Representative of the Hawaiian Provisional Government Enrouts Westward.

MAY EE GOING TO HONOLULU INSTANTER

THURSTON ON A TRIP

His Departure Does Not Mean Any Break in Diplomatic Relations.

MAY ORALLY ADVISE HIS GOVERNMENT

Hawaii Takes an Active Part in San Francisco's Midwinter Exposition.

THURSTON HAS A CYCLORAMA THERE Senate Call for Hawaiian Correspondence

Assures Time, and the Prov.sional Government May Be Advised by Thurston to Hold On.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 .- Minister Thurston, the representative of the provisional gov ernment of Hawaii, furnished the surprise in Hawaiian affairs today by quietly departing for the west, and it is surmised that he is quite likely to go to Honolulu before returning to Washington. His secret departure excited considerable comment, and there was much speculation as to its significance. It can be stated, however, that his departure does not mean any break in the recognition this government heretofore has always accorded him as the accredited representative of the de facto government of Hawali.

Called at the State Department.

Before leaving Mr. Thurston and Secretary of Legation Hastings were both at the State department. They said they had been cordially received. Mr. Thurston at this time said nothing of his intention to leave the city to newspaper men who saw him, but went to his apartments and then took the 3:15 o'clock train on the Pennsylvania road for Chicago. Mrs. Thurston, his mother and his son remain in Washington, and the official status of the Hawaiian legation is continued, with Mr. Hastings acting as charge d'affaires. From Chicago Mr. Thurston will go to San Francisco, and his ultimate destination may be Honolulu, where he might have an opportunity to oraily advise the Hawaiian government.

Comment by His Secretary.

When the attention of Secretary Hast ings, in charge at the Hawaiian legation was called to the comment excited by Min ister Thurston's sudden departure, he expressed surprise that the minister's movements should attract attention.

"If he has gone to Honolulu," said he, "we are not aware of it here, and he said nothing to me about it. He coes first to Chicago and thence to San Francisco. Possibly he may see fit when he reaches San Francisco to sail for Hawaii, but that is mere conject ture. It is quite natural for him to go to San Francisco, as the Hawaiian government is taking an active part in the Midwinter exposition which soon opens there."

Fred E. Luechezy Arrested in New York

for Thefr. NEW YORK, Dec. 7.-Fred E. Luechezy, 23 years old, was arrested today at the request of the police of Omaha, who want him on a charge of stealing $900 from the American News company in that place last November. In the Tombs police court today Luechezy was held to await requisition papers.

Going After Lucchest. Police Captain Mostyn will depart for New York City this morning to bring back Fred Lucchesi, who is wanted here for the larceny of $700 from an instalment house. Lucchesi was quite a swell young man here and his extravagance caused considerable comment among his companions. He was what is termed a "high roller," but fast friends got the best of him and one day he disappeared leaving his employers about $700 in the hole. Chief Seavey learned that the young man was living in New York and wired Inspector McLaughlin to arrest him. The inspector telegraphed the chief yesterday that he had Lucchesi in custody.

MEXICO'S REPOLUTION.

Federal Troops Under an Able Leader Pursuing the Agitators. Et Paso, Dec. 7 .- It has been ascertained today beyond the possibility of a doubt that the Mexican government has federal troops in the Conception or Guerrero country in pursuit, so officials say, of the revolutionists. These troops are in command of Brigadier General Juan A. Hernandez, the only man who has ever coped successfully with the Yaquis when in revolt. The Mexican minister of war has given out that there are 400 men in the Palomas country, so that the government has quite an army in the field to suppress what the officials declare are robber bandits of eleven men.

G. D. Jones says that while on a hunting trip on the Mexican border, just at nightfall he met a party of Mexicans well mounted and armed and accompanied by eight pack animals loaded with camp equipments. These men never offered him harm, but went directly across the line, striking westward.

A representative of the Associated press has learned from what he considers a reliable source that a company has been formed here and its leader is now negotiating with the leader of the insurgents with a view of Joining the revolution.

Rumars of skirmishes are frequently heard, but th government has been so successful in suppressing information that details cannot o ascertained. Bankruptcy Bill Ready to Be Read by Sections for Amendment.

MR. BAILEY ARGUES FOR A SUBSTITUTE

Favors a Plan Merely for Involuntary Bankruptey as Compored to One Making it Both Voluntary and Involuntary. WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.-In the house general debate of the bankruptcy bill closed this afternoon, and beginning tomorrow the bill will be read by sections for amendment. M. Bailey of Texas will attempt to secure a vote on his substitute, which includes a plan merely for an involuntary system of bankraptcy in order to test the sense of the house in advance and give the members an opportunity to express their preference as between such a bill and the one prevailing. which includes both voluntary and involuntary bankruptcy.

Colonel Oates says he will resist the attempt to secure a vote on the substitute before his bill has been amended. The bankruptcy bill has undoubtedly lost much ground during the progress of the debate, and its opponents say it will be badly beaten, but Colonel Oates still maintains that if it can be brought to a direct vote it will pass. Backsliding on Retrenchment.

During the morning hour the resolution authorizing additional cierical force for the house aroused some opposition from Mr. Sayers and Mr. Kilgore, and Mr. Cannon of llinois took occasion to chide and reproach the democratic side with backsliding in its pledges of retrenchment and reform. The resolution was passed.

The resolution was passed. Upon the aunouncement of the expiration of the morning hour the house resolved itself into a committee of the whole for the further consideration of the bankruptcy bill. Mr. Balley's Argument.

Mr. Billey of Texas, in charge of the opposition, antagonized it in a brilliant speech. He felt confident a majority of the nouse labors. hot consider it so, and therefore opposed it. Its most objectionable feature was the cum-brous, complex system of involun-tary bankruptcy. In addition to the injustice of the clause which would force delinquent debtors into bankruptcy against their will, it discredits the state judiciary and commits all ques-tions arising under mercantile transactions tions arising under mercantile transactions to federal judges. The bill should be styled a bill to disestablish the state courts and constitute federal courts dept-collecting agencies. Much of Mr. Bailey's argument was confined to the legal phases of the bill and frequently elicited applause. In con-clusion, he appealed to the democrats to be ware how they passed a bankruptcy law in the present condition of the country. The democratic party had not dared before to pass such a law, how dare it pass the worst law of its character that any one has ever

PITTSBURG, Dec. 7 .- The general assembly committee of the Presbyterian church on UGLY PORTENT OF TROUBLE MANIFEST the relations of the church to the theological seminaries closed a three days session here this evening, having considered various plans by which it is hoped the Demand of the Ogar that the Kili Arm of church will in the future have greater security in the administration of property in the seminaries and funds which may be given for theological education. The understanding is that all rights of the seminaries under all compacts are to be sacredly recognized. The committee suggests that the seminaries ask the state legislatures to make such changes in their charters as will enable them to decuare their trust in favor of the general as-sembly in case of ceasing to exist, and to give to the assembly the power of confirma-

National Baptist Congress.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Doc. 7 .- The National Baptist congress continued its business session today. The morning session was devoted to a discussion of "What Constitutes Valid Baptism?" and developed wide differences of opinion among the members. The exercises were concluded by a fine sermon on the "In-dwelling Christ" by Rev. Carter Helm Jones of Louisville, $\kappa_{y,i}$, which was full of eloquence and tender feeling, after which Governor Northen, the president, and Dr. Lansing Burrows, pastor of the church in which the congress is held, made remarks expressive of the pleasure this community had experienced in the sessions of the congress. from Vienna, which the Times printed this morning, setting forth that the Russian government had declared it imperative that the Kilia arm of the Danube should be made navigable, the object of which demand was to secure the exemption of the Killa branch from the control of the Danube commission, has served to attract renewed attention to the serious situation of affairs in Europe, a situation which would need only a spark to kindle a flame. That the various countries are fully alive to the difficulties ahead of them there can be no doubt, and numerous incidents have come to light within the past few days which indicate that all the powers are making preparations to meet any emergency, whatever its proportions may be. In connection with these recent developments the statement made today on the authority of the Westminster Gazette, that five new battle ships, a first-class cruiser and a number of smaller vessels have been ordered to augment the British navy, is not without significance.

Recalls the Crimean War.

The Globe tonight, commenting on the Times dispatch, asks if we are on the eve of a revival of the state of things produced by the Crimcan war. It says Russia's demand that the Kilia mouth of the Danube be made navigable is the most atarming of the ugly portents of trouble which have been so numerous of late. Reference is also made in the Globe's article to the hostile attitude of Russia toward India, and to England's unprepared condition for war.

Ru-sia Wants Constantinop'e.

At the request of the Associated press correspondent Mr. Poultney Bigelow, whose intimate relations with the highest officials in Germany are well known, today wrote the following on the situation in Europe:

"Russia wants Constantinople and is preparing to take it. Russia cannot succeed in accomplishing this desire without first fighting Austria. She cannot fight Austria without fighting Germany at the same time. Russin wants the mouth of the Danube, a desire as strange as if France should wish to recover Louisiana. Russia, therefore, has one enemy particularly in mind-that is Germany. In this hatred of Germany was

The Explanation In-ufficient.

While Mr. Hastings professes to know nothing of the minister's going to Honolulu. it is generally believed that an event such as the Midwinter exposition would not take the minister away from Washington at this stage of Hawaiian affairs, though in view of the fact that he is interested in a cyclorama to be exhibited in San Francico, it may be that private business accounts for his journey.

Opinion is freely expressed that the action of the senate in calling on the president for the Hawaiian correspondence has satisfied the minister that the subject will take care of itself in this country, and that his energies can be directed with best results in advising and helping the provisional government to hold their ground.

Work of Foreign Affairs Committee. The house committee on foreign affairs this morning took up the resolution introduced by Representative Hitt yesterday The resolution which declared the policy of the United States to be one of noninterfer ence with the Hawaiian government was referred to a subcommittee. The old resolu tion calling for information was privileged. and over it there was a great deal of discussion. The resolution was postponed until Tuesday.

The President May Decline.

Hawaii and the relations' of this country to that country occupied the senate for about an hour in executive session today. The subject came up informally. There is really nothing before the senate except the president's message on the Hawailan question and the adeption of Senator Hoar's resolution of mouiry was supposed to have taken the matter entirely out of the senate for the present. The president had not replied to the resolution of inquiry, and there was some interest expressed to know what course he would take or whether he would decline. on account of the general welfare, for the present to make public the instructions to Minister Willis.

The senate evidently does not expect to receive a great deal more information upon the subject than the president has already transmitted. Senators are anxious to have the matter cleared up. It is understood this was the tone of the discussion in the executive session and there was more of a spirit of fault-finding because of the failure of the president to make plain his course than of criticism of what had been done. Indeed, it was admitted that so long as there was no intormation as to what had actually occurred there was no other course for critivism to take.

Falmer Apologist for Cleveland.

During the session Senator Palmer took exceptions to remarks made by some of the republican senators and responded in a speech of some length in defense of the president's policy. He was freely plied with questions, all of which he answered in a manner satisfactory to the senate. No conclusion was, of course, arrived at, for there was nothing to come to a conclusion on, and the session was concluded after Mr. Paimer had finished his remarks.

What if the President Declines?

Some of the members of the senate have been asking themselves what the senate will do in case Mr. Cleveland should fail to take any notice of their request for information, but most of those spoken to upon this subject say this is not a probable con-tingency. They admit, however, that it would not surprise them if the president de-clined to transmit further information until after the next steamer shall arrive from

Report on World's Fair Awards.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the World's fair board of awards today a letter was received from President Paimer of the national commission asking for a report on the work of awards in order that he may unake a report to President Cleveland Under these circumstances it was deter mined not to make the contemplated publi statement, but to submit it to President Palmer and allow it to become public through the usual official channels. It will be a con prehensive review of the work o awards and of the results achieved, with comparisons with the awards of other expo sitions. A feature of the report will be th comparatively small number of appeals which have been made. At the last Paris exposition there were 880 appeals from the judges awards and of these about 200 were allowed and prizes given. But there have only been 200 appeals from the awards at Chicago, and of these not more than twenty-five are likely to be allowed.

The Request for Information.

It is not certain yet what course the executive will take in response to the resolu-tion of the senate calling for information on the Hawaiian episodo. The information will be given, but whether in a formal response to the senate resolution or in a special mes sage from the president, who has taken no note of the resolution, has not yet been de termined. The information is prepared and can be sent in at any time. It was partly put in a shape to accompany the president's forthcoming special message before the resolution passed the senate yesterday.

ire on the two vessels at 12:30. The ships made no reply at first. They passed Fort Lage safely. When abreast of Fort Santa Cruz the Esperance opened a heavy fire on the fort, and the Aquidaban, when 700 yards from the fort, gave it a full broadside. The fire of the ships was continued with machine and outck-firing guns until they were abreast of Fort Sao Joao. Then both opened their starboard broadsides.

Insurgent Fort Responds.

"While the ships were passing the forts the insurgent gunners in Fort Villegaignon opened a well directed fire on Forts Lage and Sao Joao, bursting seven shells over one searchiight and damaging it to such an extent that the light was stopped. After the first broadside of the Aquidaban a heavy smoke enveloped the ships and the search lights were unable to penetrate it.

Atl Well and Safely Out.

"At 1:15 the Aquidaban set off two white and one red rocket, which was a preconcerted signal meaning all well and safely out. The Aquidaban has gone to Desterro to join the Republica and bring troops north ward. The government fears that Admiral Gonzales, with the warships Tiradenter and Bahin, now at Montevideo, will prob ably join the insurgents.

"On Friday morning a steamer arrived which reported she passed the Aquidaban and Esperanca thirty miles to the south ward, and that all were well.

Spiendid Handling of the Aquidaban,

"The officers of the foreign squadrons here consider the tactics of the Aquidaban were excellent and her handling splendid. The success of the two ships in passing the forts creates a strong feeling on shore in favor of the insurgents.

"I have seen a draft copy of the insurgent manifesto. It says the victory of the in surgents is certain and calls upon the Brazilian nation to remedy by force of arms the mistake made in a moment of madness on November 15, 1859.

"General Pego, a strong monarchist, com manding the government troops south of Sao Paulo, is reported to be in sympathy with the insurgents. The government is unable to find crews for her new warships. The state of siege has been prolonged until December 25."

Minister Mendonca of Brazil receives daily dispatches from his government, but those of today did not disclose any developments of an unusual character. Commodore Stanton's remark that "the Brazilians were not a fighting nation" is not wholly endorsed by the leading Brazilians here, who take considerable pride in the fighting ability which their countrymen have shown within the last three months.
