Sitting on the Fence and Disguising Party Leanings Until the Poll is Announced—Their Power on the Wane.

the bar of the great cities. They say that the growth of enormously rich and powerful corporations, willing to pay vast sums for questionable services, has reduced the virtue of our counsel whose eminence makes their example important, and that in a few states the degradation of the bench has led to a general understanding between judges and counsel for the perversion of justice.

with the uncertainty which has for years attended national politics, they deem it the part of discretion to pretend friendship for either party and then shout for the victor in conformity with this policy a well known New York railroad millionaire has for years made large and secret contributions to the campaign funds of both political parties.

particularity true of railroad companies, and they use many ingenious plans to accomplish their ends. Have you seen any tickets yet? And what do you think of this plan? Yours truly.

THE KID AND HIS CRIMES An Apache Renegade Abroad with a Gun in Arizona. TOUGHEST SPECIMEN ENJOYING LIBERTY Officers and Cowboys Hanking for His Scalp and a Reward of $10,000—A Crack Shot and an Experienced Butcher—Summary of His Record.

hardly got beyond the reservation line when they were attacked by a number of Indians, who liberated the young murderer, who then fled to the mountains and hid in a cave. The Kid is said to have killed the sheriff with a knife, and the Indians took his head and hid it in a hollow tree.

Prince Rupert's drop in the most curious swindle of the glassmaker's art. The story is simple: the drop is a piece of glass, but it is so small and so perfectly balanced that it is held together by a force of attraction which is not understood.