

GOLD IN BLACKFOOT VALLEY
Rich Strikes Reported from the Head of the Gulch.

WAS ONCE RICH IN PLACER DIGGINGS
Pursuit of the Search for the Ledge Rewarded with a Find of Decomposed Quartz that Contains Rich of the Glistening Dross.

Parties in from the Big Blackfoot bring news of a very rich gold strike. In the early days the Big Blackfoot placers were very rich and produced thousands of dollars in gold.

Charles Kitzinger and friends, who own the Gold King at Amizette, N. M., were surprised today at the returns received from a sack of ore brought from the mine a few days ago. The streak is about eight inches in width of a decomposed nature, lying next to an eight-inch streak of quartz which has a total of three or four inches in gold. The decomposed matter has been thrown over the dump heretofore, but is found to contain a $151 per ton in gold.

A heavy visit of three prospectors of Butte to the Clark's fork gold fields during a blinding snow storm, says the Hot Lodge Journal, led them to telegraph a Radio paper that the whole thing was bluffed. Their entire time was occupied while there in staking out claims for themselves, which they claimed they had a motive in giving to a black eye. There is no doubt that greatly exaggerated stories have been told in regard to the richness of the field, but that gold is there cannot be doubted. It is in paying quantities remains to be demonstrated, and this cannot be done until next spring. Prospector will do well to stay away until reliable results are obtained.

Stockmen in the eastern and northern parts of the state suffered immense losses last year from the ravages of wolves, which have been so numerous and bold for years, says a Helena dispatch. Reports are being received that these animals are again appearing on the ranges in such numbers that a very real peril exists. A Pennsylvania syndicate is reported to have taken hold of the project to run a railroad from Durango to the west, but it is thought that it will be really built next season.

Cattle Hunters Caught. A big cattle stealing den in the western part of South Dakota has been made public by the arrest of William Newson, charged with stealing sixteen head of cattle from a stockman near Pierre, S. D. Newson, heretofore considered a prominent stockman west of Pierre, says the Minneapolis Tribune, were implicated in the deal, and it is claimed that the stolen animals were in the vicinity of Pierre, in the Black Hills, to Kansas City, where they were sold.

Emerson wants a new $8,000 hotel. Platte county has been having a mad dog fight. The Lyons Mirror has entered upon its thirteenth year. A revival is in progress among the Presbyterians of Nelson.

The citizens of Rock Springs are going to present the Minors here when it is completed, with an ambulance valued at $350. Ranchmen say that horses have been dying in North park and that the Hunter brothers have lost a number of good animals at their ranch on Big Creek.

Two men have been arrested near Rawlins, charged with horse stealing. Thirty horses were recovered and are being held by the city. The Lyons Mirror has entered upon its thirteenth year.

Emerson wants a new $8,000 hotel. Platte county has been having a mad dog fight. The Lyons Mirror has entered upon its thirteenth year.

South Dakota since statehood is invalid. Huron alone can repudiate $300,000 worth of bonds.

The deal between the Bald Mountain Consolidated Mining Company and an English syndicate was consummated at Deadwood.

A rich strike is reported in the North Star on Raven hill. It is a quartz with crystallized silver.

Oro assaying $80 is reported with a banner encounter in the Morning Glory No. 2, Cripple Creek, at Grass roots.

All the coal mines of Coal creek, Rockvale and Williamsburg are employing full force, about 1,300 miners being employed.

The Colorado Fuel company is preparing to run a tunnel half a mile long at Coal Creek with a big deposit of coal hitherto inaccessible.

The gold strikes at Caro and Buffalo Sloops are causing considerable excitement in Park county. One mine is said to have returned 600 ounces of gold.

A good strike of sylvanite is reported in the Kalamazoo on Bull hill, Cripple Creek. Some native ore has been exposed in the Damon, 1,000 feet east of the Londoner.

A Pennsylvania syndicate is reported to have taken hold of the project to run a railroad from Durango to the west, but it is thought that it will be really built next season.

There is now enough work being done in the Middle Gibson to pay expenses and regular dividends. The company is now developing the ore bodies in the eighth, ninth and tenth levels, which are practically unexplored.

A new gold belt in the vicinity of Silver Plume is a source of a good deal of encouragement to the miners of that section. Some time ago ore has been discovered in a new time line and development work will be carried on during the winter.

A strike of forty feet of mineral is reported in the Hubert mine, Nevada district, Glin county, when a deep shaft was driven to a level of four feet wide, eight to ten inches of which is worth from $100 to $400 a ton at the smelter. After a shaft of 1,700 feet, 150 men will be employed.

The October output of Cripple Creek was as follows: Tons milled, 6,020; production, $44,255; tons shipped, 5,311; production, $36,000; mill and smelter, $8,255; total, $39,154. This is an increase of $9,550 over September. The amount of ore sent to the smelters was nearly doubled.

An Exciting and Spectacular Sport as it is Pursued in Illinois. "One of the most enjoyable nights I ever spent in the woods after coons was in the Globe-Democrat. An immense dam has chased the old ring-tailed coon destroyer about as often as anybody, and have sought him on all kinds of nights and days and seasons. I have trapped the trickiest and the wildest, and they have even given him names. But when it comes right down to real fun, that beats a Fourth of July celebration all to pieces, coon hunting with Roman candles catches me every time.

"Here we be, boys," said the old coon hunter, as we landed in the water. "You take your guns, and carry 'em easy. Keep shells handy, and watch the ole man. He's going to show ye some fun like ye never saw afore. The woods is just right, an' there's heaps 'o' coon around here. It's a mighty good place to place the dogs been sniffing, and would have barked had not Bent silenced them.

"What in the world are you going to do with the old man?" asked one of the boys.

"Well, boys, wad ye think ye my style uv shakin' coons outen the trees? beats clinin' all' holler, don't ye? Now, I've shown ye how ter do it; just handle the firework an' I'll keep the dogs in line. The dick coon wad be placed in the boat, and away we went; and in a circuit of about one mile three more ringtails were bombarded from their perches in the trees and killed by the dogs. Then we concluded to start for camp on the way, back a fine mark for our Roman candles. When one was lit the old fellow seemed to take a great interest in it, but when one of the boys lit the firework, he seemed to blink his eye, and his back began to flow against the trunk of a tree and fell to the ground only to be grabbed up by the dogs.

"I tell you I had a grand night of it! I got the old man back on the ground, and I'm sure I'm going to have a grand time of it, but when I see the firework in the air, I know it's a fine mark for our Roman candles. When one was lit the old fellow seemed to take a great interest in it, but when one of the boys lit the firework, he seemed to blink his eye, and his back began to flow against the trunk of a tree and fell to the ground only to be grabbed up by the dogs.

"I tell you I had a grand night of it! I got the old man back on the ground, and I'm sure I'm going to have a grand time of it, but when I see the firework in the air, I know it's a fine mark for our Roman candles. When one was lit the old fellow seemed to take a great interest in it, but when one of the boys lit the firework, he seemed to blink his eye, and his back began to flow against the trunk of a tree and fell to the ground only to be grabbed up by the dogs.

"I tell you I had a grand night of it! I got the old man back on the ground, and I'm sure I'm going to have a grand time of it, but when I see the firework in the air, I know it's a fine mark for our Roman candles. When one was lit the old fellow seemed to take a great interest in it, but when one of the boys lit the firework, he seemed to blink his eye, and his back began to flow against the trunk of a tree and fell to the ground only to be grabbed up by the dogs.

Barbecues and Indian singing will be indulged in, and a wild, weird sort of "ghost dance" held. Miscellaneous. Sonoma has a grapevine over 40 years old. It is at least 100 feet long.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Howlers for Reform Suddenly Turned to Supporters for Favors for the Things that Nearest Affect Their Constituents at Home. Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Democrats as Demagogues. Peculiar Features that Characterized the Preparation of the Tariff Bill. TRYING TO SAVE THEIR OWN INTERESTS. Howlers for Reform Suddenly Turned to Supporters for Favors for the Things that Nearest Affect Their Constituents at Home.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

Washington, Dec. 3.—(Special to THE BEE.)—When the democrats at the Chicago convention last year framed a platform they were careful to characterize the McKinley tariff law as unconstitutional in spirit if not in letter, and to denounce in the severest possible language the republican principle of laying a tariff with a view to the protection of American interests.

"Boys who should not go to College"
More harm than good from a College course is the experience of some boys. But who are they? President Hall, of Clark University, will answer, in wise words which need to be said, in an important series of articles on "Choosing an Occupation," to appear in

The Youth's Companion
Programme for 1934
Brighter than Ever.
FREE
"SWIFT CHARITY," a beautiful picture of Colonial times, in colors, 14 1/2 x 21 inches in size, presented to all New (or Renewing) subscribers. All New Subscribers sending $1.75 now, get THE COMPANION FREE to January 1, and a full year from that date. Sample copies free. Boston, Mass.

SKINS ON FIRE
With splintering scabs and other itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, blotchy and pimply skin and scalp diseases are instantly relieved and speedily cured by the celebrated CUTICURA REMEDIES, the greatest skin cures, blood purifiers, and most wonderful of modern times. Sold throughout the world.

HOMOEOPATHIC Medicines and Books
For Doctors and the Public.
Medicine Cases Filled For $1, $2.50 and $4.
WRITE FOR PARTICULARS
SHERMAN & McCONNELL, OMAHA, - NEB. NEBRASKA NATIONAL BANK U. S. Depository, Omaha, Neb. CAPITAL $1,000,000 SURPLUS $65,000

THE IRON BANK
BAILEY, LEADING DENTIST
Beautiful Teeth
A FULL SET ON RUBBER $5.00
Tooths extracted painlessly in morning. NEW TEETH SAME DAY.
Painless Filling—New Process.
Bridge and Crown work, best and best at lowest prices. All work warranted.
Patronize Bk., 16th and Farnam Sts. Entrance on 16th St. Telephone 1085.

DRUNKENNESS
Or the Liquor Habit Positively Cured by administering Dr. Haines' Sore Throat Specific.
It can be given in a cup of coffee, tea, or fruit, and is not objectionable to the patient. It is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the case be one of chronic alcoholism, or one of acute alcoholism. It has been given in thousands of cases, and has effected a permanent cure in every instance. It is the only cure for the liquor habit that has been known to exist. 40-page book of particulars free. To be had of Kuhn & Co. Druggists, 15th and Douglas Sts., Omaha, Neb.

The Mercer
Omaha's Newest Hotel.
Cor. 15th and Howard Streets.
40 rooms $2.50 per day.
50 rooms $3.00 per day.
50 rooms with bath at $1 per day.
50 rooms with bath at $2 per day.
Modern in Every Respect.
Newly Furnished throughout.
C. S. ERB, Prop.

BIRNEY'S Cattle Feeders cause extra All drugs & 50 cents
OFFICE OF THE OGALLALA LAND AND CATTLE COMPANY.
OMAHA, NEB., NOVEMBER 1, 1933.
Notice is hereby given to the stockholders of the Ogallala Land and Cattle Company that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company will be held at the office of the said company in the city of Omaha, Nebraska, on Thursday, December 6, A. D. 1933, at 10 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of selecting a board of directors for the ensuing year, and to transact any business which may be presented at such meeting.
In case the office of said company is in said city of Omaha, Nebraska, the stockholders who may be present at such annual meeting, then such meeting will adjourn from the company's office to the hotel known as the Paxton hotel, situated at the southwest corner of Fourteenth and Farnam streets, in said city of Omaha, and the meeting will then open and continue its deliberations at said Paxton hotel.
The directors earnestly request each stockholder to be personally present at said stockholders' meeting, and if he is unable to be present, to appoint a proxy.
E. F. LAWRENCE, President.
JONATHAN ABEL, Secretary.
1933

Sailing Away,
and both of them for pleasure,—with the chances for safety in favor of the washboard. In fact, there isn't much chance for safety until it's gone. If you want to keep your clothes, if you don't want them rubbed to pieces—throw it away. Then use Pearline.
That washes clothes without harming them. The washboard wears them out while it's getting them clean. It's rub, rub, rub, and wear, wear, wear, without Pearline. It's work, work, work, too. Pearline takes away the rubbing and takes away the work. There's no use for either, because, easily, quickly, safely, and cheaply, Pearline takes away the dirt.
Peddlers and such unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is a good one" or "the same as your size." IT'S FALSE—PEARLINE is never peddled. If your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back.
Beware