Eeveral Lincoln Men Who Want Cases Against Alleged Boodlers Dismissed.

PREPARED A PETITION TO THAT EFFECT

Fact that the Accused Have Thus tar Avoided Conviction Assigned as sufficient Reason Why the Prosecution Should Cease.

LANCOLN, Dec. 5 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-For several weeks there have been rumor that the friends of the indicted asylum boodlers would petition the court for the dismissal of the cases against Hubbard. Dergan, Lauer and Sewell. The rumors have generally ocen discredited, but today they were verified. A petition was today drawn up for presentation to County Attorney Woodward and signed by Edward Bigpall, J. H. Harley, J. H. McMurtry, J. J. Imhoff, S. H. Burnham, F. W. Brown and others. These gentlemen ask that the cases now pending against John T. Dorgan, J. Dan Lauer, W. D. Sewell and Frank Hubbard be All of the parties have been twice indicted and each one of them has been acquitted on one count of the indictments. Several counts yet remain to be tried. The petition recites the fact that the county has already expended over $30,000 in the attempt to convict the indicted men of the charges brought against them; that it will be an unwise ex-penditure of public money to further prose-cute the parties; that there is no possibility of their conviction, even if brought to trial, upon the remaining counts against them: that the strongest cases agains, them have been tried and that there is no reason to hope or expect that further trials would re-was formally discussed and it was resolved to hold another meeting to make a few changes in the wording of the papers. Lancaster County Finances. The books of the county treasurer of Lan

The books of the county treasurer of Lancaster county have been examined the past few days by C. A. McCloud, the state examiner appointed by Auditor Moore at the instance of the law passed by the last legislature. The report which was filed today was in every way satisfactory to the people of the county. The report shows that there is now in the hands of the county treasurer cash amounts divided among the following funds: Cash in the vaults, $6.821.93; on deposit subject to check, $87.625.79; certificates posit subject to check, $87,626.79; certificates of deposit, $30,000; in the Capital National bank, $35,694.56; total, $150,342.29. This amount exceeds by $198.99 the amount shown by the books to be in the treasurer's custody. Treasurer Burnham states that the excess probably belongs to the interest fund, which had not been credited. Calls it Binckmail.

A few days since Hardy & Pitcher com-menced suit against K. C. Johnson, a local attorney, to recover a balance of $36 alleged to be due them on account. Mr. Johnson broke into court today with an answer that fairly scorched the asbestos paper upon which it is written. He alleges that he does not owe the amount sued for; that he has paid the firm several amounts for which he has not received credit and that even if he did owe the entire amount the members of the firm knew perfectly well that they could call at his office and get their money; that the firm is indebted to him for legal services, which it declines to pay for, and that the suit was brought with the intention of injuring his credit. He alleges that the firm placed the collection in the hands of a blackmailing agency, which sent him threatening letters and proposed to put his name on a deadbeat list if he did not come to time. He claims to have been damaged to the extent of several dollars, but leaves the amount for the court to determine.

Sensation in Colored Circles. W. C. Mallory, for two years past the city constable in Justice Foxworthy's court, has left the city, deserting his wife and children and taking with him the 18-year-old niece of club rooms. Mallory is a good looking col-ored man and has always taken a prominent part in Lincoln city politics. Two years ago he was placed on the republican ticket and elected. This year he was re-elected in spite of the efforts of his political opponents to make his character a few shades blacker than his face. He gained considerable no-toriety just before the recent election by being charged with a criminal assault upon white woman named Emma Stockman-he woman filed a complaint against The woman filed a complaint against Maliory but never pushed the case. The affair was commented upon at length by the correspondent of the Omaha World-Herald and as a result Maliory sued that paper for damages to his character, placing the amount at $5,000. At the recent banquet of the Young Mea's Republican club he was one of the guests and has always enjoyed the confidence of the people of Lincoln. He resigned his office yesterday and today the county commissioners gave the yearst position to Louie Otto. the vacant position to Louie Otto. Identified a Dead Man.

The body of an unknown man found dead in a freight car in the Rock Island yards yesterday afternoon was this afternoon buried in the potter's field at the expense of the county. It was learned this afternoon that his name was Conrad Kauptfmann. He was a German and was at one time employed as a plumber in a local establishment. Later he worked as engineer of the Burr block, but lost his situation because of his inordinate passion for whisky. He then loafed around the saloons for some time, and three weeks ago he went into the coun-try to husk corn. He was identified by a plumber working at the shop of Mart Riley.

Change in Ticket Agents. It is announced today that on the first of the new year an important change will be made in the local management of the Bur-lington ticket offices in this city. A. C. Zeimer, whose name as the city ticket agent Zeimer, whose name as the city texet agent of the Burlington has adorned the literature of that company for so many years, will assume the duties of ticket agent at the depot office, while George Bonnell, the depot agent, will be promoted to the city office. The change has created considerable astonbeen entirely unexpected.

The case in which the First National bank of Cadiz, O., seeks to have the receiver of the Capital National bank withhold the sum of $8,050 from the assets of the bank and hold it in trust is being tried in Judge Strode's court today. They claim that they had purchased notes to that amount from the Capital National bank and that when they were due forwarded them for collection. Instead of remitting the proceeds the Capital National sent them a fraudulent draft. The testimony shows that some of the notes held by the Cadiz bank were collected and that others were settled by the parties giving new notes, which were kept by Mosher. Lincoln in Brief.

Nalign, Neb., Dec. 5 .- Special Telegram to THE BEE |- In the district court today, in the case of Carl Korth, ex-treasurer of Pierce county, the defendants filed a plea in abatement. The state moved to strike the plea from the file and the motion was sustained on the grounds of former adjudica-tion and the case was set for trial after the Rothwell cases are disposed of.

In the Rothwell cases the state elected to

In the Rothwell cases the state elected to try each party charged separately and the court ordered the trial of Charles Stewart. The defendants moved for a continuance to prove an alibi and the case was set for trial Thursday. The case of Rothwell Bros. was called on the complaint of Neis P. Nelson and after the exhaustion of the regular panel a jury was obtained and the case will proceed to trial in the morning.

Judge Robioson held a short session this evening to dispose of equity cases.

Senator Allen came up on the morning train and took an active part in both the Korth and Rockwell cases, the first as prosecutor.

Surprised by His Friends.

FARMONT, Neb., Dec. 5.—[Special to Tun Bun.]—One of the sectal events of the season took place at ex-Mayor Borsby's last wening. It being his 50th birthday, a few of his friends, of which he has a host, got up a little surprise party. About 6 o'clock the ladies began to arrive with baskets loaded with provisions, and took possession loaded with provisions, and took possession of the kitchen and dining room, set the tables and announced supper after which they were invited into the parlors, where a very enjoyable evening was spent in pleasant conversation and singing.

MORE GRAND ISLAND FAILURES.

Canning Company and Cigar Factory Carried Down by the Hank Collapse, Grand Island, Dec. 5.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- The Grand Island Canning company this morning confessed judgement to seventeen creditors in the sum of $10,400. The management claims the creditors will be paid in fell, and announces the intention of the factory to resume in about two months. The stock will invoice $11,000. A. H. Baker, a stockholder in the Citizens National bank, is the principal member of the Grand Island Cigar Manufacturing mpany and also a member of the Grand company and also a member of the Grand Island Canning company, which is operated by Archer & Baker. Attachments in the sum of $1.400 were filed in the county court this morning and the property of the company was beavily mortgaged yesterday. Manager Rourke claims the creditors of the Canning company will be paid in full if the stock on hand can be sold on the regular market. These failures were no surprise after the Citizens closed its doors.

The Grand Island Street Railway company

Citizens closed its doors.

The Grand Island Street Railway company granted a bill of sale today for the rolling stock and personal property and conveyed by warranty deed through its president, A. H. Baker, and secretary, Richard Koetig, all its real estate, rights, franchises, etc., to A. W. Ockaback of Portland. Ore.

Mr. Baker was a stockholder in the Citizens National hank and was deeply interzens National bank and was deeply interested in all these concerns.

CRAZY MAN AT LARGE.

Exciting Chase of a Crank with a Gun at

Hyannis, Neb. HTANNIS, Neb., Dec. 5 .- Special to THE BRE. |-This town was thrown into a state of great excitement over the acts of a crazy man last night. He is a hunter and came here from Illinois with two friends last August. His friends had noticed this spell coming on him for a week or more, but he was not often subject to them in the winter and they thought little about the matter until yesterday afternoon, when a telegram came from Whitney stating he had been there and cut up some of his pranks. Then the people began to watch him. He was asleep in the depot with his gun on his breast when some one gave the alarm. About twenty men went to take him ia charge. When they were at the crossing, which is about a rod and a half from the depot platform, he began to shoot. He then mounted a horse, which was tied to a post, and rode over the hills north of town. The horse belonged to a ranchman and went home with the crazy man, who walked back to town and was about to board the 2:30 a. m. passenger train east when he was cap-

FREMONT, Dec. 5. - [Special to THE BEE.] -The Board of Supervisors of Dodge county convened this morning. It is understood that the books of some past and present delinquent officials will be investigated and steps taken to hold bondsmen for balances. The secretary of the Dodge County Agricultural society announces that the society will not be able to pay more than 25 per cent of the premiums due from the last fair. He complains that if the city horsemen had paid the expense of repairing the race track, paid the expense of repairing the race track, as he had reason to suppose they would from their promises, there would have been enough money to pay premiums in full.

Judge Maxwell has left for his annual series of lectures before the law school at Ann Arbor, Mich. His subject this year 's: "Code Pleadings." Concerning the judge's future, he has accepted a proposition from a noted Chicago publishing house to write and compile law books and treaties a in which he compile law books and treatises, in which he will engage as seen as his term of office on the supreme bench expires. He will not re-move from Fremont, however, although much time may be spent in Chicago.

Stockville Keeps the Fair. STOCKVILLE, Neb., Dec. 5 .- | Special to THE BEE.]-The annual meeting of the County Agricultural society, held here Saturday, re-Agricultural society, field here Saturday, re-sulted in the relocation of the county fair at this place for the next five years. The fol-lowing officers were elected for the coming year: Frank M. Rathbun, president; C. F. Siebecker, vice president; R. D. Logan, sec-retary, and W. A. Bradbury, treasurer. The local schools, which were closed on account of diphtheria, have partially opened again. This disease is reported quite preva-lant in the surrounding country.

Haul of Dakota City Burglars. DAKOTA-CITY, Dec. 5 .- [Special Telegram to Tue Ber.]-Rurgiars made a good haul out of Stinson & Co.'s store last night, taking about $100 worth of goods. The rear of George Barnett was forced open and the handle and lock to the safe pounded off. A hat belonging to the Stinson stock was found in the northern part of town this morning on the highway.

Wausa, Neb., Dec. 5 .- | Special Telegram to Tue Ben | - Boyd Tedrow, 23 years of age, living with his father on a farm near here, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor yesterday morning. He had just recovered from an attack of typhoid fever and was apparently quite well, but it is thought the fever left him mentally de-ranged.

Burgiars Arrested at Hancroft. BANCROFT, Neb., Doc. 5 .- [Special to THE BEE |- Last evening two strangers giving their names as John Raymond and John A. Allen were arrested for stealing goods from the store of Francis Schwedhelm of this piace. They were given a preliminary hear-ing and bound over to the district court, which is now in session at West Point.

NEWCASTLE, Neb., Dec. 5.—[Special to THE BEL.]—The train on the Omaha road, bound for Sioux City, which left here at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, ran off an open switch at the east end of the yard. A special from Sioux City arrived at 10:30 and replaced the engine, tender and one box car, which were derailed.

Death of Prof. H. H. White. NELIGE, Neb., Dec. 5.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Prof. Herbert H. White, professor of ancient languages in Gates college, died last night of typhoid paeumonia. Dawson County National Bank Raided but No Booty Secured.

SOME VERY HARD WORK INDULGED IN

After Dridling Through Two Feet of Solid Masonry the Robbers Were Compelled to Abandon the Job Unfinished.

LEXINGTON, Neb., Dec. 5 .- [Special Telegram to THE BRE |-The vault of the Dawson County National bank was entered by burglars last night. The work, white apparently that of experts, was by persons unacquainted with the fact that the bank funds were protected by a Mosler screw door safe that would defy expert cracksmen fortyeight hours. Entrance was gained to the postoffice evidently by skeleton keys. A small door leads from the postoffice to an air chamber above the bank wault.

From here the robbers drilled through the two feet of soils masonry and descended into the vault. No attempt was made to open the bank safe and efforts to drill into the safe deposit boxes were unsuccessful. The only booty secured was that contained in a tin box belonging to Mrs. Signor, the postmistress, and amounting to about $100. The thieves did not take any stamps, even. A rope was lowered from the opening in the top of the vault by means of which the robbers lowered themselves and sook their robbers lowered themselves and sook their departure from the vault. Two caudles, nearly burned out, were left behind. No papers were molested and the bank itself did not lose I cent.

THEY MAY GO UP.

Commercial Club Has a Lively Discussion

on Insurance Rates, At the monthly meeting of the Commercial club last night Secretary Drexel an-nounced that the present membership was 702. Of this number 650 are active, working members. Mr. Drexel said he had good reason to think that the club would nave 1,000 members in a few months. Dues to the amount of $6,880 had been collected and $4,000 had been disbursed in expenses. The secretary predicted that by January 1, the club would be entirely free from debt. The prospective location of the government Indian supply depot was discussed. The executive committee was instructed to make a formal proposition to the government to the effect that Omaha would furnish a suitable building at a nominal rental of $4,000 per annum, giving bonds for faithful performance of contract, provided that the club secures financial backing which will absolve the club from responsi-

Commissioner Utt read the correspondence Commissioner Utt read the correspondence previously mentioned in The Bre in relation to the extension of the St. Paul & Duinth railway to Omaha. He was authorized to encourage the project, and the club decided to use every effort to secure the new outlet. The commissioner then read several letters with relation to the location of a new wholesale house and feature. He proported sale house and factory. He reported progress and expressed the belief that his efforts would be crowned with success.

President Gibbon then brought up the subject of insurance rates, needed improvements in fire protection and lamentable lack of high water pressure, as was demonstrated at the Farnam Street theater fire. He said that the people were taxed exorbitant rates for a high pressure that did not exist when wanted. The pressure was sufficient to cause plumbing bills in profusion, but when it came to a needed high pressure at a big fire, he declared with an audible sigh of regret that the pressure was not there. He had heard that the fire insurance companies contemplated a raise in rates and that the cause was poor fire protection. He did not want to see an advance in rates, and thought that the remedy lay in securing better protection against fire.

Commissioner Utt followed by echolog the seatiments expressed by the chairman. He read letters from Kansas City and other cities showing that Omaha rates were lower Chris Hartman was called upon to express his views upon the subject. He frankly stated that insurance men were not satisfied with the valued policy law and the present fire protection of the city of Omaha. As a member of the Board of Fire and Police member of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners he had made every effort to give good fire protection on the money at the disposal of the board for such a purpose. He reported that the fire and police board had recently ordered another fire engine, which would be received February 10, and he thought that with three engines and better inspection of the properties have and outlifiers the fire in mercantile houses and ouildings the fire in-surance rates would not be increased, but gouthed exceedingly any reduction in present figures. He said that insurance rates in other cities of the size of Omaha with better fire protection were much higher. Mr. Hartman roasted the valued policy law and the careless manthe valued policy law and the careless man-ner in which some merchants took chances of having their property destroyed. He be-lieved that some business men who were in debt and staring at commercial gloom would not shed many tears if their property was destroyed if they were well insured. He said that a raise in rates on high buildings was in contemplation, but he horsed to stay it was in contemplation, but he hoped to stay it with assurances of better fire protection. He reported the present equipment of the ire department, and said the men gave the best service possible under the circum-

The question was discussed at length and in the midst of the discussion a fire alarm was sounded. There was a general rush for the windows as the engines dashed down was sounded. There was a general rush for the windows as the engines dashed down the street. This brought matters to a head. Mr. Montgomery moved that the Commercial club ask the authorities for a better system of inspection and a resolution was passed authorizing the officers of the club to take steps toward assisting in securing an increased appropriation for the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners. The purchase of more fire engines was strongly urged. The general sentiment was hostile to an increase in insurance rates. The subject of a rigid inspection of electric wiring in buildings was favorably acted upon, and the club will urge the appointment of two inspectors for the general fire protection of the city. It was generally conceded last evening that unless prompt action was taken rates would go up.

At 10 o'clock the meeting adjourned to meet one month hence to elect officers and transact other business of a routine nature. Thursday evening at 7 o'clock a reception to the doctors and dentists of the city will be given at the club rooms.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA.

intendent Hill Renders an Important Decision—Other Magic City News. Having made a tour of the county schools Superintendent Hill has returned to his office in the court house, where yesterday morning he handed down a decision which will giad den the hearts of a large number of the citizens of South Omaha, and at the same time will end a fight which has been on during the past eight years.

As early as 1885 the school district of South Omaha was created, including all that portion of the corporation which was platted. By an oversight of the superintendent of public instruction who was in office at that time instruction who was in office at that time the western boundary of the district over-iapped the eastern boundary of district No. 4, taking off a strip of its territory one mile wide and two miles long. Since that time this strip of country has sottled very rapidly until it has become the most populous portion of the city, being a part of the Third ward. Being within the city limits, the Board of Education of South Omaha has sought to exercise jurisdiction over the strip, EXPERT CRACKSMEN FOILED while the officers of district No. 4 have claimed jurisdiction and have asked for the school tax arising from the annual levy. This has resulted in a constant conflict of authority and, as a result, the interests of the schools have suffered.

The officers of district No. 4 have exacted tuition from the outside pupuls who attended school within the strip, while the South Omaha school officers have exacted tuition fees from those children who happened to come from beyond the western boundaries of ne strip.

In passing upon the question Superintendent Hill holds that the strip of land is a part of the school district of South Omaha and that the children of the city have a right to attend the school that is maintained therein, and without paying tuitien to the other district. trict, which, by reason of the decision, is made separate and distinct.

Unstigued by the Mayor. Mayor Walker Monday evening allowed runance No. 571 to become a law without his signature. This is the ordinance locating a lozen or more fire hydrauts in different portrons of the city.

Only a few months ago the mayor vetoed an ordinance similar to this one, giving then his reason for so doing that the law read very plainly on this matter that no such ex-pense could be legally created unless an ap-propriation was made for that specific pur-pose. The ordinance was lost, and later on another was sprung which covered the same ground. This is the one the mayor allowed to become a law Monday night without his signature. In speaking of the ordinance yester-day morning Mayor Walker said: "There is no person in the city of South Omaha who would like to see bet-ter fire facilities than myself. But in order to protect my bondsmen I could not sign the ordinance. The law says that an appropriation for that specific purpose must first be made by the council before the work can be ordered done. This is why I pursued the course I did."

A Kick on Carroll. Sheriff-elect Drexel a few days ago appointed John Carroll of this city as one of his deputies. Since the appointment has become generally known there has been a kick registered by some of the democrats, who claim that Carroll does not represent the party here. John J. O'Rourke is one of these men. John is also a candidate for a deputyship. Mr. O'Rourke's name also apdeputyship. Mr. O'Rourke's name also appears on the endorsement of Mr. Carroll. The Jeffersonian club of Omaha has taken a hand in the matter, and it may be that enough influence will be brought to bear to cause Mr. Drexel to change his selection. Mr. Drexel left the selection of the South Omaha deputy to some of the democrats here and it seems that Carroll secured the endorsement of the moguls who were allowed to diclate. Mr. Brennan, who was at one time chief of police here, was tendered the deputyship, but refused to accept it. Some of the democrats would like to see O'Rourke get the deputyship under Drexel in order to keep him from attempting to run for mayor here in the spring.

Concert and Recital. The concert and recital given last night under the auspices of the South Omaha Baptist church proved to be a flattering success. The church was filled and the program was excellent in detail. Mrs. Mary E. Monroe of this city gave three recitations and was tendered a perfect ovation. Al though Mrs. Monroe but recently made he debut as an elocutionist, her efforts have met with splendid success. When it is announced that the balance of the program consisted of numbers by Mrs. Cotton, Mrs. Moeller, Mr. Wilkins and Mr. Lumbard, with Prof. J. E. Butler as pianist it is sufficient to know the affair was of a nigh musical order. Each solo, duet and quartet was warmly received, and the singers responded nappily. These concerts are given annually by the Baptist church and are the musical events of the season in South Omaha. Monroe of this city gave three recitations South Omaha,

Mr. Jetter's Liberality. Mr. Jetter, the brewer, has opened up his heart and proposes to give away to the city poor a carload of coal. Monday evening Mr. Jetter announced to Mayor Walker that the coal was ready to be delivered if his honor would furnish the names of the needy. Several names were given then and there and the balance will be supplied as they are discovered. Mr. Jetter is a generous citizen and is always among the first to donate for a charitable purpose. If others who are fully as able as he would develop as generous a spirit there would be little suffering among the unfortunates of South Omaha
