NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Tomorrow Evening's Meeting of the Council Anxiously Awaited.

IMPORTANT QUESTION TO BE VOTED ON

Extension of the Interstate Railway Company's Charter to Be Considered—The Matter Will Probably Be Decided Then—A Few Opinions.

The meeting of the city council tomorrow evening promises to be one of considerable interest, from the fact that it is generally believed that at that time the question whether or not the Interstate Railway company's charter shall be extended for another two years will be definitely decided. The charges that have been made by some of the leading citizens that the Omaha Bridge and Terminal Railway company, which now holds the charter of the Interstate, has no intention of putting in a new railroad, but merely wants to keep the charter so that it may be sold out to the Omaha and Council Bluffs Bridge company in case Judge McGee's decision, when rendered, shall prove to be adverse to the latter, have attracted considerable attention.

The friends of the Terminal company claim that the theory of a deal between the two companies is given a knockout blow by an examination of the provisions of the charter itself. This charter stipulates plainly that the Interstate company shall pay for all paving between the tracks, and shall not charge more than 5 cents for transporting passengers from one city to the other. This is pointed to as a sufficient refutation of the charge that the present motor company will want to buy the Interstate charter, as these two points are the ones upon which there has been so stubborn a fight between the corporation and the citizens.

Claim of Its Opponents.

Those who are opposing the extension for so long a period as two years, however, claim that this objection to the theory does not hold good. If the charter of 1886 is declared forfeited the bridge company will be occupying the streets without a shadow of authority of law. It is quite certain that no company will ever again be granted the right to charge a 10-cent fare, so that with that charter gone a 5-cent fare would be inevitable. It is highly probable, also, that no charter would ever be granted again, under any circumstances, to the men now composing the Omaha Bridge and Terminal Railway company, so that any favors they might desire would have to be secured through third persons. They would doubtless consider it better to run on the 5-cent system than to have the tracks torn up by order of the city marshal, and a 5-cent fare ordinance held by another company would be just the kind of merchandise that the present motor company would be looking for with all its eyes. These considerations are urged by those who contend that the Terminal company should have strict conditions imposed upon it in case the city council is determined to extend the time.

Motor Company as a Taxshirker.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Dec. 2.—To the Editor of THE BEE: In Thursday morning's issue of your valued paper, one "S" commends the motor company, denounces criticising citizens and applauds the alleged conduct of the mayor and city attorney in ignoring the ordinances of this city and the laws of Iowa in the interest of the motor company. He alleges that complaint should cease, because otherwise foreign capital may be deterred from investment here.

What inducement does the capitalist see to attract him here? He observes a population burdened to the limit of endurance by taxation—the city's bonds issued to pay for paving about due, while the motor company, owing for that paving, while publicly acknowledging its liability, yet refuses to pay the money that would take up those bonds. Not a finger has been lifted to enforce payment and the company will pay only at the limit of coercion. Is that prospect inviting to an investor?

Since 1888 the motor company has owed this city for tearing up Broadway and Avenue A thousands of dollars. It had no defense; it had agreed to pay, but it would not, and it is only within the last few days that the suit instituted for collection of this debt was submitted to the court. Is that a cheering prospect to the capitalist invited to buy our real estate?

These are but two out of a dozen instances in which the motor company, a public servant, organized under promises to develop Council Bluffs, has resorted to every device dishonest ingenuity could invent to repudiate its obligations and to work injury to the city that gave it such a magnificent franchise. CITIZEN.

Protect the Corporations.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Dec. 2.—To the Editor of THE BEE: Your correspondent "Free Lance" offers very doubtful consolation to invested capital in the assurance of protection by the law. While possibly the law might protect property from mob violence it in no way shields the business and private affairs of corporations from a class of citizens who are constantly busy criticising the management of corporations that afford them the enjoyment of many comforts of life that were unknown to the working classes, until combined capital in the form of corporations, placed them within reach of the masses. Allow me to ask "Free Lance" who ought to be the best judges of an equitable motor fare, those who have their money invested in the enterprise and know the cost of maintaining and operating the bridge and street railway, or arrogant fautfinders and political sharks, who, not having any investment of their own to care for, busy themselves in dictating what returns their more fortunate neighbor shall receive on his investment, especially if he has generously put his money into a public improvement? S.

SOCIAL GOSSIP.

What Has Happened During the Past Week to Relieve the Monotony.

The throes of Thanksgiving week are over, the turkey population is largely a thing of the past, and the people of Council Bluffs have settled back again into the hum-drum routine of this work-a-day world. Pleasant memories, with now and then, perchance, an unpaid doctor's bill, are all that remain of the preparations and bustle incident to the few days preceding the great national holiday. The week was not distinguished for the brilliancy of its social events, and yet there have been few weeks during the past year when people enjoyed themselves so well. The pleasure, that had its foundation in natural good fellowship, rather than a desire for ostentatious display, was the main feature of the social events.

The reception given by St. Andrew's society on Thursday evening has been written up at some length in these columns, but it may be added that this society has probably never given an entertainment that was quite so universally enjoyed as this was. Most of those present were of one nationality, while those who were not were brought into the fold for the time being by the sturdy hospitality and hearty good cheer, and all were Scotch until the break of day.

Unity Guild gave one of its enjoyable dancing parties Friday evening at the Masonic temple. There was a large turnout, partly from the well known ability of the members of the guild as entertainers, and partly from the fact that it was to be the last time the temple hall was to be used for social purposes. Fine music was on hand and all were highly entertained.

Miss Helen Stoddard entertained a little company of friends on Thanksgiving evening at her home on Second avenue. Those present were: The Misses Carrie Withrow, Delia Dyar, Anna Walker, Byrde Baker, Peg Williams, and Messrs. Percy Jameson, Tom Askin, Melvin Gould, John Stoddard, Oscar Dyar and Charlie Sayles.

Miss Lillian Trude entertained a number of her Omaha friends Thursday evening at her home, 24 South Twenty-second street. Among them were the following: Misses Clara Huxold, Dora Evans, Donnie Moulton, Edith Wallace, Anna Peterson, Dora Roys, Nellie Cady, Winnie Bishop, Miss Thompson; Messrs. Ted Price, Arthur Hathaway, Wilbur Lemon, Willard Chambers, William Miller, Jean C. Whinnery, John Larson, Arthur Tillson, Ed Lafferty, Volney Johnson and Percy Thornton.

WILL DEDICATE TODAY.

Christian Tabernacle is Now Ready for Occupancy—The Day's Program.

The members of the Christian church will have feelings of a good deal of satisfaction today, from the fact that they are through with the worry of moving around and have at last moved into their new tabernacle at the corner of Scott and Mynster streets. This church has made remarkable progress since its organization three years ago by Rev. C. Munroe. At that time meetings were held in a vacant store room at the corner of Twenty-sixth street and Broadway and by dint of hard work forty members were secured at the outset. Meetings were held with more or less regularity during the next two years, and at the beginning of the present year Rev. T. W. Allen was called as permanent pastor. Last May the lot was bought on which the building was to be erected, at a cost of $1,850. October 14 the work of erection was commenced and now the church finds itself with a building ready for use, not showy in architecture, but well adapted to its needs. The building is 40x80 in dimensions and has a seating capacity of 800. Over the entrance is the World's fair window that was presented by the Woman's club of this city, the same one that occupied so conspicuous a place in the Iowa building at the exposition. On either side of the vestibule is an alcove, which will be separated from the rest of the building by portieres. One will be furnished by the Kings Daughters and the other by the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor.

The baptistery is underneath the platform and is so arranged that the water in it can be heated in ten minutes. The building is very neatly furnished throughout. The following program will be followed out in the dedicatory exercises today:

IN SIOUX CITY'S JAIL.

Bill Brown, Who Shot a Colored Man, Is Where He Can Be Gotten Hold Of.

Bill Brown, a well known desperado of this city, is in jail in Sioux City, and will be brought here this morning. Deputy Marshal Fowler having left last evening for that purpose. Brown's last escapade was the shooting of Harvey Washington, an Omaha colored man, in a barber shop kept by John Morton, near the Northwestern depot. So far as can be learned, the shooting was entirely without excuse. Brown, with some companions, went into the barber shop on the evening of November 24, and, whipping out a revolver, shot at Washington without any apparent provocation. The bullet grazed Washington's head, cutting a long and deep furrow in his scalp. He was taken to the other side of the river and has been in a very precarious condition ever since. Brown disappeared and nothing was heard of him until a few days ago, when Deputy Marshal Fowler got a clew which led to his arrest. Brown has been mixed up in almost innumerable scrapes in which guns, knives and clubs have played important parts. The authorities hope to be able to clinch him in this case and send him where he will not cause further trouble for a few years.

Mr. Dillenbeck is director of the Kansas City School of Elocution and Oratory and his rendition of the charming story, which has been made immortal by Egglestone, furnishes a splendid entertainment for an evening. He is having the interior remodeled and fitted up into one of the coolest assembly rooms in the city and it will undoubtedly enjoy as great popularity as in the past. The gospel has been spoken clear, sharp and crisp in the Broadway Methodist Episcopal church the past two weeks. A goodly number have come out and professed a new life, and the members of the church have been stirred to more activity.

Mr. and Mrs. Willson are both preachers. Mrs. Willson gave an address to women on Friday afternoon. It had been announced as a woman's meeting, but what was her surprise to see the presiding elder of this district walk in and contentedly take a seat. He must have enjoyed it, for he remained until the meeting closed.

This morning Mr. Willson will speak upon the theme "Why Must a Man Be Born Again to Enter the Kingdom of Heaven?" In the evening there will be a gospel service. Monday evening they will give another of their select concerts. These Monday evening concerts are an attractive feature of the Willsons work, and the people and press everywhere are loud in their praise of these gospel vocalists.

Tomorrow evening Jole Dell Parks of Omaha, a little miss of 8 summers, will take part in the program. As an elocutionist she is wonderful. Free tickets of admission can be had at the services in the Broadway church today.

DESTRUCTION AT BALTIMORE

Disastrous Fire in the Business Portion of the City.

MANY BIG BUILDINGS WERE CONSUMED

Firemen Have a Difficult Task to Control the Flames—The Loss Will Be Very Heavy—Blazes at Other Places Yesterday.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 2.—One of the most disastrous fires in the history of the city swept through the commercial center tonight, entailing a loss of $700,000 and throwing out of employment over 500 people. It was only the fact that the fire broke out after working hours that prevented a harrowing loss of life. Darkness had hardly fallen over the city before a general fire alarm was sounded from Placa and Lombard streets. When the department arrived upon the scene the mammoth Heiser building, 34 and 36, South Placa street, was a seething mass of flames, and other structures of like importance were menaced by showers of sparks, which a strong west wind was sending in every direction.

Before the flames were gotten under control, the following buildings were gutted: No. 34 South Placa street, occupied by the Deutsch Lithographing and Printing company; L. Johns' overalls and dry goods factory and Charles Heiser's shoe factory. No. 36 South Placa was occupied by D. Langfeld & Co., cloak manufacturers. Next door was the cigar factory of August Mencken & Bros. All these establishments were totally destroyed.

Spread of the Fire.

The fire then spread to the dissection hall of the Maryland university. Sixteen cadavers were in pickle on the top floor of this building, among them the remains of Uncle Perry Anderson, of Burking fame. Before the flames were gotten under control at 8 o'clock in the evening, they had communicated to the warehouse and storage departments of M. S. Levy & Sons, straw hat manufacturers at Placa and Lombard streets.

While the fire was at its height the congregation of the Jewish synagogue were deep in worship at their temple at German and Placa streets. The roof of the edifice caught fire and it required the united efforts of the firemen and police to prevail upon the people to leave the building, which seemed in imminent danger of being consumed.

The flames reached L. Cohlen's stables, located in German street and ran through to Cider alley. Three hundred horses and mules were removed to safer quarters.

Rescued from the Flames.

Annie Taylor, one of the employes in the Langfeld building, was taken out of a second-story window by firemen.

Only the strenuous efforts of the fire department saved the establishment of Brigham, Hopkins & Co., straw hat manufactory, and Strauss brothers, wholesale clothiers, from being destroyed. The firms first named lost their entire stock, all of which are fully insured.

The buildings are owned by the McDaniel estate and are also covered by insurance.

Oshkosh Has a Blaze.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Dec. 2.—Cook's block, occupied by mercantile houses and as an office building, was destroyed by fire early this morning. The loss aggregates about $50,000; insurance $25,000.

Gutted the Top Floors.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Fire tonight gutted the three top floors of the J. M. & J. B. Cornell company, causing a loss of $90,000. Insurance not known.

VON GRATTA RELEASED.

President Dole's Alleged Envoy at Last Secures His Liberty.

DENVER, Dec. 2.—Von Gratta, the supposed secret emissary of President Dole of the Hawaiian islands to President Cleveland, is in the city still. The Salt Lake officers, who want to take Von Gratta back to that city to answer various charges of fraud, presented their papers to Governor Waite today, but that executive refused to grant the requisition on technical grounds. He said the officers' papers were not made out properly. There will be habeas corpus proceeding today and Von Gratta is confident he will not be held when he shows his papers.

Dr. Johnson examined Von Gratta yesterday and found him suffering from a tumor. He pronounces the man unfit to travel.

R. Brown, alias James Von Grotta was released from custody tonight on a writ of habeas corpus. Governor Waite has finally decided that he will not return Von Grotta to Salt Lake, where he is wanted on a charge of swindling, on account of his poor health. Von Grotta sticks to his story that he is an emissary from President Dole of Hawaii with messages for President Cleveland, and says he will now proceed to Washington.

MURDERED HER UNCLE.

Serious Crime Charged Against Mrs. Emma Patten of Utah.

SALT LAKE, Dec. 2.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Mrs. Emma Patten was arrested this afternoon on the charge of poisoning her uncle, Soren Neilson, a banker of Ephraim. She had been on a visit to him several months ago, and while there Neilson ate some mush one night and was immediately taken ill. He lingered through the night and died the next day. Doctors said death resulted from the effects of a combination of rough on rats and laudanum poisoning. Later it developed that the day he died the prisoner purchased a bottle of laudanum and the bottle was found empty in the house. Two thousand dollars in the house having been taken, the motive is thought to have been plunder. Evidence against the prisoner is very strong.

WILL INCREASE THE RIVALRY.

English View of the Repeal of Raw Material Duties.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—The Economist, commenting on the Wilson tariff bill, says: "It would be wise for our manufacturers not to expect too much from the bill if carried in its present form. Undoubtedly trade has suffered to some extent by the McKinley bill, but it is doubtful whether the trade has suffered as much as many suppose. The reduction of import duties will undoubtedly have a beneficial effect upon certain industries, but it would not of itself enable them to make good all the ground lost since 1890.

"Regarding general trade there is no doubt whatever that the repeal of duties on the raw material would render American manufactures, whose competition is already felt in certain markets, much more serious rivals than they are."

Resuscitate the Crimes Act.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—The National Observer urges that full use be made of the crimes act immediately, in order to combat the Irish secret societies which, the Observer says, are again stirring and who will go much further than they have gone.

Continuing, the National Observer says: "The Irish police were hampered by want of authority, but the ministry decided that the vermin of Irish society must be allowed the full measure of the law, and to that end has half disarmed the police."

CATARRH AND LA GRIPPE

Two Maladies That Work Together.

Catarrh Invites the Other—Safety Lies in Freeing the System From All Forms of Catarrhal Disease.

CATARRH IS OFTEN THE CONDITION THAT IN THE FIRST PLACE INVITES AND CAUSES LA GRIPPE. IT IS THE CONDITION LA GRIPPE LEAVES BEHIND, INVITING FRESH ATTACKS, MAKING, AS IT WERE, A HOME FOR ITSELF FOR NEXT SEASON. THIS IS THE PROPER TIME TO TAKE SPECIAL TREATMENT FOR LA GRIPPE AND ITS AFTER-EFFECTS, SUCH AS NASAL CATARRH, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION AND CHRONIC COUGHS.

NOTHING SO SURELY INVITES LA GRIPPE AS THE CATARRHAL CONDITION AND THERE IS NO MORE POTENT SAFEGUARD AGAINST THIS DANGEROUS INFLUENZA THAN PROPER AND RADICAL TREATMENT OF THE CATARRHAL CONDITION THAT INVITES IT. IT IS NOTICED EVER DAY BY DRS. COPELAND AND SHEPARD THAT DURING THE PREVALENCE OF LA GRIPPE THOSE PATIENTS WITH THE SEVEREST FORMS OF CATARRH ARE THE MOST SUSCEPTIBLE TO THE INFLUENZA.

Mr. S. E. Williamson, order clerk for Swift & Co., packers, South Omaha, lives at 1309 South 25th street, and is a well known business man and property owner. Mr. Williamson says he has no desire for publicity, but deems it just and right to tell the public how he has been helped. He says:

"Last winter I was sick two months with La Grippe, which so exhausted my nervous system and vitality that I was extremely weak and all my bodily functions greatly impaired. A catarrhal trouble had also for some time made inroads on my health. Dr. Shepard treated me for three months and I gained steadily in every respect.

"My blood and nerves and whole system are now in splendid shape. Formerly my blood seemed thick and moved in a sluggish way through my veins. After getting my blood all right it was easy to do the rest. I can sleep and rest as I could not do before. I have a keen relish for my food. It does me good and builds me up. Before I had no desire to eat. Along with my lowered state I had a rheumatic knee that for a long time was somewhat stiff and full of pain and swelling. It is nearly well now. I am mightly pleased with my splendid improvement that I urge my friends who need treatment for chronic diseases to go and get relief and cure as I have done."

STOP IT NOW.

THE TIME TO CURE LUNG TROUBLES IS IN THEIR BEGINNING. DON'T WAIT TILL YOUR LUNGS ARE RIDDLER WITH CAVITIES AND THERE IS NOT ENOUGH LUNG SUBSTANCE LEFT TO REVITALIZE THE BLOOD. COME WHEN THE COUGH BEGINS, WHEN THE FEELING OF OPPRESSION APPEARS, WHEN THE DIFFICULT BREATHING IS FELT. COME WHEN YOUR CASE IS CURABLE AND YOU CAN BE CURED.

HIS WASTING COUGH.

Some Facts of Importance to All People Exposed to Weather Changes.

Mr. A. G. Hollander, living with his family at 2123 S. 10th street, Council Bluffs, is a carpenter at the Union Pacific transfer, and has been in the Union Pacific service for five years. He is also a faithful member of the Swedish Oddfellows lodge No. 183, Omaha. The nature of Mr. Hollander's work exposes him to the weather a great deal, and this has aggravated and aided a disease with which he was afflicted until, despite his efforts with patent medicines and physicians who did not understand his trouble, the disease had become a chronic one. Mr. Hollander says:

"I suffered so much and so long that I was discouraged. I tried everything recommended, but seemed nothing but temporary relief until I placed myself under the care of Drs. Copeland and Shepard.

A. G. HOLLANDER.
2123 S. 10th St., Council Bluffs.

"My catarrh spread from the nose and throat to my eyes, which became bloodshot and blurred. My ears were then attacked with deafness and ringing. My system yielded steadily to the catarrhal disease until I was nearly broken down in strength. My stomach lost its power. I could not eat. A severe cough, night and day, set in, with soreness and pain through my chest which made rest and sleep almost impossible. I had a feeling like La Grippe and my lungs were sore and wheezy all through. The terrible strain of coughing made my head feel like bursting. At times I raised frothy phlegm; then again it would be thick and yellow. A severe headache was almost constant and was greatly aggravated by cold or damp weather and raw winds, for my work is entirely out of doors. Dr. Shepard has steadily treated me until I am entirely cured. My catarrh, deafness and headache are all gone; also my cough and lung symptoms. I eat and digest food splendidly, and am built up as I never hoped to be. It has taken a number of months for this grand result, but the time spent has been very light and the methods employed soothing and grateful. I believe Dr. Shepard saved me from a decline into consumption."

STOP IT NOW.

ARE YOU GOING TO RISK THE HARDSHIPS OF THE APPROACHING WINTER WITH THAT DISTRESSING COUGH, THAT SORENESS IN YOUR LUNGS, THAT DIFFICULTY IN BREATHING? IT IS BRONCHIAL CATARRH NOW, IT MAY BE CONSUMPTION IN THE SPRING. TREAT IT AND CURE IT NOW.

CHRONIC RHEUMATISM.

A Prominent Clergyman Talks of Dr. Copeland's Incomparable System.

Rev. E. W. Lewis, the learned orthodox clergyman of Lexington, Mo., has been trying the Copeland system of treatment by mail for catarrh of the head and stomach, complicated with severe chronic rheumatism, and writes of the results as follows:

"The course of mail treatment I have been taking with you has been attended with the happiest and most gratifying results. The medicines which I have received regularly by express seemed to go directly to the seat of the whole trouble. The rheumatism has gone, the headaches, the tortuse-dripping, the sickness and distress of the stomach, all the pains and miseries of catarrh are ended. I have gained a good deal in flesh already, and, with restored strength and spirits, feel once more the blessing of health.

"You have my full consent, Dr. Copeland, to publish any part of the correspondence that has taken place between us. As a minister of the gospel I feel that the work in which you are engaged is that of a true philanthropy and your kindness
