expanse of Indian and Atlantic occans was now their tomb. The boy gave his name as Samuel Evans, and his age as 19, and his home as Greenock Scotland. In telling his story he spoke clearly and connectedly. . He said :

"The ship Jason, Captain McMillan, sailed from Calcutta in February last for Boston with a cargo of jute. When but a few days out we encountered a terrific cyclone and lost our masts and also our first officer, Mr. Walker.

As the Storm Approached.

"We put in at the Isle of France and repaired. We had fine weather after leaving there nearly the entire passage. On Tuesday morning it began to snow. The winds were strong from east southeast. It was very thick. We could not see more than three ship lengths from where we were. "Still hoping to weather the cape, we continued to crowd on sail, but at 7:15 she struck the beach with a crash and the maintop mizzenmasts went over the sides, and the ship broke in two amidships. About all the crew, including myself, went into the mizzen rigging when we struck. When the mast went we all went with it. I knew no more until I found myself on the sands and was being pulled out of the surf.

"Of all my shipmates not one is left. Of their names, I knew but few. They were mostly Irish and Norwegians. The captain's name was McMillan and the mate's name was Wilker. Both, I believe, belong in Greenock. The second mate, Goldbraith, and Boatswain Black were from Selkirk. There was John Callahan, Mike Mulligan. William Cotter of Queenstown; O'Leary and Ross of Plymouth, Eng.; Chris Neilson and Corse of Portland, Ore. ; Murphy of St. John, N. B.; Johnson and Hearicksen of Sweden. These are all I can remember."

Mexican Revolutionists in a Fair Way to Cause Trouble. EL PASO, Dec. 6 .- The action of the Mexican government in proscribing American newspapers for publishing news concerning the troubles in the northern part of Chihuahua is causing much comment in this town and it has strengthened the belief that something serious has taken place in that republic. Again the town seems full of Mexicans not before seen here and they are much grouped together in earnest conversa-

Since Monday no news has come in from the scene of the trouble. That night a courier came in from the camp of Santa Ana Perez with dispatches to his agents here, but what their purport was has not been learned. He said that one courier should have arrived here the day before him, and one the day before that. Perez took the precaution of sending out four in succession in order that one would be likely to arrive, and that one was to have started the day following. As only one reached here, the revolutionists in this city say that the other three were killed. The Mexican authorities are still saying through their official papers in Mexico that the whole trouble ended with the robbery of the custom house at Palomas, and that the robbery was done by a band organized in Texas. That this statement is false is known to every man who knows anything about the matter. The same papers are declaring that these robbers have been arrested in Texas and an application for their extradition has been made. Not one word of this is true. There have been no arrests made except that of Victor Ochoa and he was not charged with assisting in that robbery. He was charged with having hired men. fitting out soldiers and sending them into Mexico

CHARACTERISTIC SUGGESTIONS PUT FORTH

In a Longthy Address the Head of the Centennial State Proposes to Begin the Coinage of Silver "In Legal Tender Quantities."

SALIDA, Colo., Dec. 6 -Only eighteen delegates, representing ten mining camps, were present at the opening today of the miners' convention, called by Governor Waite to consider his proposition for a special session of the legislature to take some action on behalf of silver. Many of the camps mentioned in the governor's call sent no delegates. The convention organized with J. M. Mc-Michael of Aspen as chairman and J. W. Swisher of Breckinridge as secretary.

Judge C. F. McCoy, in an address of welcome, said if the convention favored calling an extra session the governor should recommend the enactment of a law authorizing the secretary of state to purchase silver bullion and issue therefor silver certificates and to place the bullion purchased upon the market; also a law for the coinage of Colorado buillion in Mexico. This Mexican coin to be a legal tender in this state for all debts, public and private.

What Walte Would Do.

Governor Waite delivered an address of 0,000 words outlining his views as to the silver crisis and suggesting topics to be considered by the legislature. "The situation in this state had improved somewhat since the darkest hours last summer." he said, "but not over 4,000 of the 45,000 miners thrown out of employment had yet resumed work. "The right of congress to com money is conceded, and that right is exclusive so long as the right is exercised," the governor said. "This right was given to the general government by the states as a trust-this trust calling for continuous coinage. In default of the exercise of the coinage right the trust reverts to the states or the people. By the passage of the enactments putting an end to the free coinage of silver the general government defaulted in its trust. "Competent legal authority held that the right of the people to the free comage of silver had never been taken away. The extra session of the legislature should take action to compel an adjudication by the United States supreme court of this ques-

"The right of a state to make gold and silver coin a legal tender in payment of all debts collectable within that state cannot be denied." the governor asserted. He then affirmed that this right applies to foreign gold and silver coins as well as to those of the United States. "The remedy," he said, "is for each state to enact that the silver dollars of the United States and of our sister republics in North until tomorrow. and South America, containing not less than 37114 grains of fine silver, shall be a legal tender by tale, or at 100 cents each, for all debts, public and private, collectable within that state.

Just a Few Recommendations

In addition to his silver comage scheme overnor Waite said he would make the following recommendations:

"That the state and county warrants, for the payment of which there is no money in the proper fund at the time of issuance, be denominations that would doubtless pass as currency among business men. "That interest and penalties on judgments, lands sold for taxes, etc., be reduced. "That a state bankrupt law be enacted. "That the western part of El Paso county be made a separate county, to relieve Crip-ple Creek of an unjust burden of taxation. "That state canal certificates be issued in

of a Skull on Ash Creek Causes Lively Speculation. Hor SPRINGS, S. D., Dec. 6 .- |Special to

THE BEE.]-A skull was brought to town yesterday morning by Henry Barkdoll, who claims to have found it on Ash creek, this county. It is in a good state of preservation and the man who owned it must have been dead not more than three years. There is much speculation as to who the dead man was, or how he came to his death, but there s absolutely nothing on which to base an investigation. It is supposed by many to be the remains of one Zimmerman, a wealthy German who disappeared very mysteriously about that time. His friends made diligent search for him and failed to find him and it was then supposed some one had murdered him for his money. When circuit court convened this morning a surprise was in store for the jurors as well as the public. The question was at once raised as to the legality of the manner in which the veniremen were drawn, the clerk of the court following that provision of the law that applies to counties that have no civil townships instead of the law that ea-pecially provides another mode of procedure for counties that may have any organized civil townships. The judge at once dis-charged the grand jury, while the petit jury is held for a few trials in which the attor neys have agreed to waive questions of ille gality in the lury drawing. A pleasant banquet was given Judge Gard-ner and a few friends last evening at the Gillespie, the result of an election wager.

CONCESSIONS MADE BY MASTERS AND MEN

Correspondence Leading to the Settlement Shows the Terms of the Agreement-Employes Who Left Work Not to Be Discriminated Against.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Dec. 6 .- The great strike on the Lehigh Valley road was declared off shortly after 3 o'clock this morning, both sides making concessions. This action was the result of a conference be tween a joint committee of memof the boards of arbitration bers of New York and New Jersey and President Wilbur. The conference, which lasted three days, was also participated in by the chiefs of the local and national labor organizations which took part in the strike. The terms of the arrangement are embodied in the following correspondence, which was made public after the announcement that the strike had peen declared off:

Wilbur, President Lehigh Valley railway-Dear Sir: The state boards of a rbitration of New York and New Jersey desire to know whether, if the existing strike is declared off, the Lehigh Val-ley Railroad company will agree to take back as many of their old employes as they can find places for without prejudice on account of the fact that they struck, or that they are mem-bers of any labor organizations; that in em-ploying the men formerly in its service the available time shall be so di-they may feel they are again in making promotions hereafter the company will make no distinction as between the new men now in its employ and those re-employed in consequence of the seniority in service or otherwise; that when in the employ of the road committees from the various classes of employes from the branch of the service in which the aggrieved party is employed will be received and their grievances considered and jusity tracted, and that in employing men in the future the company will give preference n the future the company will give preference o former employes when the strike is declared to former employes when the strike is declared off.

We further think that, to prevent misapprehensions the Lehigh Valley Railrond company should confirm the rules posted by Mr. Voorhees August 7 last, as first vice president of the Philadelphia & Reading Railrond company. We believe that these suggestions are reasonable and if they are accepted by your company the present strike will be at once exterminated. Respectfully yours.
G. ROBERTSON, fr., of the New York State Board of Arbitration and Mediation.
J. P. MCDONALD, of the New Jersey State Board of Arbitration and Mediation.

To this communication President Wilbur replied:

replied: SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Pa., Dec. 6.—Gentlemen: I beg to acknowledge your communication of this date. The Lehigh company agrees to the suggestions contained therein and in the event of the strike being declared off will abide by them. We recognize and willingly respond to your modification of our former understanding that the available time may bu understanding that the available time may buy divided so that men re-employed may have some certain source of support. We further, of course, confirm the rules posted by Mr. Voorhees on August 7 Jast. The Lehigh Val-ley Railroad company resumed possession of its lines on August 8, and the rules in ques-tion have been rescinded. I am, very truly yours, the P. Wilabus, President.

The strikers here have as yet received no orders to work. Passenger trains are very late this morning, A had wreck occurred at Port Bowley at 10 o'clock this morning. STORY OF A FORTY THOUSAND CHECK.

George Gould Involved with a Pretty Little Stenographer from Chicago.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.-[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]-The mystery surrounding the suit which has been brought by pretty Mrs. Zella Nicolaus against George J. Gould is as deep as ever. The attorneys for the lady Messrs. Howe and Hummel, hint broadly that Gould is using his millions of wealth to cover one of his misdeeds. This afternoon a story was floating about Newspaper Row that Mrs. Nicolaus is a Chicago lady. She is a beautiful girl, with blonde hair and a delicious pink and white complexion.

It is told that during August of 1892 she was e stenographer present at a meeting of railroad men, Gould being among them. That young gentleman is said to have been greatly That impressed with the lady-smitten, in fact, with her charms. The story that is told upon the streets further runs that Gould persuaded the young lady to come to New York, promising her more pleasant and profitable occupation than was her's in Chicago. She came to New York. Later she came into possession of a check calling for $40,000 to be paid from the Gould wealth. That check was neve paid. That is wuy the present suit has been brought. Mr. Gould denies the story in its entirety.

History of the Fair Blonde.

JOLIET, III., Dec. 6.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Zella Nicolaus, who has sued George Gould of New York for $40,000, formerly lived in thus city with her hus-band, William Nicolaus. In July, 1800, Wil-liam A. Nicolaus' first wife died and at that time Nicolaus was at the head of the dry goods firm of Nashbour & Nicolaus of this city, and was wealthy. In the fall he sold out his business and went to Chicago. In February, 1891, he married Zella, a young girl 19 years old, of Logansport, Ind., and brought her to this city, where they lived in the Nicolaus mansion, on the West Side. They did not live happily together and vere only here two months when they went to Chicago, then to New York, where Zella left Nicolaus. About six months ago Nicolaus. Nicolaus got a divorce from her in Chicago But little is known of Zella Nicolaus here She was a beautiful blonde and attracted the attention of all. Mrs. Campbell, 129 Dearborn avenue, Chicago, is a personal friend of Zeila Nicolaus and visited her when she lived here. William A. Nicolaus is a traveling salesman of a dry goods firm n New York now.

mer's Trotting Disputes. CHICAGO, Dec. 6 .- The board of review of he American Trotting association today decided about a score of contested cases, the principal one being the case of the famous free-for-all at Washington park last season. It was decided that the protest of P. M. Dickey, owner of Lord Clinton, against the award of second money to Budd Doble's mare, Pixley, was not well taken. Dickey claimed that Doble's original entry was Belle Vera and that Pixley was not substituted within, the time required by the rules. The evidence showed that Pixley was substituted in ample time and the owner of Lord Clinton had to content him-self with fourth money, third having been won by Hamlin's Nightingale. of the National Trotting association began the second day's session of its annual meet-ing at the Murray Hill today and continued the hearing of proposals.

The bids for city advertising for the year 1893 were due, but the only proposition for doing the work was from THE DAH.Y BEE. Before it was opened Mr. Munro moved that it be returned unopened and that the comp-troller be instructed to advertise one week for competitive bids.

Mr. Howell wanted to know the purpose of the motion. Mr. Munro replied that if the bid was opened and the figures made public it would give competitors an undue advantage. The other members of the council saw things in the same light and the motion pre-

Kansas Farmers Alliance and Industrial Union Having a Lively Time.

TOPEKA, Dec. 6. - The morning session of the Farmers Alliance and Industrial Union was a secret one. It is learned, however, that forty delegates were present and that a lively fight is on. One faction wants to keep the alliance aloof from politics, the other, which is the stronger and is headed by S. M. Scott, state allfance lecturer, wants an alliance league formed to disseminate populist literature in every school district and hamlet.

The contest will be interesting and may b bitter. Scott has had this political wheel within the alliance wheel in mind for a year, and is pushing it hard. He and his faction say it is no more possible to keep the alli ince out of politics than a duck from water. The usual committees were appointed and the secret session adjourned. An open meeting was held this afternoon and ex-Congressman J. G. Otis delivered the and resconf welcome. The response was by S. M. Scott of Emporia. The president of the convention is W. S. Hannah of Ottawa; secretary, J. B. French: executive clerk in the governor's office. Meetings will be held tonight and tomorrow. A lively debate was in progress this morning about the advisability of giving or withholding any news. It was decided that formai proceedings should be furnished to the Associated press and newspapers by a committee consisting of President Hannah and Secretary French. This news is not yet forthcoming

The night session was devoted to a dis-cussion of the North & South railroad. The following resolution was adopted:

following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That we are most heartily in sympathy with the proposed plan for the con-struction of a railroad from the Gulf of Mexico to the British territory, the same to be owned and operated by the people, and we hereby urge upon our membership and all office people concerned in a reduction of Izansportation rates, their prompt and heighty 'co-operation, and request all officers of stafe county and suballances to bring the subject before the membership of their espective organizations at their earlitheir respective organizations at their earliest convenience.
